* ANNUAL REPORT *

OF THE

Town of Gilmanston

FOR THE

Year Ending March 1st, 1890.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TOWN OFFICERS

OF THE

❖ TOWN OF GILMANTON ❖

COMPRISING THOSE OF THE

SELECTMEN, COLLECTOR, TREASURER, AUDITORS, TOWN CLERK AND SCHOOL BOARD.

FOR THE

Year Ending March 1st, 1890.

LACONIA, N. H. :
PRESS OF WEEKS BROTHERS.
1890.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF THE TOWN OF GILMANTON.

Your Selectmen herewith submit their annual report.

You will see by the following report, the past year has not been an uneventful one, but to the contrary it has been one of those years in which the office of selectman has been no enviable position. There have been times during the past year, when the selectmen have had their judgment taxed to its fullest extent in order to eliminate in certain cases right from wrong, and also that which would be for the best interest of the town.

On assuming the office of selectmen, we found the town in litigation with Marsh & Marsh, a case of alleged injury received on the highway. We carefully investigated this case and finally came to the conclusion, by the advice of our counsel (Jewell & Stone) to settle at an expense of $600.

The Mrs. Sackett case, for damages to clothing &c., is now pending. Of the expenses of the new highway now in progress, the land damages as awarded by the commissioners $600 and cost of hearing $138, making $738, have been paid in full, which including the Marsh bill and necessary expenses have made heavy extra bills for the town.

The town was notified by the town of Pittsfield to appear at a road hearing in the latter town, and show cause, if any it had, why the town of Gilmanton should not pay one-fourth part, $500, of the entire expense of constructing a new highway, running from the road leading by the house of George W. Sanborn to Pittsfield "Upper City", so called. We appeared at the hearing with counsel and succeeded in showing to them that the proposed highway would not be of any material benefit to this town, consequently were not called upon to contribute.

We have now several cases of unfortunate people on our hands, who have to be helped by the town. Under the new law we have succeeded in getting two cases adjudged as being chargeable to the county, and several more cases are now pending before the commissioners.

Our highways in town are in a fair condition considering the heavy rain storms we have had during the past season, and right here we would like to suggest that we hope the town will vote to authorize the selectmen to purchase another road-machine, which we think would enable the town to repair its highways by the first of July. We believe money expended in machine work in the fall is simply thrown away.

The debt of the town March 1, 1889, was $8,505.23; March 1, 1890, it is $7,250.37, showing a reduction the past year of $1,254.86, which, we think, when considering the amount of money raised, is a fair showing. The selectmen's charges are a little more the past year than they have been for some years, owing to the fact that they have been obliged to serve considerable more time than usual both in and out of town.

In conclusion we return our thanks for the co-operation of all our townsmen.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS B. LANE,	}	Selectmen
CHARLES E. MERRILL,		of
FRANK N. MERRILL,		Gilmanton.

Gilmanton, March 1, 1890.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION FOR THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF GIL- MANTON.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN OF GILMANTON:—

The number of schools supported by the town district during the year has been seventeen, the same as last year.

The Kelley school, No. 1; Potter, No. 2; Hall's Hill, No. 3; Pond, No. 4; Smith Meeting House, No. 5; Cogswell, No. 6; Lougetown, No. 7; Allen's Mills, No. 8; Corner, No. 9; Gale, No. 11; Guinea Ridge, No. 12; Jones' Mills, No. 13; Griffin, No. 14; Parish, No. 15; Sanborn No. 16; Lamprey, No. 17; Iron Works, No. 18.

Following is a brief of each school:

NO. 1.—KELLEY DISTRICT.

Summer term of eight weeks, winter term of eight weeks, both taught by Mrs. Etta M. Gilman. The larger part of the scholars in this school hardly have recollection of any other teacher, as Mrs. Gilman has been retained as teacher here for many years in succession and is doing a noble work.

This school is now well advanced; second to no other school in town. A class of young men have nearly completed their Book-keeping,—Single Entry, and a portion of them are quite well advanced in Double Entry.

A class of seven in United States History gave evidence of profitable work. Rhetorical exercises at the close of each term. Here is one of those cases rarely found in our district schools;—the right teacher in the right school. No. of visitors first term, 10; second term, 10.

Register correctly filled. Percentage of daily attendance, .8667.

NO. 2.—POTTER DISTRICT.

