FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HANOVER FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Hanover Finance Committee presents herewith its first annual report. Down to the present date (February 21, 1933) it has held fourteen meetings. At practically every meeting of the Committee every member of it has been in attendance.

The first few meetings of the Committee were devoted to a consideration of unemployment in Hanover. During the winter of 1931-1932 and in the spring of 1932 Mr. Alfred W. Guyer had been handling these matters energetically and ably at the request of the selectmen. By May, 1932 the problem had assumed larger and more serious proportions. As a result of the consideration given to it by the Finance Committee the selectmen were asked to appoint, and did appoint, a "Citizens Unemployment Relief Committee" which has served most zealously and successfully since May, 1932. This committee consisted of Dr. John P. Bowler, Mrs. Francis L. Childs, Mrs. Harry T. French, Mr. Leland S. Merrill, Rev. L. Morse Merritt, Mr. John B. Stearns, Mr. Adna D. Storrs, Mr. Robert C. Strong, and its report is presented in another place, but in behalf of the community sincere thanks are hereby tendered to this committee for its far-sighted service and continuous hard work. Special mention ought to be made of the chairman, Mr. A. D. Storrs, who has become almost the "father confessor" of the man without a job and whose willingness to devote time and strength to the service of his fellows has never been better illustrated.

The Committee has spent much time going over practically every aspect of Hanover finance. In the Hanover Gazette of February 16, 1933, was published a table prepared by Mr. Holden showing a survey of Hanover finances 1922-31 inclusive, supplemented by a set of questions and answers intended to make the table more clear. It is expected that this method of presentation will be carried on from year to year. Sundry charts and diagrams showing various aspects of Hanover finance, also prepared by Mr. Holden, have been placed from time to time in the window of Storrs' bookstore.

The Committee has scrutinized the town, precinct and school budgets very closely. We have no question that such scrutiny conducted in a body in which each of these units is represented, as well as the public at large, is an excellent arrangement. One of its advantages is that it has enabled all of us better to understand the other fellow's point of view.

If the budgets, which have been submitted by the town, precinct and school authorities and which have been unanimously approved by this Committee, are adopted, the result will be that the town tax rate (outside the precinct) will be $2.03 for 1933 as compared with $2.33 for 1932 and that the rate within the precinct will be $2.66 for 1933 as compared with $3.09 for 1932. This substantial decrease has been accomplished by economies all along the line, and in effecting these the selectmen, the precinct commissioners and the board of education have all readily and heartily cooperated.

One of the purposes for which this Committee was appointed and one of its chief aims for the present year is to make the subject of Hanover finance more clear and more interesting to all the citizens. In further pursuance of this aim a public hearing on the budgets was held on February 20, 1933, which was attended by about sixty of the voters. The Committee expects to arrange one or more similar meetings during the coming year at which it hopes for a large attendance and invites frank inquiry and criticism from every citizen. During this year the Committee will continue its work along the same general lines. It has in mind various aspects of our local finance which may well be studied in more detail and it hopes that some such studies may be undertaken in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

For the Committee

JAMES P. RICHARDSON,

Chairman.

HANOVER UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF COMMITTEE

The undersigned committee was appointed by the Board of Selectmen on June 3, 1932, to survey the need for unemployment relief in the Town of Hanover and to take any steps necessary to meet the problem. A registration bureau was established and more than one hundred persons in the town have registered as needing full time or part time work. During the summer many citizens assisted the committee in providing jobs for men and women and to some extent this type of assistance has been continued through the fall and winter.

It has been the policy of the committee wherever possible to furnish work rather than direct material assistance. The Town, Precinct, and Water Company have helped materially in this project by matching contributions made by the unemployment committee.

The committee wishes to express publicly its appreciation for the assistance given by the contributors listed in the following financial statement. These funds have made it unnecessary up to the present time to ask for private contributions and have enabled the committee to assist in greater or less degree more than fifty Hanover families.

Respectfully submitted,

The proposal to adopt oil heating for the library was abandoned after a trial with the stove in use. The cost of new equipment would not be justified for the few hours per week that the library is open; and considerations of economy led the trustees to continue the use of fuel produced here in the town. The electric lights have contributed much to the attractiveness and convenience of the library during the winter months, and at a cost not exceeding seventy-five cents per month, under the adjusted rates, less than ten cents for each day in use.

