

VECA, Mt. San Angelo
Sweet Briar, Va., 24595

Jan 14, 1982

Dear Bill,

Guess what? Here it is. (Having said that, I suppose I'll go back and make a million little changes -- I usually do, esp. after I say I'm all through!) But at least tonight I think I'm done. The only thing I know I might change is the name -- when I get back to Delaware I'll ask my son what he thinks about that. As a boy he was called "Buzzy" but now he's in his mid-20s.

As you see, the piece lengthened out again, but I'm really pleased with the way it's developed. I honestly think it's much better and hope you'll think so, too. Among other ~~you~~^{more} obvious changes, you'll note that I've roughed up the metres a good deal -- the more regular thing got much too monotonous. I think the other changes will be quite apparent.

Transcription:

VCCA, Mt. San Angelo
Sweet Briar, Va., 24595

Jan 14, 1982

Dear Bill,

Guess what? Here it is. (Having said that I suppose I'll go back and make a million little changes -- I usually do, esp, after I say I'm all through!) But at least tonight I think I'm done. The only thing I know I might change is the name -- when I get back to Delaware I'll ask my son what he thinks about that. As a boy he was called "Buzzy" but now he's in his mid-20s.

As you see, the piece lengthened out again, but I'm really pleased with the way it's developed. I honestly think it's much better and hope you'll think so, too. Among other ~~you~~^{more} obvious changes, you'll note that I've roughed up the metres a good deal -- the more regular thing got much too monotonous. I think that other changes will be quite apparent.

I'm glad you stumbled over this piece. Before, it just seemed to me a piece I'd failed to realize -- or at best a piece that I didn't feel either good or bad about. It's good to have gone back and worked it over again (twice more!) and now to have something as a result.

But Jayzoose Kayryste! why does everything have to take me 35 years?!? I sure had better live to an old age!

Let me hear from you -- I'll be here till
Feb. 7.

all the best,

Re

Transcription:

I'm glad you stumbled over this piece. Before, it just seemed to be a piece I'd failed to realize -- or at least a piece that I didn't feel either good or bad about. It's good to have gone back and worked it over again (twice more!) and now to have something of a result. But Jayzoose Kayryste! why does everything have to take me 35 years?!? I sure had better live to an old age!

Let me hear from you -- I'll be here till
Feb. 7.

All the best,
D.E.