Loss By Fire For Year 1925

1 life
Property	$7,368.00

Chief will submit ordinances for approval to be added to ordinances of the Town.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I hereby recommend that the Town Commissioners and the Beach Commissioners take some step to stop the increasing fire menace of the dump on Marsh avenue, which is increasing each year very largely; it being in one of the most highly valued districts of the Beach. The Chief believes that an incinerator to be erected at the foot of Highland avenue and Gravel pit, would do away with this fire menace in this highly valued district. That $400. be appropriated for a new fire alarm box to be located near over-head bridge on Lafayette road going toward Hampton Falls. This would also increase the box system on Exeter road, one or two boxes, going North. That the Department be increased three permanent men. This would only add two working men to the force, as one man would be on "day off" every day of the week, as each man has one day in five.

All persons in Town of Hampton and Beach starting fires shall obtain written permit from me before doing so. If you wish for permit telephone Central Fire Station, (telephone No. 202) and permit will be issued or delivered to persons asking for same.

(Signed) H. B. WHITING.

REPORT OF THE WORK OF THE HAMPTON RED CROSS BRANCH FOR 1925

The Hampton Branch of the American Red Cross has, during the past year, continued to support the School and Community Nurse. This work is made possible by money appropriated by the town, receipts from the annual Red Cross Roll Call and fees collected by the nurse.

Outside the school work, the number of nursing visits has more than doubled the number during the previous year. In cases of sickness or poverty where there was actual need the nurse has obtained help from the different organizations in the town who have always been ready and generous in their responses.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Hampton:

I herewith submit to you my first annual report as superintendent of the Hampton Schools.

My term of office began October 1, 1925. During my four months of service I have endeavored to become acquainted with the people of the town, with the schools of the town, the teachers and the pupils, and to obtain a thorough knowledge of the situation with its problems and with the plans for future development.

The citizens of Hampton and the School Board especially are to be congratulated for the splendid school building which you have provided for the elementary and Junior High School pupils of the town.

Of ample size for its purpose, fitted with modern conveniences, provided with an assembly hall for both school and community purposes, and located on a lot spacious enough for wide lawns and shrubbery and for all sorts of games and sports, our school building ranks as one of the best for its purpose in the State.

I found the school well-organized with three elementary rooms containing two grades each and with the grades seven, eight and nine united in a Junior High School with departmental work. The latter is recognized by the State Educational Department as a Standard Junior High School, and as such is entitled to receive tuition students from surrounding towns. Hampton Falls sends practically all of its seventh and eighth grade pupils and many of its ninth grade pupils, and Seabrook and North Hampton send several ninth grade pupils to our Junior High School.

I consider that Hampton Academy, which serves as the Senior High School for the town, is in excellent condition at the present time. It has an efficient corps of teachers under the principalship of Russell H. Leavitt.

The number of pupils enrolled and the average membership have increased over those of last year, and are now approaching the limit of the capacity of the building.

It is not too early for steps to be taken to start a building fund for the erection of an adequate building for the use of the Academy. Meantime we must add to our available equipment and maintain the standard of the teaching force.

A savings bank organized last April to encourage thrift among the pupils has at present 146 depositors and bank balances amounting to $760.00.

Owing to the scattered population of our town many of the pupils are obliged to bring their noon lunch. This is supplemented by a hot dish served in the lunch room under the charge of the Domestic Science department.

A mid-morning lunch of milk and crackers is served to the younger pupils, especially to those who are under weight and under-nourished.

A Red Cross nurse looks after the health of the pupils, supplementing the work of the School doctor. For this service we are indebted to the generosity of the American Red Cross, aided by an appropriation by the town. A report of this health work appears among the statistics.

I am glad to find in the town an active Parent-Teacher Association. Such an organization can, and this one is, doing much to secure cooperation between parents and school officials.

I feel that much credit should be given to you and your predecessors on the School Board as well as to my immediate predecessors, Superintendents Moore and Walker, for the broad foundation which has been laid for one of the best of modern school organizations.

It remains, First, to provide additional equipment for the building; Second, to increase the efficiency of the teaching corps by encouraging our present teachers to take further training for their work and whenever new teachers are hired by selecting those best fitted in training and experience. Third, to perfect the organization of the school that the best results possible may be obtained.

Several steps have been taken along these lines.

An intelligence examination was given to all of the pupils in the Centre school. This indicates, at least approximately, the mental ability of classes and individual pupils and enables the teachers better to fit the length and difficulty of the work to the capacities of the pupils and the classes. Mr. Sears, principal of the Centre school, was in charge of this examination in Hampton.

An examination in the fundamentals of Arithmetic was given to all pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. This was the same examination that was given on the same day to all pupils of those grades in most of the towns of Massachusetts. This examination showed that more emphasis needs to be placed on the teaching of the fundamentals of Arithmetic in our elementary grades.

Pupils should enter the seventh grade well grounded in knowledge and skill of these fundamental operations so that in the Junior High School the more advanced work in Mathematics may be successfully undertaken.

To incite the teachers and pupils to efforts to increase our percentage of attendance and punctuality, a weekly comparison of the records in these two particulars of the 32 schools and the 7 districts of the Union is being issued from the Office. This has called attention to the fact that there is more tardiness in our schools than is necessary and that some parents do not place a sufficiently high value on their children's regular attendance in school. The only excuse for absence or tardiness that is sufficient in the eyes of the law is that of personal illness of the pupil. For no other reason except in cases of extreme emergency should parents allow their children to be absent or tardy.

Under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Coombs as supervisor of Music and of Principal Sears, a healthy interest in instrumental music and orchestral work is developing in the Junior High School. This has been greatly aided by your generous appropriation for the purchase of instruments.

