CONWAY VILLAGE PARK

The Trustees of the Conway Village Park Association met several times during the year to consider improvements to the park. Through the generosity of Mr. William Hounsell, the fountain was turned on and ran throughout the summer. The trustees voted to contribute money for the flowers in the islands on Route 16 by the Presidential Inn and for the triangle by Stone's Drug Store. The Grange donated time for maintenance of these flower beds.

The disbursements are as follows:

LIBRARY REPORTS

To the Citizens of Conway:

The year 1961 closed a gratifying year at the Conway Public Library. Your trustees have met regularly and worked faithfully in improving the physical aspects of the building, as well as making possible the book needs of the library.

The walls and ceilings have been painted or washed, whichever was deemed advisable, the floors restored against the hard winter traffic which they have to take. Cellar-wise, steps have been taken to overcome the water problems there; namely, water on the floor in the springtime and freeze-ups in the pipe running from the street.

Circulation is still on the increase in both the adult and juvenile sections. While fiction still holds the lead, there is a steady increase in the non-fiction area both in adult and juvenile reading. The Americana Encyclopedia was purchased. This replaced the old outdated set that had outlived its usefulness. An anonymous friend of the library made it possible for us to purchase the new third edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. This same friend, and others, have presented the library with other timely books. A special note should be made of the memorial books given by the Ladies' Social Circle of the Second Congregational Church, Conway. They are in memory of Mrs. Percy (Margaret) Littlefield and Miss Celia Marston. Two very valuable gifts came to the library from Mr. Robert Kennett and a friend; namely, a painting of the Willey Slide by Charles Codman, circa 1830, and the very rare 1860 map of Carroll County. Mr. Fred Sawyer gave two rather unusual bells for the cases in the Curio Room.

The two highlights of the library year were the meeting of the New Hampshire Library Association, held at the Presidential Inn with this library acting as host library, and the observation of Historical Week, in conjunction with the Conway Historical Society. About 400 people signed the register during that week.

The special Book Observance Weeks have been noted appropriately. There have been story hours for the children and your librarian has attended, or been hostess to, the various neighborhood meetings sponsored by the N. H. State Library. In October she and Miss Liberty Santa Maria, representing the library trustees, attended the New England Library Association at Swampscott, Mass.

In September, a new registration book was begun. In the record of figures, 582 will represent the registrants from that time.

To the many friends who have helped to make the library attractive at Christmas, the newspapers, and Radio Station WBNC, the trustees and librarians extend their thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

PERSIS H. BERRY
Librarian

REPORT OF FOREST FIRE WARDEN

To the Selectmen:

Each year there is a demand for a statement on forest fires for publication in the annual town report. It is believed they serve a good purpose locally in preventing fires. The following is offered with the respectful request for publication in your town report.

Sincerely,

H. Hartwell, District Fire Chief

An Appeal from Your Forest Fire Warden

In these days of constantly rising taxes and wages, any unnecessary expense is an added burden on everyone's pocketbook — yours and mine. Forest fires cost money and damage our valuable woodlands. Lightning sets some forest fires, but we have no control of lightning. Children cause many fires. Ninety-eight percent of our forest fires result from human carelessness — our carelessness. This, we — you — and I can do something about.

When we require you to obtain a permit for out-of-doors burning or forbid you to burn on days of high fire danger or set up regulations — hours, etc., governing the use of the town dump, we are simply protecting yours and the town's interests.

The ever-present threat of forest fires is the concern of all of us; the responsibility for preventing them is ours and the cost of extinguishing are ours. We can do something about this problem, by being aware of and alert to the danger and by cooperating with your warden.

Do the things that are required of you —

1. Follow the warden's directions.
2. Secure the required burning permit.
3. Keep your fires under control.
4. Completely extinguish your fires before leaving them.
5. See that your children are properly cautioned.

Everyone will benefit by it.

1961 Fire Record

Number of fires, 2; number of permits issued, 91; number of acres burned, less than one acre.

Summary Statement of Receipts and Expenditures: (Exhibit B-1)

A summary statement of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1961, made up in accordance with the uniform classification of accounts, is included in Exhibit B-1. Proof of the Treasurer's balance as of December 31, 1961, is indicated in Exhibit B-2.

