The enrollment figures confirm the prediction of last year's report. An increase of 24 in the total enrollment of the schools is also reflected in the actual enrollment which is increased by 23. The interesting thing is that in addition to a sharp increase in first grade enrollment there is an increase of 1 or more pupils in 5 of the remaining 7 grades.

The secondary enrollment also shows a sharp increase of nearly 33%. This constitutes a serious financial burden on the district for high school tuition has not as yet reached its peak.

Referring to your last year's report, since 1945 the actual elementary enrollment as of Jan. 31 has increased from 103 to 186 or an increase of slightly over 80%. In the same period the secondary enrollment has increased from 20 - 46 or an increase of 230%. These increases in enrollment coupled with a spiral of rising prices have resulted in the problem of tremendously increased financial load.

Instruction

The district was fortunate to require only one new teacher for the current year. Miss Adela Pinas resigned to accept a position nearer home. The services of Mr. Roland Pressey, a graduate of American International College, were obtained to replace her. All other teachers returned so there was little interruption in the educational process for the children.

The program of handwriting and music instruction continued as formerly and in both areas the continuous efforts over the years are beginning to produce the desired results.

The testing program has been changed slightly. The tests are now being administered in the fall and in the spring. The fall test results are used as a guide for class and individual instruction. The spring tests will reveal whether we have corrected revealed weaknesses without weakening revealed strengths.

The arithmetic texts were replaced and English texts are being replaced. Both areas were using texts 10 years or more old.

Finance

The overall increase in operational budget is $1,593.09. The main areas of increase are instruction and auxiliary agencies. These two areas account for $1,567.04 of the total increase. Nominal increases of $24.88, $50.00 and $26.17 in the area of administration, operation of school plant and fixed charges are reduced by $75 in the area of debt service so that the net increase in the operational budget is $1593.09. A further analysis of the areas of the budget is probably desirable for purposes of information.

Administration, Operation of Plant and Fixed Charges

The primary cause of the increase in this area is supplies and expenses. This item is made up of union and local supplies and expenses. The district's share of the union expense is $121.43. This portion is statutory. The balance $128.51 is for local administrative expense and includes school board expenses (telephone, mileage, postage, etc.) and miscellaneous printing and supplies. The actual expenditures in this area were $242.00 in 1951-52 so the item was raised to $250.00 in light of past experience. The other items in this area with the exception of district officers salaries are statutory.

The increase in plant operation is an approach to a realistic budget. The actual expenditures for water, light and janitor's supplies for 1951-52 were $548.54 so that the budget was increased in light of this experience.

In the area of fixed charges the increase is to meet the requirement set up by the retirement law.

The decrease in debt service is due to the decreased interest charges.

The increase in instructional costs is due entirely to increases in the teacher's salary item. This is in accord with state and national trends. It can not be avoided if the children are to have competent, well trained teachers.

In the area of Auxiliary Activities the increase is due primarily to increased transportation costs. Increasing enrollments and the necessity of readjusting teacher load resulted in some increased mileage. This in addition to the fact that the mileage rate was increased caused the increase in this item. Transportation is a legal requirement that must be met by the district.

The other factor that affects tax levy in addition to expenditures is income. Income at this time can only be estimated. The action of the legislature in connection with state aid can change the income estimate tremendously. The present budget at state level indicates a 50% increase in state aid. If the district should receive state aid in the same ratio of increase, income would then approach the figure of $7,000.00. The elementary tuition item is eliminated due to the fact that the school board of Hooksett is contemplating transporting the children for whom they are now paying tuition.

With an increase of $1,593.09 in estimated expenditures and a decrease of $1,391.85 in income the result is an increase in levy of $2,984.94. If however, state aid is increased by 50% and Hooksett continues to send its elementary pupils the resulting increased income of $2,500.00 will mean a tax levy increase of $500 approximately.

The recognition of the need of the local districts in the area of educational finances is a problem that deserves more consideration than it has been accorded at state level. Due to increased enrollments and advancing costs the local districts have been carrying an increased tax burden for education. An alleviation of the real property tax can be accomplished only when the state recognizes and meets its financial responsibility for properly educating the pupils of elementary and secondary school age. This is especially true in communities like Auburn which are contiguous to large cities. The need is critical and should be met in one way or another.

The item calling for district action on a manually controlled traffic signal at the Severance School is the result of a near fatality involving a child in the summer of 1951. The signal would be controlled by a push button which would permit the signal to stop traffic for pedestrians (primarily school children) to cross the highway. The school board presents this item for district action.

The policy of your school board in constantly trying to maintain your school plant in fine condition is a commendable one. It results in a plant that is comparable to the best in the state and is long range economy. By keeping abreast of minor repairs, major repair items are avoided. The maintenance of modern conditions provides an environment that is conducive to the development of good study habits. Good conditions do not make good students but they help.

There are some educational opportunities that should be provided for the children of Auburn which as yet have and could not be included in any budget in the face of other increased costs. Guidance service is one of these. It would undoubtedly provide a means of avoiding some of the wasted opportunities by enrolling the children in the course or educational institution that will best prepare them for the vocational area in which they will work. It would result in a saving for the district by avoiding tuition charges for pupils who do not succeed because they are not working in areas where they can succeed. Additional services of this nature should be provided but only if the state provides additional monies.

The cooperative attitude of townspeople and parents, the interest and conscientious efforts of school board, teachers and pupils make the educational program as successful as it is in town. In such a situation the work of a superintendent is concerned with improving the educational opportunity for all pupils. It is a pleasant responsibility to work to produce better results under such a situation.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERTON H. PARKINSON,
Superintendent of Schools.
