REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Amherst:

I herewith submit my first annual report and the fourteenth since supervision was established.

Teachers

This subject is by far the most important matter educationally at the present time because there is a serious shortage of trained teachers and a more serious shortage of teachers about to enter training. The reason lies in the matter of salaries and it is imperative that salaries be materially increased or the usual changes from year to year will give us increasingly inferior teachers or no teachers at all. It was reported at a meeting of Superintendents at Durham, on Dec. 29, that fifty schools in New Hampshire were then closed through lack of teachers. And that in all probability, the turn over of teachers during the coming summer would require from 400 to 500 recruits, while the normal schools would graduate next June less than 100. Our neighboring states can furnish no material. We must make it worth while for New Hampshire girls to enter the profession.

What is the situation about salaries? As Commissioner Butterfield so clearly stated at a recent Teachers' Institute in Nashua, there are three elements which constitute a teacher's salary. They are Financial return or wages.

Popular respect.

Inner satisfaction.

Wages should enable every teacher to live comfortably and be well dressed; keep abreast of times professionally through books, magazines and advanced study; and finally to provide a thrift wage against old age or other incapacity. No fixed amount in dollars can be stated as costs vary in different localities.

Popular respect means public sympathy and support that is alert to recognize and reward deserving teachers in other ways than by money alone. Popular respect comes only when the value of education and the dignity of teaching is appreciated. Popular respect manifests itself in many ways: it provides comfortable homes, it searches out the teacher at her work, it regards teachers as assets in the social life of the community, it encourages boys and girls to become teachers if they are fit. But it dies the moment that interest drops—that moment when everybody's business becomes nobody's business—when nothing is done because each individual expects someone else to do the thing which he ought to do himself. Teachers, on their side, can not expect full measure of popular respect unless they deserve it and earn it both in the schoolroom and in the community at large.

Inner satisfaction or power is ever present in the teacher who likes to teach and knows how, but rarely exists in those who are marking time in the profession until some other job turns up. No encouragement should be given to incompetent or unprepared candidates for appointment or reelection.

Money is not all and will not alone solve the problem of shortage of teachers. There must be an increase in all three elements of the teacher's salary—wages, popular respect, and inner satisfaction—until the teaching profession attracts and holds the best minds in the country. For just as the training of experts in war was the key to victory, so education of both native born and foreign born is the key to Americanization.

The New Hampshire School Law of 1919. Finances.

These two subjects will be considered together, as they are closely allied. The law will not be quoted in full, but certain sections will be mentioned and discussed.

Section 9 states in effect that after Sept. 1, 1919, all school districts in the state shall be under supervision. The several school boards of districts forming supervisory unions together constitute a joint board which board nominates the superintendent. The state board then employs him and fixes the minimum salary (now $2000.) Any union may add to this minimum, in which case one half the excess is paid by the state and one half is prorated to the districts in the union by the joint board.

The Milford supervisory union is now composed of the school districts of Amherst, Brookline, Milford and Mont Vernon. Joint expenses consist of one half the excess salary of the superintendent ($200), salary of superintendent's clerk ($400), and office expenses, ($24), all as voted by the joint board in August 1919. Of these amounts Amherst pays one fourth, Brookline one sixth, Milford one half, and Mont Vernon one twelfth.

Section 12 states that the superintendent shall nominate and school boards elect, all teachers, and that superintendents shall direct the work of these teachers.

Section 20, amending public statutes Chapter 92, states: "The district shall furnish transportation to all pupile below the ninth grade who live more than two miles from the school to which they are assigned, or it may, with the consent of the pupils' parents provide board for them in some suitable home near the school. Pupils who are to be transported may be required to walk any reasonable part, not exceeding one mile, of the distance from their homes to the school. The school board may furnish transportation to pupils in grades above the eighth or to any pupils residing less than two miles from the school to which they are assigned when it finds that this is desirable, and shall furnish it when directed by the commissioner of education."

Under this law the transportation problem both from the point of view of expense and difficulty, has increased much over estimates of a year ago. It must be recognized that a considerable sum expended for transportation may actually be less than would be expended should another school room be opened with all the attending expense.

Section 21 amends Public Statutes, Chapter 88, to read: "The selectmen in each town shall assess an annual tax of three dollars and fifty cents on each thousand dollars of the value of the ratable estate taxable therein for the support of the public schools."