A summer and winter term of eight weeks each, both taught by Miss Alice M. Ayers.

This school has, during the past year been provided with a good house in place of the old uncomfortable, unattractive and somewhat ancient brick house, which the scholars highly and fully appreciate.

The advancement, order and general deportment of the scholars of this school is very satisfactory.

This is now a very interesting school, containing several young men who have arrived at that age, when they begin to realize that soon they are to leave their school and school privileges, and take a position as citizens of their town, and they are evidently preparing themselves for the change.

No. of visitors first term, 26 ; second term, 25. Register very imperfectly filled.

Percentage of daily attendance .975.

NO. 3.—HALL'S HILL DISTRICT.

Summer term of eight weeks, winter term of nine weeks, taught by Mrs. Charlotte J. Collins, a very careful, thorough and efficient teacher. She has taught this school many terms previous to the past year, and has given excellent satisfaction, not only to parents but also to the school board. Under the changed condition of educational facilities in this district, a perceptible increase of interest, not only on the part of the children but also of the parents, is very apparent.

The winter term was suddenly closed one week before the time previously arranged by the school board, on account of the prevailing epidemic, consequently it was visited but once.

No. of visitors first term, 10 ; second term, 5. Register, perfect.

Percentage of daily attendance .9538.

NO. 4.—POND DISTRICT.

Fall term of ten weeks, taught by Miss Alice M. Ayer. A majority of the children who attended this term of school are residents of neighboring districts, and by availing themselves of the privilege granted them, they have secured ten extra weeks of valuable school advantages.

The advancement in this school was very satisfactory ; most of the pupils are industrious and very much interested in their studies, and such scholars are always found in their proper place ; but there are others who are not over anxious about improving their intellectual abilities or making additions to their scanty supply of general information, that need a little restraint ; that need to be guided by a firm yet considerate hand. We think the exercise of a little more authority and wholesome discipline would have been beneficial to a portion of the school, at least.

No. of visitors, 24. Register imperfect.

Percentage of daily attendance .95.

NO. 5.—SMITH MEETING HOUSE DISTRICT.

Summer term of eight weeks taught by Miss Bertha B. Pierce.

This was Miss Pierce's first experience in teaching and she seemed much interested in her work; displayed much aptitude in the discharge of her new duties. The school was very quiet and orderly, and promised favorably for a successful term, but as I visited the school but once, I am unable to report the result of her labors; but in the absence of any complaint, we conclude she gave general satisfaction.

No. of visitors 16. Register nearly correct.

Winter term of nine weeks taught by Mr. Ernest K. Piper of Belmont, a graduate of Gilmanton Academy, class of 1888. This was Mr. Piper's second term, having taught one term in Belmont.

On account of sickness of the teacher and of the scholars and the closing of the term for a few days, there arose a misunderstanding as to the day of its final close, consequently your committee was one day late, therefore it was visited but once. Mr. Piper is evidently well qualified to instruct and is a gentlemanly appearing young man, and will doubtless become an efficient teacher. I learn from inquiry that he was held in very high esteem in the district and gave excellent satisfaction.

No. of visitors, 6. Register partially filled.

Percentage of daily attendance, .8389.

NO. 6—COGSWELL DISTRICT.

Summer term of eight weeks, fall term of nine weeks, both taught by Miss Fannie B. Page. The summer term was quite satisfactory as to order and advancement in the different studies pursued; there were but few scholars and those correctly inclined; consequently the teacher's labor was light and pleasant, and the results quite encouraging at the close of the term.

The fall term commenced under very flattering conditions: several children that did not attend the summer term became members of this term, and there were a number from neighboring districts that became members of the school, making, as I thought, a very interesting class, and promising, with proper restraint and direction, a profitable term of school.

At the close of the term I found most of the larger scholars and some of the smaller ones absent. I did not find that order and wholesome discipline, so essential and so absolutely necessary in a successful school, and, as a matter of course, the advancement was not what I had reason to hope and expect.

No. of visitors first term, 7; second term, 24. Register correctly filled.

Percentage of daily attendance, .9666.

NO. 7.—LOUGEETOWN DISTRICT.

Summer term of seven and fall term of ten weeks, both terms under the instruction of Miss Abbie L. Lougee, a very successful teacher, especially in this district, where she has labored very acceptably in years past.

The school is a small one, only four resident scholars attending, and those four children according to the teacher's register were present every day during the second term,—a very praiseworthy showing.

