The engineers shall exercise the powers of fire wards, and those within the precinct shall constitute the board of engineers.

SECT. 2. The chief engineer and assistant engineers and all other members of the fire department shall hold their respective offices and places until they are removed, or their offices or places are otherwise vacated. The board of mayor and aldermen, for cause, and after a due hearing, may at any time remove from office or place the chief engineer, any assistant engineer, or any officer or member of the department. In case of vacancies from any cause in the department, of offices or men connected in any manner with the fire service, such vacancies shall be filled by the board of mayor and aldermen.

SECT. 3. The chief engineer shall give his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall not engage in or be connected with any other business or occupation, and shall reside in a house to be furnished by the city free from rent. He shall receive in full for his services, in addition to the use of said house, rent free, the sum of ten hundred and fifty dollars per annum.

SECT. 4. The chief engineer shall have the sole command at fires over all persons, whether members of the fire department or not. He shall direct all proper measures for extinguishing fires, protecting property, preserving order, and enforcing the laws, ordinances and regulations respecting fires; and shall examine into the condition of the fire engines and all other fire apparatus, and of the fire engine houses, and other houses belonging to the city and used by the department, and by the companies thereto attached, as often as once a week, and whenever directed to do so by the mayor, or the committee on fire department through its chairman. He shall certify all bills and submit the same for inspection monthly to the joint standing committee on fire department. He shall report to the city council annually a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the fire department, the condition of the fire engines and all other fire apparatus, a detailed schedule of the property in his charge, the names of the officers and members, and all other facts in relation to the department. Whenever the fire engines or other fire apparatus require repairs he shall, under the direction of the committee on fire department, cause the same to be made, and as far as practicable he shall examine into the location and condition of fire apparatus belonging to corporations or private individuals within the limits of the city. He shall require permanent men, when not otherwise engaged, to perform such other duties and do such other work as in his judgment may be deemed proper. He shall be responsible for the proper care of all property connected with the fire department. He shall keep fair and exact rolls of the respective companies, specifying the time of admission and discharge, and the age of each member, and shall report annually, or oftener if directed, all accidents by fire which may happen within the city, with the causes thereof, the number and description of the buildings destroyed or injured and the amount of loss and insurance on the same, together with the names of owners or the occupants and shall make returns as required by the Laws of 1889, chapter 84, and entitled: "An act in relation to returns and statistics of fires." He shall visit each department house as often as practicable, and inspect the men, the books of the house, and see that the quarters are properly conducted and in good order. He shall have the power to suspend any officer or member of the department for insubordination, disorderly conduct, or neglect of duty, said suspension to continue pending the action of the mayor and aldermen. The chief engineer shall examine all places where shavings and other combustible materials may be collected or deposited, and cause the same to be removed by the tenants or occupants of such places, or at their expense, whenever in his opinion such removal is necessary for the security of the city against fires.

SECT. 5. In the absence of the chief engineer, the next assistant engineer in rank, who may be present, shall have the powers and perform the duties of the chief engineer, and the seniority in rank of the engineers shall be determined by the board of engineers at their first meeting.

SECT. 6. The foreman of each engine, hose, and hook and ladder company, immediately after every fire at which said company may have attended, shall examine into the condition of the fire apparatus belonging to his respective company, and report any deficiency which may exist to the chief engineer. He shall keep, or cause to be kept by the clerk of his company, exact rolls, specifying the time of admission, discharge, and age of each member, and accounts of all city property entrusted to the care of the several members, and of all cases of absence and tardiness, in a book provided for that purpose by the city, which rolls and record books are always to be subject to the order of the chief engineer and mayor. They shall also make, or cause to be made, to the chief engineer, true and accurate returns of all members, with their ages, and of the apparatus entrusted to their care, whenever called upon so to do.

SECT. 7. The foreman of each company shall, under the direction of the chief engineer, have charge and management of his company at fires; the assistant foreman shall assist the foreman in the discharge of his duties and act as clerk of the company, and in the absence of the foreman assume his authority. The foreman and assistant foreman shall be appointed by the chief engineer.