"The school board of each district in its annual report shall state in detail the additional sums of money, if any, which will be required during the ensuing fiscal year for the support of the public schools, for the purchase of text books scholars' supplies, flags and appurtenances, and for the payment of the tuition of the pupils in the district in high schools and academies in accordance with Chapter 96 of the Laws of 1901, and for the payment of all other statutory obligations of the district. The selectmen of the town in their next annual assessment shall assess upon the taxable property of the district a sum sufficient to meet the obligations above enumerated, with such alterations thereof as may be voted by the district, and when collected shall pay the same over to the district treasurer."

Section 22 states: "In any district in which the money produced by a tax of five dollars on a thousand dollars of the value of the ratable estates in the district is insufficient to maintain the required elementary and special schools, and to purchase the required text books, scholars' supplies, flags and appurtenances, the state board shall provide the balance of the money necessary from the money appropriated for that purpose by the provisions of this act. In districts so aided the state board, acting through the local school board, shall administer all money available for the maintenance of the public schools and shall account for the money raised by the districts as well as that furnished by the state."

Section 10 states: "Each school district in the state shall pay to the state treasurer on or before December 1 in each year, as its share of the expense incident to state-wide supervision of the public schools, a sum equal to two dollars for each child residing in the district who was enrolled in the public schools in the last preceding school year, and the selectmen shall annually assess upon the value of the ratable estate of the district a sum sufficient for this purpose."

This means that the school board reports the number of children registered to the selectmen, who assess this two-dollar tax without vote of the school district.

Laws of 1909, Chap. 22, state: "At its annual meeting each school district shall determine and appoint the salaries of its school board and truant officer. Truant officers or agents appointed by school boards are required annually in September to make enumeration of children.

The budget submitted for next year is framed to meet the requirements of eligibility for state aid.

Conclusion

In this report I have not attempted to cover the field at all fully, but rather to point out some things that need to be carefully considered in the formation of plans for next year.

Although we may truly say that the teacher is the most important part of the school system, yet, in New Hampshire, the state board of education, the superintendent, the local school board, the parents and the citizens all have a part to do if we are to make New Hampshire schools meet the standards set up by the Educational Law of 1919—standards which are being recognized all over the United States as superior to those of any other state in the Union,

HAROLD C. BALES

REPORT OF HEADMASTER

To the Superintendent of the Schools of Amherst :

I herewith submit my first annual report as Headmaster of the Amherst High School.

School opened on Sept. 2 with an enrollment of 44 pupils, since which there has been an additional enrollment of two pupils, making a total of 46, of which 23 are boys and 23 are girls.

There has been one change in the faculty this year, beside the Headmaster. Miss Manks came to us from Radcliffe College to take up the English and Mathematics courses.

Miss Madeline Kingsley, Miss Dorothy Manks, Miss Bertha Piper, Mr. C. F. Wyman with the Headmaster constitute the faculty. The teachers have worked together, and without exception, they have rendered faithful and efficient service to our pupils.

Perhaps the subjects which first come to a person's mind when the Domestic Arts course is mentioned are Cookery and Sewing. In the Cookery courses the girls learn by actual experience how to preserve fruits and vegetables, how to cook vegetables and meat, and how to make bread and the common dishes served in our homes. Practice is also given in the planning and serving of meals. The aim in the sewing courses is to teach the girls to make, repair and renovate their own clothes. There are other interesting courses under this heading. In Household Appliances the girls become familiar with the equipment of a modern home by actual study of such equipment. Household Organization is the study of the planning, decorating, furnishing and equipping of a home. Household Management completes the work begun in Household Organization and takes up the study of family budgets, and the question of spending the family income to the best advantage.

The carpentry and blacksmithing departments, under the leadership of Mr. Wyman, have done some exceptionally good work this year. The following articles have been made this year; a large cupboard, bookracks, blackboard frames, a surveyor's level, a bread board, several bushel boxes, flag pole, a closet with glass doors for geological specimens, plane tables, and range poles, a gunter's chain, 16 surveyor's pins, a chain and considerable repair work about the schoolhouse.