As heretofore, the library has had the benefit of advice and co-operation from the Howe library, in the selection of books, and offering facilities for extension service beyond the village precinct.

Probably never before today was there a time when good books on so great a variety of subjects could be bought at small cost. Since the librarian's report was sent in purchases have been made which bring the total up to 119. By reference to the treasurer's report it will appear that the average cost per volume was but little more than $1.50. Adding the cost of the periodicals (which have many readers) the total expense for new reading matter is found to be quite one half of the total income at the disposal of the trustees.

The periodicals taken are:—monthlies: American Magazine, National Geographic Magazine, Nature Magazine, National Republic, Child Life and Good Housekeeping; the weeklies: Literary Digest and Hanover Gazette.

Additions to the books of reference include a large Atlas of American Historical Geography, a History of American Railroads with over 400 illustrations, and books of the character of cyclopedias, relating to developments of modern science and nature study. These should be useful to older pupils in the grammar and high schools, as well as to their elders.

The accounts of the trustees of trust funds having been kept by one of the auditors have been examined by David C. Rennie and found correct and the assets in the hands of the treasurer of the trustees as stated.

FRED E. COBURN,
Treasurer.

The association's incomes have been nil this last year as before it has derived some income from renting part of the building.

Our janitor has kept the apparatus in condition all winter, so now if it gets a call, the machines are ready to go at a moment's notice. Therefore the large item for gas and oil. This is something that has never been done before and all think it a profitable expenditure.

The apparatus has had quite a few calls the past year and has done favorable work with all concerned.

The members of the association especially wish to thank the patronage it received at our chicken pie supper from the townspeople, and also extends its thanks to all contributors that donated so free-heartedly to make it the success that it was, and hope for the same support to our next one.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED E. COBURN,
Secretary and Treasurer.

FOREST FIRE WARDEN'S REPORT

February, 1933

Another dry year has become history.

Only one small fire of unknown origin during the year would indicate that we are all cooperating with results of which the State Forestry Department is much pleased. Let's try for one hundred percent in 1933.

Permits to kindle fire when and where conditions are safe may be obtained by telephone.

J. WALTER FERSON,
Warden.

Address: Lyme Center, N. H., R. F. D.

Telephone: Lebanon 993-23.

REPORT OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

February 1, 1933

To the Commissioners of the Precinct of Hanover, N. H. :

Early in the year 1932, the Twin State Fire Districts Association was organized with the local Department joining as a charter member. This Organization effected an arrangement with the surrounding towns regulating the answering of calls for assistance at times of fires. For the first hour that the Precinct pumper is used at an out of town fire, the Precinct is reimbursed $50.00 and, furthermore, receives $25.00 for each hour of use thereafter. At the time of an out of town fire, care is taken to see that the Precinct property is adequately covered.

During 1932 the Company answered 43 alarms.

17 still alarms

24 bell alarms

2 false alarms

Of the 43, 6 were out of town, 9 were for the town of Hanover, 28 were in the Precinct. Of the 28 in the Precinct, 2 were false, 6 were chimney, 1 a mattress, 1 a Ford car, 9 were grass fires, and 9 were dwellings.

The property loss for the nine dwelling fires was $5,156.42, which represents .00107% of the assessed valuation of approximately $4,480,000 in the Precinct.

During the year, the Department laid 9450 feet of 2½ inch hose and 6100 feet of 1½ and ¾ inch hose.

C. H. LEWIN,

Chief Engineer.

REPORT OF HEALTH DEPARTMENT

February, 1, 1933

To the Commissioners of the Precinct of Hanover, N. H.

During the past year milk licenses were granted after inspection of thirty-four distributors of milk in the Precinct.

Many of these men buy milk from other producers. In order to safeguard the milk supply inspections were made of these dairies also.

Thirty-two milk samples were taken and tested and other samples sent to the State Laboratory in Concord.

There are now three Pasteurizing Plants which furnish milk to the Precinct.

Four nuisances were reported and investigated.

