SELECTMEN'S REPORT

The Selectmen, in submitting their report for 1925, wish to call the tax payers' attention to several unusual expenditures, which in their opinion were necessary.

If the voters will appropriate only such sums as are necessary to meet the current expenses for 1926 the tax rate can be reduced materially.

Owing to the confused condition of the Town Books for 1924, several bills for labor will be presented to the voters for their approval and a special appropriation asked in order that the parties owed may receive the amount justly due them.

At the beginning of the fiscal year of 1925 there was on hand $426.96. There was received up to Town Meeting $881.26, making a total of $1,308.22. From this sum there had to be immediately deducted $510.00 on account of excess poll taxes of 1924. This sum should have been paid in 1924, with the labor bills, by including them in the special appropriation to meet the deficit of 1924. The item of $881.22, which was handled as an asset in the report of 1924 as due from the State on account of the building of the Exeter road bridge, was found to be uncollectable as the requirements specified by the State were not complied with. The total of these sum has made a difference of $1,391.00 in the finances for 1925.

Owing to the re-valuation of the Town by the State Tax Commission there was created an unforeseen expense of about $300.00.

The Police Department received $252.00 for which no appropriation was made. Owing to a law suit brought against the Town for unpaid labor it was necessary to employ council, to whom has been paid to date $75.00.

ROADS

State Aid, Exeter Road. An excess expenditure of $356.31 was created, of which $184.84 will be refunded by the State Highway Department, leaving an actual excess expenditure of $171.44. This expenditure was caused by lack of care of the road bed at the time breaks occurred in the surface.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT

An excess expenditure of $881.40 was made on Pleasant Street in front of B. T. Janvrin's property. On complaint that the water from the gutters and road was undermining the foundations of his buildings, it was found that the tile, laid from the gutter across the road, did not extend through but ended within a foot of the front wall. The drain or tile was also crushed. The sidewalk bridge that covered the drain from Elkin's meadow had caved. The Selectmen decided that Mr. Janvrin's complaint was justified and to avoid complications the road was rebuilt in a permanent manner with proper catch basins and larger tile.

GREAT HILL SPECIAL APPROPRIATION

An excess expenditure of $33.00 occurred. This was justified to complete a very excellent job.

TRACTOR

The $2,000.00 appropriated for a Fordson Tractor and Scraper was not used, as the Selectmen decided, after investigation, that the outfit was not practical. The ideas of handling snow and the design of tractors and plows are changing so rapidly that it seemed wise to await the success or failure of the apparatus of different sizes and makes being used in the surrounding towns before plunging the Town into an expenditure that might be a total loss.

To avoid tie-ups, the State furnished an army truck and arrangements were made with Hampton and Exeter for the use of their tractors and plows at a nominal cost.

STREET RAILWAY

The Selectmen considered that the payment of $500.-00 to The Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury Railway Co., was not justified under the vote passed by the Town in 1922.

WALTER B. FARMER,
ARTHUR J. SEWALL,
Selectmen of Hampton Falls.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

HAMPTON FALLS, January 30, 1926.

To the School Board of Hampton Falls:

I herewith submit to you my first annual report as superintendent of the schools of Hampton Falls.

Having assumed my duties in this Union on October 1, 1925, I have now served four months. This has been sufficient time only to become acquainted with your town, its schools and its people and to take a few steps toward increased efficiency in the schools.

I find Hampton Falls divided into three school districts, each with a one-room schoolhouse and one teacher. These houses are so situated that every pupil is within walking distance of a schoolhouse. In each of these schools we find grades one to six, except that in the North School there are two seventh grade pupils.

The South or Great Hill school contains eight pupils and four grades, the first, third, fifth and sixth.

The town is fortunate in securing local teachers of long and successful experience to place in charge of two of its schools. This insures that in these two schools excellent work will be done. The greatest drawback to the schools of Hampton Falls is the small number of pupils in the several grades and the consequent lack of competition and healthy rivalry and emulation.

In the three schools there are five grades with only one pupil in each, three with two pupils in each, four with three, one with four, two with five, and two with six.

At least four pupils are desirable and in the case of many children absolutely essential that these pupils may do their best work, yet of seventeen classes only five contain this number or more.

What is the solution of this problem?

Undoubtedly, if conditions make it feasible, the bringing of all pupils to a central school. Leaving the seventh grade out of consideration at the present time each of the six grades would then contain from four to twelve pupils, with no grade too small and none too large for effective work. This would make a school large enough to make possible many activities which create interests, develop desirable traits of character and train the pupils along lines which are impossible under the present organization.

A central schoolhouse would entail some additional expense in the way of transportation but as an investment, would in my opinion, be well worth the price, both of the initial cost of a new building and the additional running expense.

The change in organization whereby the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades were permitted to attend the Hampton Junior High School and their tuition paid by the town was put into effect in September, 1924, and was a step in the right direction. But this method is not feasible to carry to any grade lower than the seventh, and in my judgment the central building offers the only feasible solution.

The enrollment in the first six grades this year shows a total of forty-seven against a total last year of forty-one.

The attendance of eighteen Hampton Falls pupils in Senior High Schools and of nineteen in Junior High School shows conclusively that the people of Hampton Falls believe in education.

My efforts during the four months of my work have been to become acquainted with the problem of what is best for the schools and meanwhile to see that the schoolrooms are clean, comfortable, sanitary, well-lighted, well-heated, and attractive, that the teachers and pupils are supplied with the best books, appliances and equipment obtainable under the budget and that the teachers use the most efficient methods of discipline and instruction. To this end an intelligence examination was given to all pupils of the seventh and eighth grades in the Union and all pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades were given an arithmetic test which was given the same day to all pupils of those grades in Massachusetts. The first of these examinations shows the native mental ability of the pupils and the latter gives a chance to compare their skill in, and knowledge of, arithmetic with that of other pupils.

A special effort has been made to increase the percentage of attendance and punctuality by issuing each week a schedule showing the comparative rank in these two regards of the thirty-two schools and the seven districts in the Union.

Above all I have tried to help the teachers in all ways possible for in the last analysis it is the teachers who are doing the actual work for the pupils.

I trust the good people of Hampton Falls stand ready to cooperate, to contribute their means, and if necessary actually to sacrifice that their children may have the best possible opportunity for an education. I call your attention to the tables of statistics which follow.

Assuring you of my interest in your schools and an earnest desire to be of assistance to every pupil, I submit this report.

CHARLES N. PERKINS,
Superintendent.