The scholars in this school did not pass over a large amount of ground in a superficial manner but, as indicated by the closing examination, they progressed very thoroughly, passing over nothing until properly and fully understood.

The house in this district is a very uninviting place in which to compel children to spend their school days; your committee therefore recommend an appropriation sufficient to put the house in a condition so that it will not only be comfortable but somewhat attractive to the children who there attend school.

No. of visitors first term, 13; second term, 14. Register nearly correct. Percentage of daily attendance. .8835.

NO. 8.—ALLEN'S MILLS DISTRICT.

Summer term of seven weeks taught by Miss Annie E. Weeks. This is a very small school and composed wholly of small children, yet the teacher managed to make an interesting term, and especially a pleasing examination, which was attended by a goodly number of parents and friends,—one gentleman leaving his work at a very busy season and spending a few hours listening to the recitation of those small children. It was a highly commendable act, and the teacher and your committee felt that their labors for the good of those children were to a certain extent appreciated.

No. of visitors, 18. Register partially filled.

Fall term of nine weeks taught by Miss Helen J. Beane. The teacher labored earnestly for the advancement of these children, and with abundant success, as shown at the close of the term. Miss Beane has a very happy faculty of directing the minds of children and gaining their love and respect.

No. of visitors, 12. Register incorrect. Percentage of daily attendance, .7166.

NO. 9.—CORNER DISTRICT.

Summer term of nine weeks taught by Miss Emma S. Page. Miss Page labored under disadvantages from the commencement of the term to its close, resulting from the fact that a few families in the district entertained doubts as to the advisability of placing Miss Page in this school, and their doubts became known to the teacher. From what your committee could learn from two somewhat extended visits during the term, we are satisfied that these fears are groundless, and that had Miss Page received the cheerful and hearty co-operation due to every teacher until they prove themselves incompetent to discharge the duties of the position they are called to fill, her labors would have been relieved of much unpleasantness and her usefulness in the school room very much augmented. Although some of the pupils were absent from their classes at the closing exercises, those present acquitted themselves very creditably. Was pleased to meet several of the friends of the school at the closing examination.

The teacher informs me in her register that "Lilla Durgin, Blanche Sawyer and Flossie Twombly have not missed a word in spelling during the term, while Lizzie McKenzie and Guy Page missed but two each."

No. of visitors, 48. Register nearly correct.

Fall term of ten weeks, Miss Susie A. Smith teacher. The school appeared at both visits of your committee remarkably well; perfect harmony and the kindest of feelings seemed to exist between teacher and pupils; advancement very marked; singing was a very pleasing feature of the closing exercises.

The teacher remarks in her register: "I find no misdemeanor with those children who are trained well at home. A question was once asked, 'What does France need most?' The reply was, 'Mothers.'" and I feel sure our Gilmanton schools need good fathers and good mothers as well as good teachers." "Parents should work in unison with teachers and visit their schools often, to learn the methods and work of their teacher."

No. of visitors, 37. Register correct. Percentage of daily attendance, .9261.

NO. 11—GALE DISTRICT.

Summer term of seven weeks, taught by Miss Ethelyn M. Price. Miss Price possesses superior literary attainments, a very pleasant disposition and ways that are very pleasing to children, but lacks in a large degree that very important requisite so essential to successful school work, the exercise of proper discipline. Although the school appeared a little confused and some of the little boys showed very plainly the want of wholesome restraint, yet the school passed a fair examination; some made excellent progress.

No. of visitors, 12. Register correct.

Fall term of ten weeks, under the instruction of Miss Josie H. Cook. It is but simple justice to say that every scholar in this school was anxious to advance just as rapidly as possible and labored diligently with their teacher to that end during the entire term: the result was decided improvement in all the classes. Miss Cook fully maintained her reputation as a very efficient teacher. Declamations fine.

No. of visitors, 15. Register correctly filled. Percentage of daily attendance. 1.00.

NO. 12—GUINEA RIDGE.

Summer term of eight weeks, fall term of eight weeks, both under the care of Miss Carrie M. Sargent. This is the smallest school in town yet a very interesting one for the reason its members and its teacher are ever striving to advance, to rise higher intellectually, and the examination of these two or three children showed very plainly that their efforts are being crowned with success.