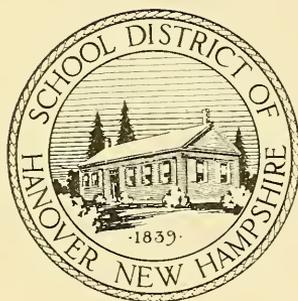

During the year, one hundred and thirty-six cases of contagious disease were reported and quarantine enforced in those instances where it is required by law.

To accomplish the above inspections and investigations, the Health Officer traveled about four hundred miles.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

The Report of the Superintendent of Schools has been accepted and made a part of the report of the School Board to the School District. The attention of the citizens is directed to that report for information concerning the schools.

It is gratifying to the Board to report that it closed the financial year in June, 1932, with a balance of $3,760.93. This balance was larger than anticipated because the receipts of the department were in excess of estimates, and because several items in the Budget were less than had been expected. Your Board is also pleased to report that for the current year 1932-1933, the amount to be raised by taxation, due to increased income and lessened Budget expenditures, was reduced by $6,065.30.

The amount to be raised by taxation for 1933-1934 has been still further reduced by $8,017.75. This has been made possible by a reduction in many of the items in the Budget, and by anticipated increases in the estimated income. Your School Board has believed that it should do its part in attempting to meet the situation of a reduced tax rate. At the same time, your Board believes that nothing should be done to take away from the children in the Schools their rights and privileges in securing an education, even though restricted Budgets are necessary. It now seems probable that the schools can be operated under this Budget successfully, unless unforeseen circumstances arise such as the opening of a rural school in any given area, or an unexpected decrease in the estimated income, or unavoidable repairs.

Your attention is directed specifically to the item for Fuel, which shows a reduction of over fifty percent within a few years. The items for Supplies have been reduced as have several other items. The carrying forward of the work will be exercised only by a rigid economy in all expenditures.

No major undertakings are proposed by the Board for this School year. The Board, however, is not unmindful of the growing needs of the District for additional accommodations. It is our belief that some solution to the problem must be found within the next few years.

Respectfully submitted,

Board of Education.

AUDITOR'S CERTIFICATE

This is to certify that I have examined the books, vouchers, bank statements and other financial records of the treasurer of the school district of Hanover, of which the above is a true summary for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, and find them correct in all respects.

EARLE C. GORDON,
Auditor.

Hanover, N. H., July 29, 1932.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Hanover:

The requirement that the Superintendent of Schools present an annual report has been followed continuously for sixteen years. These reports have become a part of the reports of the School Boards and School Districts of Hanover. The present accounting for the work of the schools is the seventy-ninth in the series of such reports.

PURPOSE

Some of the salient facts and activities of the department for the year will form the basis of this report. These factors will include an account of the financial affairs, budget considerations, pupil attendance, and pupil success. It is proper also, to include some of the past events and trends in the local educational movement.

SURVEY

It is a pleasure to record that the general standing of the Schools as to their educational progress is good. It has been found that pupils who leave the Eighth Grade are able to carry on their work in the High School with a reasonable degree of success. A study of the charts in the appendix indicates that rather better than average success may be expected of those pupils entering college, and higher institutions, direct from the Hanover High School. The continued interest of the citizens in the work of the schools has been a source of genuine helpfulness. Some changes in teaching procedure and technique seem to have resulted in more favorable learning situations from the standpoint of the pupil. Such economies as have been effected have enabled the District to carry on its work with a decreasing cost to the taxpayer. Relatively few changes have taken place among the teaching personnel.

BUDGET

The schools are continuing to operate with a balanced budget.

Positive measures have been adopted to avoid exceeding the several items. Lessening the cost to the taxpayer has been one of the criteria in budget planning. The increase in the tuition rates for the past few years has made it possible to have balances to help in reducing tax costs in succeeding years. The budget prepared for the year 1933-1934 takes into consideration this increasing income. This new budget has been prepared with the decreasing cost of school materials in mind. There have been deducted from the requests all amounts which could be eliminated without impairment to the efficient operation of the schools. These several considerations have resulted in a total reduction to the taxpayer of about $8,000.00. This means that so far as the precinct is concerned, the tax rate for schools will be less than the same tax rate for 1922. It means further, that within the past two years, the saving to the taxpayer, in his cost for the schools, is nearly twenty percent of the school tax of two years ago, exclusive of special appropriations. It is believed that the schools can be operated at this time with this lowered appropriation without any harmful curtailment of the desirable educational activities.