SECT. 8. The stewards of the Alert and Good Will Hose companies shall act as drivers of hose carriages, take charge of and properly care for and exercise the horses used by each company. They shall be permanently engaged and devote their whole time to the department, and sleep in their respective hose houses at night; and for the proper execution of all duties required of them shall be subject to the direction of the chief engineer.

SECT. 9. It shall be the duty of every engine, hose, and hook and ladder company to have its engine, hose and other apparatus cleaned, washed, oiled, reeled and housed immediately after its return from any fire or service, and at all times to maintain the same in good condition, and the members of the several companies shall perform any necessary duties which the chief engineer or their respective foreman may direct.

SECT. 10. All members of the department when on duty shall wear some suitable badge, to be designated by the board of engineers. The chief and permanent members shall wear at all times when on duty the regulation parade uniform worn by the fire department.

SECT. 11. The pay-rolls for the board of engineers and the several fire companies shall be made up by the chief and clerk of the board of engineers semi-annually, on the first day of January and July. Foremen and clerks of companies will forward their pay-rolls to the board of engineers for approval, and after the action of said engineers and the approval of the city auditor and the committee on accounts and claims, said pay-rolls shall be passed over to the city tax collector, under whose sole direction all sums for services of call firemen shall be disbursed.

SECT. 12. No charge for extra services will be allowed any member of the department unless upon an order of a member of the board of engineers.

SECT. 13. No engine, hose or hook and ladder carriage shall be taken to a fire out of the city without permission from the chief engineer, except steamer Pioneer, which may be taken to any fire in the village of Penacook, nor shall any apparatus of the fire department be taken from the city except in case of fire without permission from the board of mayor and aldermen: and in sending any apparatus to aid in extinguishing fires in neighboring localities, the chief in all cases will authorize his assistant next in rank available to take charge of the direction of such apparatus, and not allow any firemen, at such an emergency, to leave the city, except such a number as is actually required to man the apparatus, and no member to leave without permission or direction from the chief engineer.

SECT. 14. It shall be the duty of engineers and firemen, whenever there is an alarm of fire in the city, to repair immediately to the place of such fire, wearing a suitable badge, and the engineers shall take proper measures that the several engines and other apparatus be arranged and duly worked for the speedy and effectual extinguishment of the fire. The engineers shall inspect and make themselves familiar with all shops, hotels, tenement blocks, and all public buildings, halls, churches, schoolhouses and asylums once in each six months, and study the location of all hydrants and reservoirs in the city, and generally inform themselves in all matters pertaining to their duties as engineers. No engineer shall interfere with or attempt to give orders relative to the location or use of a line of hose, when he has ascertained that another has command of it, unless by consent of the engineer in command of it, or by orders of the officer in command at the fire; and it shall be his duty to enquire if there is an officer in charge.

SECT. 15. For each absence from fire, or neglect of duty, the chief engineer, the assistant engineers, and engineers of steamers shall be fined three dollars, and each other member of the department one dollar; provided, however, that any fireman liable as above may in case of sickness have power of substitution by giving notice, each assistant engineer to the chief, each foreman to an engineer, and each other member to the foreman of his company. All fines shall be paid to the clerks of respective companies at the first regular meeting after they are incurred. The clerks of companies shall disburse the fines to substitutes answering for absent members in cases where there were substitutes. In cases where there were no substitutes the fines shall be paid to the city.

SECT. 16. Any volunteer company using the apparatus of the city at any fire shall be under the control and command of the chief engineer and his assistants, agreeably to the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

SECT. 17. The department shall appear for public parade, drill and inspection at such times as the chief engineer and committee on fire department shall order, for which purpose three hundred dollars can be expended annually. The companies in Wards 1, 2, and 3 will attend by invitation and voluntarily. Each company in the department under the direction of the chief engineer or assistants shall take out their respective engines and apparatus for exercise and drill as often as he shall direct, such exercise and drill to take place in public, not oftener than once a month, and at least once in two months, between the first of April and November.

