SCHOOL REPORT.

The schools in district number one have been working under the graded system during a second year; the results attained in the first year's experience have been fully sustained and in interest shown by pupils there has been an improvement. This is thought to be due to a growing spirit of competition among the pupils resulting from a desire to retain places in their respective classes and to avoid the need of going into lower classes on account of failure to pass examinations.

Eight schools have been maintained and with a prospective revival of business and an increasing population the number certainly cannot be reduced without serious disadvantage to the pupils; the plan of grading, now followed, to be complete requires another school on the south side of the river and with another school the wants of the district would be accommodated for a long time to come. The system of grading has been improved by the experience both of teachers and the Board of Education; where it was imperfect by reason of insufficient experience on the part of its framers it has been changed as seemed best to teachers and Board of Education and by careful observation of the various needs of the classes in the different schools a system of grading will eventually be attained that can be confidently depended upon and by the careful observance of which our pupils can be brought along through our different grades and made thorough scholars in common English studies. The object of the Board of Education has been thoroughness, even at the expense of time, and though changes still remain to be made they feel that a good work has been done in the district by grading the schools.

The Board of Education feel the need of increasing the number of school weeks in the year and though this would require an extra outlay of a little more than one hundred dollars per week (average) yet it is in their judgment desirable to increase the number of school weeks from the number of the past year, thirty-two, to thirty-six at least.

The parents of children cannot be too strongly urged to insist on a constant attendance on the schools; the system of grading, in order to be successful, demands of the pupil attendance on each recitation and it is easy for the pupil to make progress if present at each recitation and frees him from the discouragement that he naturally feels when compelled to make up studies lost by absences and to keep along with his class besides; the interest of the pupil too is better sustained if the parents show sufficient care and attention to require constant attendance.

The evil of tardiness is still a great one and parents are urged to encourage habits of promptness and punctuality on their children: a little care will often save a pupil a tardy mark. The list of tardiness is not the long one that it was under the old system in the district but is still too long and it is in the hands of parents in the district to lessen still further the number. We urge parents to visit the schools often; to become familiar with the work done and to see with their own eyes what progress their children are making; in this way they can perhaps discover faults injurious to the schools that escape the observation of the Board of Education. The question of making the high school an English high school has engaged the attention of the Board and though no definite conclusion has been reached it is thought by the Board that such a school may not be required in our district for the present and that the study of the languages may have to be postponed until our population becomes greater. The Board wish the hearty co-operation of parents in all points relating to the success of our schools and especially desire to have them impress upon their children the importance of constant and punctual attendance and unflagging interest.

District number two, situated in Lake Village, was annexed to Gilford during the last session of the legislature.

There are only three districts remaining to report. The order has been fair in all; progress the same, neither being marked.

The best scholars according to age and advantages were found in the district where there has always been the least money to expend.

The citizens of these districts would soon perceive fruitful results if they would become a little more united and try to quell every discordant element which may arise to the disadvantage of their schools. Let it be written in "letters of gold" that the work of the teacher owes much of its success to the sincere co-operation of parents, without which no school plan can be satisfactorily carried out.

The number of scholars in district No. 1, between five and fifteen years of age, who have not attended any school, as near as the Board of Education could ascertain, is 57.

A statistical table has also been furnished by the Board, in which the spring and fall terms are reckoned as one term under the head of "summer schools." Most of the statistics given are of the fall term.

ELLEN E. S. WADLEIGH, School Committee.