This teacher possesses both natural and required abilities that fit and recommend her to a broader field of educational labor and usefulness.

No. of visitors first term, 3; second term, 5. Register correctly filled. Percentage of daily attendance, .80.

NO. 13.—JONES' MILLS DISTRICT.

Summer term of nine weeks under the direction and instruction of Miss Susie A. Smith, a teacher of large experience, not only in this district and town, but in other towns in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. In the discharge of her duties in the school room, Miss Smith labors with a conscientious realization of the responsibilities resting upon her. She not only toils for the advancement and intellectual improvement of the pupils under her care, but she also has a keen sense of her duty to give proper attention to their moral, as well as their intellectual training; that they be guided in that way that their conduct shall be correct, their conversation chaste and their love of truth and sobriety strong and abiding.

The closing exercises were unusually interesting and were enjoyed by some twenty-five friends of the school, several taking part in the exercises, thereby rendering them more enjoyable.

This is a model school: scholars vying, each with the other to excel. In listening to the examination of this school, which occupied some three hours, I do not recollect of seeing a single scholar whisper, moving about or in any way disturbing the quiet of the school room. School a success. No. visitors, 43.

Register correct.

Winter term of nine weeks, taught by Miss Carrie M. Jones. Miss Jones was very fortunate in being the successor of Miss Smith. The school was well disciplined and the pupils had become fully impressed with the value of their school privileges and had no thoughts for idleness or mischief, and only needed the kind assistance and proper encouragement of their teacher to continue the rapid progress they are at present making, in their various studies.

This is one of the most interesting schools in town as shown by the large number of visitors at the close of its different terms. The close of this term was one week previous to the time fixed by the school board on account of sickness of teacher and scholars, consequently was visited only at the commencement.

Summer term of seven weeks taught by Miss Lillian M. Eveleth. Here was Miss Eveleth's first effort in directing and strengthening youthful intellects, and it will doubtless be a source of much pleasure to her in future years to cast her thoughts back to these few weeks, devoted to the intellectual culture of these scholars; to the days she went in and out before them and dispensed to them that food their little minds so much craved; and when she thinks of the present received from Cora and Willie Tilton as a slight recompense for time devoted to them outside of school hours, how thankful will she be that she had the opportunity and the disposition to render that assistance.

Advancement satisfactory. No. of visitors first term, 14.

Winter term of eight weeks, taught by Miss Annie E. Weeks. This school continues to maintain its well earned reputation of being a pleasant, orderly and industrious school.

Miss Weeks has put forth her best efforts, and judging from the recitations and general deportment at the closing examination, I am of the opinion that the scholars seconded her efforts and were determined to obtain the most from the small amount of school privileges furnished them.

This school was interrupted near its close by sickness of its teacher and also of most of the scholars.

Fall term of ten weeks, Mrs. Etta M. Gilman teacher. This school is composed substantially of the same pupils who are members of the winter term in the Kelley dist. with the addition of some six or eight from the Potter dist. and the same words of commendation bestowed on teacher or scholars of that school may with truthfulness be applied to this.

It is a source of extreme pleasure to your committee to note the great advancement that has been made by the members of this school since it has been my privilege to have the superintendence of the same. General exercises are of a high order and very interesting.

Summer term of seven weeks, taught by Miss Helen J. Beane. This is one of our smallest schools,—only five scholars,—yet we think Miss Beane labored to discharge her duties in a manner not only to meet the approval of the superintendent but also the commendation of her own conscience.

Although this is a field perhaps on account of the very small number of scholars, not so inviting as some other districts in town, yet the duty of the teacher to render her best services to the few is just as obligatory, just as binding as though she reckoned her pupils by the scores.

The exercise of just a little authority on the part of this teacher would, we think, have been beneficial in this school.

Fall term of nine weeks, taught by Miss Ethelyn M. Price. The same remarks in relation to Miss Price's management of the summer term in the Gale district are equally applicable to her labors in this school,—yet she had the benefit of one term's experience and I think she gathered some valuable information from those few weeks' effort, directing, strengthening and improving the impressible intellects of those little children.

Remember the truthful declaration, "Order is Heaven's first law," and that without order the best of efforts in the school room are futile.

NO. 17—LAMPREY DISTRICT.

