INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Delivered by Mayor Fred H. Brown.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

At the beginning of a new municipal year it becomes my duty once more to bring to your attention matters having to do with the government of our city. I am deeply gratified at the honor which has again been given me by the citizens of Somersworth and at this time wish to thank them for the sincere approval which a great majority appear to have expressed of my former administration of the affairs of this community.

In the year to come a great responsibility rests upon us and I hope for this reason, if for no other, that we may be able to transact such business as may come before us without discord, for under present conditions we have a difficult proposition ahead, and harmony is the first requisite if we hope to meet with any measure of success.

According to figures presented by our City Clerk, I find the financial status of the city to be as follows:

HIGHWAYS.

During the past year we have made but few improvements in our highways and sidewalks; our failure to make improvements was occasioned chiefly by reason of the relative high cost of labor and materials as based on former years. A great change for the better was made on Green Street from Washington to Franklin Street, as well as on Franklin Street, in the making and building of a road bed from ashes and coarse gravel. Such a road bed is inexpensive comparatively speaking and I recommend further work of the same sort whenever it seems expedient.

In my opinion our efforts should be confined chiefly in keeping in repair the highways and sidewalks which we now have. Our State road which we have always kept in good condition has been left in bad shape by reason of the increased travel over it during the open winter which we have just passed through; the macadam in the compact part of the city will doubtless need oiling and if these things are attended to, with the other repairs, which will require our attention, we shall have little money available for other purposes along these lines.

SCHOOLS.

Our schools continue to do good work, and though some of our critics may not agree with my contention, I feel that the money in this department has been well and economically expended. Considerable talk has been made, and a bill introduced in the present Legislature anticipating the building of a new High School building. Without going into a discussion of the matter, permit me to say that I hope none of you will entertain any idea presented us with relation to the building of the High School other than one which may call for minor repairs.

WATER WORKS.

The financial condition of the water works is not as pleasing as was the case in the few years just prior to the year 1918. This condition has been brought about by the advance in the price of coal and machinery, as well as the higher cost of labor, which has made the expense of maintaining our system greater than our receipts. The system should be made to be self-paying, and probably the only feasible way for it to become so is by raising our present rates. Whether or not this is the only manner in which the question can be handled, I am not prepared at this time to say.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The city has been favored once more by a lack of fires. The men who go to make up our department have done highly satisfactory work, but our fire alarm system is proving to be more or less of a failure.

I have no doubt but that those who purchased the system did so with the best of intentions, and it would be a good investment if it could be made to give the efficient service it was advertised to render.

Our present system is a great help in calling out the Boy Scouts, and of beneficial assistance in notifying the scholars in our various schools when no school is to be held, but as an aid to the fire department, I question very much whether the results obtained warrant the cost of maintenance.

FOREST GLADE CEMETERY.

The past year has been one of consistent improvement in this department; the work has been carried along in the same creditable manner as in former years under the board of directors and superintendent.

The trust fund continues to grow and has now reached a considerable sum.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The affairs of this department have been cared for in such a manner as to show improvement with no great expenditure of funds, and we owe thanks to the library trustees for the able service which they perform each year gratuitously, as well as to the librarian for the zealous and faithful manner in which she fulfills the duties of her office.

HEALTH.

With the exception of the influenza epidemic which raged in our midst last fall, as was the case in practically all of New England, health conditions throughout the city have been good.

With our soldier boys returning from across the water, I presume there is a likelihood of their bringing back diseases, some of which we may never even have heard of, and in any event, it behooves us all to see that the city is kept in a sanitary condition at all times.

NOBLE PINES AND PLAYGROUND.

In all progressive communities public playgrounds are now considered necessary. The Noble Pines and Playground is becoming a more popular resort for the older people as well as the children each year, and we are indeed fortunate to have such a fine park and playground, easily accessible to all who care to attend for rest or play.

I recommend an appropriation for the benefit of the Noble Pines and Playground for the coming year.

Gentlemen:

I have made practically no recommendation for improvements, for I feel that we shall do well if we can go along and keep in repair what we have on our hands now, and along this line, I want to say that I am unqualifiedly opposed to the raising of any salary. A person who goes into office knows well the pay attached thereto; if he is not satisfied with such pay, he should not take the position.

In my past administrations, economy in the expenditure of the city money has been my practice. In all seriousness, I want to say to you that in my opinion there never has been, and I doubt if there ever will be, a time in the history of this city when it was so incumbent upon those in charge of affairs to care for the finances in a saving manner. Last year our old bond issues were refunded and our notes put into bonds in compliance with the State law now in force with relation to such matters, as a result of which we are obliged to pay about $16,500, besides interest on our debt for the next fifteen years; our State Legislature has recently passed an educational bill which affects our whole school system, entailing considerable expense; we shall be pleased to appropriate money for a fitting celebration for our returned soldiers at some time during the year, and we shall have the high cost of labor and materials to contend with for years to come. The aforementioned are a few new items for which we must appropriate besides those items of expense which are always with us.

