SCHOOL REPORT

DISTRICT OF LANGDON

LANGDON, N. H.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE LANGDON SCHOOL BOARD:

I became your superintendent August first and had only a few days to look over the field before schools opened. I found that Superintendent Gilmore and the Board had everything ready except a few repairs at the Hill School for which plans were being made.

The most important parts of a school system are the pupils, next are the teachers, then those necessities, housing, heat, books, and scholars' supplies, and after these several important helps of which we should have as many as we can afford. We must, however, be careful not to neglect the foundation to build a too artistic exterior.

We are beginning a testing program that should help us determine the needs of our pupils. Many of the large systems make a study of the individual pupils through their history, family background, and a number of special tests. While I value tests, it is my opinion, that far more value than any elaborate card system are good common sense teachers who will visit the homes, stand ready to help with kindness the individual pupil, supervise the buildings and grounds, and encourage clean play among their children.

There was no change in teachers at the opening of school, but during the fall term, Miss Elinor Cameau was released to accept a better position, and Miss Minnie Bonnette, a graduate from Keene Normal School was hired to teach the Hill School. Your teachers are well prepared, and are using good teaching methods in the schoolroom; the children, for the most part, seem interested in their work and are making real progress. The attitude of a pupil shows a combination of the interest aroused by the work of the teacher, habits from past school work, home conditions, and the desires of the pupil. The teacher may be doing good work, the home helping all that it can, the habits, some good, some bad, but the desires of the pupil will still play an important part. If we could help the older pupils to decide what they want to do when they complete the eighth grade, I believe, it would help create in them a desire to succeed.

If the rooms were larger at the Center School it would be possible to transport the pupils from the Hill School next year. I estimate that there will be forty-nine pupils next year of whom twenty-seven will be in the upper four grades.

I wish to thank the Langdon School Board for their help and kindness and the teachers for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER E. MASON, Superintendent

Mr. H. C. Hurd, Health Officer,
 Langdon, N. H.

My dear Mr. Hurd:

The following is an account of the Child Health Conference held in Langdon, November 13, 1930. We would be pleased to have you include it in your annual report of the health activities of Langdon during 1930.

Under the direction of the State Board of Health, twelve children of pre-school age were given a complete physical examination by a physician. Three children were found to be without defects while nine were found to have one or more defects. The defects included, bowlegs, phimosis, poor posture, decayed teeth, umbilical hernia, underweight, enlarged and infective tonsils.

Sincerely yours,

(Miss) L. M. CLARK, Field Nurse
