Chairman's Report.

To the citizens of Milan:

It has been custmary in the past for the retiring member of the school board to submit to you a review of the progress of our schools during the past year.

It is certainly a pleasure to make the report this year as all the schools are in excellent condition.

West Milan Village schools have been fortunate in retaining last year's teachers, and a visit to either of these schools will convince anyone that they are doing very good work.

Milan Village schools were not in as good condition the first of the year as other schools but by hard work on the part of both pupils and teachers these schools are doing good work now and if the same teachers can be kept for the spring term I see no reason why these schools will not do the required amount of work and do it well.

These schools were broken up by measles in the spring and scarlet fever this winter.

Hodgdon Hill School was broken by whooping cough this winter but some of the children were able to attend school and as their parents could demand transportation for them if we closed that school we thought best to give them eighteen weeks this fall and winter.

While this school is small it is not lacking in interest and enthusiasm and at the end of eighteen weeks they had done the work required for the winter term.

Last spring the school on Milan Hill was large and we thought best to keep the same teacher even at an advanced salary. We feel that the work done justfied us in keeping her as a change in teachers might have made it impossible for the ninth grade to complete the course.

This fall the school was smaller and we were able to get a teacher at the usual price who worked hard and was doing good work but on account of illness could not return for the winter term.

Again we were fortunate in finding a teacher who carried on the work smoothly and satisfactory.

This school did not commence as early as we intended the building not being ready.

After cold weather came this winter the attendance was poor and we thought best to close the school.

I hope it will be possible to make up the time lost next spring, and am sure the school board will do their part if the pupils and parents will do theirs.

Some of the pupils in this district who live the longest distance from the school house are never absent unless sick which proves that if children want to go to school they will find a way to get there even in stormy weather.

The Jewett school is now the largest of the rural schools having twenty-five pupils.

The spring term was two weeks shorter than the other school nearly all the children being sick with measles.

One week has been made up this winter and I hope the other can be made up by commencing early next spring.

This school is well graded and will compare favorably with any school in town.

The Hamlin school is one of the most successful schools in town; due to several causes, one of which is that two teachers have been employed there in three years.

Another reason why this school is doing such good work is that parents, pupils and teachers work together for the school.

Several entertainments have been given, the proceeds being used to buy articles for the school.

This year an organ has been bought which will be a source of profit and pleasure to both teacher and pupils.

The school lot on Milan Hill has been enlarged, the building moved and put in first-class condition.

In many ways it is better than when new. The foundation is of rocks and cement resting on a solid ledge which makes it impossible for it to be moved by the action of the frost.

When the estimate on repairs was made we did not know that the chimney would have to be rebuilt or the roof shingled and we hoped to patch the plastering, but the chimney was found unsafe, nearly all the plastering loose, and the roof leaking in many places.

It was thought best to put the whole building in first-class condition.

A hardwood floor was laid, two slate blackboards, and some larger seats were added. A platform was built across the front and the building painted inside and out. The out building was moved and enlarged, placed on a good foundation and made as sanitary as possible without running water.

A stone wall across two sides of the land purchased had to be removed, and considerable grading done.

It is now a very attractive school house both inside and out and I hope the children will continue to be as careful about injuring it in any way, in the future as they have this fall and winter.

Other repairs have been very light this year. All the school houses would be much warmer and easier to keep clean if they could have hard wood floors and I hope this much needed improvement can be made before many years.

Many of the parents have visited our schools this year and I hope next year they will visit more frequently as nothing helps the teacher and pupils more than to know that the parents are interested in their work.

Every little courtesy extended to our teachers is a help to our schools.

Our State Aid has been much less than usual this year.

We received no tuition rebate from the State as our rate of taxation is too low.

We have to pay more for teachers this year or let good ones go and hire those we know nothing about and there is always the possibility that they will not prove satisfactory.

Wood, janitor services and all other labor has advanced in price. This fact taken no consideration with the shortage of State Aid has caused us to over run the appropriation for schools.

We could have shortened the winter term but if we had we should have lost some of the teachers and the State Aid next year.

It seemed best financially and educationally to have the usual number of weeks in all schools where the attendance was good.

More money will be needed for transportation next year.

There are several children of school age on Oak Hill and more than usual in the Milan Village district too far from the school house to walk.

On retiring from the board I am very glad I can report all the schools in such good condition.

I wish to thank the other members of the school board for doing my work during my illness last summer and the parents, pupils and others for their kindness and courtesy.

Respectfully submitted,
SUSIE V. BARROWS.