The teachers of the schools as well as the school officials are making serious efforts to keep expenditure demands at a minimum, consistent with good work. It appears that the schools are bearing no inconsiderable part in lessening the total expenditures for the Town. It has been found repeatedly true that the teachers and the schools have made their contribution to recent social and economic adjustments in all parts of the country. It is more than ever important that this splendid spirit of service be maintained everywhere. The teaching personnel at all levels recognize this necessity.

One of the characteristics of primitive man was that he cared for the child until such time as the child could care for himself. The more complicated society became through the ages the more difficult it was for the child to make adjustments to society. This has meant that step by step the adults of the race have attempted to equip the Youth with such a background as would enable him to cope with his life's problems. It has become increasingly necessary for the adult to assist the Youth so that he may make advances in the society into which he is to be placed, until now it seems necessary to provide him with an outlook which may help him in mitigating social and economic disturbances. This means that school budgets and school expenditures must not be reduced to that point which shall take away from Youth the thing which is his just heritage. It may rather be necessary that the whole community, State and Nation, shall evolve methods of distributing the burden which shall make it possible to meet all of the needs of all of the governmental units.

PUPIL PROGRESS

The plan for better learning situations for the pupils in the grade schools, plus the more extended use of the opportunity room, and a closer follow up of promotions, has resulted in less pupil retardation than is often the case. Only those pupils who are mentally or physically retarded, and those who because of wrong attitudes toward school work fail to make satisfactory school adjustments, are obliged to repeat the work of a given grade. A constantly larger percent of pupils who complete the eighth grade enter the High School, so that the demand now is for an adequate system of twelve school grades for nearly all pupils, ninety-five percent to be more accurate, instead of an elementary system for all, and a secondary system for a selected group, who expect to continue into College, as was the case twenty years ago.

It has been found that, of the ninety-five percent who have entered High School, during the last ten years, sixty-two percent have continued in that School until graduation. Many of the other thirty-eight percent have removed from Town with their parents, transferring to other High Schools. A small number have withdrawn for personal or family reasons to enter other secondary schools. And another small number have withdrawn because of unsatisfactory scholastic success. But by far the larger number have, for various reasons, terminated their school work permanently. The large number, sixty-two percent, continuing through the High School would seem to indicate that the pupils derive satisfaction from the work and activities of that school. The scholarship and progress records of the pupils, based upon work done, indicates that actual learning is taking place upon a relatively high standard.

A further indication of the same trend is found in the records of the graduates. A study of the Class of 1932 reveals that three went directly to College, one to Normal School, four to private secondary schools, one is travelling in Europe, and is to enter Smith next September. One of the remainder is to enter a Hospital, next year, for training as a nurse. Eleven are employed in some occupation, helped to a degree by their High School training, and the others are employed on farms or in domestic activities connected with their own homes, or as employees in domestic service.

Chart No. 1 in the appendix shows that thirty and three-tenths percent of all pupils graduating from the High School, since 1922, have entered College directly from the Hanover High School. Eight percent more, some through necessity, others through personal choice, have entered College after attendance upon some other secondary school. This may be regarded as one measure of the work done in the High School. An additional evidence of the quality of the work is indicated by the success of those who enter College. Twenty-three percent of all pupils who enter the school are admitted to College.

Chart No. 2 in the appendix shows that the pupils entering College from the Hanover High School have a high expectancy of College success. It is found that sixty-one percent of such pupils have had an average or better than an average rank for the first semester in College. The complete history of the pupils, according to the records, reveals that the probability for College failure is very limited. If the small number of such cases were carefully analyzed, it would be found that personal habits and attributes, such as lack of persistence, lack of seriousness of purpose, and the like, are prominent factors.

HIGH SCHOOL

It is sometimes easy for us to arrive at conclusions with insufficient evidence, in regard to the work of any school. It would be very helpful if all citizens who feel inclined to look with disfavor upon the work, in any one or more particulars, would confer with the school officials. It is true that personal reasons may seem to justify a few parents in sending their children to other schools for post-graduate courses, and in rare cases for the earlier work in the secondary schools. It does not seem quite fair that such action should be construed as a measure of the inadequacy of the Hanover High School. This is a condition which is found in many of the best city high schools of the country.

