AUDITOR'S REPORT.

We hereby certify that we have examined the foregoing accounts of the Selectmen, and we find them correctly cast and properly vouched.

JAMES H. COLEMAN,
BENJAMIN S. HOYT,

Auditors.
Report of Superintendent of Schools.

To the Newington School Board:

I herewith submit my second annual report for your consideration.

WORK OF THE YEAR.

Although the work last year was broken up very much during the fall term, due to the influenza epidemic for several weeks, we were able to make up all weeks lost, and by the teachers concentrating their attention on the essentials, in each subject, practically all the required work, as outlined in the State Program, was covered in every grade in each school. Comparatively few failed of promotion at the end of the school year, in fact only one out of the total number registered, 52. The per cent. of attendance for all schools was much more than for the previous year and the number of tardiness less, both of which are indications of better school work. I would like to again call, to the attention of all parents, what I said in my report of last year relative to attendance and tardiness. Good regular attendance and punctuality on the part of all pupils is a fairly good barometer of the kind of work any school is doing. When pupils are in their places promptly, one may be reasonably sure their attitude toward the school is businesslike and the work of the school will be promptly and probably more efficiently done. The co-operation of parents will do much to make this condition possible.

Many of the activities started during the War were continued throughout the year, with excellent results, particularly, sale of Thrift and War Savings Stamps and the School Home Gardening. We believe this work should be continued, as it has been used deliberately for the teaching of thrift, generosity, loyalty and patriotism, and thus will prove of permanent value all through the lives of every pupil who has been given encouragement in the same.
Since my last report, I have attended three Teachers' Institutes, and two conferences of Superintendents, one at Plymouth for the week of Aug. 18, last, and one for three days at Durham the week of December 19, last. I have had three meetings for all teachers of my union, besides many personal conferences with all teachers. Since September 1, last, I have made thirty visits to the Newington schools and attended four of your Board meetings.

We lost an excellent teacher in Miss Seaver and one who was very popular with both pupils and parents, however, we were very fortunate in getting Miss Dudley, who is teaching and managing her school successfully. Miss Frink continues to give the same excellent service as she has in the past; a "real foster mother to her little flock."

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

I wish to call your attention to the great shortage of teachers that is threatening not only the schools of New Hampshire but the schools of the whole country. General Streeter, Chairman of the State Board of Education, in an address to the superintendents at the conference in Durham in December, pointed out this great danger to all. He said that there are already in New Hampshire fifty schools closed for lack of teachers and that they expected there would be about eighty more schools closed after the Christmas vacation, because of the teacher shortage. Continuing, he said, "This condition seems not confined to any one section but to prevail generally throughout the country. Nearly all the educational journals and magazines now coming to our office contain editorials, and news items, emphasizing that the danger from this cause threatens to impair and even destroy the efficiency of all public schools. The reason most generally assigned for these conditions is the inadequacy of salaries to hold teachers now in service or to attract new ones to that service."

To illustrate the almost panicky utterances on this question he quoted from a few of the many statements being made.

"The Bulletin of the National Education Association for November, after commenting on the increase of salaries already made, continues:

"The increases are not sufficient, however, to remove the danger. Over 100,000 positions in the public schools today are vacant or filled by teachers who cannot pass the minimum tests for teachers' certificates. Strong teachers are leaving the profession because of inadequate pay. Positions are being filled by immature and untrained teachers. It is estimated that the number of teachers below 21 years of age has, during the last year, increased by not less than 25 per cent.

"An investigation made by this Association shows that the attendance at teacher training institutions has decreased over 20 per cent. since 1916. It is high time, not only for the teachers but the public, to give serious consideration to the teacher problem.

"On December 6, Governor Runyon of New Jersey issued a general proclamation to the people of that State, in which he said, 'Unless the people and members of School Boards are aroused to the great peril that is now threatening, the 600,000 in our New Jersey schools today, and perhaps a whole generation of other children, may be made the victims of a demoralized and broken down educational system.

"The crisis is rendered acute by the alarming scarcity of teachers and that scarcity is due to the low salaries paid. Already the teacher scarcity has caused the lowering of educational standards and even the suspension of classes throughout the State. It has made necessary the hiring of teachers inadequately trained for the work. Serious as this situation is, it is only the beginning of what may become the gravest crisis the schools of New Jersey have ever faced. It is a crisis that is not limited to New Jersey alone, it looms as a menace to the whole country, to all the public schools in all the states.

"New Jersey, therefore, faces the immediate prospect of closing schools or of drawing into the teaching profession a still larger number of those inadequately trained and without any special preparation for the work. If our children are to be taught by incompetent teachers, or are not to be taught at all, the end of American democracy, as we know it, is in sight."

There is now pending in the Ohio Legislature a resolution reciting the threatening conditions where hundreds and perhaps thousands of Ohio school classes will be without teachers and closes with the following:

"Be it further Resolved; That the General Assembly request the Governor of the State by proclamation to ask that all forces of the State join this educational crusade by addresses and by printed advertisements which will recruit the ablest young men and women of Ohio as teachers in our public schools."

