REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the citizens and friends of Education of Gilford :

Your Committee in submitting his report of the Schools for the past year, wishes to say a few things pertaining to their future prosperity.

Notwithstanding there is perhaps as much interest manifested in educational matters in this town as in many others in the county and state, yet we can but feel that even among those who should be most alive to the welfare of our schools, too much indifference is seen.

This indifference shows itself in the little attention given to schools ; the little effort made for improvements ; and in the lack of a proper public sentiment in favor of making our schools first class schools.

But as space will not allow me to enlarge upon this point, let me call your attention to a few needed improvements.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

There are several districts that have not a respectable or comfortable school house ; but continue to disregard the convenience, the comfort, the health of their children, and send them to the old dilapidated, worn-out, torn-to-pieces, uncomfortably-seated house rather than spend a few dollars for a good one. We fear that it is the mighty love of the mightier dollar that forms the mightiest barrier to having suitable school houses in these districts. If people expect good schools they must provide suitable school rooms. We hope the day is not far distant when some of our districts may follow the example of districts No. 1, and 5.

TEXT BOOKS.

The multiplication of text books is a great evil in our schools, and a serious hindrance to good classification. This subject demands especial attention. The School Committee has power to regulate this, but it has become a delicate matter in many towns to change, introduce, or systematize the books. This has been brought about by too frequent and unnecessary changes, which have prejudiced the people against changes when really demanded. There are in town too many kinds of Grammars and Arithmetics for good classification. I found in one school twelve classes in Arithmetic, where there should have been but six. With such classification each scholar could have but little attention.

I would recommend a uniformity of text books to be used either throughout the town or certainly in each district. It would be well for each district to choose a special committee to consider this, or give instruction to the School Committee.

CHOOSING PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEES.

Our School Districts often make mistakes in choosing their Prudential Committees. If you want good schools, you must get a man for your Prudential Committee, who will make an effort to obtain a good teacher.

EMPLOYMENT OF TEACHERS.

Too little effort is made oftentimes by our Committees to obtain the services of tried, experienced and qualified teachers. Too many teachers are employed, because they are friends of one of our neighbors, or, perhaps, one of our nephews or nieces, or our wife's cousin or relative; or perhaps the first teacher that makes application is hired. How can we expect good schools, unless we are careful in the selection of teachers? Do not hire, always, because you can hire cheap. Sometimes the cheapest teacher is the dearest one we could find.

SCHOOL MONEY.

Our back schools need very much more schooling. The schools at Lake Village and Laconia have as much as they need with their present arrangements. But with another department, which both districts need, and must soon have, they will need more money. Your Committee would recommend the sum of $2500, as a sufficient amount for the coming year. You may think your taxes are high; the town is in debt. True. But if you deprive your children of an education, your town will always be in debt. During the past year our schools have, as a whole, been a success. We have had but few unprofitable schools; although some have not been all we hoped.

DISTRICT No. 1. Prudential Committee, Geo. W. Sanders. This school, as last year, had but one term, with a short vacation. Taught by Ada E. Mooney of Alton. Mr. S. believes, as we do, in the employment of the same teacher in the same school while successful. Miss M. more than sustained her last winter's reputation. She rules mostly by love. If we were to make a suggestion upon her government, it would be this—to season her love with a little of the rod.

DISTRICT No. 2. Prudential Committee, George Sleeper. Fall term, taught by Miss E. D. Sanborn. Miss S. has taught this school five terms. Of its success, we need only refer you to the name of the teacher.

DISTRICT No. 3. Prudential Committee, Jonathan Morrill. Two terms, taught by S. Jennie Morrill. Miss M. has taught this school three terms, with increased profit to the school each successive term. This district should by some means afford its children more advantages for an education; for in it there are those who will make good scholars, if provided with proper privileges.

DISTRICT No. 4. Prudential Committee, S. S. Wiggin. Summer and Winter terms, Primary Department, taught by M. Anna Gilman. This is by no means an easy school to teach. In this department it takes patience, adaptation and perseverance to succeed. Miss G. has a peculiar way of getting along pleasantly and have her scholars love her. She has taught three successful terms here, and the district would do well to secure her for the fourth.

Higher Department, Summer term taught by Miss S. L. Merrill. Miss M. accomplished in this school a good work; highly creditable to herself. She attained it only by hard and persevering labor. The examination was attended by quite a number of the parents and friends who will join me in earnest words of commendation to both teacher and scholars for their excellent and thorough recitations and good deportment.

Winter term, higher department taught by Fred M. Wadleigh. Mr. W. says in his remarks upon this department that "There are too many scholars in attendance, and it is impossible to do any degree of justice to sixty or seventy scholars. This school, I regard as a difficult one to manage; and although I have met with no difficulty, yet I have found it necessary to keep a constant surveillance over each one, (but this in good part comes from DISTRICT No. 12. Prudential Committee, Frank Collins. Summer term taught by Mary A. Smith. This was Miss Smith's first school. We were well pleased with the school, the advancement made, and the order. The teacher seemed self-possessed, and entered upon her work like one of more experience. Fall term, taught by Mary E. Rowe. We were well satisfied with this school at our first and closing visit. Proficiency good.

DISTRICT No. 13. Prudential Committee, S. C. Clark. Primary department taught by Mrs. C. Davis. This school made fair progress for one so large and with so many small scholars. Higher department, summer and winter terms taught by Ella J. Hill. Miss Hill has begun a good work for this school. In scholarship it is not the same school it has heretofore been. The teacher and scholars seemed united. The examination, witnessed by Prudential Committee, parents, and myself, was very interesting, thorough, and highly commendable. There are scholars in this department worthy of praise. Miss H. is a good teacher to employ. Hope she will be kept in town.

Primary department, winter term, taught by Miss Nellie Hall of Tamworth. This is a hard school to keep, both on account of the number and age of the scholars, and the indifference of the parents, as seen in the absence and tardiness of the scholars. However, Miss Hall has succeeded quite well. Order and improvement fair. Miss H's place as a teacher should be with older and more advanced pupils.

This district should have a new school house, such as a village of its size, wealth and population demands; one that would be a credit, and not a disgrace, to the place; one with accommodations for three departments. The school should then be well graded, and admission to the third department depending upon deportment and scholarship; this department taking the place of the present High School two or more terms of the year. When this school house is built, we hope it will not be quite so near a hill. If this district would improve its schools, the people should become more interested themselves, and see that your teachers are invited to take tea or spend the evening with more than two families during the term.

DISTRICT No. 14. Prudential Committee, Orrin Dame. One term, taught by M. C. Robinson of Meredith Centre. This is a small, but good school. Miss R. is a good teacher; her scholars gave evidence of not only knowing the how, but the why of things.

Improvement in reading was particularly noticeable. This was a profitable term, and the money well expended.

In closing our report, we would express our thanks to the Prudential Committees for their readiness to receive suggestions and for their assistance during the year; also to the parents for their universal kindness to me as a Committee.

GEO. M. PARK,

School Committee.
