ALFRED F. HIGGINS, Highway Agent.

Chief Engineer's Report

I respectfully submit my annual report as chief engineer of the Fire Department, giving account of alarms and fires for the year ending February 1, 1928:

Number of calls for chemical for chimney fires 23
Number of calls for chemical for grass fires 2
Number of calls for chemical for brush fires 6
Number of call for help from outside towns:

Fremont 1, Greenland 1, East Kingston 2, Stratham 5,
The chemical and a number of men answered these calls and did good work.

Number of box alarms, 15.

Value of buildings damaged by fire	$69,100.00
Insurance on buildings damaged by fire	43,500.00
Insurance paid on buildings damaged by fire	15,160.00
Loss on buildings damaged by fire	16,759.26
Value of contents	19,483.75
Insurance on contents	12,325.00
Insurance paid on contents	3,845.97
Loss on contents	3,845.97
Loss on contents not insured	3,900.00

A new compressed air fire alarm system was installed last June at the steamer house and it gives very good service.

We were able to keep within the sum voted at last town meeting and much work was also done to fire alarm wires about the town.

The old Town Hall on Court Street was remodelled into a three-run fire station, with cement floor, and this was extended out in front of building, greatly improving the sidewalk. The improvement to the building, both inside and out, is very good and we are very proud of the station and glad to show it to the public.

In the coming town meeting there will be an article in the warrant calling for a motor pumping engine. This is needed very much in the opinion of many citizens of the town. It will certainly help boost our water pressure when we have a large fire.

In closing I wish to thank the members of the department for their hearty support at all times.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE F. ADAMS,

Chief Engineer.

ELVYN A. BUNKER,
Superintendent of Police.

those pupils who for a stated period have best exemplified school spirit. The class of 1929 plans to leave to the school a cup to be awarded each year to the girl who combines to the greatest degree superior character, marked ability in leadership, and high scholarship. These suggestions have all come from the pupils themselves, and are being worked out by them.

During the adolescent period high ideals are indispensable. Statements of ideals made by the pupils themselves offer the best assurance we have of the probability of fixing the habit of lasting allegiance to high standards of thought and action. By such means public opinion in school life is established on a high level. Public opinion undoubtedly is one of the most powerful factors in life, particularly in secondary school life.

Pupils are asked to estimate their own success in the attainment of character qualifications in the hope that focussing their attention upon the things of greatest worth may implant a genuine desire to improve steadily and continuously in the supremely important task of establishing on a sure foundation strong, clean character.

The importance of character training through the fixing of right attitudes deserves far greater attention than it has received in most schools. Too great stress has been placed upon scholastic marks, with the result that attempts frequently have been made to gain high marks even by dishonest means.

Since it is the conviction of practically every teacher that all instruction has for its ultimate aim character formation, it is clear that the excessive emphasis upon scholarship rather than upon character which has obtained in most schools has been a serious mistake.

In not a few high schools the question of moral education is now regarded as a major consideration. It is even suggested that major emphasis should be placed upon character building and that promotion should be decided upon the basis of character ratings instead of scholastic ratings.

In the Seminary, promotion might well be determined by marks based both on scholarship and on character.

To a constantly increasing extent colleges are basing upon character their judgment of the fitness of candidates for entrance. The president of a State University says, "We plan to make the character, aims, and personality of the candidate at least equivalent in value, if not superior, to his academic achievements."

Bonding companies are more carefully than formerly investigating the habits and character of those for whom they furnish bonds.

Several great business corporations are insisting upon superior character qualifications in their employees.

The crime wave which has swept our country has emphasized the need of co-operation of every possible agency in the upbuilding of ethical character.

The school is only one of these agencies, but it should be a conspicuous leader in every movement which gives promise of producing better citizens.

Within recent years many changes of great importance have been effected through the genuine interest which the Board of Trustees has shown in the school's welfare.

Recent additions to the equipment of the science laboratory are of great value. The new projection apparatus is being used with excellent results in several departments.

Improvements have been made in lighting facilities, in seating arrangements, in the expansion of the course in Domestic Arts, in the addition of courses in Commerce and in Physical Education. These changes have made possible a type of teaching formerly so difficult as to be almost unattainable.

In several reports I have pointed out the most significant features of the methods now employed. Results of these methods have given the school a rating as one of the best in the state. A straw which shows the direction of the wind is the fact that a pupil who failed in college work through lack of preparation was advised by the college authorities to complete her preparation in Robinson Seminary where many of the college's best students were taught, and she is now in school.

Medical inspection of the present year reveals a condition of defective teeth so widespread that I repeat a suggestion made in 1918 that a dental clinic at the school seems not only desirable, but almost necessary if pupils are to be so cared for as to enable them to work without a serious handicap.

In other respects general health conditions are good.

I know you have in mind the inadequacy of the old heating system, its excessive consumption of coal, and the consequent desirability of a modern heating plant.

Under the charge of the new janitor, Mr. Roy Nesbitt, notwithstanding all the difficulties of the situation, the Seminary building is comfortable both in temperature and in cleanliness to a degree that previously was impossible of realization.

The need of seats of the correct posture type to replace the uncomfortable, badly worn settees in the Assembly Hall, I have mentioned in a previous report. I hope it will be possible immediately to replace at least a part of the settees.

The dressing room on the second floor is ill suited to the demands made upon it both because of its arrangement and because of its diminutive size.

An additional class room is desirable, since a class is forced to recite for several periods each week when all the class rooms are in use in the corridor on the third floor which has no radiator.

The room which has been used for a part of the books of the school library is neither large enough nor well enough arranged to serve the needs of a good library.

A suitable place for gymnastic exercises with shower bath facilities is a need for which provision should be made. The success of the department of physical education justifies the expenditure that may be necessary to provide such facilities.

An addition to the building might be made which would provide the necessary space for class rooms; for the library; a room for a dental clinic, for the work of a school nurse, and the school physician; ample dressing room space; suitable accommodations for physical exercises; and an up to date heating plant.

Emphasis upon the need of an addition to the building is justifiable because it is not reasonable to expect wholly satisfactory results according to modern standards unless ample room is provided for modern school activities.

I believe it is possible to add wings across the north end of the building which would enhance rather than detract from the architectural plan of the building.

I am confident that you will strive to improve unsatisfactory conditions, and will continue to grant to the teachers of the school the very generous support and encouragement which you have given them through the years in which it has been my privilege to work with you.

In their behalf and from a deep sense of personal appreciation, I wish to record my sincere thanks.

Respectfully yours,

HARLAN M. BISBEE.