It should be understood also, that the Public Schools including the High School of a Democratic society are operated for all of the children of all of the people. This is often in direct contrast to Private Schools which are sometimes organized in such a way as to give special attention to selected groups. It is not material whether such Private Schools accept pupils of average and less than average scholarship, or whether they accept only pupils of high scholastic standing. Any comparison between such schools and Public High Schools is likely to result in conclusions which cannot always be authenticated.

The Headmaster and Superintendent are very willing to confer with parents concerning any problem in respect to individual pupils. They welcome the opportunity of giving definite information, covering such actual factors as are known to exist, and as are borne out by the records of the school. They are very glad to talk with you personally in regard to the particular difficulty which has to do with your boy or girl. They are always ready to receive constructive criticism from whatever source. They are only interested in the continued progress of the pupils. They believe in the richest and fullest education which it is possible to provide. Cooperative planning on the part of patrons and officers in the direction of greater pupil successes will tend to promote even more pronounced progress.

Facts in regard to the growth of the High School are found in the appendix chart 3. This shows that there has been a steady upward growth over a period of twenty years although the growth curve is an irregular line running in what are apparently six or seven year cycles with the lowest point in the new cycle starting near the highest point of the preceding cycle. There has been a slight tendency for the percent of boys to girls to be less in more recent years up to the current year, when this tendency seems to have been arrested. The major conclusion to be drawn from this chart is that the number of pupils in the High School is increasing faster than the expectations of a few years ago. This increase in numbers more than ever intensifies the need for more adequate accommodations.

TEACHERS

There is a persistent tendency for the teaching force in the schools to become somewhat more permanent. The year just passed has seen only four resignations, one addition to the High School group, and one transfer. Any school system which can maintain highly qualified Teachers over a period of years will find that the work of its schools will be continuously strengthened provided the personnel is ready to keep abreast with the changing requirements and needs of the pupils.

It is fitting to record the fact that one who had served the schools long and faithfully, as a Director and Supervisor of Music, resigned at the end of the last school year. It should be noted that it was due to the untiring and conscientious endeavor of Mrs. Carrie M. Little that such beginnings, in this field were extended and enlarged. It is impossible to measure adequately the contribution made by such pioneer efforts.

TEACHING OR LEARNING

Sometimes the teaching process has taken precedence over the learning process. Teacher activity through lectures, teaching lessons, demonstrations, and skilfully organized questions has succeeded in what seemed to produce learning on the part of the pupils. Much of this type of learning was outward, parrot-like reproduction of facts memorized or processes acquired. Often no change was produced in the ability of the child to think or act in a new situation. The active agent in this type of instruction is the teacher. The pupil becomes more or less an outwardly attentive listener. He accepts passively the material taught without any marked mental effort or mental growth. The better educational authorities of today are agreed that the learner, the pupil, gains most when he is both positively interested and actually personally engaged in the acquisition of the desired knowledge or information. The adoption and utilization of this plan of active participating interest tends to enable the pupil to acquire a more permanent grasp upon the material to be learned and is likely to result in a much higher percent of knowledge which the pupil is able to put to use.

This is the trend of much of the work in Hanover schools at the present time. Motivation, the use of projects, the enthusiastic, interested activity of the pupils is resulting in greater pupil effort, more careful pupil thinking which indicates a promise for better pupil learning. Pupils in the lower grades have carried on projects as the center of interest. These projects have in turn helped the pupils in their vocabulary, their use of English, their arithmetic, their geography to such an extent that the ultimate results in actual knowledge gained is exceeding expectations. This same idea has been the reason for the several visits to places of interest in Hanover and elsewhere by the pupils in nearly all of the grades, and in the High School. Such excursions carefully prepared and carefully motivated both before and after the trip have resulted in much enrichment to the content of the daily work. These experiences are of lasting value to the pupils and give new zest to the acquiring of the necessary tools of learning at the same time affording a broadening of the knowledge acquired. If it be true that one learns more readily and more permanently through actual experiences than through passive drill and mere memory exercises, it can be said that the educational work of our schools is moving in a forward direction.