The Agricultural courses have finally reached the standard where they are approved by the state. The students have taken up such practical problems as the study of machines commonly used on the farms of Hillsboro County such as mowing machines, plows, tractors, harrows, seeders, manure spreaders, potato diggers, hay rakes, gasoline engines, farm wagons and the various dairy devices.

In the course in Animal Husbandry, the students have taken up the study of dairy cattle, the effect of different feeds on milk production, influence of a pure bred sire, what to feed and how much to feed, the study of poultry and swine.

In the course in Horticulture the boys are studying the varieties of vegetables common to Amherst and the fertilizer requirements of the above mentioned vegetables. In the school garden several hundred apple seeds have been planted, these will be used for future classes to demonstrate the different methods of grafting, such as budding, cleft grafting, root grafting etc.

In the class in Farm Management the boys are drawing blue prints of their own farms, studying their own conditions and how to improve them. They are also studying marketing and advertising.

The class in Farm Engineering will go out and actually survey several farms for the citizens of Amherst and will be instructed in the use of the common surveying instruments.

The reports of the boys showed an average profit of over $90 on their home projects. The boys have already been visited twice by the Headmaster and will be visited more as the planting season comes along.

This year the school gave their exhibit with the grange fair, and some splendid samples of canned goods, handiwork and vegetables were displayed. Carl Prince and Roy Parker both exhibited eleven kinds of vegetables which eclipsed many varieties shown by the "grown ups." A special feature of the school exhibit was the cakes made by the boys, competing for the fountain pen, which was given by the Grange. Allen Howard, Roy Parker, Carl Prince, John Carkin, and Asahel Morang competed for the prize. The prize was won by Asahel Morang who made an excellent, eggless, butterless, milkless cake.

In connection with the agricultural and domestic arts courses, the program includes such classical subjects as English, four years, Algebra, Geometry, Ancient, Mediaeval, and Modern, English and U. S. Constitutional History, also physical training.

The English Course consists of composition work, letter writing, grammar rhetoric, study of the classics and the reading and discussion of Current Literature.

The Mediaeval and Modern History course takes in the recent world war.

The U. S. Constitutional History course takes up a study of our own government, state, city and town government. In short, it is a course which will enable men and women to know more about our government, its foundation, and what it stands for.

The Algebra and Geometry courses, given in the freshman and sophomore years, are regular classical courses such as are given in every high school throughout the state.

There were three conditions which I found at the High School which I thought should not exist, and which I have tried to overcome. The first was, that the school did not meet the requirements of the Smith Hughes Law; second the inability of the students to handle a fair assignment of home work; and third, the apparent lack of knowledge which the parents had of what our High School stands for and the methods of administration.

I understand that our school is now a candidate for the Smith Hughes fund which may mean some $300 available to the school for a teacher's salary.

As regards the matter of the students' ability to handle a fair assignment of home work, this seemed due to the fact that the present senior class has had sixteen different teachers during their four years at the Amherst high school. The scholars have shown their ability and are right up to the standard at the present time.

To be more certain that the parents should know what is going on at the school and give them a chance to voice their criticisms before an assemblage of both townspeople and teachers, a public meeting of parents was held at the school on Friday Dec. 5, 1919.

Mr. May, high school agent for New Hampshire, Superintendent Bales, School Board, teachers and Headmaster were present. Some forty people listened to talks by Mr. May, Superintendent Bales, and the Headmaster. Several questions were asked by the parents which were promptly answered by Superintendent Bales. Appointments were made with some of the parents to visit school unannounced, together with the superintendent. One of the parents, upon visiting the schools, was surprised at the quality and amount of work that was being carried on at the school.

I know that there are several more who would be surprised, and hope they will visit us at their earliest opportunity.

At the close of the meeting a light lunch was served by the girls of the domestic science class. More of these meetings will be held later and it is hoped that a parent-teachers organization may be formed.

The High School wishes to be of more service to the community if possible. We are equipped with apparatus for testing milk, testing soil for acidity and testing seed for percent germination. All this is free to the people of Amherst and it is hoped that they will avail themselves of the opportunity which is offered to so few towns in the state.

In closing, I wish to express my gratitude to yourself, the School Board and to the people of Amherst for their cordial support of our High School.

Respectfully submitted,

B. R. GRAVES,
Headmaster.
