The Silsby Free Library

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

To the Trustees of Silsby Free Public Library and Citizens of Acworth:

Two hundred six books have been added. We purchased seventy-two, our "State Aid Fund" gave us ten and John Graham Brooks seventy-four. Of the remainder, nineteen different people or organizations have given one or more books. Many of our magazines are also given us.

We try, when buying, to get books of interest to the children and the schools.

Four thousand, eight hundred seven books and magazines have been loaned.

Mrs. Edwin George, who has charge of a branch library, at South Acworth, has loaned one hundred ninety three books, and shown much interest.

Respectfully submitted,

Jennie E. Smith, Librarian.

The Public Schools

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Acworth School Board:

I herewith submit my fourth annual report as your Superintendent of Schools.

Please excuse the abruptness of this report. I do not care to use too much space. The financial problems were covered well in the reports of the years 1931 to 1933. I refer you to them.

Miss Maude Moody, at the Derry Hill School and Miss Clarice Zanes at the Town School, have continued their high grade work at making successful rural schools. The County School was not opened in the fall, and the children from that section have been transported to the South School. Teaching of the six lower grades at the South has been done by Miss Catherine Sullivan, with a marked improvement both in discipline and in the grade of work done. Miss Ruth Lane should be commended for the progress that has been made at the East Acworth School.

Mrs. Z. L. Hasham, school nurse, has again faithfully carried on her work to safeguard the health of the children over far too large a territory. Neither cold weather nor bad roads has kept her from her duties.

The one big problem to be solved this year is, "What shall be done with our high school pupils?" For several years Acworth has maintained a four year high school that gave the pupils excellent training. Acworth paid Keene Normal School $1,500.00 a year and furnished buildings, books, supplies, wood, janitor service, etc. Keene Normal furnished one highly trained official, Mrs. Villa Hall Wight and five student teachers. I feel sure that the State would not care to continue this arrangement another year.

Acworth has of her own pupils an average of about fifteen senior high school pupils, and about fifteen in the seventh and eighth grades.

One plan would be to maintain a high school for the grades VII, VIII, IX and X and pay tuition for grades XI and XII. This might be done with two teachers, one of which would be approved by the State as a grade teacher for work in grades VII and VIII. A difficulty would be to find a work shop for manual arts. Mr. Faught has very kindly given us the use of his shop for three years. He has a need for it next year. Such a school might be maintained at the Center by hiring rooms there.

Acworth can maintain her grade schools and let the high school pupils attend school where they please. This would be rather hard on many of the high school pupils, and it is doubtful if a large percentage would be able to have a secondary education.

I have been notified that Alstead High School will be open for school work in September and that the tuition will not be more than seventy dollars a year. The pupils could be transported, bringing all high and junior high school pupils through South Acworth, except a few in Mr. Bascom's section, to Alstead. The pupils of the first six grades could be collected at the Center and at the South, with two teachers at each building. This would give each teacher but three grades and the cost of transportation would not be much larger than it is now. The Derry Hill School could be maintained, or closed and the pupils transported, part to the Center and part to Alstead. This is assuming that Alstead would accept as large a number of lower grade pupils.

If the high school pupils are to be made to pay their own transportation, there are several plans that can be worked out to make more efficient schools. One would be to maintain a junior high school at the Center and have a bus from either the County or East continue from the South to the Center with the junior high pupils. Another would be to have a junior high at the South, and have one of the transportation teams to the Center continue to the South with the seventh and eighth grade pupils.

I shall be glad to help work out any plan that seems best to the voters of Acworth.

Again, I wish to thank the Acworth School Board, the teachers and pupils, and the parents for their cooperation and help.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER L. MASON.