A change has been made in the management of the moving picture entertainments and outside help secured to manage this service.

The town of Hampton and the Supervisory Union have wisely continued the engagement of the services of our efficient office clerk. This insures the performance of many duties that contribute to the efficiency of the school and frees the superintendent from clerical work that would keep him from many larger duties and would decrease his opportunity for supervision.

I would recommend, First, that each year an appropriation for new equipment be made until our teachers cease to be handicapped for the lack of up-to-date apparatus and supplies. Second, that some systematic plan for the development of the spacious grounds of the Centre school be adopted and that each year some part at least of this plan be completed. Third, that an arrangement be made whereby some systematic development of our pupils physically shall be carried out. This can be accomplished by organized play, athletic games, athletic contests between classes, clubs, etc. I would suggest placing some one of the women teachers definitely in charge of this program for the girls, and the principal or some other man trained for this work, in charge of the boys. By inaugurating such a program much needed training can be given to our pupils. Mrs. Smith by the formation of an Athletic Club for girls has already made an encouraging start on this program.

I would call your attention to the statistics which follow this report.

In grateful acknowledgement of your assistance in my work for the schools of Hampton, I submit this report.

CHARLES N. PERKINS,
Superintendent.

STREET RAILWAY

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXETER, HAMPTON AND AMESBURY STREET RAILWAY FOR THE YEAR OF 1925

Together with this report is submitted usual financial statement showing results from operations for the year ending December 31st, 1925. From this statement it will be observed that the deficit has been reduced by $1876.83 from the preceding year.

While this showing is encouraging as far as it goes, nevertheless the management of the Road are convinced that the time has come to put a stop to deficits even of this amount and have formulated plans to this end which will be outlined in succeeding paragraphs.

For a correct understanding of the proposed plans it should be borne in mind that the summer operations of the Company have been profitable from the time the Railway was taken over. The summer of 1925 was no exception, showing profits of $4336.11 for the months of July, August and September. But when deficits running from a thousand to fifteen hundred dollars or more a month are incurred for the other nine months it does not take long to wipe out the summer profits and build up a substantial deficit.

Another fact that should be kept in mind is that by far the larger part of the summer revenue is derived from that part of the line running from Hampton Depot to and along Hampton Beach. Even during the summer months the Smithtown Branch, so called, is not profitable and that part of the line extending from the Car Barn to Exeter is of doubtful value for summer operations only, as the cost of maintenance of track and overhead in good operating condition will be considerable.

With the idea, therefore, of putting a stop to the heavy losses incurred through winter operation the Directors in the Fall voted to discontinue street car service during the winter months and later voted to apply to the Public Service Commission in the name of the Company for permission to operate motor busses over the route now covered by the Railway, when it became obvious that control of this permit was necessary in order to safeguard the investment in the Railway properties, and prevent competition for the summer business from Hampton Depot to the Beach.

Permission to operate motor busses was granted the Railway in due course by the Public Service Commission.

While a majority of the Directors were of the opinion that the Railway should have control of the bus permit they felt it would be unwise for the Company to actually operate under the permit and, therefore, arrangements were made with the Exeter, Hampton & Amesbury Transportation Company, a corporation organized by interests friendly to the Railway, to furnish by means of a bus or busses the essential service while the Railway was not operating.

The principal points of the arrangement between the Railway and the Transportation Company provide that the latter shall furnish such essential transportation service as will be self-sustaining by means of a motor bus or motor busses, that it shall not operate busses in competition with the Railway when the street cars are in service, and if at any time the Railway should wish to take over the Transportation Company it may do so by paying a fair price for its equipment, etc.

At the time this report is being written, early in February, the Transportation Company has been functioning for about a month, furnishing service between Hampton, Exeter and Hampton Falls, which service will be expanded in the near future to include Hampton Beach and possibly a limited service to Seabrook as well.

By these steps the management have saved the Railway the heavy expense that would have been incurred through continued operation through the winter and spring months; by the arrangements with the Transportation Company have assured the public of essential service, so far as it will be self-sustaining, while the Railway is not operating, and have cleared the way for a fair trial of summer operation by the Railway and bus operation the remainder of the year.

The plans formulated by the management on which the stockholders will be asked to take definite action, contemplate the operation of the Railway only from Hampton Depot to and along Hampton Beach and only from about the middle of June to about the middle of September. Bus operation being resorted to for the balance of the year. Under this plan the trackage from the Car Barn to Hampton Depot would be retained, the reasons for which are, of course, obvious.

It seems reasonable to believe, and a careful analysis of operating results supports this belief, that confining the Street Railway operations to those months in the summer season that have been profitable heretofore and still further confining these operations to that part of the system, viz., Hampton Depot to and along the Beach, from which the greater part of the revenue is derived, should place this property in a position where it can earn its expenses, including proper maintenance of track, overhead and equipment, and a substantial part if not all of the bond interest.

In the event of these plans meeting with the approval of the stockholders it would doubtless be advisable to dispose of that part of the track and overhead, poles, etc., for what it would bring and apply the proceeds to reducing outstanding bonds.

The management, therefore, offer the following recommendations for consideration:

1. That the action of the Directors in discontinuing winter operations be ratified.

2. That until otherwise instructed, Street Car service shall not commence before May 30th or be continued beyond September 30th.

3. That only that part of the system extending from the Car Barn to Hampton Beach and along the Beach shall be operated.

4. That the material in the Smithtown Branch, so called, and in that part of the system from the Car Barn to Exeter be disposed of either at auction or at private sale as may be deemed best by the Directors, together with such other material as may not be needed for the curtailed operations contemplated, and the proceeds applied to reduction of outstanding bonds.

CHARLES E. GREENMAN, President,
For the Board of Directors.
