REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of Brookline:

In reviewing the work of the past three years it is gratifying to note the steady upward trend which our schools have taken. To do good mental work a child must be physically comfortable. With that in view we have concentrated upon giving the child the proper surroundings in which to work. Old buildings are always more or less of a problem but the primary building, which has been in use a half century at least, is now evenly heated and well ventilated.

During the summer certain repairs have been made on the Academy Building. The plastering in the halls needed renewal, but instead of this a wood sheathing was installed. At the Primary Building the important improvement made was repairs to toilets. For this need the school meeting of March 1924 voted $250 to be expended by the selectmen. They have purchased and had installed two units of Perfection Chemical Toilets. This type of toilet has been used in quite a number of buildings in the School Union with entire success. It is, however, necessary that the installation be correct and proper care be taken of them. Further repairs have been the erection of a new fence on the North side at the Primary Building and the usual amount of minor repairs, including such items as glazing, painting, cleaning, etc.

Some of the things needed to be done this coming summer are: (1) painting the exterior of the primary building, (2) installing some positive method of ventilation at the Grammar room, (3) more toilet units at the Primary and (4) relaying of stone wall and underpinning at the Primary.

In accordance with the expressed wish of the last school meeting the necessary transportation routes were opened for bids. As a result two routes were established, Mr. Clark Barnaby again driving to the North end of the town. Mr. Frank Wright has the South route. As September approached it was found that certain families had moved to remote farms in the Northwest part of the town and additional facilities were arranged so that a short route accommodating four children meets Mr. Barnaby at N. Brookline. These routes increase the cost of transportation to a considerable amount and are not provided for in the school budget.

The law still fixes the required transportation at two miles or more. In spite of this limitation of law transportation may be provided by school boards for less distances when deemed necessary. The School District of Brookline, however, indicated in March, 1924, that it was their wish that no transportation be furnished to any pupils less than two miles from school. Accordingly this wish has been followed. A copy of this vote is as follows as taken from the Clerk's records:

"Voted that no child living within two miles of the schoolhouse shall be transported by the district unless the state makes a contrary ruling, this notice to go into effect after the close of this school year."

Another grave problem is the teacher. To get experienced teachers and hold them we must be able to offer them the same salary that they can get elsewhere. Is it fair to the children to have our schools the training ground for inexperienced teachers?

To the Parents:

It is the aim of our schools to send the boys and girls out strong in the determination to live up to the best that is in them. The School Board the superintendent and the teachers are all working with this end in view but they need the support of the home. Will you not cooperate with us in trying to make the lives of these boys and girls a success? First, see that your child has good, nourishing food and comfortable clothing.

Second, see that he has regular hours for sleeping, eating and working. Under this would come a definite time each day for preparing the studies assigned by the teacher to be done at home.

Third, send him to school with the idea that the teacher is his friend and is anxious to help him.

Fourth, make him understand that the teacher can only present the lesson to him and tell him how to get the information that he needs and how to use it when he gets it but whether he succeeds or fails depends upon himself. The blame for a failure must rest upon his own head. When he realizes that he is responsible for his own actions and that hard work alone will get him through school or to anything else worth while, then there will be no more grumbling about the difficulty of the lessons, no more complaints of indifference on the part of the teachers or against the injustice of the marking system.

Fifth, visit the school, get acquainted with the teacher, talk to her about your child. In other words, work together for the good of the child.

HAZEL F. FARQUHAR

Secretary of School Board.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Brookline:

I herewith submit my sixth annual report, which is also the sixth in the series of such reports.

Organization of Supervisory Union No. 40

The grouping of school districts is the same as arranged in 1919 when this union was formed. Apportionment of joint expenses has been changed to be as follows: Amherst, one-fourth; Brookline, one-tenth; (was one sixth) Milford, six-tenths; (was one-half) Mont Vernon, one-twentieth, (was one-twelfth.)

Teachers and Instruction

All of our teachers declined re-election for 1924-1925, making it necessary to secure three new teachers. For the grammar room at the Academy Building, Miss AlmaMatson of Milford, a graduate of the three year course at Keene Normal School was engaged. Miss Matson during her studies at the Normal School assisted. at the Amherst High School for nine weeks and was substitute teacher at the Junior High School at Keene. For the Primary building, Miss Amy Haskell of Troy, and Miss Beatrice Kendall of Manchester, (Mrs. Paige) were engaged at the Keene Normal school in the early The latter teacher was released from her conspring. tract at the Christmas vacation and her place taken by Miss Alice D. Morrison of Chelsea, Mass., a graduate of Salem, Mass., Normal School. Last year, Miss Morrison taught in Rhode Island. On the opening of school in September, enrollment was such that it was found advisable to move Grade VI to the grammar room, so that arrangement of grades is now as follows: I, II, III, Miss Haskell; IV, V, Miss Morrison; VI, VII, VIII and High school, Miss Matson. The subjects taught, text books used, and grading of pupils are the same as last year in both elementary and high school groups. In June, 1924, seven pupils from Grade VIII became eligible for the first year of high school. Two only are now enrolled, however, a situation which is explained by the fact that some of the others have left town. The success of the high school will depend largely on the support given to it by citizens, especially parents of pupils in attendance.

