COPY OF PRAYER MADE BY REV. EDGAR WARREN

O God, who art our sun and shield, the illuminator and protector of all who put their trust in thee, we pause at the beginning of this meeting to ask for thy benediction. We realize how futile are all our activities without divine direction, so we ask thee to be with us at this time as thou wast with our fathers. Give us unselfish hearts and understanding minds so that we may act wisely upon all the articles that come before us. May no selfish ambitions of greed for gain stain our actions but may we be influenced by the spirit of civic patriotism and devotion. Bless our town, we beseech thee in all its enterprises and activities. May we build well for the present and plan wisely for the future. Protect our coast from the tides of the ocean and our homes from the tides of evil which runs so high in the world about us. Be with the men who today are elected to office by our votes, and may they deserve the trust we repose in them. Be with our state, and may the time come when we shall learn not to compromise with evil or derive gain from sources that debase and harm. O God, who hath instructed us to rejoice with them that rejoice and to weep with them that weep, we rejoice that thou hath opened the doors of the Prison House and brought back to us one whom we all love and in whom we all take pride; but the tears come to our eyes when we think of those near and dear to us who never will come back, who have given their lives that our way of life might be preserved. Almighty God, in whose hands are the living and the dead, grant to them thy mercy and the light of thy countenance and may they enter into thy Eternal rest and peace. We pray thee that this war may speedily end, and that there may be peace in our times and in the time of our children. And this we ask in the name of the Prince of Peace.

Amen.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Library Association was held in October at Laconia.

For Book Week, Nov. 11 to 17, last year's Slogan, "United Through Books," was again used. As usual there was a display of new Juvenile books and a talk given to a group from the school with instruction about the Card Catalog.

The usual magazines are to be found on the stand. A gift to the Library is the small magazine, "The Ford News" which contains much interesting material.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Hampton :

I herewith submit to you my fifteenth annual report as Superintendent of your schools. The statistical reports included are copies of the figures deposited with the state Board of Education for the fiscal year 1944-1945. In addition, enrollment by grades as of September, 1945 and the latest school census will be printed. The report of the School Treasurer and a statement of the bond account are included.

The current school year began on Monday, September 10, 1945 with an initial enrollment of 473. Of this number, 180 are enrolled in the high school, 71 of whom are tuition pupils. There are also registered fourteen tuition pupils in the junior high school. The large number registered from the other towns tends toward a "Hampton united" and will result in mutual understanding and cooperation between the towns. The presence of these pupils renders a valuable service to our towns and to the local school system.

Hampton has been unusually fortunate in retaining the majority of its teachers. I believe a word of appreciation should be extended to those who have remained with us despite opportunities elsewhere, both in war time jobs and in other teaching fields. It is this spirit of service upon which the welfare of our schools must depend.

On the Centre School staff there was but one change. Mrs. Dorothea Stevens returned to us until the Christmas vacation at which time her husband returned from service in the Army. Mr. Robert L. Hill, a graduate of Keene Teachers' College and a teacher of experience in New Hampshire schools has taught in our junior high schools since Mrs. Stevens left us.

Hampton Academy and High school has four teachers new to Hampton. Mr. Weston Root entered the army during the last weeks of the past year. His subjects have been under the direction of Miss Evelyn Hooper. She is a graduate of Boston University with teaching experience in the schools of Massachusetts. Mrs. Virginia Matthews resigned at the end of last year to accept a position in Maine. Miss Catherine Martin, a graduate of New Rochelle was employed by the district to take over the work of Mrs. Matthews. Mr. Oleson resigned during the summer to accept a position in Connecticut. Mr. Lough who is at present in charge of the Mechanics Arts course, came to us after teaching in the schools of Salem, Mass. He also taught special courses under the direction of the Massachusetts State Board of Education in the General Electric School at Lynn. Mrs. Ruth Y. Junkins comes to us after a number of years teaching Science and Math in institutions of higher learning. She has taken over the Mathematics courses formerly taught by Mrs. Rayner.

After a year without Art instruction, the subject is again offered to the pupils. Miss Dorothea Martin, a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art is Supervisor of Art in the schools of Hampton, North Hampton, Rye and Hampton Falls.

