

LIVORNO, ITALY

Dearest Elz:

The guessing game continues on what is going to happen to TRUST. No one seems to know. But it seems as if D.C. has told the command here to "RELAX — AND TAKE IT EASY. WE WILL LET YOU KNOW WHAT-WHERE-WHEN AND HOW WHEN THE TIME COMES." — So, of course these are not the exact words of the Tux, but the essence of it. So it appears as though we'll wait here for as long as 2 months more or less before anything definite is known.

Meanwhile, I will adjust myself. I don't like my room in this hotel. It is cold & small. I shall shop around for more quarters.

No news is supposed to be good news. Well I hope the good news comes

Pretty soon cause morale is sinking among the troops who are living in tents under field conditions.

How is the little auto holding up? It's a bit colder now, so it ought to be doing OK. The Renaults over here are seen everywhere. How are the tires holding out?

Am getting adjusted to driving, but confess I don't like it ~~at~~ very much.
However I am prepared to settle down here if they let you all come here. Trust Personnel still cannot make applications for families to come over until their new stations are known.