In such strenuous financial times it is a practical impossibility for us to make a creditable showing. We should not apply the principles of conservation so strongly that we may not advance, but it is well not to forget that we are servants of the city and that we owe a duty to the taxpayers as well as to ourselves, to watch the expenditure of city money even better than our own.

The situation is not an encouraging one, but by their votes the people have reposed a confidence in us which we may retain if we work industriously and act honestly, even if the results obtained are not wonderful.

In closing I want to repeat the last paragraph of a previous address given by myself because I feel that the sentiment expressed therein, if carried into execution, will be most beneficial to all parties concerned.

“We should remember our oath of office, bear in mind the old adage ‘Pay as you go,’ and keep all departments up to as high a degree of efficiency as we are able, and if these things are done I am satisfied that the city will have a year of which we shall all be proud.”

CITY OF SOMERSWORTH
ENDING MARCH 1, 1919

REPORT OF CITY SOLICITOR.

---

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the City Council:

The ordinances of the city require that the City Solicitor make an annual report in writing at the close of each municipal year, of all civil suits, or legal proceedings, begun, pending, or determined during the year preceding the time of making such report, and in accordance therewith the undersigned submits the following for the year ending February 28, 1919.

During the preceding year a claim of John F. Beamish for $478 was referred to the undersigned. It was for damages for the alleged flooding of his land on Green street by the Furber brook, so-called. Suit was brought by him against the city and the action was entered at the February, 1919, term of the Superior Court. It will in due time come before the Court for trial.

The case of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Company against the City of Somersworth, to recover alleged damages for the city's use of the Salmon Falls river for its municipal water supply is still pending in the Superior Court.

Respectfully,

CHRISTOPHER H. WELLS,
City Solicitor.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Trustees of the Public Library hereby present their report of their administration for the fiscal year ending February 28, 1919, and with it submit the report of the Librarian for the year, as showing in more detail the work done.

The World War has had a disturbing influence on almost every activity other than those contributing directly to victory, but the work of our library has gone along surely, nevertheless, contributing a steadying and educating influence to the times.

The Trustees are of opinion that a special appropriation of at least $1,000, the same as was appropriated last year for library uses, be made for this year and they recommend that such a special appropriation be made.

The following is a brief statement showing receipts and expenditures for the year:

Report of the Librarian.

---

To the Board of Trustees of the Somersworth Public Library:

Gentlemen: The report of the librarian, showing the work of the library for the year ending February 28, 1919, is herewith presented.

The days and weeks multiply so rapidly that it is almost with a sense of shock that we find ourselves called upon for another annual report.

The year just past will be recorded in history as a most eventful period, but in library annals there are but few items to distinguish it from its predecessors.

The terrible epidemic, which was so disastrously felt in our city, was the cause of the library doors being closed for some time. Books were called in, and upon reopening, fumigation and all necessary precautions were taken to make it safe for the public.

The library, in common with many others all over the country, participated in the "drive" for books for the boys in camp. Our people responded generously and about 500 books were contributed.

With the greater expense of publication which the high cost of paper and other materials must necessitate, it would seem that the output of new books would be lessened. But such is not the case. New books, both fiction and non-fiction, appear in such rapidly-multiplying numbers that a library with far greater resources than ours would find it difficult to keep abreast of the times. It is a difficult and tantalizing task to select from so much that is good the little our resources will allow. Already the effect of the cessation of the war on literature is beginning to be felt and it is interesting to conjecture what will be the prevailing note in the near future.

This year has seen some changes in our staff of assistants. Miss Mildred Kinsman, who has served so long and faithfully, has resigned, on account of the increased responsibility in other fields, and Miss Dorothy Hill is now teaching in Haverhill, Mass. Mrs. Mildred Loring is now serving in the capacity of regular assistant and is rapidly proving her efficiency.

Again we thank the trustees for their unvarying courtesy, and especially would we thank them for their sympathetic consideration and kindness during our recent bereavement.

CLEAN-UP WEEK.

The Clean-up Week was, as in former years, a grand success. It was done in co-operation with the ladies of the Civic Improvement Society, and a great deal of credit should be given to them for its success.

During the week, or the two weeks, it took to do the work, 429 loads of rubbish was disposed of.

GARBAGE.

This department has again this year broken the previous record in disposing of garbage, and the improvement is noticeable all around the city.

During the year 1,978 loads of garbage have been disposed of.