Statement of Bonded Indebtedness: (Exhibit G)

A statement of outstanding bonded indebtedness as of December 31, 1961, showing annual debt service requirements, is contained in Exhibit G.

AUDIT PROCEDURE

The accounts and records of all town officials charged with the custody, receipt and disbursement of public funds were examined and audited. Vouchers and cancelled checks were compared with supporting invoices and payrolls as well as entries in the books of record. Receipts were checked by source insofar as possible and totals of receipts and expenditures verified. Book balances were verified by comparison with reconciled bank balances made from statements obtained from depository banks. Verification of uncollected taxes was made by mailing notices to delinquent taxpayers as indicated by the Collector's records. The amounts of uncollected and unredeemed taxes as indicated in this report are therefore subject to any changes which may be necessitated by the return of verification notices.

GENERAL COMMENTS

Current Surplus:

It is noted that the current surplus (excess of total assets over current liabilities) increased by $1,959.99, from $71,042.35 to $73,002.34, in 1961, as shown herewith:

	Dec. 31, 1960	Dec. 31, 1961
Total assets	$268,773.20	$265,895.47
Current liabilities	197,730.85	192,893.13
Current surplus	$ 71,042.35	$ 73,002.34

Surety Bonds of Town Clerk and Town Treasurer:

It is again recommended that the surety bonds of the Town Clerk and Town Treasurer be increased in amount as follows, in order that the amount of the bond may be more proportional to the amount of funds received and in the custody of these officials:

Town Clerk's Bond — Increased from $5,000.00 to $8,000.00

Town Treasurer's Bond — Increased from $5,000.00 to $25,000.00

Conclusion:

The provisions of Chapter 184 of the Laws of 1955, require that this report or the summary of findings and recommendations (letter of transmittal) shall be published in the next annual report of the Town.

We extend our thanks to the officials of the Town of Conway for their assistance during the course of the audit.

Yours very truly,

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board and Citizens of Conway:

The cooperation of the Municipal Budget Committee, the leadership of the Conway School Board, and the general understanding of the problems of securing and holding good teachers, has led to the establishment of a sound salary schedule for the teachers of Conway.

Recognizing that a salary schedule was meaningless unless all teachers were on schedule, a three-year-plan was carefully implemented placing all teachers in their correct position on the salary schedule.

Reading is the most important subject in our schools. It is the cornerstone of education. A child has to be successful in reading for all further subjects depend upon it. In our schools more time is devoted to reading than to any other subject, and the results have been gratifying.

National reading tests show that our schools are most successful in the teaching of reading. In every grade level we have scored well above the national norm. However, we still have our problems with the teaching of retarded readers and children with specific reading difficulties. A much better understanding of the reading difficulties of children is being achieved each year, and as professional understanding of individual differences increases, concepts of how best to teach these children will certainly improve.

Our school cannot alone achieve the greatest possible growth in the whole area of reading without the assistance and encouragement of the home and our fine public libraries.

The high school principal reports that the teaching of French has undergone a dramatic change with the introduction of an electronic foreign language laboratory. The purchase of this excellent teaching device was made possible by a grant from National Defense Education Act funds, the school district bearing only half the cost of $6,000.

The teaching of French in the Junior High School is explained in the report of the Junior High Principal. We know that competency in a foreign language must include mastery of the four basic language skills . . . understanding, speaking, reading, and writing. To develop these skills a student must have more than three or even four years of foreign language study. We are now offering a six-year program in the teaching of French. An eight or even ten year foreign language sequence should be our goal in the very near future.

Federal funds, in the amount of $2,800, have been made available for the purchase of library and reference books for the Kennett High School library. Our high school library is steadily becoming the "nerve center" in our school program. This grant will almost double our present library volumes.

We recognize our deficiency in the area of physical education. It has been clearly established that the school must assume a leadership role in providing every child with a sound basic program of physical developmental activity. Quoting from a portion of "A Presidential Message To The Schools On The Physical Fitness Of Youth," —John F. Kennedy . . . "We must expand and improve our health services, health education and physical education. We must increase our facilities and the time devoted to physical activity. We must invigorate our curricular and give high priority to a crusade for excellence in health and fitness."

