REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

February 16, 1922.

To the School Board and Citizens of the New London School District:

It affords me pleasure to submit herewith my third annual report as superintendent of the schools of New London. While the accompanying honor roll and statistical table are for the school year, September 1, 1920, to June 30, 1921, this report deals also in some respects with the present school year.

No complaints have come to the superintendent's office concerning your teachers, which indicates that their good work is recognized and appreciated by school patrons. The fact that so many parents go directly to the teachers when problems arise concerning school work or discipline is both a cause and a result of the admirable spirit that I find throughout your schools. Misunderstandings are generally avoided and the best conditions for progress are established when parent and teacher talk things over together. Since the one vital interest is the welfare of the children it is very rarely that minor matters cannot be adjusted satisfactorily.

The course of study arranged by the former superintendent fulfilled its purpose by bridging the gap between the work formerly done in your grades and the full course outlined in the State Program of Studies. The present desire is to follow closely the state course. Our text-books have been increased by a partial equipment of new geographies, an up-to-date text that was much needed, by a brief history of the World War for the eighth grade, and by a few new readers. One new globe of the very desirable suspension type has been purchased. The set of new geographies should be completed next year if not this, and new arithmetic and English texts will be needed soon. New civics texts would make the teaching of citizenship in the upper grades much more satisfactory. The work in music is being carried on very successfully by Miss Flagg, the foundation laid last year proving the basis for much more advanced work this year.

Transportation was considered for the Low Plain school for this year, as there was a prospect of only a very small number of pupils there; but as new families have increased the enrolment to eighteen it seems that no mistake was made in continuing the school. The usual number have been transported from the other end of the town to the Colby Hill school.

Only a few minor repairs were necessary at the Hill and at Elkins last year. Extensive alterations planned for some time were made in the Low Plain building, including a change in lighting by moving two windows from the east to the north side, and rearranging the seats so that the light reaches the pupils from the left and rear. This gives a place for the blackboards in the front of the room. The worn-out stove was replaced by a new one of similar type and this was jacketed, making it possible to keep a more even temperature with less fuel. These alterations, with the replacement of wall paper by paint of a desirable tint, have made this room very satisfactory. A new flagpole has also been set in the school yard. The largest expense for the current year will be for better sewage disposal from the Colby Hill school.

The physical examination last spring showed 19 cases of defective vision, with 5 corrected since the previous examination, 13 cases defective teeth with only 1 corrected, 7 cases hypertrophied tonsils with none corrected, and one case of adenoids. Notices of defects were sent to parents, and it is hoped many will receive treatment before the next examination is given. The daily program of the Primary School provides a period for physical exercise which I believe is of great value to the children. The brisk exercises relieve the little people of the tediousness of a sitting position, and also teach unity of action and quick obedience to commands. The teachers give careful supervision on the playground, regularly directing organized plays and games. Plans are under consideration for providing some playground apparatus, especially for the use of those children who are excused early but are obliged to wait for a school team.

It is gratifying to find upon making up the annual statistics that the average membership is increased by three since the preceding year, the average attendance by four, and the per cent. of attendance by two, which makes it one per cent. higher than the average for elementary schools throughout the state. The honor roll of attendance has an increase from twenty-four to thirty-five names. The highest attendance was in the Low Plain school, ninety-eight per cent., while the Colby Hill grammar and Elkins were above ninety-five per cent. The greater number of absences were from the primary and lower intermediate grades, where there is more sickness and more excusable absence for bad weather. The number of tardinesses were reduced eighteen per cent.

The change in our school law cuts off from state aid four of the five towns in this Union, except that Danbury and Grafton will receive a small amount from last year's unexpended balances and the five per cent. placed by law at the disposal of the State Board for special needs. Andover and New London are too far down the list to be recipients of any part of such special aid.

My work with school officers and teachers in your district has been without exception a pleasure. I recognize the patience and consideration that you have shown. Your courtesies and your cooperation have never failed, and they have made my visits to your district and my labor for your schools a constant satisfaction.

Respectfully submitted,

IDELLA K. FARNUM,
Superintendent of Supervisory Union, No. 1.