COMPLAINTS.

I have received and investigated, during the year, 56 complaints of nuisances and unsanitary conditions.

Dirty yard, premises, lots, etc.,	19
Violation of pure food law,	11
Unburied dead animals,	19

We had a regular epidemic of the Spanish influenza here last fall, and although not so bad as in a number of other places, we had over 40 deaths on account of same.

WATER SUPPLY.

During the year, at various times, samples of our city water were sent to Concord, to be analyzed at the following periods:

For analysis, every three months.

For bacteriological tests, every six months; and every time, water was found to be free from bacteria.

The result of the last bacteriological test showed the following report, as attached:

	Bacteria per cc	1cc Colon	10cc Bacilli
Water from screen well, at river,	2000	Pos.	2 Pos.
Settling chamber after filtering,	1000	Neg.	2 Neg.
Water from tap,	50	Neg.	2 Neg.
Water from tap,	25	Neg.	2 Neg.

Signed, CHARLES D. HOWARD,
Chemist.

MILK.

At different times during the year I have collected samples of milk which our city is supplied with, and each time the milk was found to be properly taken care of, but in this department no time should be spared to keep our milk up to the standard at all times. Many improvements have been made during the year, and I will insist that they be kept up.

Satisfactory quality as indicated by the results upon the two tap samples. The examination of the sample from the settling chamber shows a bacterial removal of 50% of the number contained in the raw water.

In conclusion, I wish to thank His Honor, the Mayor, the City Council, and all the city officials, for their assistance. I wish also to thank the ladies of the Civic Improvement Society for their great help.

Respectfully submitted,

ARCHIE L. JACQUES,
Sanitary Officer and Secretary of the Local Board of Health.

STREET COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., March 1, 1919.

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the City Council of the City of Somersworth:

Gentlemen: In accordance with the provisions of the city ordinances, I herewith submit the annual report of the Street Commissioner for the fiscal year ending February 28, 1919.

STREETS.

All streets have been kept clean, and also all highways cleared of stone or other matter liable to impair good travelling, and put in good condition, and where grading was necessary, improvements have been made. All trees in the city proper have been trimmed, and those that were useless were cut down.

ROADS.

We have graded Indigo Hill Road, in the Blackwater district, for about four miles; also Green street, from Washington to Franklin streets; Buffumsville Road, from Depot street to Great Falls Woolen Co.'s Mill; Salmon Falls Road, from Indigo Hill Road to Crockett's Crossing.

We have also graded several sidewalks in the different parts of the city with ashes, and have re-built the culvert on Rochester street.

BRIDGES.

We have repaired the Eddy and New Dam bridges, and have also painted the iron part of both of them.

MACADAM.

We have patched up the macadamized roads in the city proper, wherever needed.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I would recommend that the laying of sidewalks be continued, as there are a number in very poor condition, and I would also recommend grading the road, from Franklin street to the Dover Line, on Green street, as it needs to be repaired at once. I would still further recommend grading the highway on Second street, and macadamizing Washington street, from Orange to High streets. All macadamized roads in the city proper should be oiled, as they are now in a fairly good condition, and a coating of oil would preserve them for many years, and save money for the city.

In closing, I desire to thank His Honor, the Mayor, and members of the City Council for their kindness and courtesy during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

POLYCARPE TARDIF,

Street Commissioner.

SIGNALS.

One stroke of the bell is the all-out signal.

2-2-2 strokes of the bell is for a brush fire, or a fire seen at a distance, where the department is needed.

One stroke of the bell is the engineer's test.

The above signals are given only by the chief engineer.

GENERAL RULES.

Firemen, as well as citizens, should familiarize themselves with the following rules for giving alarms of fire:

1. Never pull a box for a fire seen at a distance.
2. Never pull a box while the alarm bells are ringing, not until a box has completed its four rounds. Two boxes cannot operate together, and neither will work if two are pulled at the same time. Never pull two alarms or two boxes for the same fire.
3. To ring in an alarm, break the glass in the key-box and open the outside door with the key. Pull down the brass crank seen inside, till it stops, then let go. Then let the box alone. The clock will be seen or heard to be running, and the alarm will follow in half a minute or so. Close the door, but do not try to remove the key, as it is locked in a track lock and can only be removed by a release key, which is carried by each engineer, who will, as soon as convenient, release and return it. Remember that the firemen will come directly to the box which has been pulled, and be sure that someone stays at the box to direct them to the fire.
4. Never pull an alarm for a fire seen at a distance. Never touch a box except to give an alarm of fire. Give an alarm for no cause other than actual fire. Don't give an alarm for a chimney fire.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of the City of Somersworth:

Gentlemen: In this, my second annual report on the condition and progress of your schools, I wish to call your attention first to the tables of figures herewith attached showing the results secured in some of the standardized tests given last year. The tests included the Courtis and Kansas Reading Tests, the Courtis and Woody Arithmetic Tests, the Ayres Handwriting Scale, and two lists from the Ayres Spelling Scale. Other tests were given, but the results were similar to those secured in the tests named.