If our schools are to educate more and more people and do it in a better way, it will take more than increased taxes, good teachers good buildings, although these certainly are most essential. It will require, above all else, a people who honor and cherish education as a way of safeguarding our freedom, as a way of meeting the challenges of an ever changing space age, and a way of perpetuating our heritage and social purposes.

I wish to express my appreciation to the school board, the professional staff, and school district employees for their contributions in the interest of better education.

TUITION STUDENTS AND RESIDENT STUDENTS
 ENROLLED AT KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL - 1951-1961

REPORT OF SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL OF KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL

The students entering the high school have many varied interests, abilities and backgrounds, and the planning of a curriculum to fit these many variables is a challenge in all high schools. This is an area in which much study is continually being made. The administration and faculty have a deep and sincere desire to teach our young people those skills and that knowledge which will enable them to meet their present and future needs.

In the past two years there has been considerable progress in improving techniques of teaching in various subject areas. Many teachers have attended summer school and extension school to study subjects and ways to improve their techniques of teaching.

The installation of the foreign language laboratory has increased the interest in French tremendously. This equipment is used to increase the conversational ability of the students and enables the teacher to teach at three different levels at the same time.

The Spaulding-Potter Charitable Trusts with the assistance of the N. H. Committee for Mathematics and Science invested a sum of $2,000 for an experimental program in mathematics at our high school. This program consisted of developing a new approach to advanced mathematics with the assistance of a professor from the University of New Hampshire. The mathematics professor worked closely with the mathematics teachers and the advanced mathematics class one day per week as a consultant and teacher. The junior and senior high school mathematics teachers studied at an institute for two weeks at the end of August to coordinate the techniques of teaching an improved program of mathematics. Their effort has resulted in a closer and better coordination of our mathematics program in grades seven through twelve.

Beginning in January 1962 a similar program of a two-year duration in English composition will be launched with the aid of additional funds from the Spaulding-Potter Charitable Trusts and assistance of the N. H. Committee of Improvement of Instruction in English.

Progress in developing sound education in the high school has been evident in our test results and the success of the many students who continue their education in advanced schools.

The space problem caused by increasing enrollment each year makes it difficult to provide a balanced program for all students. During the past year the calculated capacity of the physical facilities has been reached and many areas are already overcrowded as reported in the 1959 town report.