SECT. 18. The engineers shall have control of all persons appointed to serve in any company of the fire department and power to direct and control the labor of all persons present at any fire. An engineer may and shall cause any fire deemed by him to be dangerous in any place to be extinguished or removed.

SECT. 19. The engineers may establish such regulations respecting the kindling, guarding, and safe keeping of fires, and for the removal of shavings and other combustibles from any building or place, as they shall think expedient. Such regulations shall be signed by a majority of the engineers. Such regulations shall be approved by the mayor and aldermen, recorded by the city clerk, and copies attested by him posted up in two or more places in the city thirty days, when they shall take effect. Penalties not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence may be prescribed by the engineers for the breach of such regulations, and such regulations shall remain in force until altered or annulled.

SECT. 20. The board of engineers may from time to time make and enforce such regulations for the government of the department as may be deemed proper, subject to the approval of the board of mayor and aldermen.

SECT. 21. If any member of any of the several companies shall wilfully neglect or refuse to discharge his duty, or shall be guilty of disorderly conduct or disobedience to any officer or to any engineer, he shall for any such offense be forthwith dismissed from the department by direction of the chief engineer. No person shall be a member of, or serve in, the fire department, who is under the age of twenty years, and no person whose occupation is carried on outside the city shall be appointed a member of the fire department.

SECT. 22. All applicants for membership shall be nominated by the chief engineer, and shall receive pay and be considered members of the department from the date of their confirmation by the board of mayor and aldermen.

No person shall hereafter be appointed to any position in the fire department unless and until the committee on fire department shall have certified in writing to the board of mayor and aldermen that such person has been examined by them, or under their supervision, and is in their opinion qualified to perform the duties of the position to which he is nominated.

No officer or member of the permanent, or officer of the call force shall attend any political convention as a delegate, distribute tickets at any election, or take any part whatever in political matters other than to exercise the right of suffrage, and no political or religious discussion shall be permitted in any of the department houses.

SECT. 23. The chief engineer shall have the care and management of the rooms, apparatus, machinery, wires, poles, and signal boxes connected with the fire-alarm telegraph. He shall prepare rules and directions for giving alarms of fire through the telegraph. He shall have the superintendence, and under the direction of the joint standing committee on the fire department have control, of the several stations, the apparatus, the furniture therein, and all other property appertaining to the department. He shall, with the assistance of the permanent men at the Central station, make the necessary repairs and take care of the fire-alarm system, including the batteries, all alarm boxes, and everything pertaining to the fire-alarm system. He shall personally be able to master the fire-alarm in every particular, and every permanent man at the Central station shall be obliged to understand the fire-alarm system in order that the chief engineer may call upon any of them to attend to and repair any part of the same. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the chief engineer from employing extra linemen when necessary, or from acting promptly in any emergency.

SECT. 24. Permanent officers and men of the department shall be entitled to a vacation, without loss of pay, of fourteen days in each year, to be granted under the direction of the chief engineer.

SECT. 25. The joint standing committee on fire department, subject to the board of mayor and aldermen, shall by themselves or agent purchase all supplies in connection with the fire department, and direct all repairs of houses and apparatus; and all bills contracted for the department must receive their approval before being passed on by the committee on accounts and claims. They shall hold stated meetings at least once each month at the Central fire station, and all communications to the city government from the fire department must come through said committee, and annually at the call of the finance committee, in connection with the chief engineer, they shall make recommendations as to the amount of appropriations the wants of the department will require for the coming year.

SECT. 26. The city marshal and regular police officers shall have in charge all matters relating to the removal and protection of personal property endangered by fire, and any person entering a building or removing property contrary to the orders of the city marshal or such police officers shall be fined five dollars; and in the absence of firemen at fires from their respective department houses, the policemen in that vicinity will take charge of said houses.

SECT. 27. It shall be the duty of the chief engineer to cause all snow and ice or other obstructions to be removed from and around all fire hydrants owned by the city, so that at all times the fire department can make immediate connection of the hose to the hydrants.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF
UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT,
CONCORD, N. H.,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1903.