I need hardly remind you that the "Standard Score" for each test was secured by giving the tests to a large number of children in various parts of the country, so that the results show rather well what should be reasonably expected from pupils of the different grades. In the tables which appear below the scores made by the pupils of your schools are compared with the standard scores and the tables will, I think, explain themselves.

In connection with these tables I would direct your attention particularly to three points; first the generally poor showing made by the eighth and ninth grades; second, the fact that most of the grades in the fall made scores at least one grade below standard; and third, that the spring scores show marked improvement in nearly every grade.

The poor showing made by the two upper grades was without doubt due to the past custom of promoting the pupils with the better ranks from the seventh to the ninth grade, and from the eighth grade to the High school. The result of such a practice could be nothing else than poor scholarship in the upper grades. This weakness has, I believe, been largely overcome by changing to a strict eight-grade system, and the eighth grade this year is much more uniform than has been the case. The result has justified the change and the progress is very satisfactory.

The showing of the majority of the grades in the fall tests would seem to show that they were graded at least one year too high. This was probably due to the lack of uniformity among the teachers both in the material taught, the method, and the system of marking. All of these points have received, and are still receiving, careful attention.

The spring scores were on the whole rather gratifying and showed greater improvement than might have been expected. The material used for the spring Curtis tests, and the words used in spelling, were not the same as that used in the fall, although of equal difficulty. It is interesting to note that in most cases the ranks secured in the spring were about equal to the standard scores, and that the two upper grades did not show results greatly superior to those of the grades below.

The use of standardized tests as a measure of the attainment of a school system is of great value, but it necessitates a large amount of labor which for the sake of uniformity should be done by the smallest number of people possible. Lack of time and the press of other duties would make it impossible for me to make as thorough study each year as was made last year, but enough can be done to offer a comparison of the work of the two years.

In my last report I suggested that there seemed to be a lack of system and that without it a large amount of the efforts of the individual teachers was wasted. From the first we have tried to develop the uniform system as seemed necessary. In order to best do this the various subjects were considered separately, particular attention being given to the subject which appeared to be most in need of it. To this end arithmetic and geography were considered during last year and the several old texts were replaced by single modern series. The State Program was continued in use and was supplemented by suggestive outlines based upon the text used.

In history the State Program calls for ancient history in grade five, European history in grade six, and United States history in the two upper grades. The difficulty comes in finding suitable books for grades five and six, but this has been met very satisfactorily by the texts which you adopted last year, "World Famous Stories in Historic Settings," supplemented by several reference books placed in each room. These books have proved of great interest to both teachers and pupils, and the latter are developing an eagerness for further reading as well as acquiring a considerable fund of information.

To me it would seem that the most successful way to secure good reading and, more important, a love for reading is to provide a suitable supply of material which is within the scope of the class and in which they have an interest. It was early apparent that the lower grades, in which the mechanics of reading are taught, were rather well supplied with reading material. In the upper grades, in which the classes should read for information and to develop the desire to read, there were not enough sets of books and almost no library books. By library books I mean single copies in each room to which the pupils have access. This matter has received careful attention, with the result that these grades are now very well supplied with material.

In order to secure the best result an account of stock was taken and a list of all books on hand was made. This list showed that several texts were misplaced; that is, were either in grades in which they were too difficult for the pupils, a thing which soon discourages reading; or were graded too high, in which case interest was lost. Such changes as seemed best were made and then a number of new sets of books were procured so that each grade has an ample supply of suitable material which is of interest to the pupils. In securing library books the aim has been to place at least as many volumes in each room as there were pupils in the room. Thus each pupil has access to from twenty-five to forty books suited to his age and ability. Further, these books were selected to cover as widely as possible the various studies which the pupils pursue, literature, history, geography, science, nature, etc. It is my belief that the use of these books, with such additions as are needed from time to time, will go a long way toward overcoming the frequent complaint of the High school that pupils are not sufficiently mature when they are graduated from the grammar school.

By consulting the results secured from the use of Ayres Handwriting Scale you will see that they were rather unsatisfactory, and an examination of the writing of the majority of the pupils would show that their product is even worse than the figures show. The explanation would appear to be that little or no attention has been given to writing as such. In an effort to improve this branch of the work each teacher has incorporated in her program this year at least one period per day for the formal instruction in writing. Supplementing this each teacher has made more rigid demands as to the quality of the writing done on each and every written paper. In this way we expect to remedy the weaknesses and at the same time cultivate the habit of better writing, while permitting ample opportunity for the development of the individuality which each should have.

