Superintendent's Report

To the School Board and the Citizens of the School District of Columbia

FOREWORD

As we continue to be told by professionals and laymen alike how public education should be and can be made more effective, it is interesting to note that about the only point upon which there is agreement to any extent is that of needed change. In respect to subject matter content, its method of presentation, and for what purpose, opinions come from as many quarters as the winds of the sky with shifts in their direction just about as often. One thing is sure, however, they keep us on the move, which calls for more attention being devoted to where we are trying to go, if there is to be any assurance that travel is to be in the right direction.

This direction in turn, is going to be determined largely by the selection of our educational goal. Of the many lines of thought expressed on this choice, two stand out. One holds that with the relatively short time available during the calendar year for formal school training, that the school should subordinate all its other generally accepted functions of today, and concentrate on the job it alone can do of developing the intellectual equipment of every child to its maximum point. In contrast to this stand, deemed by some to be too realistic, the other holds a more idealistic point of view. It maintains that the ultimate goal of our educational effort is wisdom—the ability to make wise independent decisions based upon accurate facts, clear reasoning, and complete understanding. As can readily be seen, although this goal, too, calls for the same universality in education, it is appreciably wider in scope. The implication is that education is more than mere training, more even than adjustment to the world as it is. It points to an educated individual prepared to take part in re-making his world by making sound decisions in whatever situations with which he may be faced. As can be seen, as meritorious as are the concepts embodied in either or both of these goals, the degree to which achievement is accomplished will be determined to the extent the human side is recognized in working toward their attainment.

Teachers

With little or no abatement in the teacher shortage, we are very fortunate to have veteran teachers in all positions. Mrs. Thelma V. Whitcher, a veteran teacher with experience both inside and outside the state, who received her training at Lyndon Teachers College in Vermont, teaches Grades 1-4 at the Cone School. Mrs. Florence B. Hughes teaches Grades 1-4 at the Church School, and Mrs. Myra A. Holbrook teaches 5-8 at the Grand Division School.

SCHOOL NURSE—HEALTH

The overall general good health exhibited by the pupils in our schools during the past several months, while our school nurse was confined at her home recovering from a major operation, emphatically indicates the importance of the work she has done.

It has been only through the conducting of frequent clinics, the administering of periodic immunizations, the giving of successive complete physical examinations, and the maintenance of constant check-up and continuous supervision procedures of a comprehensive health program operated over a prolonged period of time, that such good fortune could be experienced.

Repairs—Equipment

In keeping with the policy continued during the past several years, such repair work was done during the summer vacation period as would keep the buildings in a good state of maintenance. Painting included the outside of the building at the Church School, walls and ceiling in the classroom at the Grand Division School, and outside doors and casing and the book closet in the classroom at the Cone School. At the last named school, also, new fire grates were installed in the furnace, and the smoke pipe leading from this heating unit to the chimney was replaced with a new one. And included in the general carpentry work done at all buildings was the installation of lock sets in the doors leading from the woodshed to the toilets at the Grand Division School.

Items of equipment purchased since a year ago include additional tubular steel chairs and all wood desk units for the classrooms, and heavy rubber door mats to be used by the outside doors.

Enrollment and Attendance

For the first time in seven years, the enrollment in the schools within the district is less than it was the preceding year as it is 62 at the present time as compared to 65, 59, 58, 54, 54, and 49 for the respective previous six years. Of this year's enrollment one is a tuition pupil from Lemington, Vermont. The average percentage of attendance for the three schools for the past year was 94.67 and the average number of tardinesses per pupil was .07.

The total number of pupils enrolled in schools outside the district of 60, although appreciably less than last year's of 67, is in keeping with that of the preceding successive five years beginning with two years ago as shown by enrollments of 50, 56, 46, 51, and 46. A breakdown of these totals for the seven year period under comparison taken in the same successive order shown 25, 28, 20, 20, 21, 25, and 23 in high school and 35, 39, 30, 36, 25, 26, and 23 in elementary school.

Proposed Plans to Close Grand Division School

Although the total number of pupils enrolled inside the district, as indicated above, has continued to remain about the same for some time, the distribution of pupils has changed appreciably. For the past two years, the number enrolled at the Cone has been nearly as large as the combined number as the Church and Grand Division Schools. Projected school enrollment for the next five year period also, as determined by the 1961 school census just taken indicates an even further decrease in the school population in the East side of the district.

On the basis of this information relative to the number and distribution of pupils in the future, the school board is planning to close the Grand Division School this next year, since it has no running water or cellar and is the smaller of the two buildings on the East side. Grades 1-6 will be assigned to the Church School, and Grades 7-8 from that area will be transported to Colebrook. It is found that by making this change in organization, a substantial saving can be realized by the district.

Notes on the Budget

On the basis of conducting two schools only within the district, the School Board's budget for 1962-63 is $45,225.00 in comparison to $44,731.00 for the current year. This amount is decreased by an estimated income of $17,000.00 which leaves a balance of $28,225.00 to be raised by taxes by the town as compared to $32,731.00 for the current year. If the three present schools are to be continued, the budget is $47,611.00. As can be readily seen, the cost of operating two schools and transporting the 7th and 8th Grade pupils from the East side to Colebrook is appreciably less than that of keeping three schools open.

CONCLUSION

May I again express my deep appreciation to the members of the School Board, parents, teachers, and citizens for all the assistance and cooperation received as we have worked together during the past several years in our joint effort to provide and maintain high standards in our schools.

Respectfully submitted,

ERNEST B. DANA

PROGRAM OF THE WHITE MOUNTAINS REGION ASSOCIATION

The White Mountains Region Association as a voluntary non-profit organization, receives support from the communities of the Region, the state and from individual members so that a program of cooperative promotion and development of northern New Hampshire may be carried on.

The Association publishes and distributes six different folders a year advertising the many advantages of the Region. It receives and carefully answers about 6,000 letters per year from people interested in a vacation in the North Country. The value of this single service cannot be over-emphasized. Recent surveys have shown that the tourists attracted by this mailing service have spent many hundreds of thousands of dollars in the Region. The Association sponsors the annual fall foliage tours, and represents the Region at national travel shows.

Through its board of directors, it is able to speak for the Region's needs at state and national hearings and at important meetings within the Region. It maintains a news release service to local newspapers to help inform the citizens of the North Country of worth-while activities and economic trends.

This winter the Association is running a cooperative ad program with the chambers of commerce in the ski areas to promote skiing in the White Mountains. It cooperates with private promotional groups, local chambers of commerce, and with the state promotional agencies. It promotes the sale of real estate through the mailing of real-estate purchase bulletins to real estate brokers. It conducts labor surveys for groups interested in industrial development, maintains an award program for the 4-H Clubs, and promotes agriculture within the Region.

In uninterrupted service since 1938, it has helped establish the White Mountains Region as a vacation center as fine as any in the world and contributed in many other ways to the economic betterment of all forty-six communities in northern New Hampshire.
