

2024

Editor's Foreword

Nathaniel J. D. Grabman

University of New Hampshire Franklin Pierce School of Law, nathaniel.grabman@law.unh.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholars.unh.edu/unhslr>

Recommended Citation

Grabman, Nathaniel J. D. (2024) "Editor's Foreword," UNH Sports Law Review: Vol. 3: Iss. 1, Article 11.
Available at: <https://scholars.unh.edu/unhslr/vol3/iss1/11>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University of New Hampshire – Franklin Pierce School of Law at University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in UNH Sports Law Review by an authorized editor of University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository. For more information, please contact Scholarly.Communication@unh.edu.

The University of New Hampshire Sports Law Review

Volume 3 | Number 1 | Article 3

8-29-2024

EDITOR'S FOREWORD

Nathaniel J. D. Grabman, Editor-in-Chief

Nathaniel J. D. Grabman

EDITOR'S FOREWORD

3 U.N.H. Sports L. Rev. 224 (2024)

Welcome to Volume 3 of the University of New Hampshire Sports Law Review.

While many of the courses taught in America's law schools focus on specific and discrete subjects within the legal system, sports law instead provides a distinctive lens through which a scholar or practitioner may view the entire breadth of the legal field. The articles and transcript published in this volume reflect that reality, as they address workers' compensation, labor law (both unionization and collective bargaining), principles of agency law, whistleblower protections, contract law, civil procedure, the appellate process, and more. As such, I am pleased to introduce the authors of this volume's articles: Brooke Chronister and Prof. Joshua Winneker; Ryan Buchanan; and Hunter Seidler. Furthermore, I am thrilled to introduce and congratulate Riley Albert for her published student note. Finally, I wish to thank all the panelists who participated in our symposium discussion regarding both Maurice Clarett's legal case against the NFL and the future of age limits in sports: Michelle Clarett, Alan Milstein, Ben Block, Prof. Michael Dube, Prof. Michael McCann, The Honorable Shira Sheindlin, and Maurice Clarett himself.

It has been an honor to be the Editor-in-Chief of this journal, and I am excited to see how the Sports Law Review develops and grows in the years to come.