Nature study and elementary science were last year almost unknown studies. This year each grade is devoting some time to one or the other, the six lower grades teaching something of nature and the two upper grades introducing their pupils to some of the basic principles of science. In neither case is the purpose to teach science as such. The lower grades are endeavoring to teach the pupils to see and appreciate the birds, animals, flowers, etc., which surround them, while the upper grades aim to answer the "Why?" of some of the more common phenomena in electricity, heat, light, chemistry, astronomy, biology, etc. As in the case of the other subjects, the State Program is taken as the guide and this has been broadened by a rather detailed suggestive course arranged by grades and terms, so that each teacher may know what is expected of her grade and room.

The schools have this year felt the effect of the Great War in a rather unfortunate way. During the summer the instructor in manual training was called into the service and it proved impossible to secure another instructor for the time we needed and at the salary we could pay. When it was evident that this work, so successful last year, would have to be suspended for the year it seemed unwise to continue the sewing. It is to be hoped that both may be resumed in the near future. In the other special departments, drawing and music, the work has progressed in a very satisfactory way. The reports of the supervisors of these departments are attached herewith and will tell more in detail what has been accomplished.

The epidemic of influenza, which necessitated the closing of the schools for a period of three weeks during the past fall term, was most unfortunate. The schools at that time had gotten well under way and the period of inertia was successfully past. The forced closing made it necessary for them to practically start anew, so that, even though most of the time has been or will be made up, there was a loss, and both pupils and teachers are obliged to work under pressure in order that the work of the year may be completed. In this connection it has been necessary to give particular attention to the attendance and we have done our best to keep every one "on the job" every day. As one means to this end a pennant is to be given each term to the room having the best per cent. of attendance for the term. That for the fall term was won by the seventh grade, in charge of Miss Bessie Mullen, though the figures showed a very close contest.

In the High school the work has progressed satisfactorily along the lines laid down last year. It was felt inadvisable to make any radical changes in the course of study, since both the teachers and the building were being used to the utmost. So long as the physical equipment remains as at present it will be impossible for the school to broaden its course to anything like the present-day high school course. In other words it is not possible for the school to meet entirely the local demands made upon it until it has the needed facilities. The day of the purely classical high school has passed and any community which is not prepared to follow the general tendency must find itself out-distanced by other communities. The fact that a school met the demands made upon it a generation or two ago, is no more of an argument in its favor than would be the same fact in arguing that oil or candles should be used instead of gas or electricity. Just as the electricity can be of much more service than merely to give light, so the present-day high school can and should be of greater service than to fit a few young men and women for higher institutions.

The work of the commercial department of the High school has been carried out successfully and advanced a year, so that there are at present four classes taking the course. As suggested in my last report, we have tried to make this course one of genuine value to the pupils, and the class which will be graduated next June will have had a thorough training in shorthand and typewriting, so that they will be fitted to take positions, and several are now planning to go farther with the work by taking the course for commercial teachers offered by the State Normal Schools. At the present time a number of the upper class are showing remarkable ability in taking dictation and transcribing their notes, and every effort is being made to give them suitable and varied practice. To this end I would repeat what I have said before, that the commercial department will appreciate any opportunity the business and professional men of the city can give the students.

The success of the commercial work would seem to point to the fact that the school should offer other courses in the practical arts. There should be a four-year course in domestic arts to meet the needs of the young women who will not go beyond the High school. They should have the opportunity to learn the cooking, sewing, and other phases of home-making which will be of service to them in the future. On the other hand, the young men should be able to take a four-year course which would include one or more branches of the industry in which they will make their life work. When these courses are offered, and not until then, will the High school begin to meet the demands of those whom it is intended to serve. The few who desire preparation for higher institutions should be able to secure it, but when the majority of the students do not expect to go farther, they should receive due consideration and should not be obliged to take courses of doubtful value to them. Not only would the needs of these students be better met, but also many who now leave school before they complete the course would remain longer and thus become of greater value to themselves and to the community.

Another feature of the High school equipment which should receive attention is the library. The books now available are for the most part old and in poor condition, and much too few. The Alumni Association has undertaken to do something to remedy this defect and at the last meeting voted to buy some books for the library. The class of 1918 also pledged themselves to assist, but up to the present time have not done so, though they will no doubt carry out the pledge later. By adding books from year to year it will be possible to build up a suitable library, and a room should be fitted for this purpose, so that the books can be properly cared for and used to the best advantage.

