HALL B. EMERY, Town Treasurer.

Allenstown, March 1, 1877.

We, the undersigned, have examined the accounts of the treasurer for the year ending March 1, 1877, and find them correctly cast and properly vouched.

JOHN PERKINS,
WILLIAM HASELTINE,
Auditors.

REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE
OF THE TOWN OF ALLENSTOWN.

The Superintending School Committee of Allenstown respectfully submit the following report for the year ending March, 1877.

DISTRICT NUMBER ONE.

SAMUEL S. CASS, Prudential Committee.

Summer Term. Miss Ella F. Chesley of Epsom, teacher. Length of term, 9 weeks. Whole number of scholars, 18; average attendance, 14. Wages of teacher per month, including board, $26.

Winter Term. Rev. G. D. Garland, of New Rye, teacher. Length of term, 10 weeks. Wages per month, $30. Whole number of scholars, 23; average attendance, 17.

Both of these teachers were of the right stamp; and by their untiring and efficient labors, won for themselves much praise from all concerned, and fully maintained the former good reputation of this school. A public exhibition was given the week after the school closed, which was spoken of by those in attendance in terms of commendation. We regret that we were not able to be present, to participate in the interesting exercises.

DISTRICT NUMBER TWO.

Prudential committee, JOHN LEAVITT.

Length of term, 6 weeks. Wages, $20 per month. Whole number of scholars, 9; average attendance, 7.

Summer Term. Miss Maud M Grady of Allenstown, teacher. She is quite young, and never had any experience of this kind before. She did not quite meet the expectations of the people or the committee. But we can safely say "She hath done what she could."

Winter Term. Miss Liller R. Dolber of Chester, teacher. Wages per month, $22.48. Whole number of scholars, 12; average, 9. Length of term, 7 weeks.

Miss D. is quite small, but exceedingly smart in the school-room. She manifested a kind of self-possession and independence that greatly pleased us. And as a result, this was the best and most profitable term of school your committee has ever known in this district. And among the people, "all was calm as summer evenings be."

DISTRICT NUMBER THREE.

Prudential Committee, JAMES C. MARDEN.

Length of school, 10 weeks in summer and 14 in autumn. Wages, $20 and $22 per month, including board. Mrs. Mary L. Cofran of Pembroke taught both terms. Whole number of scholars, 9 in summer and 17 the second term; average attendance, 7 and 11. Mrs. C. succeeded admirably. And the secret of her success is shown in the following remarks which she penned in the register: "I commenced this school with a determination to do all in my power for the best interests of every scholar, showing partiality to no one. The scholars manifested considerable interest in their studies, and obeyed the rules of the school during the term. Three scholars were neither absent nor tardy: Eddie Johnson, Alice Johnson, and Rachel Marden." With such a spirit on the part of teacher and scholars, any school will be a success.

DISTRICT NUMBER FOUR.

HALL B. EMERY, } Prudential Committee.
H. H. HARTWELL, }

Length of summer term, 12 weeks. Whole number of scholars, 44; average attendance, 33. Wages, $32.

Autumn Term. Twelve weeks; 52 scholars; average, 37. Wages, $32.

Winter Term. Twelve weeks; 39 scholars; 32 average. Wages, $45. The first term was taught by Miss Mary H. Batchelder of Deerfield; the second by Miss Clara I. Brown of Milton, Vermont; and the third by Mr. Charles R. Rowe of Candia. These were all sufficiently qualified, so far as learning is concerned, to instruct any who attended school. But neither of the ladies succeeded as well as could have been desired.

Mr. Rowe had taught three terms in this district, in years past. He therefore came to us having a fine record. We have had some "skirmishing" during the first part of the winter term; but under judicious command on the part of the teacher, and by the kindly coöperation of parents and citizens, order has been maintained, and loyalty has triumphed.

DISTRICT NUMBER FOUR.—CHINA SCHOOL.

This school has had three terms, of 12 weeks each. Whole number of different scholars, 84; average attendance, 63. Wages, $32 per month. The first two terms were taught by Miss S. Elsie Cofran of Pembroke. She had taught in every district in town, and won for herself a good reputation for capability, industry, and success as a teacher. The only suggestion, by way of improvement, your committee would give Elsie, is that "grit," as well as grace, is all-important, if we would have a quiet and orderly school.

The third term was taught by Mrs. Alma I. Swaine; and in the matter of order, this term was an improvement on any one preceding.

The examination showed well for all concerned. And yet all the teachers in this district the present year have found great embarrassment for want of sufficient room and suitable conveniences for so large a number of scholars. We feel a pressing need of a new and commodious schoolhouse, and a graded school. We cannot better express our sentiments on this matter than by quoting the language of Mr. Rowe, as written in his school register: "The schools of this district are getting to be of such proportions as to demand the most careful consideration on the part of those who help support them. The school and the family are one and the same in their object, and to be successful, each must support the other. The true education of seventy-five or one hundred children is a task not easily accomplished, and never gained without intelligent thought. A successful school system must be founded upon true principles of mental and bodily growth.

"Education is two-fold in its nature—the acquisition of knowledge, and the proper development of the whole being. An honest effort should now be put forth to provide a suitable place for a school. The present condition of school conveniences, and their effect upon these young minds and bodies, ought to move all to immediate action."

I hope we shall hear the voice of wisdom, speaking from age and experience, and forget it not.

Thirteen hundred and seventy-five dollars and ten cents have been appropriated for schools, as follows:

No. 1,	.	.	.	$147.65
No. 2,	.	.	.	113.05
No. 3,	.	.	.	148.55
No. 4,	.	.	.	965.85

We have had, in all, fifty-two weeks of schooling, employing eight teachers. Notwithstanding the extreme severity of the winter, our schools have been an improvement on the past year.

H. H. HARTWELL,
Supt. School Com.
