School Report.

To the Citizens of the Town of Newington :

The School Board respectfully submit the following report of the schools under their charge, together with the usual statistics, for the year ending Aug. 1st, 1902.

The town may well be congratulated on its teachers, "As the teacher, so is the school." We believe them to be hard working, conscientious, enthusiastic and progressive women.

The primary room was in charge of Abbie N. Frink throughout the fall and winter term ; her worth as a teacher was shown by the expressions of regret at her resignation. Miss Hanscom of Portsmouth, a former successful teacher here, was chosen for the position.

Miss Lucy M. Hoyt has, as in previous years, had charge of the music, spending a half hour fortnightly in each room ; the progress made was shown by the musical given at the close of the year.

The tireless efforts of Mrs. Greenough have brought our grammar grade near to the ideal of a country school, with its outgoing class qualified for, and for the most part entering, the High School.

Drawing is one of the required studies at the Portsmouth High School, and for the last few years the average rank of the Newington children has been lowered by their deficiency in that study ; entering as they do with those who have had nine consecutive years in drawing, it is noticeable that our children are at a great disadvantage. As music is not one of the required studies at the High School, the desirability of substituting a drawing teacher for a music teacher, is a subject for serious consideration. The present appropriation is not enough to provide special instruction in both branches.

The irregularity of attendance, not only of a few but of every individual pupil, has been the greatest hinderance the school has known, for the last two years there has not been a single case of perfect attendance, as shown by the school registers. The Legislature of 1901, known as "The Educational Session," passed this law, and provided for its enforcement :

CHAPTER 93, PUBLIC STATUTES.

SECTION 14. Every person having the custody and control of a child between the ages of eight and fourteen years, residing in a school district in which a public school is annually taught, shall cause such child to attend the public school all the time such school is in session, unless the child shall be excused by the school board of the district because his physical or mental condition is such as to prevent his attendance at school for the period required, or because he was instructed in the English language in a private school approved by the school board for a number of weeks equal to that in which the public school was in session in the common English branches, or, having acquired those branches, in other more advanced studies. Any person who does not comply with the requirements of this section shall be fined ten dollars for the first offense and twenty dollars for every subsequent offense, for the use of the district.

Langdon Public Library.

Eleventh Annual Report.

To the Citizens of Newington :

The Trustees of Langdon Library have the honor to present their eleventh annual report for the year ending Feb. 15, 1903. This year brings the tenth anniversary of the dedication of our library. Ten years of strong, steady growth, and the people of our town may well look back over the years with satisfaction and feel confident that Langdon Library is keeping pace with other small libraries of the state.

A new table for the librarian's use has been added to the furniture the past year. A fine new bookcase has been presented by Mr. Woodbury Langdon, whose interest in the library is unbounded, and to him our especial thanks are due, not only for this last gift but for his watchful care and help in many ways. Mr. Langdon has given eighty-four bound volumes of Littell's Living Age.

In April, 1902, Mrs. Woodbury Langdon presented eighty-one new and popular books and eighteen bound volumes of Harper's Magazines, thus completing the list to June, 1902. This magazine is now regularly supplied to the reading table. In response to an appeal in the librarian's report last year, a valuable gift of twenty-seven books from the old circulating library has been presented by Mrs. Mary E. Frink. A few others have been given by different ones, and to them all we extend our thanks for their kindness. The donation of one or two books may not seem much to the ones giving them, but it means more than books to the library officials—it shows their interest and expresses their gratitude for the work being done, and in no better way can the people of the town show their appreciation than by these gifts of books or specimens for the cabinet.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Trustees :

The Librarian presents the following report of Langdon Library for the year ending Feb. 15, 1903.

During the period since the last annual report, several important additions have been made, thereby considerably increasing the value and usefulness of this institution.

Little work along new lines can be recorded, but with the growth of the library the ideals for its advance and its officials must necessarily give extra time and thought to meet the demands upon it, and promote its usefulness.

The school children, at the present time, are taking especial interest in its collection of minerals and curios.

For the benefit of libraries throughout the state, a Clearing House for Periodicals has been established in Concord, at the State Library. Langdon Library has sent duplicate and miscellaneous magazines there, receiving in return those desired :

therefore, if any of our citizens have old or new periodicals which they do not care to preserve, we would be glad of them, as they would help us, through this exchange, to obtain copies needed to complete our files.

How shall we place the library in the position to be of the most possible service to our people? Its standard depends upon each citizen as well as upon the officers. The co-operation of the past year is most gratefully acknowledged, yet we wish that in the coming year, Langdon Library might reach every individual in our town and be a real pleasure and profit to all.
