Report of Superintendent

To the School Board and Citizens of Jackson :

Mr. Gordon who had been our efficient principal for five years, resigned last summer to accept another position. The other two teachers of our staff also resigned and it was necessary to engage teachers for three vacancies. Lawrence Forbush, a graduate of the Junior high school course at Gorham, and also a graduate of Boston University, became principal; Miss Annie Campbell, an experienced graduate of Plymouth Normal School became the teacher in the primary room, and Miss Kathleen Lord, also a graduate of Plymouth, who had one year of experience, went to the school at Dundee.

The program for installing a heating system and making other needed improvements at the village school was postponed for further consideration at the hands of the coming March meeting. It was the opinion of the school board that the cost of the proposed program would be considerably more than the $2500 raised last year. Our experience this year, however, has demonstrated the urgent need of an adequate heating plant and of better sanitary facilities.

The percentage of attendance of all pupils last year was 91 and there were 130 tardy marks. This is not a good record and there seems to be no improvement so far this year. The tardiness record of one of our schools is serious.

The following pupils are attending high schools in New Hampshire: Elliott Gray, Patricia Hodge, Virginia Kelley, Pauline Roberts, Richard Witham, Elizabeth Lamper, Olive Hayes, Mildred Johnson, Robert Wentworth, Warren Hazelton, William Proctor. This is an excellent percentage and indicates an increasing interest in education by our young people.

The superintendent has recommended strongly to the school board that the so-called ninth grade be discontinued. Beyond doubt in years past this arrangement was desirable but with advancing standards the situation is entirely changed. New Hampshire high schools will no longer accept the work of the ninth grade as a substitute for the first year of high school, and no one will believe for a minute that we can provide the time, equipment and teaching staff to make the work of the ninth grade standard. The strongest objection to the present arrangement is that the time spent by the teachers on the ninth grade is sorely needed to do properly the work of the regular eight grades.

The superintendent has entire confidence in the future of the schools. Teachers, parents, and citizens share in all the responsibility of the school. William G. Sumner, perhaps the greatest teacher ever produced in America, writes these two sentences in his life of Andrew Jackson.

"There is nothing on earth which it costs more labor to produce than a high bred man. It is also indisputable that home discipline and training ingrain into the character of men the most solid and valuable elements, and that without such training, more civilization means better food and clothes rather than better men."

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. FULLER,

February 12, 1938

Superintendent.
