Report of Superintendent

To the Citizens of the School District of Bridgewater:

I present herein my first annual report as superintendent of schools, the report including the five months from Sept. 1 to Feb. 1.

The outstanding fact in this district, as in all others of the state, is the new educational act which went into operation Sept. 1, 1919, by which the more wealthy communities of the state will generously come to the assistance of those less fortunately situated, so that the opportunities for education may be as nearly equalized as possible, and every child in the state shall have the privilege of attending a standard school. A standard school is defined by the act to be a school (1) maintained for at least thirty-six weeks, (2) in a suitable and sanitary building, (3) equipped with approved furniture, books, maps and other necessary appliances, (4) taught by an approved teacher, (5) directed and supervised by an approved superintendent, (6) with suitable provision for the care of the health and physical welfare of all pupils.

I shall confine this report to a statement of what has been done by your school board and superintendent in carrying out the terms of this act in Bridgewater.

1. Doubt has been expressed as to the advisability of maintaining schools in a region with scattered population, drifting snows and low temperatures. We have succeeded in maintaining schools thus far through one of the severest winters on record, so that there is no longer any reason for doubt. Up to the end of the present week, Feb. 13, we have completed in the Bridgewater Hill school twenty weeks and in the River Road and Turnpike schools nineteen weeks. We shall have ample time to complete the full school year of thirty-six weeks between early March and the first of July.

2. Considerable changes will have to be made in the school buildings to make them "suitable and sanitary" buildings, within the meaning of the act. Front windows, which pupils face when seated, will have to be closed, and more light admitted from the left side. Toilets must be provided with fly-proof vaults; and, at the Hill school, separate toilets provided for boys and girls. Ceilings and walls will have to be whitened or tinted. It ought to be a part of our ideal to make our past, and this can be accomplished by cooperation on the part of all interested in the schools.

3. The schools are equipped with suitable desks and seats, though I should hope, if new ones are needed in the future, that single and not double desks will be purchased, and that they be both adjustable and movable. It is desirable that desks and seats be exactly adjusted to the size of pupils using them, in the interests of straight bodies and good health, and it is a great convenience to be able to clear the room of movable furniture, for various school and community purposes.

An abundance of supplies has been provided, and the schools are equipped for the work of the year. As the price of school supplies is continually advancing it has been thought wise to purchase for some time ahead. A considerable number of new textbooks will be needed as soon as funds are available, and maps will be needed in each school.

4. It is the intention of the educational act that none but trained and qualified teachers shall be admitted to New Hampshire schoolrooms. It is impossible to attain this ideal at present, however, for there are not enough of such teachers to supply the schools. I cannot overstate the gravity of the situation as regards qualified teachers. Not only are teachers leaving the profession in vast numbers, but the supply of young people looking forward to teaching and fitting themselves in the normal schools has diminished alarmingly, while the number of children to be taught is constantly increasing. Even if teaching positions are made satisfactory in the matter of salary and in other respects it will take years for the supply of qualified teachers to equal the demand. Meanwhile many schools will be without teachers or taught by those not properly qualified for their work. Under these circumstances it will be a crime against childhood for any community to allow competent teachers to depart because their positions have not been satisfactory.

The district has been fortunate, under the conditions which I have described, in being able to secure teachers for all of its schools. Many in the state have been closed. Miss Edith F. Mitchell has taught the Hill school, Miss Ellen Frances Bean the River Road school, and Mrs. Lettie E. Brock the Turnpike school. To the great regret of pupils and parents Miss Mitchell was obliged to give up her school at the end of the half-year. The uncertainty of securing a successor for the balance of the year made it seem wise to take advantage of the opportunity to secure a normal student for the month of February, and Miss Emma McHugh is in charge of the school for the month.

5. The work of a superintendent of schools is both administrative and educational. I need hardly say that the administrative side of my work has been the absorbing one for the last half-year. The task of organizing the schools of the various districts, with the assistance of the school boards, in accordance with the new act, has been a large one, in which I can only report progress. To the educational side of my work, the careful inspection and supervision of teaching, the testing of pupils and the direction of their work, I have been able to give much less time than I hope to give in the future.

6. The lack of physical fitness revealed by the draft has set Americans to thinking, and in particular has stimulated the people responsible for the conduct of the schools to review their procedure to see if they have not left something undone, and if in future they cannot rear a race with better bodies. It is the intent of the educational act that every effort shall be made to remedy physical defects and to cultivate strong bodies and positive health. A school physician has been engaged by your school board, who will, at the opening of the spring term, examine all the children, and notify parents of defects requiring attention. It will be a part of our school program, also, to have such calisthenic exercises as will help to neutralize the evils of a sedentary occupation.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the uniform courtesy and helpfulness of everyone connected with the schools. School board, teachers and parents have worked together for the best interests of the children.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES A. BRECK, Superintendent.

In order to conform to fiscal school year ending Aug. 31st as fixed by the State Board of Education, the School Board includes only the spring term in the foregoing report.

Respectfully submitted,

G. T. YOUNG,
S. S. FLETCHER,
J. H. MORRISON,

School Board.