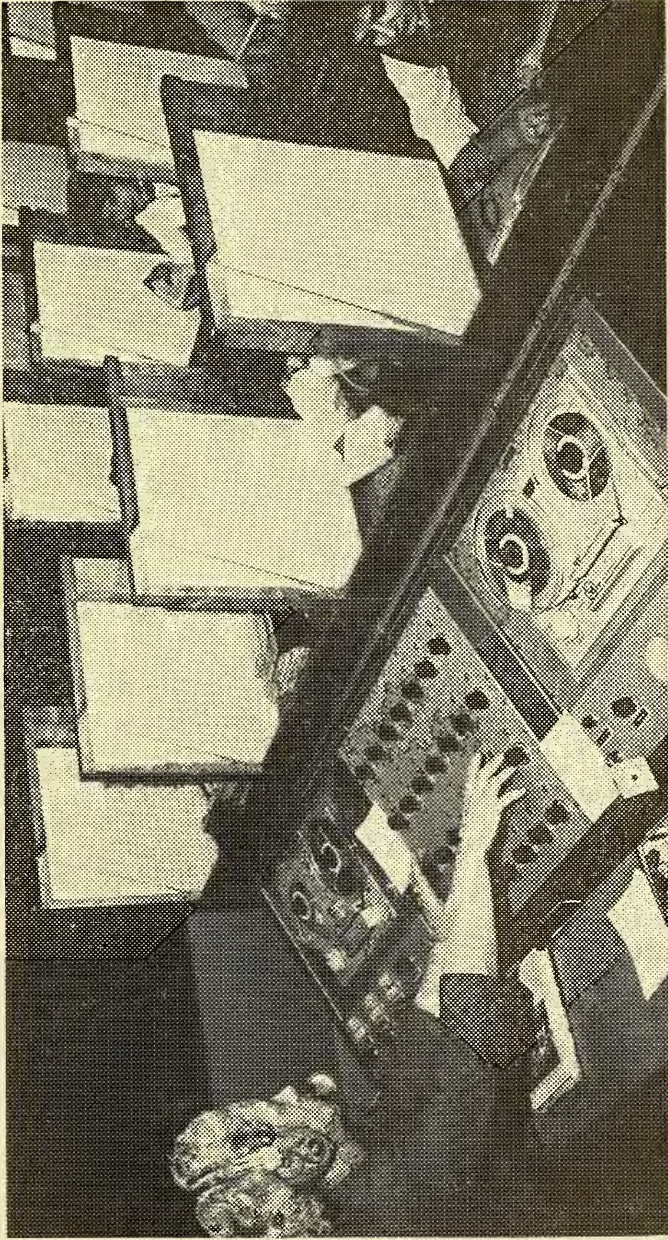

The curriculum still lacks adequate offerings in physical education, art, and music. These are by no means "frills" and are vitally needed in every good comprehensive program.

I wish to express my appreciation to those individuals who have contributed time and energy to bring to the students learning situations which form a part of their over-all education.

REPORT OF GUIDANCE COUNSELOR KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL

Guidance Services at Kennett High School

The purposes of an effective guidance program is to help each student to a more meaningful and rewarding career in terms of his interests, aptitudes and goals. The Guidance Counselor works with each individual student in an effort to help them help themselves. Counseling is concerned with helping students to make intelligent decisions for meeting their personal, educational and vocational needs.

As a person, trained to help the student understand himself, he provides the following services:

- a. Individual study: Tests, grades, activities, autobiography, questionnaires.
- b. Educational: Program selection, school and college decisions, scholarships and loans.
- c. Occupational: Information about fields of work, career conferences, Field trips.
- d. Counseling: Help in personal, educational and vocational problems.
- e. Placement: Limited part-time and full-time placement.
- f. Follow-up: A check on post-high school education, employment, and military.

In an attempt to accomplish the above objectives, the guidance department provides the following services:

- a. Arranges student-parental conferences in an effort to bring about better student adjustment, and to help with planning for post-secondary education, the Armed Forces, or vocations.
- b. Counsels all students relative to educational program of studies in Kennett, and assists students with personal problems and social adjustment.
- c. Maintains a library of educational and vocational materials and assists the student in arriving at both immediate and long-range goals.
- d. Responsible for school's standardized testing program, and for the interpretation of testing results to faculty, parents, and students.
- e. Maintains close liaison with school and college admission officers, and assists students with all-important task of school and college admissions.
- f. Arranges for visitation of school and college personnel to Kennett.
- g. Concerns himself with follow-up of all former Kennett students and assists them with placement.
- h. Maintains a part-time employment service, and coordinates after-school and vacation employment of Kennett students.
- i. Conducts a series of group guidance classes to assist students in making vocational decisions. Utilizing men and women in local professions and employment as well as career films, vocational tapes, and film-strips; he brings vocational information to all students.

j. Maintains cumulative records for all students .

The formal guidance program at Kennett has been in operation now for two and one-half years, and it is possible to begin to evaluate the results of the program in terms of better pupil adjustment, increased post-secondary participation, broader understanding about educational and occupational opportunities, and aid in providing for the individualization of instruction.

It has been a real pleasure to work with the school board, the superintendents of schools, the Kennett staff, students and friends, and I sincerely hope that everyone will avail himself of the services which we are trying to provide for his son or daughter.

REPORT OF SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

Conway Elementary School and Conway Junior High School

In reflecting upon the purposes and accomplishments of the past year, I find much tangible evidence that our schools have continued to make steady gains in improving the quality of our services to the people of Conway. Neither radical nor overly conservative we have been responsive to the changing needs of contemporary society and have endeavored also to prepare our students for effective living in the years ahead.

Effort is made to provide social experiences which will be conducive to gracious, cooperative, thoughtful performances and relationships within the school and also in the larger community.

