SCHOOL DISTRICT OF NEW HAMPTON

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

The report of our Superintendent is so complete that it remains for the School Board simply to call particular attention to certain matters which he has introduced.

Many of his suggestions, particularly those regarding play space and equipment and extensive improvements in the school plant, involve a considerable outlay of money when considered together. It is the feeling of your Board that a constructive program of improvement to extend over a period of years, could take care of these matters a little at a time. Your Board feels that such a program should be adopted and plans made at the current meeting of the district to get it under way.

Your special attention is directed to the Superintendent's remarks concerning the situation in the Sanborn and Winona districts.

WESLEY G. SPENCER,
Chairman.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the New Hampton School Board:

Herewith, I submit my second annual school report. This covers a period of time extending from last spring to January 1, 1931. I call your attention to the following important statistical accounts dealing with the entire school system, and concerning the school district in a vital way.

1. Statistical reports concerning attendance.
2. Roll of perfect attendance.
3. Table showing this year's enrollment.

4. Eighth grade pupils expecting to graduate next June.
5. Table showing the number of tuition pupils, the school attended, grade, and the amount for which the school district is responsible.
6. The teaching staff and the salary of each.
7. List of pupils who were graduated from the elementary schools last June.
8. General discussion concerning the welfare of the schools.

Statistical Report of the New Hampton Schools for the Year 1929-1930

Plaisted School: Teacher, Marion H. Woodman; number of pupils, 13; half days in session, 350; per cent of attendance, 96; number of tardy marks, 1; visits by citizens, 32; visits by school board, 2; visits by superintendent, 18.

Sanborn School: Claudine A. Braly.

Graduation was held in the Grange Hall with appropriate exercises. Mr. Wesley G. Spencer, Chairman of the School Board, presided and awarded the diplomas with fitting remarks.

General Discussion

Adequate provision has been made to provide New Hampton children with instruction. Other things remain to be done.

Schools involve grounds, buildings, equipment, courses of study, the expenditure of large sums of money, public servants, and most important of all, children with lives to live both in the present and in the future. There is not a person who is not directly or indirectly concerned with the public schools.

Your schools are provided with modern text books, maps, supplies, competent teachers, an interested school board, and supervised by a trained and experienced superintendent. You have over one hundred boys and girls, over ninety per cent of whom are physically strong, and mentally alert, ready to develop their physical and spiritual equipment, and to follow in our footsteps, hence the importance of what we do on behalf of the youngsters.

It is a commonly accepted belief at the present time that the play life of the child is as important as his intellectual development. Accordingly, we should provide better playground facilities for organized games under the teachers' direction.

School yards should be improved by further grading and the planting of shrubbery; necessary repairs should be made. School buildings should stand out as objects of beauty and joy, in the midst of properly arranged and cared for yards.

In time every school in town should be furnished with desks and seats adjustable to the size of the pupils. Imagine the discomfort of a first grade child, forming his first impressions concerning school, occupying a seat which forces him to keep his feet hanging above the floor level five or six hours a day.

Some sort of a lighting system should be considered for the schools. Many is the dark day during the course of the year when it is actually impossible for any one to read or write with any degree of comfort.

Replacing the old fashioned toilets with chemical toilets should be given serious consideration. It is unnecessary to mention the dangers connected with exposed sources of contamination.

The schools at the present time do not have satisfactory arrangements for their water supply. Adequate provision should be made.

Some years ago a beginning was made for improvements when jacketed stoves were installed in the various schools. The advantages of such heaters over the old fashioned ones are so obvious that it is needless to speak about them. Let us continue this fine start. It goes without saying that no parents begrudge their children better advantages than those which they had.

In rural communities where oftentimes no other public buildings exist, we should strive for schoolhouses suitable enough to be used as religious and social, as well as educational centers. Such schools will increase the happiness of people living in the district. They will increase property values. Because of them more people will go back to the farm. More suitable educational structures will aid materially in bringing back people who will again establish happy homes in the old New England countryside.

A progressive program gradually carrying out the suggestions made should be adopted, to extend over a period of years to leave the school system every year a little more advanced than the year before.

That which takes place in the school room is probably the most important phase of any school system. Every teacher is furnished with a program of studies outlining the activities and objectives to be accomplished in the various grades, and suggestions in regard to methods, giving guidance, and referring teachers to the suitable books and material to achieve the desired ends. The superintendent takes an active part in the interpretation and carrying out of the program. He checks up by frequent visits and frequent reports from the teachers on whether or not reasonable progress is being made. Standardized tests are given by the teachers under the superintendent's direction once or twice a year. The results of the tests are discussed by the superintendent with the teachers, sometimes individually, sometimes in groups, in order to apply remedies where weaknesses are discovered. These tests, furthermore, tell us considerable as to how the boys and girls of the local school system compare in achievement and also in scholarship with boys and girls throughout the country. We cannot go into detail in an account of this sort. Be it sufficient to say that the New Hampton children when so compared appear favorably.

As everybody knows, the New Hampton schools consist in the main of small one room schools. The school board and the superintendent are faced with the problem of securing suitable teachers. It is a very difficult matter to secure successful experienced teachers for small one room schools. Teachers of continued successful experience are in demand for graded schools in larger communities. When vacancies occur the best which we can ordinarily do is to secure young promising graduates just out of normal school. When a school is taught by such a teacher both parents and children should cooperate so that the young teacher may do her work successfully, and be so supported and encouraged as to induce her to wish to stay on for a period of years.

If a teacher fails, there is a personal loss to the teacher herself, to the parents who have supported her, and to the state which has furnished an opportunity for a higher education. In brief, society in general suffers a serious loss. It may be of interest to the general public to know that both school board and the superintendent have had all they could do in some cases to use their influence to keep valuable teachers on our staff from seeking employment elsewhere.

The Sanborn school this year has presented an acute problem of congestion. Several pupils from this school have sought schooling facilities in the neighboring town of Bristol. Judging from all indications the Sanborn district is being steadily settled by new families. The present enrollment of the school is twenty pupils. There is no eighth grade. Consequently, there will be no loss by graduation. Considering the number which will enter the first grade next fall, and the possibility of more children moving into the district, the problem of congestion will again have to be faced. Provision will have to be made for a group of pupils ranging from twenty-five to thirty. Twenty pupils is just about the number which the present size of the Sanborn school can house with any degree of comfort. Here, indeed, is a problem which demands further serious investigation and planning.

Another situation which also demands attention is the Winona district, from where this year ten children attend school in Meredith, eight in the elementary and two in the high school.

Judging from the interest which the school district takes in the educational welfare of the community, and from the progress which is gradually being made, in due time that which remains to be done will be accomplished, and everybody concerned will be happier.

Respectfully submitted,

VINCENT GATTO,
Superintendent of Schools.