It is a distinct service to the schools and to the community that Mr. William Elliot consented to take over the direction of athletics during the present emergency. He has worked long hours and faithfully for the welfare of our athletic program. He has the confidence of his teams, the morale is high, the games have uniformly been a credit to the boys and the coach. Mr. Elliot has given of his Saturday time to help boys who are not, for one reason or another, equipped for a place on the regular school team. This comes very near being athletics for everyone.

Miss Dorothy Perkins has done successful work as coach of the girls teams. The fundamentals of basketball are taught to our girls and, for this reason, each one benefits from each practice and each game. As an inspiring coach, Miss Perkins is superior.

HAMPTON ACADEMY AND HIGH SCHOOL

Hampton Academy and High School at the present time offers five courses of study: Academic, Scientific, Commercial, Home Economics and Vocational. These courses are taught by nine teachers. The work is evaluated by recognized standardized tests. The program is approved by the State Board of Education. The work of the school is designed for immediate entrance into life activities or as a preparation for further schooling. How well it fulfills the second objective may be shown by the record of last year's graduating class. This record Headmaster Russell reports as follows: "We graduated a class of 36, the largest to ever graduate from this school. There are twenty-six girls and ten boys. Of the boys, seven are in the armed forces, one is at the University of New Hampshire, one at the New England School of Theology and one is at home. Of the girls, one attends the University of New Hampshire, one attends Colby College, one attends Boston University, two attend Junior College, one attends Art School, one attends a school of Physiotherapy, four attend commercial schools, one Leland Powers School, two Beauty Culture schools, one the Mary Brooks School, seven are working, two are at home and two are married."

The trustees of Hampton Academy and High School continue their generous policy of purchasing equipment for the several departments of the school. This money will enable us to install modern machines and equipment in these departments—machines such as are used in the establishments where our pupils may later be employed.

A Burroughs Bookkeeping and Listing machine has already been received. Other equipment will be added as available. From the Surplus Commodities Corporation two metal working machines have been acquired. A Taylor and Fenn, two spindle, model S, Floor type drilling machine was shipped to the school from Hartford, Conn. We have also received a Burke, Number 3 Milling machine. A microscope for the Biology department is on order.

Hampton Academy and High School must now offer its services to returning veterans, especially to its former students who entered the armed services before graduation. It should be possible for any veteran, who so desires to take courses that will lead to a high school diploma or prepare him for the college of his choice. Since the Armed Forces Institute establishes courses for men and women while in the service, transfer of credits to the Academy can be made. It is earnestly desired that veterans, interested in securing credits contact the school officials.

HAMPTON JUNIOR HIGH AND CENTRE SCHOOL

The foundation of any school system is laid in the elementary grades. The work of the first three grades is a unit with the objective of teaching the mechanics of reading to a successful conclusion. Fundamentally, good readers are good students. The work of these grades is noticeably good.

Upon grades four, five and six falls the responsibility of training the pupil to work independently. Study habits must be established and improved to the point where the pupil will be enabled to enter upon the work of the junior high school. Reading habits must be established and the fundamental operations of arithmetic mastered. Three experienced and skilled teachers guarantee results in these grades.

One definite reason for the training for war is an increased realization of the importance of visual aids in teaching. The local Parent Teacher Association has purchased a sound picture machine for the use of the local schools. Moving pictures speed up learning since the presentations are more impressive when offered to the sense of sight. This machine is now used in regular class instruction, in athletics and in extra curricula activities. Its value will constantly increase as more films become available.

It is in the Junior high grades that the pupil first experiences departmentalized work and a more elastic program. Mechanic Arts is offered to the boys, Cooking and Sewing to the girls, music clubs and organized athletics. The Stanford achievement tests prove the work of the grades seven and eight to be well up to standards. Since the classes of this group are large, the teachers are to be complimented upon this accomplishment.

The Junior High athletic teams are having their customary success. It is important that correct training should start with the early years of team play. In this also, the plan is to give physical training to all pupils. Thursday afternoons are regularly assigned to this activity for all junior high girls and boys alike. Of this work, Miss Nelson and Mr. Eastman are the directors.