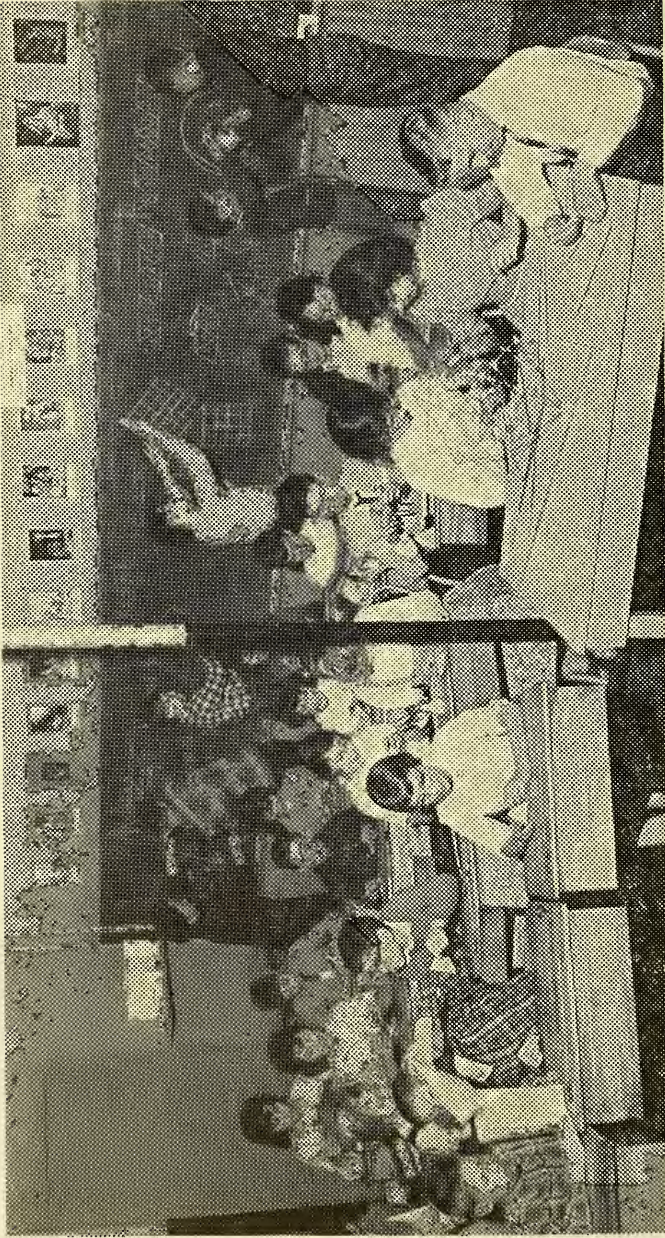

We are making the very best possible use of existing facilities in the present buildings, although necessarily limited because of space. However, we view with deep concern the problem of housing our educational program effectively in the years following.

MATHEMATICS

Tension of the right sort is a good thing. Without it the clock would be of little value, and the sounds made on the violin would be only a series of squawks.

Mathematics is part of our daily lives. The machinist, the navigator and the astronomer use mathematics in their daily tasks. Tax collectors figure our tax rate and keep accounts. Carpenters and masons have to measure and calculate as they build homes for people to live in. To help in these studies, man invented arithmetic, and then geometry, which studies space.

To predict changes of the seasons, men have studied the motions of the sun, moon and stars. Navigators of boats, airplanes and now rockets, look to the sky for stars that guide them from place to place.

MAKING HEXAFLEXAGONS and Icosahedrons in the Grade 7 Geometry Class at Conway Junior High School.

To help in this work, man invented trigonometry, which relates to distances. And, so in many different ways mathematics has shaped civilization as we know it today.

Teachers of mathematics in our Junior High School and Elementary School must of necessity make many changes and adjustments in what to teach and how to teach it, so that our children can know how to meet and to adjust to the rapidly changing society in which they live.

To assist our pupils, in the lower grades, gain a better understanding of the use of numbers, we are endeavoring to deepen the pupil's understanding of the whole numbers and the decimal (base ten) system of numeration.

In the Junior High School, as an enrichment, pupils are learning to use, not for mastery, Binary Number Notation, such as is used in electric computers. This is fascinating and holds their interest, even though confusing at first. Some of the pupils enjoy developing a certain proficiency in counting in these new bases; however, high proficiency is not absolutely necessary.