In order to modernize the High school a new building is quite essential. Any other arrangement could be nothing more than a makeshift and a temporary arrangement which in the end would produce heavier expense than would be entailed by doing the work as it should be in the first place. Naturally there is some sentiment in favor of the old building, and rightly so, but it is doubtful if those who claim such sentiment would feel the same toward continuing the business methods in vogue when they were in the High school, and yet the education of the young people of any community is perhaps the most important business enterprise in the community. Further than this, it seems impossible that any one who is familiar with conditions at the High school would wish to have children in whom he is interested limited to its facilities and actually suffering because of the lack of comfort. Neither teachers nor pupils can do their best work in rooms which are poorly heated and lighted, and surely no one can claim that the present high school is satisfactory in either particular. Granted that the building could be rebuilt so that it would be reasonably serviceable, a fact which is open to debate, would not the cost be almost prohibitive, and if accomplished, what would remain but an old and unsuitable building? When once done would it not be necessary after a few years to build the new building which is so much needed now? Finally, the building has been made over before, which fact was clearly shown by the fire early in February, when some of the construction was exposed when parts of the woodwork were burned away.

To return to the grades; the special room which was opened last fall has justified its being. It has served as a clearing-house through which passed those pupils from other schools whose previous training was not definitely known to us. The pupils have remained in this room for varying periods depending upon their ability. As soon as we felt reasonably sure that a pupil could do satisfactory work in a certain grade he was sent to that grade. A few pupils who did not appear to be exactly fitted for any grade have been retained in this room for longer periods and an effort has been made to prepare them for the higher grade by giving them as much individual attention as possible. From this room pupils have been sent to all grades from one to eight inclusive, according to the degree of progress shown. The matter has been put squarely up to the pupil and it has been left for him to show what he could do. In no sense has the special room been a room for those mentally deficient. On the contrary, several pupils have been enabled to advance farther than they could have had they been placed in one of the regular rooms.

At the present time the enrollment of your schools is; High School, 82; Chandler School, 135; Burleigh School, 199; Union Street School, 148, a total of 564. This is less than for several years and is due largely to the elimination of the ninth grade. Below will be found the "School Statistics 1917-1918," and an "Age and Grade Distribution" table for last fall.

For the coming year I would recommend that the work be continued along the lines now in use, and that the teaching of sewing and manual training in the grades be resumed at the earliest date possible. The work of these two branches should, I believe, be extended to the first year of the High school and then advanced one year at a time until a four-year course is created. Should a new building or added accommodations be available in the near future, the work could be advanced more rapidly.

During the past year considerable has been done by both teachers and pupils along lines of activity outside the regular school work. A creditable showing was made in Thrift, which has come to be an important feature of education, and the majority of the pupils had home gardens during the summer. At the present time the teachers are devoting some time, under the direction of State and Federal officials, to the home garden plans for the coming summer and it is planned to carry the work up to the close of school. In order to supervise and assist the pupils during the summer and thus make for the best success some arrangement should be made whereby one or more of the teachers can devote some time to the work while the schools are closed. Such a garden supervisor could be of great benefit to the young people and thus to the community, and make the undertaking really worth while.

The teaching force has remained almost unchanged during the past year, a thing which of course makes for greater efficiency. It is my belief that still better results could be secured were the teachers employed for twelve months instead of ten. That would not mean that all teachers would be at work during the entire twelve months, but it would make it possible to call upon them for certain work during two or three weeks or a month of their usual long vacation. Were they paid in twelve payments I think the teachers would receive the change willingly, since most teachers find the period between payments rather long. It should not be necessary for teachers to seek other lines of work during their vacation. They should have an opportunity for rest and recreation so that they may be in suitable physical condition to resume their duties in the fall.

If, as I suggest, the teachers were employed for twelve months, it would be possible to have a summer session for the benefit of those pupils who are backward and who could thus make up their work and resume their places with their grades in the fall. Then, too, such pupils as were interested could take extra work and secure added credit for promotion. A six weeks' term of two or three hours per day would not be a burden upon the pupils, and by dividing the work among the teachers they would not be required to serve more than three weeks at the most. This matter is one which I would suggest as worthy of your serious consideration.

Each summer the State normal schools give short courses for the benefit of teachers in service. There is no charge for New Hampshire teachers and the only expense is for board and travel, which is not a large item. The board during the summer last past at the Keene Normal School was $5.50 per week. The courses are for three and six weeks, so that a teacher is able to take the short course at a cost to her of $16.50 plus her railroad fare. I believe you would find it to your advantage to require that your teachers attend at least a three weeks' session once in three or four years and that you could well afford to offer a bonus of $25 for such attendance.