In the Boston Sunday Herald of December 28, Dr. Thomas, State Superintendent of Public Schools for Maine, published a statement, to the effect that eighty schools were then closed because of the teacher shortage and that the number would shortly be greatly increased. Besides, he said, "If present emergencies are not met at the coming town meetings, there will be 500 schools closed next autumn at the best calculation, and many other schools will be opened by girls of no training and less than twenty years of age." Furthermore, he gave the following statistics:

"Out of 650,000 teachers in the United States, 143,000 left the profession last year. In four years the graduates of normal schools in the United States decreased 30 per cent. One hundred thousand positions are without teachers or filled with teachers below the standard, and yet we have never, in the history of America, realized as we do now the relation of education to free government. Nor have we realized before as now, what our schools mean to our country."

These foregoing statements from the widely separated States of Maine, New Jersey and Ohio, are only illustrative of country wide conditions:

General Streeter further informed us that from statistical experience we might expect in New Hampshire the withdrawal of between 400 and 450 teachers at the end of the present year. Our two normal schools will graduate less than 100, which is about the usual number. He said, "There is no certainty of filling the vacant places with a sufficient number of competent teachers. It seems absolutely essential, however, that our school boards and all other citizens interested in our schools should realize that an emergency confronts us and prepare themselves to co-operate with the State Board in all sensible and practical ways to meet the emergency."

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

What I said in my report of last year, relative to school buildings, is applicable this year and so I will only call the attention of the board to that report. However, I urge the Board, since we found that the amount voted for the new building last year was not sufficient to meet the plans accepted by the building committee, due to the sudden great increase in all building materials, to take the proper measure to bring the matter again before the voters of the district at the annual meeting. As I explained to the Board last year, the Commissioner of Education refused to approve our Junior High School for this year, as he feels that any teacher is trying to do the impossible, in teaching the 5th and 6th grades and also the 7th and 8th grades in Junior High work. This means that any of our pupils in the 7th and 8th grades could now go to an approved Junior High school, as in Portsmouth, and the Newington School District would be responsible for their tuition. To overcome this difficulty, we should see that our new building has at least three class rooms, so that a third teacher could be employed to give her whole time to just the 7th and 8th grades in the secondary school subjects. Then one teacher would have the first three grades and the other teacher the next three grades. This plan of organization, the same as now obtains in Greenland and North Hampton, would be almost ideal for a town like Newington with her enrollment. With such an organization of the work, much more efficient teaching would be the result. We surely must plan for our new building right away, otherwise we are taking the chance of having the State Board of Health stepping in and condemning our present building, and compelling us to remodel the same or to build new, or doing it themselves, which authority they have under the law. This is just what they did do with respect to the building recently burned in Greenland.

One thing that I wish to suggest to the Board, is to give careful consideration to the advisability of the district employing a Red Cross nurse as a school or district nurse. We have such a nurse in Hampton this year who is employed jointly by the local Red Cross Chapter and the School Board as the school and community nurse. In Newington, we now have medical inspection under the new law, which is very important. However, if Newington cannot have a nurse of its own, I feel quite certain some other towns would be pleased to employ such a nurse jointly.

I have collected some school statistics for 1918-19 as a part of this report, which is appended.

I wish very much to attend the Columbia Teachers' College for about six weeks next summer, in order to take two or three courses pertaining to school supervision and administration, and have already obtained the permission of the State Board of Education to do so. I trust all the Boards of my Union will as readily grant me this privilege since such courses should increase my efficiency as your Superintendent.

In closing, I wish to express my appreciation of your counsel and cordial support, and of the co-operation of the parents and teachers in making the school work a success.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. WALKER,

Superintendent.

FINANCIAL REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Financial Report of School Board for fiscal year ending August 31, 1919, will be printed separately for distribution at or prior to School District meeting in April.

Inaccessibility of records through sickness and quarantine regulations prevailing in the households of both members of the School Board make this procedure necessary.

EDITH N. HODGDON,
MARION CHASE HOWARD,
School Board.
To the Citizens of Newington:

Your Library Trustees hereby submit their twenty-eighth annual report, also their financial statement, and the Librarian's report for the year ending December 31, 1919.

The past year has been uneventful. No new work has been attempted, as it seemed necessary to allow a re-adjustment of ourselves to conditions unlike those of any previous years.

There is a continued interest among the school children, and in the list of new books, more have been ordered to meet the requirements of the Reading Course, prescribed for the Junior High School Grades, to the end that pupils may more intelligently and readily enter upon their advanced High School work.

We wish that more of our women would feel it a duty as well as a privilege to make a weekly visit to our Library and to become better acquainted with the books. If no books are there that will prove helpful friends to you, kindly express to the Librarian in what particular subject you are interested, and we shall be eager to add them to our list.

A careful and frequent visit among our books will mean more than meeting new people.

No housewife can fail to find helpful suggestions from the many manuals that present practical working directions, whereby tasks may be reduced, and much saved in energy, money, and time in all departments of the home. We believe, "That the study of home problems may be made of no less cultural value than the study of history or literature and of much more immediate value," and the books pertaining thereto are found on our library shelves.

We would express appreciation for the good will shown by citizens and out of town friends. Mrs. Woodbury Langdon manifested her continued interest by her gift of one hundred and seventeen new books, as well as magazines. Hon. Wallace Hackett presented ten volumes, and thirty-five volumes were purchased with a part of the interest due on the Webster fund. We gratefully acknowledge all gifts, loans, kind suggestions and honest criticisms.