COMMUNITY INTEREST

These more desirable practices in educational procedure are made more easily possible in this community through the united cooperation of many agencies. It is particularly pleasing to acknowledge the courtesies extended by the parents, by members of the College Faculty in speaking before pupils and teachers, by the College itself, by the Howe Library, by the business men, and others who have participated in any particular. It is only by such unified forces that we may be able to equip our boys and girls with that breadth of learning and variety of outlook which shall enable them to make proper later adjustments to the varying needs of life which a changing world makes necessary. Even at the expense of repetition it is desired to express full appreciation for these many services.

One particularly valuable undertaking this year has been the coming together of small groups of parents with the teachers in the common desire of becoming better acquainted with each other and with the work and ideals of a progressive educational program. The Parent Teachers' Association, through Grade School committees has made this phase of the work interesting and profitable. The main result is a better understanding of the parents' viewpoint on the part of the teacher and a closer knowledge of the aims and actual work of the school room on the part of the parent. It is anticipated that these contacts will enable us all to solve cooperatively many of the difficulties which arise in school relationships.

MUSIC

The work in this field is now under the control of one director who provides the instruction for all the schools, rural, elementary, and High. The attempt has been to build upon the foundation already laid and to make such modifications and advances as conditions seemed to justify. One radical departure in this work during this year has been the organization of group instrumental classes. Through the cooperation of the Music Department of the College, classes have been organized for five or six different instruments. One hour per week is provided at the school for each group at a relatively low cost to each pupil. Instruments have been purchased by the parents at attractive prices. It remains to be seen whether or not the final outcome will be favorable. The interest shown gives promise of satisfactory results. It is certain that many of this group of pupils will have one activity which will enable them to enjoy better some of the leisure time which may be at their disposal now and in later years.

The musical concerts arranged and carried out with the idea that music is to be enjoyed and that the pleasure is to be shared by both listener and producer have met with a hearty community response. One of these concerts of especial interest and value was the friendly joint concert between the schools of Lebanon and the Hanover High School. Such intercommunity participation in a common interest may well result in better intercommunity understandings. It is expected that such events will be continued and perhaps extended as time permits.

RECAPITULATION

The past five years have been particularly productive in educational progress in spite of the repression resulting from the panic of 1929. Hanover has organized her educational forces to meet this advance to a considerable degree. A mere enumeration of plans undertaken and carried through will recall to most these events. The following are some of the more pronounced accomplishments:

1. The teaching personnel has been increased and higher scholastic and training requirements placed upon all teachers.
2. The curricula of the elementary schools have been thoroughly revised and enriched.
3. The curricula of the High School have been changed and broadened to meet more modern requirements.
4. The work in the Junior High School has been strengthened.
5. The pupils have become more actively engaged in the whole learning process.
6. More systematic art work has been introduced into the elementary grades.
7. The music program has been extended in all fields until it now includes instrumental as well as vocal production.
8. The physical plants of all elementary, rural, and village schools, both buildings and equipment, have been improved.
9. A balanced school budget has been made possible.
10. Greater community cooperation has taken place.
11. The work of the Junior Red Cross has been begun in the grades.

12. Work in thrift has been intensified through penny savings.
13. The extra-curricula activities have been better coordinated and systematized.

Many other items might well be included in such a resume, but it is sufficient to record that what is believed by many to be genuine progress has taken place. It is the purpose of all the workers in this field of service in your community willingly to give their best to the younger citizens of the community. Patience, forbearance, and tolerance, coupled with cooperation, will make possible many refinements and improvements in our work. Such understanding effort will do much to enable Hanover Schools to rank well among the first of the schools of the State in the training of the citizens of tomorrow.

No attempt has been made in this report to bring forward plans which would involve increased funds. It has rather been the aim to maintain that which has been gained, and by continuous planning to make that count more and more to the cause of pupil well-being.

Times of distress are likely to bring human beings closer together in a common cause. Your superintendent wishes to share with the citizens, the pupils, the teachers, and the Board, the burdens which we all must bear with fortitude and hopefulness. Our continued contribution of time and energy to the Public weal will count much in the further development of society. It continues to be the purpose of your superintendent to meet the new educational frontiers as they arise with open-mindedness, courage, and enthusiastic endeavor.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT J. FULLER.