During the spring term of last year and the fall term of this year the High school employed the supervised study which has been so widely adopted in other places. By extending the afternoon session it was possible to have longer periods and all the work was done in school under the supervision of the teachers. The results were in every way satisfactory, but the poor light as the days grew shorter made it necessary to return to the shorter schedule. Both teachers and pupils were pleased with the results secured under the supervised study plan, the teachers because they could see exactly what their classes did, and the pupils because they were able to get needed help over the hard places and were not obliged to take their work home. Many of the parents with whom I have talked seemed to feel that their children were benefitted by that method of instruction and regretted it could not be continued.

In closing I would extend to the teachers my hearty thanks for their willing and responsive attitude toward the numerous changes which have been made. By responding promptly to suggestions, and by working earnestly to accomplish results along the lines suggested, rapid progress has been made toward the efficiency for which we are striving.

By the hearty support and co-operation which you have given me you have made possible the progress which I feel the schools have made, and I trust that our relations may continue to be as pleasant as in the past, and that we may be able to extend satisfactorily the work in which we are interested.

Respectfully submitted,

EDW. H. LEONARD,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF TEACHER OF DRAWING.

---

To the Superintendent of Schools and Members of the School Board:

Gentlemen: Three days each week are devoted to drawing in the grades and High school. The time is divided into periods, from thirty to forty-five minutes in each grade.

The object of the teaching of drawing in the public schools is not to make artists, but rather to train the minds of all pupils to an appreciation and enjoyment of that which is beautiful in form and color. Its practical effects should appear in the heightened good taste in choice of wearing apparel, furniture, etc., and the erection and adornment of homes.

As the child develops, the subjects should become more varied. This subject is peculiarly susceptible to correlation with others. Personal experiences during vacations, holidays, observations of the changing seasons, of the weather, of day and night, scenes suggested by "Mother Goose," by fables and myths, in the lower grades, are followed, in the upper classes, with maps and diagrams, in relation to history and geography, and pictures, in connection with literature and history of art.

Besides the outline in the State course, I have used one by Bonnie E. Snow, formerly supervisor of drawing of Minneapolis Minn.; and one by Hugo Froehlich, formerly supervisor in design by Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The grammar school pupils have made War Savings' Stamp Posters, and an exhibition of the pupils' work has been given. Prizes were offered for the best posters. A committee of three was chosen to select the best work and award the prizes, as follows: Rebecca Freaman, 9th grade, eight thrift stamps; Adelaide Aubin, 5th grade, six thrift stamps; Fenelon Perreault, 6th grade; Alonzo Goodwin, 6th grade; Doris Scruton, 8th grade; and Joseph Matusick, 8th grade; four thrift stamps, each; Clyde Grant, 9th grade; Marie Gagnon, 6th grade; Raymond Joyal, 5th grade; two stamps, each. There were also many other honorable mentions.

Respectfully submitted,

ALMA B. ROY,

Teacher of Drawing.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

To the Superintendent of Schools, and the Board of Education of Somersworth:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit the report of my first complete year's work of music supervision in the city. My method of procedure has varied according to special needs, but the aim of music teaching in the public schools remains the same. It is to lead the child to love, to know, and to appreciate music in as many phases as possible, that he may have a big, broad interest in the subject, and thus make life fuller and more complete.

In spite of our enforced vacation, our grades are in good condition. I am pleased to report that we now have as a basis for our work, the "Progressive" books in the first five grades. The fifth grade children, who used them last year, were splendid witnesses to the value of the series, because of their remarkable progress in sight reading, and their increased interest in all forms of music. We shall endeavor to make even greater improvement along these two important lines this year.

Appreciation lessons, with the aid of victrolas, are constantly growing in importance and real worth. At the Burleigh School we are having special appreciation lessons every other week, and, as we had hoped to do, the same kind of work is given in the Union School, the alternate Friday afternoon. The children enter into the work with much interest and with added power. At the Chandler Building, each week, we have general assembly for chorus work and Victor lessons. We feel that this period is of great value.

Monotones—or passive children—are so called because they can sing only one or two tones. In a few instances this difficulty is due to physical condition, but more often it is because of lack of concentration or the lack of feeling or tone. In most cases this can be corrected in grades one or two, if the child sits in the front of the room, listens while the others sing, and then receives a little individual help each day from the teacher or supervisor. At the beginning of the year we had an average of twenty passive children in each first grade; now we have an average of four. This is a splendid tribute to the work of our teachers.

Added to our regular grade work there have been some special features worth mentioning. Last spring all the children took part in the marching and singing for "Playground Day." Groups from different buildings sang national songs for the Red Cross benefit. At the request of the G. A. R., about thirty pupils from the Chandler building sang at the Memorial Day observance at the Opera House. This winter twenty-five pupils from our fifth grades sang a group of songs at the county institute, held in Somersworth High School building. We are glad that it has been possible for them to put their musical knowledge to such practical use for public help and enjoyment.

