REPORT OF THE
SCHOOL COMMITTEE, OF THE
TOWN OF BEDFORD FOR THE YEAR 1876-7.

It is the duty of the School Committee to make an annual report of all schools in town under his care. In accordance with the laws of the State, I will make a few remarks about what I have seen and heard. I take much pleasure in stating to you that this year has been a prosperous one to our schools; our prudential committees have used judgment, and have been careful in selecting teachers in their districts; our class of teachers has been well qualified for the position they have held, and have taken good interest in their schools, and have labored hard for the scholars, in my opinion, and the scholars have worked for themselves; that is plain to be seen by those that have visited the school room. It has been said in one district, "I guess we are not getting much of a school;" (he had not been in the school room—all guess work.) Before we express our thoughts we should examine the school ourselves. When parents instruct their children that it is none of the teacher's business where they go or what they do, it is best that we dispense with this state of things; very little advancement need be expected, as a teacher remarked. It is much better managing two schools than one district.

I was surprised to see the improvement made in some of the reading classes, the past year. If you wish to hear good and almost perfect reading, visit some of our district schools. It has been encouraging to teachers to have so many of the parents of the scholars visit the schools for the past year; it contributes much to the interest of our schools. I think it would be an advantage to some schools to change some of the text books the coming year.

The schools are furnished well with blackboards, and have made good use of them the past winter. The schools are deficient in globes and maps, which are needed to obtain a thorough knowledge of geography; it is difficult for the young to get a correct idea of the shape of the earth's surface without them. There are some schools in town prolonged by subscription, after the public fund is expended, which is a great advantage, as the scholars have got interested in their studies, and will make more improvement than at first. I wish all districts would practice the same. There has been a uniform kindness in most of the schools between teachers, scholars and parents. Nothing will help children along more than knowing that the older people are interested in their work.
