General Discussion

Owing to the fact that the number of families living in the so called Center district in Antrim has decreased during the past few years we have reached a point where it would not be businesslike to continue the maintenance of the school in said district. At this writing the superintendent is working on a plan which if it carries out, as expected, will make it possible to close said school about the first of April, thus saving the district the teacher's salary and overhead expenses for the rest of the year.

There is no cause to believe that the addition of Commerce and other courses to the program of studies in the high school, or the change which has taken place in the personnel of the school, have in any way injured the school. On the contrary the opposite is true. There was a time when secondary education catered to the select few who prepared for college, and whose parents could afford to keep them in school. Now High schools have assumed a greater burden and responsibility than ever before. Our democratic conception of education forces us to educate all the children of all the people. The poor man helps to educate his own children as well as those of the well to do.

I wish to urge the parents of our pupils every time they sign their children's report cards to observe whether or not their children are making the progress which they have a right to expect. If continued failure is reported a personal investigation should be made. The school should receive the cooperation of every parent. The school needs it, the children need it, the financial effort which the community makes to educate the children deserves it. The school and the parents have the right to expect the same degree of pride, effort, care and decency from the children, which the children in question are expected and do exert in the industries, and in the business world in general, if they wish to maintain their social and economic standing in society.

An effort is being made both in the elementary and in the high school to interest children in social, club, and athletic activities. These are legitimate interests. They are in accordance with commonly accepted modern principles of education such as health, and worthy use of leisure time.

At present the trend of the school population throughout the country is on the decline. Judging from our economic conditions, and from our national policy in regard to immigration, the number of children to educate in any community will be less and less for years to come. This is true of this part of New Hampshire as the rest of the state and the country. In less than five years we have been obliged to close the Goodale school in the Hillsboro Town school district, the school at East Washington, the Pond school in Deering, and the school at the Center in Antrim. Many New Hampshire towns with a population of less than twenty-five hundred have a tax rate bordering on fifty dollars to the thousand on the taxable inventory. Wages and salaries are inadequate compared with the cost of preparing young men and women for traditional standards of living in our country. Before a school district makes any attempt to make elaborate plans for new buildings, or any form of expansion, the facts just stated should be carefully considered. In most cases small appropriations to improve already existing facilities are sufficient to properly care for the needs of school children.

Respectfully submitted,

VINCENT GATTO,
Supt. of Schools.