The language of mathematics, often neglected in the past, is being emphasized in the lower grades. Then, there are other new ideas that have been introduced in mathematics that help children in thinking about numbers. To manipulate and to understand is one of the goals of our mathematics program.

The students who have shown average ability in arithmetic have taken a better than average interest in the New Program at the Junior High level. Here the opportunity is given to learn the "why" of mathematics, to learn to reason logically and to learn concepts.

Interest, good work habits and a desire to learn, go a long way, for both the average and the talented student.

Much of present day thinking, has made it clear that basic mathematical concepts must be introduced as early as possible. Our present plan in the teaching of mathematics in the Junior High School is concerned with numbers and of space — Algebra and Geometry. The students are taught to be concerned with the "why" of things as well as getting the correct answer.

Through the introduction of mathematics our students are learning many facts and definitions that will provide useful background for the systematic study of Algebra and Geometry.

Why all the changes in the teaching of Mathematics?

SPEED — The need for immediate answers in mathematical calculations has caused the manufacture of machines that control machines. e.g. The automatic pilot that flies our jet airplanes. Complicated computers and even more complicated control mechanisms are required to send a missile into orbit. The analysis of missile data requires immediate calculations. These machines are built by man. Our country needs Mathematicians.

The teacher of mathematics at the Junior High Level, must not only be well qualified in her subject matter, but must also present material in such a manner as to hold and strengthen the students' interest and enthusiasm for mathematics.

For the past two years, Mrs Gagnon has been making use of experimental materials with excellent success. I feel confident that our pupils are getting a well-grounded background for their future study of mathematics.

FRENCH – IN OUR ELEMENTARY AND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

A recent survey of 800 elementary schools in the United States shows that more than one million children are learning a second language. Many of these classes frequently start as a Parent-sponsored program.

French, or for that matter, any of the other Living Languages, has become, at the behest of most state departments of Education, not a diversion in our American Public School System, but seriously a means of communication with other people.

Since the early thirties our diplomatic, economic, commercial and cultural relations with other peoples have increased enormously. This has brought our country to a point where the usefulness of languages is almost universally admitted.

The method of instruction at the Conway Junior High and Elementary schools aims at introducing the pupils to elementary conversation for the purpose of vocal communication in the realm of French culture. The method is simple, known as the aural-oral method. Learning, Speaking, Listening, Imitating and Repeating.

In our elementary school two classes are receiving instruction for one period each per week. This is hardly enough, but does create interest and a desire to continue when in the Junior High School.

Our Junior High program attempts to meet the needs of pre-reading instruction by practice in diction, in sounds (many of which have no parallel in English); in polite formalities, e.g. "Good Morning!" "Did you sleep well last night?" "Have you had a good breakfast?"

Recordings are also being used in our French instruction – as a supplement to the instructor's voice, not as a replacement.

What can the machine do – that the instructor cannot do?

1. The machine provides a consistent model. It can produce a sentence for imitation in precisely the same form over and over again.
2. Recordings can provide a variety of voices, those of men, women and children, for the students recognition and imitation.
3. By supplying sufficient repetitions the machine can free the teacher for noting individual progress and giving help where needed. Since any language is made up of sounds, learning to speak is a matter of ear-training and imitation to the extent of the perfection of the auditory sense. Up to this point, we are expecting all our Junior High pupils to participate and to learn as much as they can while with us.

There is a point of departure however; one comes at the beginning of the use of formal grammar, the other with the ability to absorb the culture of the language. Formal grammar demands scholastic ability, the latter a feeling, an innate absorption into the stream of culture which stems and flows from the language spoken.

The interest, enthusiasm and method of presentation by the classroom teacher has helped the student's native interest in and desire to learn French.

Conway is indeed fortunate in having a teacher, not only interested in children, but one who has the drive and the ability to handle thirty-five, very much alive teen-agers, in each class, seven periods daily, five days a week.

CREATIVE WRITING

The basic skill in every profession and most businesses is the ability to express ideas in writing and in speaking.

