DURHAM, NH – Governor Chris Sununu continues to enjoy broad approval of his job performance and high personal popularity among New Hampshire residents. Sununu holds leads of similar size over his Democratic rivals Steve Marchand and Molly Kelly for the forthcoming gubernatorial election. Less than one-third of residents have an opinion on whether the State Legislature should reelect Bill Gardner or select former Democratic gubernatorial candidate Colin Van Ostern as New Hampshire Secretary of State.

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred and forty-eight (548) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed in English by landline and cellular telephone between April 13 and April 22, 2018. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.2 percent. Included were three hundred and seventy-nine (379) likely 2018 general election voters (MSE = +/- 5.0%).

Gubernatorial Approval

Just over a year into his term as governor, Governor Chris Sununu continues to enjoy broad approval; 59% approve of the job Sununu is doing as governor, 16% disapprove, and 25% neither approve nor disapprove or are unsure. Sununu's job approval is largely unchanged since February (61% approval).

Gubernatorial Approval - Chris Sununu

* We ask that this copyrighted information be referred to as the Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center.

Eighty-one percent of New Hampshire Republicans approve of the job Sununu is doing, the highest level of support he has enjoyed among Republicans during his tenure as governor. Sixty-three percent of Independents and only 38% of Democrats approve of Sununu's job performance, slightly lower levels of support among these groups than in February (71% approval among Independents, 47% approval among Democrats).

Job Approval - Governor Chris Sununu - By Party Identification

On a scale where "strongly approve" equals 7 and "strongly disapprove" equals 1, Sununu's average approval score (5.0) in his sixth quarter has remained unchanged since February 2018 (5.0). His support is virtually the same as Maggie Hassan (4.9) enjoyed at the same point in her governorship and is higher than Craig Benson (4.6) at this point, but is well below John Lynch's support (5.6) in his sixth quarter.

2018 Gubernatorial Election

Most Granite Staters are undecided on their choice for the Fall gubernatorial election. Eighty percent of New Hampshire likely voters say they are still trying to decide whom they will vote for New Hampshire governor, 11% say they are leaning toward someone, and 9% say have definitely decided. Responses are largely unchanged since February.

Definitely Decided on Candidate

NH Governor Race

As of this date, former Portsmouth Mayor Steve Marchand and State Senator Molly Kelly are the only Democrats who have declared their candidacy for the governor's race.

Despite having campaigned since April 2017, only 10% of respondents say they have a positive opinion of former Portsmouth Mayor Steve Marchand; 12% have a neutral opinion, and 4% have an unfavorable opinion. Nearly three-quarters of respondents (74%) say they don't know or have never heard of Marchand. The proportion of respondents who have a favorable opinion of Marchand has slightly increased since February (5%). Among Democrats, 15% have a favorable opinion of Marchand, 11% are neutral, and 5% have an unfavorable opinion.

Marchand's rival for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, former State Senator Molly Kelly, has similar levels of favorability while running for state-wide office for the first time. Nine percent of respondents have a favorable opinion of Kelly, 12% have a neutral opinion, 6% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and nearly three-quarters (73%) don't know or have never heard of Kelly. Among Democrats, 15% have a favorable opinion of Kelly, 13% are neutral, and 2% have an unfavorable opinion.

Libertarian candidate Jillette Jarvis is not well-known among New Hampshire residents. Three percent have a favorable opinion of Jarvis, 11% have a neutral opinion, 3% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 83% don't know or have never heard of Jarvis.

Favorability - Prospective Gubernatorial Candidates

Prospective 2018 NH Gubernatorial Matchups

In matchups for the November race, Governor Sununu holds double-digit leads over both potential Democratic opponents.

In a matchup between Sununu, Marchand, and Jarvis, 49% of 2018 likely voters say they would vote for Sununu, 27% would vote for Marchand, 2% would vote for Jarvis, and 22% are undecided or would vote for another candidate.

