REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

FOR THE YEAR

1857-8.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

“Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it,” is as true now as in the days of Solomon. Though all admit the wisdom of this maxim, comparatively few act as if they realized its truth. We profess better things than we practice.

Parents everywhere eulogise good schools, but how much do they do towards making them what they should be. Much the larger portion never visit them, never speak an encouraging word to the teachers, never gladden the school-room with an approving look or smile. Had we in our employ a person in any business, save that of teaching our children, should we not manifest greater interest in their work than we seem to in this all important pursuit of moulding and directing the human mind, the immortal soul? What say you farmers, mechanics, merchants and professional men?

If our children fail, agriculture, manufactures, commerce, learning, liberty and religion fail with them.

The chief responsibility of training the child “in the way he should go,” rests upon the parents. Children who receive a proper home education, seldom make disturbance in school, and are always the best scholars socially, morally and intellectually, and make the best men and women.

You love your children, you desire their prosperity, you think and feel that you are willing to make almost any sacrifice for them, you know the importance of education, and are resolved to give them the advantages of the district school. All this is well. Many of you have but little more to give them. But make your schools what they should be, and they will need no other gift, no other legacy, no other aid to positions of usefulness and respectability in society.

It is generally conceded by those of the largest experience and most intimate acquaintance with our schools, that nothing is so much needed to make them better, as a more vital interest and active zeal on the part of parents and citizens.

More money should be raised for their support, and more visits made to the school room. If the reports of our teachers be true, there has, at least, been one school in Bristol the past year, that has not been visited by a parent or other person, save your committee. No one apparently feeling interest enough to go in and spend an hour with the children, and see and judge for himself how they were being taught, how his money was expended, whether profitable or otherwise.

The County Commissioners, all my predecessors in office, have been constant in urging you to visit your schools. Will you not see to it in future, that it may not be said of Bristol that she is indifferent to her highest interests.

Many of the schools deserve more than the short notice given them in this Report.

DISTRICT No. 1. One term only during the year, taught by Miss KATE S. SAWYER, an experienced and successful teacher. School well governed and progress good.

DISTRICT No. 2. Summer term taught by Miss MARTHA A. CLARK. This is the largest school in town, and most difficult to satisfy and govern. There are evils outside of the school room that must be corrected before the school can be made by any teacher, what it should be. A more efficient and energetic government and discipline was required than the teacher was able to maintain. She evidently labored hard to improve and benefit the school, and some progress was made in all the studies.

The winter term was taught by Mr. JONATHAN T. JACKSON, who, in the opinion of your committee, is an excellent teacher. Order good. Improvement great. One of the best schools in town.

DISTRICT No. 3. One term during the year, taught by Miss LIZZIE V. RANDALL. This was one of the best schools. Good order prevailed, and good progress made in all the branches taught.

DISTRICT No. 4. The people of this district are deserving of much praise for the interest they feel and manifest, too, in the education of their children. The past year they built a new and elegant school house at a cost of $500, furnished in a handsome manner, and employed a thorough scholar and efficient teacher, in all respects, to take charge of the school. Of course they have a number one school, no better in town. How could it be otherwise, when teacher, scholars and parents all coöperate together? "A word to the wise is sufficient."

DISTRICT No. 5. Two terms during the year, both by Miss JULIA A. SPILLER. This is the smallest school in town. When visited by your committee, the indications and appearances were favorable. No whispering allowed. Progress fair.

DISTRICT No. 6. Summer term taught by Miss ALMIRA S. DOLL-OFF. A good teacher and a good school. Winter term by M. H. C. AYER. Better order, doubtless, would have made it a better school. This was Mr. Ayer's first attempt at school teaching. Experience will enable him to correct some errors and deficiencies observable this winter. Progress average.

DISTRICT No. 7. First term taught by Miss AMANDA A. PRES-COTT. Second term by Miss OLIVE J. CHENEY. This is a small school but contains some good scholars. The teachers acquitted themselves well, and the scholars made commendable progress.

DISTRICT No. 8. But one term during the year, taught by Miss REBECCA R. HAINES. Rather deficient in order, but on the whole a pretty good teacher. The classes in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic, and Grammar appeared well at the close of the school.

DISTRICT No. 9. Summer term taught by Miss LUCINA G. PIKE, who is one of our best teachers. Order good and progress very commendable.

Winter term taught by Miss SUSAN M. ROSS. Had the teacher been able to maintain a stricter discipline, the school would have been more useful. The classes in Reading, Arithmetic, Grammar and Physiology acquitted themselves creditably. A number of scholars left the school before the term closed. Whether justified or not in so doing, your committee cannot determine. Perhaps an examination of the reports of some of my predecessors might throw some light upon the home education and influence received by a portion of the scholars in this district.

DISTRICT No. 10. This school has had three terms, taught by Miss MARY F. FERSON, an experienced and successful teacher. This has been one of our best regulated and conducted schools. Good progress has been made in all the branches taught.

Some simple music was introduced among the exercises of the day, which served the double purpose of interrupting the monotony of school hours, and of soothing and humanizing the spirit. Gentle music is a moral teacher.

DISTRICT No. 11. Two terms, taught by Miss SARAH C. MOOR, one of our best teachers, thorough and efficient in the discharge of her duties. This school, though small in numbers, has some of the best scholars in town. Marked attention was given to the reading and spelling exercises.

Appended to this report is a table of statistics relating to the schools.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

LEWIS W. FLING, S. S. Committee.