Under the direction of Mrs. Coombs, Music is an integral part of the school program from grades one through twelve. The children in our lower grades like to sing. It is here that they learn the mechanics of Music and it is also here that they like to take part in school assemblies and holiday programs. In the upper grades, their first interest is aroused as preparing for membership in the band and orchestra. Programs have been put on for the Parent Teacher Association. The Women's Club, school graduation and school assemblies. The Band has appeared as usual in the Memorial Day parade. The backing of the Legion and Auxiliary and their interest, year after year, is greatly appreciated and means much to the children. It is now planned that the Hampton Schools will be represented in the New England Music Festival at New Britain, Connecticut and at the State Music Festival in Nashua, N. H.

One of the seven cardinal principles of education is the development of health. The importance of this is being recognized so that school systems are assigning more pupil time to physical training. Where a system has sufficiently large enrollment, a trained director is frequently employed whose duty it is to see that all pupils benefit by a physical program set up through all the grades. Pupils with minor physical weaknesses are discovered and given corrected drill which helps alleviate any existing difficulty. Careful guidance throughout the twelve grades, at the hands of a skilled director, should materially aid in the development of all the children enrolled in the school. While the health of our children is well guarded by our school nurse, doctor and coaches, it might be well to consider the possibilities of employing a specialist or of releasing a qualified teacher or teachers to supervise work of this nature.

Waste motion frequently results from unguided choice of subjects by the pupils. On such occasions students with abilities in one field may choose a field unsuited to them. In an attempt to ascertain actual interests and aptitudes a guidance service has been established in Hampton Academy. Tests to determine general interests under nine classifications are administered. Having determined the interest group, test of aptitude follow. The correlation of these two test series gives some idea of the type of activity in which success seems most evident. When this is followed by conferences with guidance teachers and investigation into the possibilities and demands of the vocations indicated, there is established a definite objective toward which teacher and pupil may work. It is the present plan to improve this service by securing a working agreement with Boston University whereby Hampton may have the advantage of their guidance service. It may also be possible to secure representatives of various businesses and professions to consult with the pupils as to the preparation for the demands of their own particular field. The purpose is three fold—to give the pupil an understanding of himself, his interest and abilities; to acquaint him with the demands of his prospective occupation and to give him an idea of the possible rewards in this field.

The P. T. A. of Hampton is rendering two valued services to the schools this year. The moving picture machine is a distinct teaching aid in class instruction. The children receive real pleasure from the pictures and the lessons are learned so much the more easily. The dancing school under the auspices of the P. T. A. is popular with our children. It is hoped that these dancing lessons will continue under the same auspices for a number of sessions.

A review of the war bonds and stamp sales for the Hampton Schools during the past academic year shows a total sales of $1,740.85 in war stamps and $1,393.75 in bonds. The purchase of $796.90 in bonds is recorded for the Victory Loan drive. Our pupils have been active in war drives whether bond sales, milk weed pod drives or scrap collections. Our teachers have given of their time to work on the distribution and recording of ration books.

Physical education has been given the place in the program suggested by the armed forces. Time schedules have been rearranged to make possible an economical bus timetable.

It is our purpose to base the program of studies upon proven principles, to incorporate the most modern and efficient methods of learning and to offer the pupil a complete mental and physical program adapted to his own capabilities and vocational interests. For valued help and advice, I am indebted to you as a School Board. Under your guidance, progress is assured.

ROY W. GILLMORE

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

---

February 12, 1946

Following is the report of the health work in the Hampton Schools:

The annual physical examinations are under way, Dr. C. B. Bailey, the school physician, is doing grades one and five at the Centre School and the Freshman class at the High school. In addition, participants in athletics at the High school are examined.

The Dental Clinic is in progress with Dr. Harold Pier-son in charge. Examinations were held at the Centre School. Each Thursday morning the students are taken to the office for repair.

In October a clinic for the purpose of inoculating children against diphtheria was held at the Centre School. Members of the first grade who had not had this advantage previously were inoculated at this time. Thirty-three were done.

On January 18, a Patch testing clinic was held at the High School for the purpose of testing against any previous infection of tuberculosis. This is held with the help of the New Hampshire Tuberculosis Society.

The audiometer was available last spring for use in the Centre School for ear testing, and will be used this year in the High School.

The Red Cross has given us the privilege of milk at no cost when necessary for undernourished children. It also has donated generously to the dental clinic.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCES SMITH, R. N.