The ability of the child to express himself in writing is not a frill, but an indispensable tool of self-understanding, an understanding of others, and a rational contact with the world around him.

Children who have read and observed widely are likely to create for themselves if given an opportunity and encouraged to do so.

The school is as concerned with the pupil's intake of ideas as it is with his expression of them. The language arts program of the Junior High School provides many opportunities for the children to listen, to read ideas, to speak with effectiveness, and to write clearly and with conviction.

Evidence of the need for education and the ability to express one's ideas on paper, has made itself felt more strongly in recent years.

Everyone in these days suffers under the feeling of being pressed for time. We do not seem to catch up with things as we used to do. Young people in school today need to be aware of putting off, as Dante once said.

"Hesitating I remain as war, 'twixt will and will not in my thought."

TODAY'S HOMEWORK TODAY DON'T LOOK TOO LONG BEFORE STARTING

When today's student walks out of the schoolhouse for the last time, he should carry with him knowledge that will enable him to stand up in life without a fence around him.

Respectfully submitted,

Ervin S. Farrington

REPORT OF SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL
JOHN H. FULLER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Educational television is entering its second year at the John H. Fuller School. Learning through television has proved effective throughout the country mainly because of its vast resource material and scope of coverage. Even large city schools could not possibly hope to provide the laboratories, equipment or travel opportunities available to our children through the television classroom.

Our fourth grade "visited" historic sites throughout the State as part of their New Hampshire History class. Grades four, five and six have the opportunity of studying with Mme. Sack who is a foreign language teacher of outstanding quality. It is truly surprising the feel the children get for the accent and language in two fifteen-minute periods weekly.

Listen and Say is the name of the Phonics program for the first three grades. This program is also helpful to students who have problems with particular speech sounds. Science captures the interest of our third, fifth and sixth graders.

The parents are in closer contact with the school this year in that they are being asked to make a real effort to come to the school for scheduled conferences. This enables them to share the results of our testing program as well as to keep a check on a child's day by day school experiences. The testing program is designed to help the child by giving his teacher a careful check on facets of his progress and native abilities. The child's scholastic progress is checked by the use of the Metropolitan Achievement tests in the fall of each year. It is given at this time in order that the teacher may use the results in planning her program for the year. Grades 2, 4, 6 are given IQ tests to give us some idea of the range of their ability. When there is any doubt about the results of this group test the Stanford Binet IQ test is given on an individual basis.

Reading being the heart of any elementary program, the testing program in this area is most important. Along with the regular testing program the child is tested at the completion of each of the reading books.

The child learning to read bases his new experiences on the past ones he has had. Therefore, the wider his experiences the better his chances for success. In the first grade the child learned a basic sight vocabulary. He builds a phonetic skill from that which he knows. He knows the word Look and he knows the word Baby. He is taught how to substitute the B in baby for the L in look and arrive at the new word. From this initial step he is presented with the Beginning consonants and then to the final consonants, long vowel sounds and short vowel sounds. He is presented with the various word attack skills; configuration, root words, prefixes, suffixes and others in the structural analysis areas. The over-all progress is carefully guided in that the child is not allowed to proceed to another level unless he has made a minimal progress in the basic program. This insures the child of never being asked to perform in a book for which there is no probability of his meeting success.

Having the school library open every night for the past three years has developed the reading habit in our lower grades to the extent that the children are accepting this as a part of their life. This will certainly prove to their benefit.

Every day we hear about new advances in education. Every day we see new advances in the education of your child. Every day I see new growth in the teachers through experience, courses and other means of professional advancement of which they are most conscientious of availing themselves. Our goal is to use the best of today's methods and tools to provide the child with the material to solve the everyday problems of tomorrow.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE – 1960-1961

The School Health Program is designed to raise the health standards of all pupils by the formation and extension of desirable practices, attitudes and understanding associated with nutrition and growth, relaxation, rest, and sleep, activity, fresh air and sunshine, elimination, cleanliness and care of teeth, body and clothing, importance of and means of securing dental and medical attention, safety, and emotional and social adjustment; to discover and correct, as far as possible, the development of defects; to dispel a child's fear of dentist and doctor examinations and treatments; to let parents know where they can go for desired help outside the community, and to make parents more health conscious.