The High school presents a great problem and a wonderful opportunity. I believe that the spirit of the students toward music has improved and will continue to improve. We have had two shorter periods, or one long one, each week during the year. This time has been divided between chorus work and a study of such subjects (i. e. orchestra, kinds of voices), as would enable the students better to enjoy and interpret good music. In connection with the latter part of our work we express our appreciation for the help given us by the following people: Miss Dorothy Hill, illustrations of pianoforte music; Miss Sara McGaughey, illustrations of art songs; Mr. Fred K. Wentworth, report of concert given by the famous singer, John McCormack; Miss May C. Fuller, illustration, in solo and with her pupils, of music forms; i. e. serenade, nocturne, and also different ways of playing the violin; Miss Elizabeth P. Pope, story of the life of the wonderful soprano, Galli Curci; a report of one of her concerts, with illustrations on the Victor; Mrs. Mabel Ames and Miss Margaret Stevens, for loaning us their Victor machines.

We are still in need of a Victrola, and we are planning to try to earn money to purchase one this spring, by giving the patriotic pageant, "To Arms for Liberty." The chorus will be assisted by our High school orchestra, led by Miss Fuller. Other special features of our work are as follows: The High School students helped in singing on "Playground Day." A group of our girls sang Britain's National song for the Red Cross benefit. The High school students furnished chorus numbers for the graduation held in June. The chorus was accompanied by an orchestra of violins composed of students and led by Miss May C. Fuller.

We still feel the need of more recognition for music in High school, and credit for outside study properly carried on. We are sure these will come in due time.

During the last few years the civic and social life of the nation has demanded music, both vocal and instrumental, as a necessary factor in the acquirement of general happiness. We believe the demand will continue to increase. Shall we not prepare the boys and girls to meet this great need?

I have received the help and co-operation of the Superintendent, the teachers, and many friends. To all, I express my sincere thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

AGNES GENEVIEVE GARLAND,
Supervisor of Music.

Class Ode

Four years have passed,
Mem'ries to last
Of those very happy days
Which will live with us always,
Now we must part;
Deep in our heart
Lingers a fond farewell.

First Chorus.

Entering life's pathway with a wish so true
Ever to bring honor, Somersworth, to you
Thru the years we'll hold
To the purple and gold.
And our schoolmates dear, our comrades, everyone.
We will ne'er regret your friendships to have won.
Class of 1919, thy precepts will fulfill,
Oh, Our High School on the Hill.

Second Chorus.

May we never falter,
But stand by the right,
Conquering ourselves,
First step in the fight,
Whether hardships many
Or our troubles few,
We will e'er be loyal,
Alma Mater, to you!

REPORT

FROM
MARCH 1, 1918, TO MARCH 1, 1919

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

FRANK E. HOBBS, Chairman.
CHARLES F. CROCKETT, Clerk.
PETER M. GAGNE.

---

Frank E. Hobbs, elected March 27, 1912; term expires
June 16, 1921.
Charles F. Crockett, elected March 28, 1905; term expires June 16, 1920.
Peter M. Gagne, elected January 5, 1915; term expires
June 16, 1919.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

---

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the City Council:

Gentlemen: In accordance with the city ordinances, your Board of Water Commissioners herewith submit the following annual report for the year ending February 28, 1919.

Following the usual custom, the commissioners met at the office in the city building, June 16, 1918, and organized, by electing Frank E. Hobbs, chairman, and Charles F. Crockett, clerk. John Parsons was elected superintendent of water works, and served until November 1st, 1918, when he resigned, on account of sickness, and John F. Lucey was elected to fill the position as superintendent. James A. Flanagan was re-elected engineer, and Charles Michel, assistant engineer at the pumping station. Charles Michel also resigned as assistant engineer, November 1st, 1918, and Louis Gagne was elected in his place.

PUMPING STATION.

The pumping station carries the usual amount of insurance. The pumps are in good working condition, but need painting, which we shall endeavor to have done later in the year. The boilers have been inspected, as usual, and favorable reports received from the Fidelity and Casualty Company. Some repairs are needed on the outside of the building, and we would recommend, also, the building of an addition to the coal shed at the pumping station, to enable us to have a sufficient amount of coal on hand for the winter months.

FILTER BED.

The filter bed has had its usual cleaning, and the usual amount of sand has been washed and replaced on the bed. We would recommend the construction of a machine for removing the sand from the bed, when it is cleaned.

SERVICE PIPES.

One new service has been laid during the year, making a total of 1,001 now in use.

METERS.

There are now in use 399 meters.