In a matchup between Sununu, Kelly, and Jarvis, 51% of 2018 likely voters say they would vote for Sununu, 24% would vote for Kelly, 2% would vote for Jarvis, and 23% are undecided or would vote for another candidate.

Self-identified Republicans, those who voted for Donald Trump in 2016, conservative radio listeners, self-described conservatives, conservative radio listeners, those who attend religious services one a week or more often, Union Leader readers, and gun owners are more likely than others to say they would vote for Sununu in both of these matchups.

Self-described liberals, self-identified Democrats, those who voted for Hillary Clinton in 2016, Boston Globe readers, those who have completed postgraduate work, NHPR listeners, and Seacoast residents are more likely than others to say they would vote for the Democratic nominee in both of these matchups.

2018 NH Secretary of State Race

Former Democratic gubernatorial candidate Colin Van Ostern has announced his intention run for New Hampshire Secretary of State, challenging current Secretary of State Bill Gardner who has held the office since 1976. The State Legislature will select the Secretary of State after the Fall 2018 election.

Favorability - Prospective Candidates

Sixteen percent of New Hampshire residents have a favorable opinion of Colin Van Ostern, 12% are neutral, 9% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and nearly two-thirds (64%) don't know or are unsure. Van Ostern's favorability is largely unchanged since February (12% favorable, 8% unfavorable).

Nearly a quarter of New Hampshire residents (23%) have a favorable opinion of Bill Gardner, 13% are neutral, 8% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and more than half (57%) don't know or are unsure. Gardner's favorability among New Hampshire residents is similar to his favorability in February 2004.

While the State Legislature will select the Secretary of State, most residents are undecided; 17% prefer Van Ostern, 14% prefer Gardner, 3% are neutral, and two-thirds (66%) don't know or are unsure.