The Board of Education begs leave to present its forty-third annual report, embracing the financial year from March 31, 1902, to March 31, 1903. The most important change of policy during the year has been the separation of the offices of superintendent of schools and financial agent. In accordance with suggestions presented in our last annual report the board voted, in June last, to make certain amendments in the rules and regulations whereby this change might be brought about. It had constantly become obvious to the board that the rapid increase in buildings, and their size and value, necessitated a closer supervision than had been the case heretofore. Moreover the increase in the number of scholars and the diversity of their studies together with the changes in methods of better education seem to require all of the time of the superintendent of schools, without leaving the necessary opportunity for him to exercise supervision of the buildings. The board, therefore, elected Mr. Joseph T. Walker to the office of financial agent at a salary of $500, and he immediately entered upon his duties. The condition of many of the buildings required prompt and diligent attention. The nature of the financial agent's work may be seen by reference to the appended report:

The Building and Repairs Committee of the Union School District submit the following report of work done during the summer vacation from June 26 to September 8, 1902. Record of work done by the financial agent during the summer vacation of 1902 :

Committee.

This work was under the constant supervision of Mr. Walker from beginning to end, having been formally authorized by the Committee on Buildings and Repairs. In addition to superintending building and repairs the financial agent was suddenly called upon to deal with the fuel situation. The value of Mr. Walker's services were at once shown in this direction, for they were of inestimable benefit in that trying situation caused by the fuel famine. The experience of the past year has demonstrated beyond question the absolute necessity of maintaining the permanency of this office. Growing as our schools are, together with the rapid increase of buildings, it becomes the part of economy to see that they are diligently looked after and kept in the best possible condition, otherwise defects and injuries will occur, which in a short time might amount to a considerable sum to remedy.

At the opening of the fall term a change in the principalship of the High school took place. After a faithful service of twenty-one years, the longest in the history of the district, Mr. Kent resigned his position, and Frederick W. Doring, principal of the Woonsocket High school, was elected to the vacancy. Mr. Doring has had long experience in high school principalship, and is regarded as among the leading educators of New England.

At the beginning of the fall term the New Rumford building was open for occupancy, and the wisdom of the Building Committee in providing for an eight room building was at once manifest. As in other sections of Concord, so in that section the increase of the number of scholars became very marked, and the rooms were all needed for the accommodation of pupils. The school is under the principalship of Miss Luella A. Dickerman.

With the completion of the New Rumford the bonded debt of Union School district has been increased to $59,000.00—$35,000 for the New Rumford and $24,000 for the Dewey.

The increase of pupils in the High school, to which the board called attention last year, has in no wise decreased.

The accommodations in the High school have not been for many years sufficient for the pupils of Union School district, and with the increase from outside the district the situation has become a troublesome one. The situation would not be relieved at all permanently even if pupils from outside the district were denied the privileges of the school. The necessity for an enlarged building would be apparent even then. In accordance with a vote of the district, passed April 18, 1902, the board requested the former architects of the High school to prepare plans for its enlargement. Two plans have been drawn by Mr. Perley F. Gilbert, the successor of the former architects. One plan calls for the extension of the present building by wings added both east and west, the other plan calls for a separate building constructed wholly on the west end of the lot and connected with the present building by a corridor or passage. Upon examining the plans the board is of the opinion that the latter scheme is much the preferable. The annex seems better adapted, not only because of its utility, but because of the undesirable nature of the east end of the lot owing to the existence of a large reservoir; moreover, an addition of an annex would add eight suitable rooms besides a spacious basement.

The question of High school accommodations is common throughout New England. In many towns where new High school buildings have been built within the last few years the increase in attendance has more than tested their capacity, and various devices have been created in order to provide for the over-crowding. Even in our own state we see this. In Portsmouth and Nashua the conditions are similar to those in Concord. In Manchester the conditions were similar, but they were met by the construction of a large and costly High school building.