Summer term of seven weeks, taught by Miss May C. Osborn : fall of ten weeks, taught by Miss Minnie E. Nelson. This school although quite small is one of the most interesting schools in town, from the fact that every pupil puts forth his best efforts to accomplish in his work all that is possible, and also from the fact that every scholar in the school conducts himself both to his teacher and to his school-mates in a very gentlemanly and ladylike manner, with conclusive evidence that it is not a habit of a few days or weeks growth but a habit that has grown with their growth and matured with their years.

The children in this district were very fortunate in our selection of teachers for them the past year as both are alive to their work and understand just how to accomplish the most for a school in the brief time allowed.

The same words of praise due the summer term are equally applicable to the fall term as both were nearly perfect and the result was all that the most interested parent could ask or even expect.

NO. 18.—IRON WORKS DISTRICT.

Summer term of ten weeks, taught by Miss Hattie B. Cogswell. Winter term of eleven weeks, taught by Miss Minnie E. Nelson. Both these teachers have by intelligent and conscientious efforts in other schools secured a reputation that promises success in whatever field of labor they are placed. Both are thoroughly qualified to instruct the youth of our town, having devoted several years of close application to study and having received diplomas from the Faculty of that old and honored institution of learning, Gilmanton Academy.

Both possess traits of character absolutely essential to successful and profitable school work; both are keenly alive to the weighty and responsible duties resting upon an earnest and successful teacher, and very faithfully and satisfactorily has each succeeded in discharging their duties, not only to themselves, but to the large number of children under their care during the past year. The winter term was once interrupted by the sickness of the teacher and again on account of sickness of many of the scholars, when it was decided by the request of many of the parents in the district to close the term for the year; but after a vacation of several weeks, a large majority of the citizens of the district expressed a wish that the school be reopened under the instruction of Miss Nelson. The school board decided to comply with the wish of the district and again opened the school, which at the time of making this report is in successful operation, and notwithstanding the many interruptions this term has suffered, we have reason to believe that it will nevertheless be a very profitable term to many of the members of the school.

This school is, as it has been and will continue to be, the largest school in town; altogether too large for any one teacher to do justice to all the different classes of which it is necessarily composed. The room is also too small for the proper accomodation of so many pupils: while the conditions are such as evidently tend to cramp and dwarf the intellects, on the one hand, it is patent to the mind of every one who has given the subject any thought, that they also tend very directly to impair, if not permanently injure the health of the children who attend this school.

The necessity of confining from forty to fifty scholars in one room the size of this, with its present means of ventilation, six hours in a day, for ten or twelve consecutive weeks, is wrong, and the blame rests somewhere ; either with the parents, with the town, or with the school board.

It has been remarked that a blessing that is not worth the asking is not worth the giving :—whether the truth of this saying is applicable to this case, I will not attempt to say, but it does appear to me that those who are the most directly affected and interested in this matter should be the first to bring the subject before the proper tribunal for discussion and decision.

The time has evidently arrived when this school should be divided. when the good of the school demands that a grading and a separation of its members be made. when the formation of a primary class, composed of the younger portion of the school, is absolutely demanded.

To accomplish this very necessary and important change will necessitate the providing of another school room for the accomodation of one of the two classes.

On this question there will, as a matter of course, be different opinions :—some may advocate the hiring a room and properly furnishing it for one of the schools ; others may think it a better course to remodel and enlarge the present house, and still others may think the only proper course is to build a new house with accommodations for both schools.

It is a subject that should be immediately considered, and your committee recommend that the same generous support that other sections of the town have received in their efforts to improve the educational privileges of their children, be accorded to this district by assisting to carry to completion any plan that shall be thought the most desirable to promote the educational interests of the children in this part of the district.

GENERAL REMARKS.

By the requirement of the statutes, we herewith submit this our annual report, showing the condition of the schools in the town of Gilmanton. As we have in our remarks treated each school in a somewhat extended manner, we think but little need be said under the head of general remarks.

We wish to say however that our labors during the year just closed, in the interests of our schools and for the educational advancement of the children of our town, have been attended with a fair measure of success.

We have succeeded in keeping alive and active in the schools generally, that interest, that love for advancement, that desire to explore new fields of scientific truths, and that determination not to be satisfied with anything short of perfect success in every effort put forth for the enlightenment of the mind, for the attainment of those high and enviable positions reached only by the few.