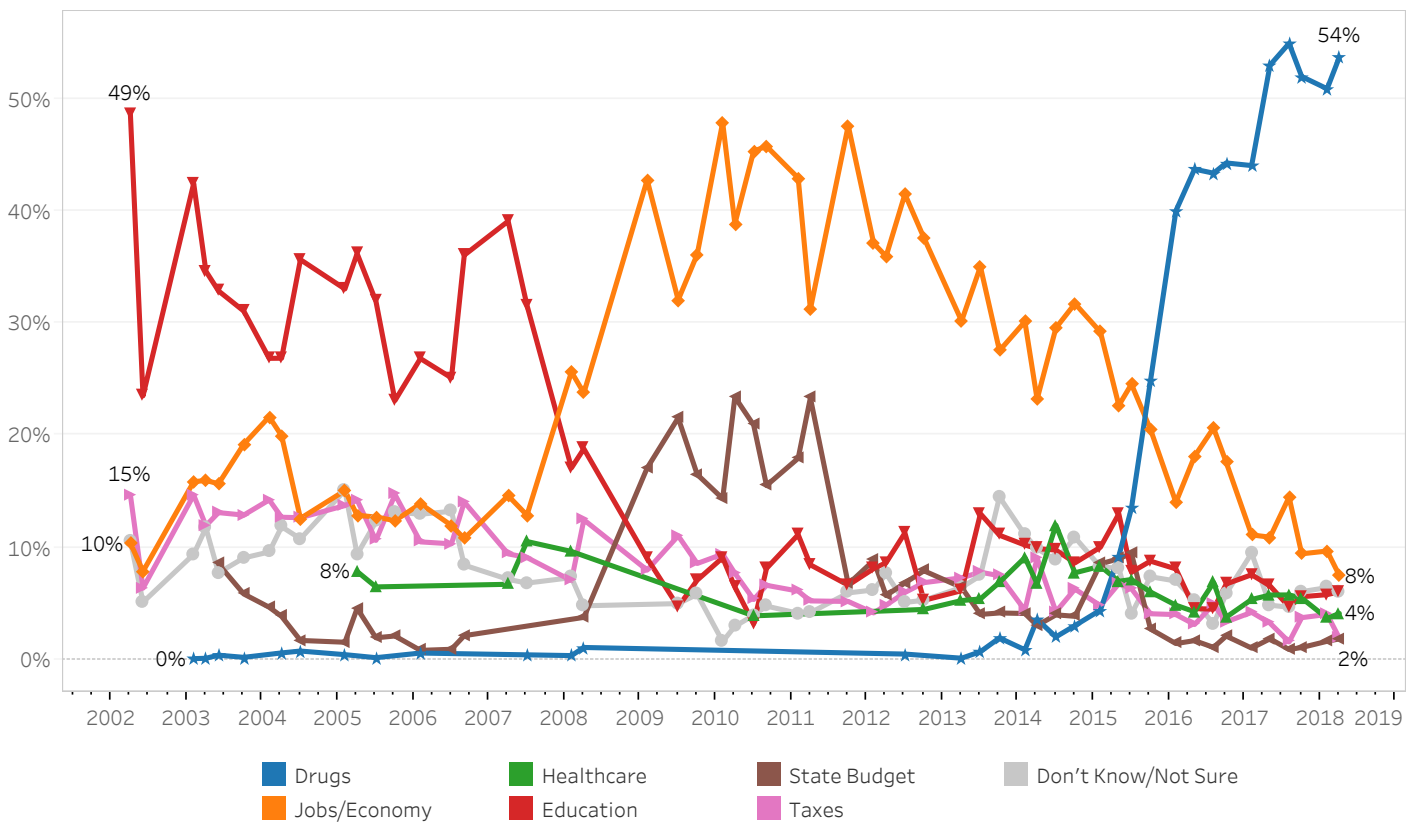

Preferred Secretary of State

Most Important Problem Facing New Hampshire

For the fifth straight quarter, a majority of Granite Staters (54%) believe the drug crisis is the most important problem facing New Hampshire. Eight percent of respondents cite jobs or the economy, 6% mention education, 4% cite healthcare, 2% each mention taxes or the state budget, 19% cite another problem, and 6% don't know or are unsure.

Concern over the drug crisis is bipartisan: 57% of Republicans, 56% of Independents, and 49% of Democrats feel drugs are the state's most important problem.

NH Heading in Right Direction or On Wrong Track

Optimism about the state's outlook remains high. Seventy-two percent of Granite Staters say things are generally going in the right direction in the state, 19% say things are seriously off on the wrong track, and 9% don't know or are unsure. Optimism about the state's future is bipartisan: 84% of Republicans, 68% of Independents, and 65% of Democrats feel the state is headed in the right direction.

NH Right Track – Wrong Track

NH Legislature Approval

Forty-nine percent of Granite Staters say they approve of how the Republican-controlled State Legislature is doing its job; only 26% say they disapprove while 25% neither approve nor disapprove or are unsure.

Nearly two-thirds of Republicans (62%) approve of the job the legislature is doing while 46% of Democrats and 39% of Independents agree.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred and forty-eight (548) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed in English by landline and cellular telephone between April 13 and April 22, 2018. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.2 percent. Included were three hundred and seventy-nine (379) likely 2018 general election voters (MSE = +/- 5.0%). These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The design effect for the survey is 1.2%.

The random sample used in the Granite State Poll was purchased from Marketing Systems Group (MSG), Horsham, PA. MSG screens each selected telephone number to eliminate non-working numbers, disconnected numbers, and business numbers to improve the efficiency of the sample, reducing the amount of time interviewers spend calling non-usable numbers. When a landline number is reached, the interviewer randomly selects a member of the household by asking to speak with the adult currently living in the household who has had the most recent birthday. This selection process ensures that every adult (18 years of age or older) in the household has an equal chance of being included in the survey.

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households. Additionally, data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%. The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions.