As children reach high school or even upper grades, home study becomes more important each year. For the first year of high school a minimum of one hour's study at home each day is necessary for two reasons: first, to accomplish the amount of work required to be covered; second, and perhaps more important, to learn to study independently. It is not the proper function of the teacher to do the work for the pupils. They must master the underlying principles under the teacher's direction and rely upon themselves to apply them correctly in individual cases. The key to success in school as in life is hard work. This element of success is harder to apply in our small high school which is conducted in a room with other grades than in a large separate high school where competition is greater. However, it can be done provided boys and girls will apply themselves.

Since a full report of the work of the high school was given last year it will not be repeated as no material change has been made.

Total

In addition to the 91 pupils enrolled in Brookline, six attend outside high schools, as follows: Winifred and Bertha Hall, and Rodney Wright at Pepperell; Walter and Elmer Corey at Nashua; and Barbara Smith at Keene. Tuition is paid for those registered beyond the ninth year.

Health

Your attention is directed to the reports of the school nurse, Miss Chase, and of the school physician, Dr. Dearborn. It might be noted that closing school two weeks in January on account of scarlet fever in town will necessitate an entire re-adjustment of the school calendar for the rest of this school year in order to complete our thirty-six weeks. As pointed out by the nurse, no cases of scarlet fever have been found at school.

Costs

The question of teachers' salaries is the most important item in school budgets because the teacher is the most important part of any school system. Two policies are open: first, employment of low-priced teachers who are either incompetent or without training. The result of this plan is a constant change of teachers and inferior school work. Second, pay more and secure better teachers and continue to pay enough to retain strong teachers. An increase in the number of dollars is not the only way to retain desirable teachers. Interested and united support given such teachers will go a long way in making them glad to accept reelection. Again if we consider the matter from the point of view of state aid we find that this financial assistance is based on the average expenditures throughout the State. Good salaries for competent teachers raise the average salaries and increase state aid accordingly.

The cost of elementary schools per pupil in Brookline was $71.56 for 1923-24 against a state average of $69.57. The highest figure for any district in the State was $253.16 and the lowest $31.78. The current cost of public education per $1000 of equalized valuation in Brookline for 1923-1924 was $7.95. In one hundred sixty eight districts in the State the cost was greater and in eighty three it was less.

In considering cost of transportation the amount paid per pupil per mile should be used and not the total cost of any or all routes.

Education Week

In November, Education Week was observed throughout the country. In Brookline, the Parent-Teachers' Association had the matter in charge. A group of members visited all the schools with the superintendent several days before the special work. They then took turns during Education Week in acting as guides for other visitors. Invitations were widely circulated and a good number of visitors came.

Visiting Schools

It is by no means necessary to limit visiting schools Teachers, Superintendents and to Education Week. School Board join in urging parents and other citizens to visit schools at any time. Have you ever considered why you should visit school? Here are some of the reasons: (1) to keep in touch with the work of the children, (2) to become acquainted with and encourage the teachers, (3) to learn at first hand the conditions under which children spend 5 hours a day, (4) to understand and appreciate courses of study, (5) to aid in developing real school spirit in the community, (6) to advise school authorities as to the needs of the district as seen from the parent's standpoint, and (7) for the moral effect on the pupil to know that the teacher and parent are pulling together for his benefit. At the school, it would be well for the visitors to notice methods of instruction, the general discipline and management of the school, the attitude of the teacher to the pupil and that of the pupil to the teacher, the size of the classes, the general condition of the school building, especially sanitation and the supply of working materials such as books, paper, maps, reference books and other supplementary material. Visits of this kind to the school with the thought always in mind of how to make our schools a little better than ever before would have a decidedly good effect upon our school system.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD C. BALES.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

To Mr. Harold C. Bales, Superintendent of Schools, Brookline:

The following is my second report of the health work in the Brookline Schools, it being the sixth year of this work.

The medical inspection was carried on early in the fall. At this time, a change was made in the usual routine. In place of the eye and ear examination, the doctor substituted an examination of the chest. The eyes and ears were later examined by the nurse. The chest examination is a step forward in the school health work and should be helpful to the parents.

The correction of defective teeth is still a problem as two-thirds of the pupils need some dental work. Good dentists are available in neighboring towns, but there is the problem of transportation. If sufficient parents are interested it may be possible to make some arrangement by which a number can be cared for at one time.

The vaccination situation remains about the same as there are now ten unvaccinated without proper excuse. This is partly due to new pupils entering our schools from places where the vaccination law was not enforced.

Due to two cases of scarlet fever in the town, the authorities closed the schools for a period of two weeks and the school rooms were fumigated. We have had no other cases and hope our good fortune will continue.

Dr. Dearborn's report on the opposite page shows the tabulated results of the fall examination.

Respectfully submitted,

ADALINE CHASE, R. N.

February 5, 1925.