Our teachers generally have been very successful in their labors in the school during the year. True, there are some that failed to reach that standard of success so desirable, yet in a portion of these cases a little wisdom, care and good judgment on the part of parents would doubtless in many cases have assisted materially in rendering the teachers' effort more successful at least. Children who are under proper restraint at their homes, who have that paternal care and direction that begets love and respect, are seldom the occasion of much annoyance to their teacher. But at the same time there is a certain duty, a certain kind and amount of labor just as essential on the part of the teacher, as proper home discipline and paternal authority on the part of the parents. Children of their own accord, without direction, care and the enforcement of wholesome rules, will never for any considerable length of time go just right; their natural tendency is to go wrong; consequently every person who takes the position of teacher must also assume its duties and its responsibilities as well, or meet with certain failure.

The school houses in town are now, with one or two exceptions in a very good condition, well painted and quite comfortably arranged. We have during the past year built one new house and painted five, thus very much improving their outward look and at the same time giving them protection from the wear and waste of the elements.

The house in the "Lougeetown" district needs remodeling and thorough repairing; an appropriation of a few hundred dollars would put the house in a suitable and comfortable condition and the school board recommend that a sufficient sum be raised to make the needed repairs.

Many of our school children have in years past, suffered to a certain extent for the want of a sufficient supply of text-books, and when the time arrived for them to leave their school and school privileges, they were compelled to look back with a feeling of keen regret, that they had been allowed to plod along through their school days, deprived of those educational privileges enjoyed by their schoolmates, the possession of which would in very many cases have enabled them to have far outstripped their school associates. It is true there has been for several years a law allowing towns to supply text-books to all indigent children, but in many cases there were children that could not be reckoned as poor and destitute, who were sadly in need of books, and if your committee had furnished them in the manner provided by law, he would have incurred the displeasure of the parents and perhaps the children, and while his object and intention might be to remedy an evil and benefit the school, he might be the cause of permanent injury.

At the last session of the legislature, a law was enacted, making it the duty of towns to furnish text-books and supplies for all the children in our public schools.

It would seem that the last excuse for ignorance and illiteracy is now removed, and if young men and young ladies with all the school privileges, all the educational facilities now provided and made available, allow themselves to pass through their school days and years, and go out into the world with the cloud of ignorance resting upon them, deficient in that rudimentary knowledge obtained only under the direction of a competent teacher, and wanting in those educational acquirements, those intellectual accomplishments so clearly within their reach; if they permit this season and these privileges to pass unimproved, their feelings of sorrow, of regret in after years will not

GEORGE W. PARSONS } School Board

REPORT OF BUILDING COMMITTEE.

At a special school meeting of the school district in Gilmanton called at the Smith Meeting House, and holden on the 27th day of April, 1889, the district voted to build an outbuilding for the use of the school in the "Pond" district, or what was formerly school district No. 4 and voted to raise $35 for that purpose. The district also voted to build a new school house in the "Potter" district, or what was formerly school district No. 2 and voted to raise $675.00 for that purpose. The district also voted that the school board be a committee to build the above named building and also a committee to locate the new house and procure land for that purpose.

In accordance with the above votes your committee have caused to be built a suitable building, 10x12 ft., 8 ft. posts, in the Pond district, shingled both roof and body, thereby furnishing a comfortable and convenient building for the purpose for which it was built, at an expense of $41.64.

Your committee appointed Saturday, June 1st, one o'clock p. m., to meet the citizens of the Potter district, and others interested, and select a location for the new school house.

After examining several different sites and listening to suggestions of those most directly interested, your committee proceeded to lay out a plot of ground for a school house lot on land owned by Mrs. A. V. Edgerly bounded and described as follows:—commencing southeasterly of a causeway across the highway, northwesterly of the present school house lot, thence running northeasterly to the Potter road (so called), thence southeasterly binding on said road to present school house lot in said district, thence binding on said school lot southwesterly to highway leading from Lower Gilmanton to Gilmanton I. W., thence binding on said highway to bounds began at, containing 1-4 acre, be the same, more or less. The above described lot being a gift of Mrs. Edgerly and her son to the town.

Your committee have caused to be erected and finished on said lot a school building 24x32 ft., 9 1-2 ft. posts. The house contains a clothes room, a wood room and entry, each 8x8 ft.: a school room 24x24 ft., lighted by six four lighted windows, finished in chestnut and furnished with the "New Automatic" school seats, with a seating capacity for thirty-two pupils and space to set other seats if in the future they may be needed.
