Capstone Project Introduction

The culmination of my work within the M.S. Healthcare Management program has been my capstone project, Developing Educational Resources for Youth Refugees in New Hampshire.

The project was designed to provide Southern New Hampshire University Center for New Americans youth educational resources to enhance their quality of health & hygiene.

The setting of this program is an Instructor-Led Training within a classroom setting in the city of Manchester, New Hampshire.

Diversity

Southern New Hampshire University Center for New Americans welcomes all walks of life into their programs free of charge.

Southern New Hampshire University (SNHU) Center for New Americans sought to create a youth hygiene program.

Developing Educational Resources for Youth Refugees in New Hampshire was created for my capstone project which is used for SNHU Center for New Americans youth hygiene program.

Developing Educational Resources for Youth Refugees in New Hampshire

Aim: To provide SNHU Center for New Americans youth refugees educational resources on health & hygiene.

Plan: I met with the director of SNHU Center for New Americans who sought out a health & hygiene program. I researched and created class material and hygiene kits for the students in the new program “Developing Educational Resources for Youth Refugees in New Hampshire” The program can be reproduced and used when SNHU Center for New Americans receives new students.

Implement: I taught the health & hygiene program to the students at SNHU Center for New Americans in a classroom setting and provided students with hygiene kits with instructional packets on how to use products that were provided to help keep their bodies healthy.

Check data/Act: Currently awaiting feedback from the director of SNHU Center for New Americans to see if there is positive improvements and to gather feedback from students so changes can be made to better suit the students learning experience.
