School Report.

Pursuant to the laws of the State of New Hampshire, your Superintending School Committee respectfully submits the following report :

In executing the duties of my office, I have endeavored to discharge to the best of my ability the high trust committed to my hands.

I believe, that in general, the schools have been very successful. Some of the teachers have not had the hearty co-operation of the parents that is essential to obtain the best results. Parents should visit schools more frequently, their presence would soon produce a marked change in the interest manifest by the scholars. Let us try to make better use of our educational advantages. Encourage your children to more constant attendance at school. Let us encourage and honor those schools for which the State and county are making such liberal provisions, for in them is the enlightenment of the rising generation ; in them the future welfare of our country.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The summer term of seven weeks was taught by Miss Emma S. Page, who has had but little experience in teaching, but made very commendable efforts to render herself useful, and appeared quite well satisfied with her success. Wages per month, $18.00. Number of pupils, 8 ; average number, 7.

The winter term was taught by Miss Grace L. Tanner. In this her first school she soon gained the affection and esteem of her pupils, and manifested a good degree of skill and talent in imparting instruction. Was satisfied with improvement made. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of pupils, 10 ; average number, 10.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

The summer term of seven weeks was taught by Miss Lucy A. Berry, who is one of our best teachers, diligent in the school room and thorough in imparting instruction. She has had large experience in teaching, and her schools are always a success. Wages per month, $24.00. Number of pupils, 7; average number, 7.

The winter term of eight weeks was taught by Mrs. Myra A. George, well known as an able and thorough teacher. Good improvement was made in all branches by all scholars. Wages per month, $24.00. Number of scholars, 10; average number, 7.

DISTRICT No. 3.

The first term of ten weeks was taught by Miss Hattie M. Piper, who displayed good teaching ability and no doubt with experience will make a good teacher. Fair progress was made. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of pupils, 4; average number, 3.

The second term of ten weeks was taught by Miss Lucy A. Berry, who sustained her former reputation as an excellent teacher. Wages per month, $22.00. Number of pupils, 7; average number, 5.

DISTRICT No. 4.

The first term of six weeks was taught by Miss May C. Osborn, who, although young and inexperienced, manifested a good degree of enthusiasm. I think the instruction was very good. The scholars made considerable progress. With the method of governing I was not so highly pleased. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of pupils, 11; average number, 10.

The second term was taught by Miss Clara A. Proctor, who is a teacher of experience and ability and one who loves her employment, and gains the esteem and confidence of her pupils. The closing examination was all that even a teacher could ask for, and showed a very successful term, giving satisfaction to the committee and district. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of pupils, 14; average number, 14.

DISTRICT No. 5.

This school was taught by Miss Madge A. Foss during both fall and winter terms. Miss Foss is a most diligent and successful teacher. At the close the scholars appeared to have made commendable improvement in their studies. Fall term, wages per month, $13.00. Number of pupils, 14; average number, 13. Winter term, wages per month, $19.00. Number of pupils, 9; average number, 7.

DISTRICT No. 6.

Abolished.

DISTRICT No. 7.

The first term was taught by Mr. William C. Mason. In this, his first school, the teacher exhibited good qualifications for his employment, but for the want of the co-operation of the majority of the district, the term did not appear to have been successful.

The second term was taught by Miss Sophie George. She is a teacher of much experience, strict in her discipline, and full of spirit. It is not difficult to see, that under her instruction improvement must be made.

DISTRICT No. 8.

No school.

DISTRICT No. 9.

The first term of eleven weeks was taught by Miss Emma F. Clark, an excellent teacher. Careful attention was given to the recitations, and it was the aim of the teacher to have her scholars understand all to which they gave attention. There was good progress in the various studies. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of scholars, 17; average number, 16. The second term was taught by Mrs. Emma F. Rowe to whom the above remarks apply. Wages per month, $20.00. Number of pupils, 19; average number, 17.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Both summer and winter terms were taught by Miss Laura A. Willey, an experienced and successful teacher, being accurate and prompt in performing her own duties and requiring the same promptness on the part of her pupils. At the final examination the scholars gave evidence that they had been well instructed. Summer term, 8 weeks, wages per month, $22.00. Number of pupils, 45; average number, 44. Winter term, 10 weeks, wages per month, $26.00. Number of pupils, 50; average number, 46.

The committee would suggest that the district take some action as regards the proper ventilation of the school room.

DISTRICT No. 11.

The summer term was taught by Miss Addie A. Dow, who kept a good school; the closing examination was very gratifying. The winter term was taught by Miss Hattie M. Dow, she is a teacher of experience and appeared very much interested in the welfare of her scholars, and accomplished all that could be expected.

DISTRICT No. 12.

The summer term of seven weeks was taught by Miss Fannie A. Ham. She has uniformly been successful with her schools in town; her method of government could not but operate favorably with the progress of the school. Wages per month, $19.95. Number of pupils, 18; average number, 17. The winter term continued eleven weeks under the instruction of Miss May A. Judkins, one of our most faithful and energetic teachers, who always succeeds in making a school interesting. Wages per month, $22.50. Number of pupils, 18; average number, 17.

DISTRICT No. 13.

The fall and winter terms were both taught by Miss Ada E. Emerson, who manifested an earnest patient endeavor to do all in her power to promote the welfare of her pupils, who made better improvement than could possibly be expected in so poor a house which is a disgrace to the town.

Perhaps all are not aware of the unhappy division which exists in this district, and that a very large portion of the children have not received much benefit from the town's money expended here. The division tends greatly to retard the cause of education, and it is sincerely hoped that a better state of things may soon exist.

DISTRICT No. 14.

The summer term was taught by Miss May A. Jenkins, who fully sustained her reputation as a successful teacher. Was pleased with the closing examination. The winter term was under the instruction of Mr. W. W. Jenness, who proved himself to be a faithful teacher. His mode of instruction was thorough and full of energy, and many excellent qualities of teaching were exhibited in the management of the school.

DISTRICT No. 15.

Both summer and winter terms were under the instruction of Mrs. Amy Bunker, who has taught this school several successive terms. She managed the school with her usual skill and ability, and brought it to a very satisfactory termination. Summer term, six weeks, wages per month, $24.00. Number of pupils, 9; average number, 7. Winter term, nine weeks, wages per month, $24.00. Number of pupils, 9; average number, 7.

DISTRICT No. 16.

The summer term of six weeks was taught by Miss Evalyn F. Clark. This was in many respects a model school. The instruction was systematic and well defined. The closing examination was highly satisfactory. Wages per month, $17.00. Number of pupils, 6; average number, 5. The winter term of thirteen weeks was taught by Miss Eunice S. Grace, who had a reputation so well established by her past success that but little need be said. Both the order and the recitations gave proof of a successful term.

As several of the registers have not been returned am obliged to omit the statistical report.

WILLIAM H. NUTE, Superintending School Committee.
