Water Commissioners' Report

In accordance with vote at last town meeting the total rentals for fiscal year ending July 1st, 1926 to the amount of $799.46 have been committed to C. H. Dutton for collection.

Of this amount there remains unpaid $38.89.

The unpaid list as of January 31, 1925 amounting to $59.52 has been paid with the exception of $5.13 which has been allowed the estate of F. O. Webber.

In October the reservoir was cleaned at an expense of $67.66 and the brush cut out on the side and road at a cost of $17.45.

There have been no extensions made during the year but the service pipe at E. K Upton's has been renewed.

In the near future more of this work will have to be done.

Material on hand for repairs remains the same as last year, $74.98

Report of Electric Lighting Committee, Hancock

The lighting system has been extended to the north part of the town including extensions to Walter S. Dutton's place and Silas Blanchette's place, also extensions connecting with Mrs. Hattie Shaw Wood's house, Will A. Foote's house, and John Q. Hodgman's house. The net cost to the town for the new additions including four services on the original line was $2781.58, the same being considerably less than the estimate, partly caused by help contributed by some of the subscribers, lower prices of material, and a larger amount from the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. than anticipated. Eighteen meters have been added during the year. The rebate received from the Keene Gas & Electric Co. for the year ending Jan. 31, 1926, amounts to $1,390.45. The new contract with the Keene Gas & Electric Co. expiring in July, 1927, has been signed whereby the town will receive some additional rebate when the gross receipts exceed $3,500.00 per year.

We herewith submit an account of the extension of the lighting system including four services on the original line, also account of repairs.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE HANCOCK SCHOOL BOARD:

Hancock has a well merited pride in its educational facilities. It is doubtful if the Board should too seriously consider any plan that would reduce the advantages the school children are now receiving. It can well consider how to receive greater values for a given sum expended.

For this reason the superintendent of schools, wholly conscious that the matter lies in the local school board's hands and not in supervision, believes that he should advise against combining the intermediate and primary grades.

While it is certainly true that one teacher can teach six grades, it is an open question how much and how well. Certainly it is not possible to spread the education over six years combined work and have it as thick in any one place. So much butter will cover only so much bread and do it well. The same rule applies to time spent in training children.

There are, however, two possibilities of saving money. Again, the superintendent calls attention to the fact that the matter is one wholly for local decision. At present, then, it is impossible to give School No. 7 equal facilities to those enjoyed in the village. Two possibilities are open. The children can be transported to the village at probably less cost than the maintenance of No. 7. Probably money could be saved by bringing all children in. Probably, also, this would solve many difficulties arising in that district which, as is true of all Hancock, is jealous of its educational interests, as it should be.

This is no plea for consolidation. The matter of consolidation is wholly beyond the interest of supervision. It is merely a suggestion as to a financial saving, if such is possible.

In the matter of music in the schools it is wholly possible that by choosing some teacher in the village to teach the music, at a slight advance over the cost of other teaching, she would be available for a much less cost than is at present the case where supervisors are imported. Here again enters the factor that a resident teacher could not only give more time but that she could direct the musical activities of the children of the town. The same amount of money, or less, could provide a greater amount of music.

State aid will doubtless be increased, the decrease having been due to an increase in Hancock's equalized valuation. The adjustments have pared the sum to a minimum, but the trend is now upwards again. This sum can be made use of to enable the town to provide better physical condition for the children in the intermediate grade room. Here the desks are too numerous, and the good desks are on the wrong side of the room. Transfer and removal would increase the room's educational facilities and the children's welfare.

Playground apparatus is needed. Not the expensive sort, but chinning bars, horizontal ladders, low hurdles, see-saws. Installed by public spirited men who remember their youth they would add to the healthful activities of the children.

No report would be complete without comment upon the work done in the Hancock High School. At times it seems as though nothing except the sheer courage and grit of the supporters of this truly splendid organization could overcome the many difficulties in the way of maintaining so splendid a school.

More publicity is the greatest need of Hancock High School. The town could well advertise itself as uniquely offering splendid facilities for a boarding school. Hancock should grow around the educational spirit of the town. Certainly the possibilities for growth are by no means exhausted when, in a town ideally situated, with a splendid lake near the school, with plenty of houses available for caring for children, there is a splendid start made towards an ideal secondary school plant. Hancock should develop a group of "boosters," and sell the remarkable educational facilities, the excellent chances for fruit and poultry raising, that the town possesses.

It is a pleasure to work in Hancock, and the statement is not made casually. The spirit of the town educationally, in spite of those who would belittle the attempts of the school board to offer nothing less than the best to the children; the friendliness shown to a new superintendent; the cordiality of children and the co-operation of the teachers; all these are entering into a growing sureness of belief that Hancock offers whole-heartedly when it offers at all.

If every citizen of Hancock felt as enthusiastic concerning the great possibilities and would work as hard for the town's advancement as the boosters in other states and towns do with frequently much less real reason for so doing, Hancock would move into the place it so richly deserves.

Courteously submitted,

(Signed) LAWTON CHASE
Supt. of Schools