This program could not be carried on as it is without the splendid cooperation of doctors, dentists, hospital, teachers, parents, superintendent, school board, and many volunteer workers.

Beginning in September, one morning each week is devoted to physical examinations of pupils at Memorial Hospital. This continues until all pupils in grades 1, 4, 7, and 10 have been examined. In addition, all students who participate in sports at Kennett High School receive a physical examination. Four hundred sixty-one physical examinations were done this year.

Our program is greatly assisted by the State Department of Health Clinics. The number of pupils who went to the Clinics during the year are:

Salk Vaccine	691	Tuberculosis Association
Mental Hygiene	6	Patch Test	544
Convulsive	2	Chest x-ray, pupils	28
Orthopedic	13	Chest x-ray, cooks, bus
Triple Toxoid	55	drivers, custodians	18
Smallpox Vaccine	5	Pre-school Clinic	81
Sight program	10

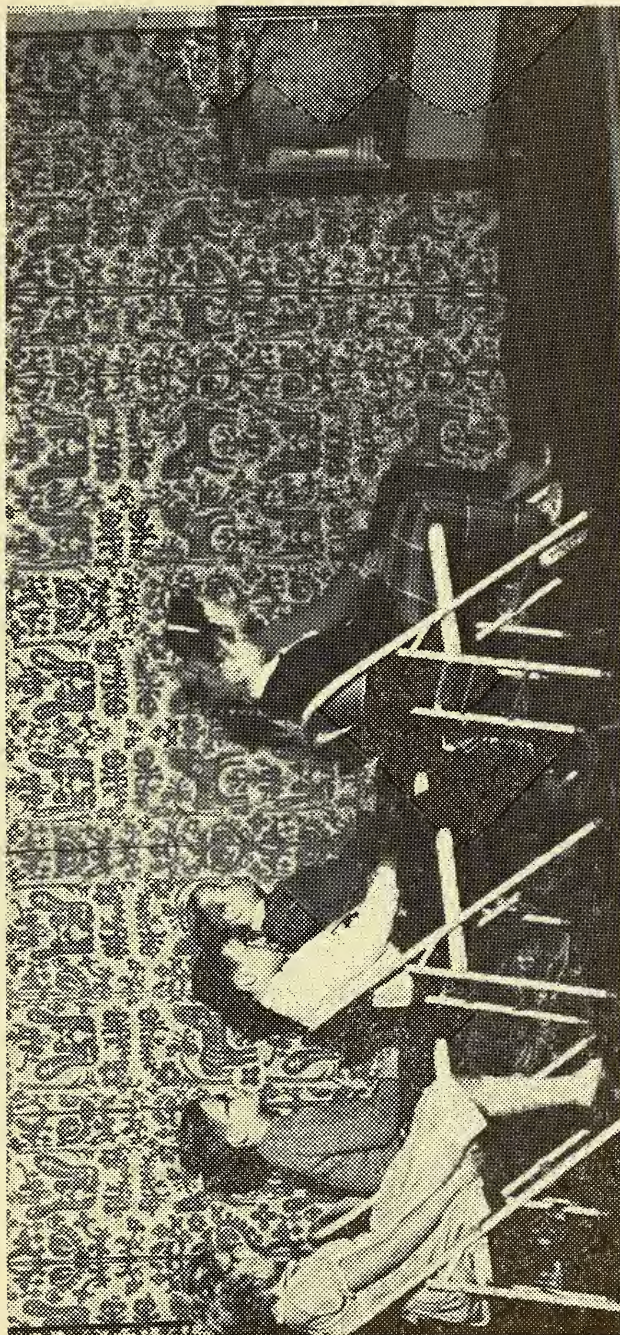

During the school year 1297 pupils had vision tests. Thirty-eight defects were discovered and thirty-two of these were corrected or received treatment. Five hundred twenty-four pupils had hearing tests. Seventeen defects were discovered, and five of these received treatment and were corrected.

Every year we are more keenly aware of the fact that good education is not complete without good health. I feel that we are making progress in our Health Program and I wish to thank the many people without whose help we would be unable to accomplish our goals.
