Report of Public Library.

The expenses of the library during the year were small, and we were enabled to expend nearly all of the appropriation for books.

We have now 235 volumes, of which number 70 were added the past year, as follows: By purchase, 21; by the Harmony club, an organization of ladies devoting the funds of their club to uses benefiting the town, 20; by the State, 3; by individuals, 13; loaned by the town, 13.

The library was closed for two weeks in September for an inspection of the books, which were found in a good condition. A few needed rebinding but none were condemned as unfit for use and none were missing.

From the Librarian's report we find that 1,148 books have been loaned and 54 cards issued, making a total of 114 cards, and fines collected to the amount of $1.75.

We are indebted for donations to Mrs. A. F. Crowell, Mrs. F. Cass, Mrs. McGlauflin, Mrs. A. J. Austin, Mrs. J. B. Morrill, Mrs. M. Wilbur, Mrs. S. Converse, Mrs. Geo. Morrill, Mrs. J. F. Philbrick and Mrs. N. E. Tuck.

Report of Board.

The prosperity and strength of a community depends largely upon the intelligence of her citizens, and the common school is the medium by which a large part of this knowledge is obtained.

If the common school is the training ground it must be well equipped, well governed, and well informed to obtain the best results. At the present time a great interest is taken in educational matters. Better school buildings are provided, more money appropriated for their equipment, and the increased advantages enjoyed by the rising generation proves the investment a judicious one.

Our schools have shown a marked improvement since a uniformity of text books has been in use. The number of recitations has been greatly lessened, and for ungraded schools they are well classified.

Since our last report a pleasant and commodious school house with convenient appointments has been completed at the Pound. A beautiful flag was presented the school by Hon. Stephen H. Gale of Exeter, a native of East Kingston. This school having been under the excellent instruction of the same teacher for the past six years has made thorough and rapid advancement. Miss Chase's work is well regulated and adapted to the capacities of her pupils. She expects a child's best, and "to expect a child's best is to help it to be best."

At the close of the spring term Miss Ring resigned her position at the Falls. Under her excellent discipline and careful instruction this school made much progress. Her place was filled by Miss Sanborn of Kingston. Although she had never taught she easily adapted herself to the position, won the love of her pupils, gained and held their attention by the pleasing manner in which recitations were presented, and introduced some new methods, calculated to break the monotony of the school room, and develop mental activity. Good progress was made under her instruction.

The Corner school, by the efforts of two young ladies—without previous experience in teaching—Miss Peaslee of Plaistow, and Miss Brown of Kingston, was brought under excellent discipline, and commendable progress was made. Miss Brown possessed the ability to govern easily, and stimulated her pupils to greater effort by her energy and enthusiasm.

The North school requires an extra amount of patience on the part of a teacher, owing to the different nationalities represented. Miss Webster did her best for the advancement of her pupils, and a good degree of improvement was noticed. At the closing examination the different classes heard showed a very good understanding of what they had been over. The higher classes in arithmetic and geography deserve especial mention.

The delapidated condition of the schoolhouse renders it totally unfit for school purposes and a new one should be provided.

The "Normal Readers" introduced last year awakened a new interest in reading. Careful attention was paid to spelling, and the blanks, in general, showed a high percentage.

The enumeration of the truant officer in April, records the number of children in town between the ages of five and fifteen, as 93. Boys, 40; girls, 53. The whole number of different pupils registered is 97. Boys, 42; girls, 55, of which six were less than five, and nine more than fifteen.