According to general estimates made by Mr. Gilbert the cost of adding wings would be from $34,000 to $37,000; the annex would cost from $51,000 to $55,000, while the raising of the second story and superimposing another story would cost probably from $38,000 to $41,000. The board has not obtained working plans, consequently the estimates are merely approximate.

Conceding that the present building is insufficient for the needs of the Union School district the question then becomes this, whether the district will vote to enlarge the present High school building. The Board of Education has long desired to install shorthand, typewriting and business book-keeping as part of the regular studies but has been unable to do so because of want of space. As matters are now it would be impracticable, if not impossible, to find place for another teacher. It is not fair to the district to make the High school primarily a college fitting institution. This is not the modern trend of education and the board does not desire to see Concord an exception in this respect. The question of admission of outside pupils is purely a matter of business. This year the receipts from sixty-eight High school pupils will be $3,060, a sum which has greatly helped out the district in the recent coal famine. The outside pupils have necessitated an outlay only to the extent of the salary of one teacher, and the estimated expenditure of $200 for books and supplies. The estimated cost of pupils in the High school exclusive of interest on the plant is closely estimated at $45.83 each. Estimating the plant at $85,000 the cost would be about $58.00 each pupil. The tuition now charged for scholars from outside the district is $45.00.

Another subject to which the board desires to call the attention of the district is the desirability of building a new school-house on the Plains. The present building is wholly inadequate for the rapidly increasing number of children, and there is no way to meet the increase except by enlargement, or by a new building. The former plan does not seem to be feasible, and would in any event be likely to prove unsatisfactory, while the latter plan, namely, a new building, would meet the present conditions and could be so arranged as to meet the probable conditions for some years to come. A substantial wooden building might, we think, be erected for a sum not exceeding $8,000, the building to be a four-room structure with two rooms finished.

The necessity of permanent improvements in the Walker school is urgent and the work should not be delayed. The increase in teachers' salaries is due not to changes in salaries but to a rule of the District whereby a teacher receives so much additional pay each year until the maximum of her grade is reached.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES R. CORNING, President,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Education of Union School District :

The aim of a school report should be to enumerate the events of the year for the purpose of acquainting the Board of Education with the condition of the schools, and to act as a permanent record for the convenience of future generations. It should also serve as a means of advising the board of needful changes that the future may be even more prolific in satisfactory results than the past. At this point I beg leave to express my gratification at the union and accord of the educational forces of the district in providing and maintaining a system of education so well received by the general public. With an earnest and sincere desire to improve upon past accomplishments, I herewith respectfully submit my seventeenth annual report, being the forty-third of its series.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE SYSTEM.

We are proud of the fact that the United States leads the world commercially. This has been brought about by many different agencies, the natural resources of the country playing an important part; but aside from everything else, the American idea as exemplified in her public school system, perfectly free and unsectarian, is no doubt the controlling factor in the equation of success. The democracy of the public school, where the children of all classes are brought to the common educational crib, will eventually determine the permanency of republican institutions. No other system can so successfully maintain the unification of the republic, "insure domestic tranquility, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

SCHOOL WORK.

GRAMMAR AND PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

One more year of untiring effort has shown positive results. Each successive year gives evidence of progress in all the different lines of legitimate school work. A school system must always be subject to change in order to adjust itself to ever-varying conditions — conditions which necessitate different methods of teaching and that demand legislation, which if allowed to lapse, would render the system inoperative. School work here deals largely with the so-called essentials. It is not my purpose to enter upon a discussion of “fads.” The popular conception of what constitutes a fad is so ill-defined that argument would meet with difficulty in finding a fair starting point. To show that our system cannot be fairly criticised for not dealing generously with the so-called essentials, I have prepared a table of close estimates showing the relative amounts of time given to each study in each grade. From this table, which may be found in the Appendix, one can learn that reading, writing, mathematics, spelling, and language, consume about two thirds of the entire time. By those who are experts in dealing with educational requirements, this is considered too great a ratio and they believe it should be largely reduced to the advantage of nature study, geography and history. From an extended experience in experimental observation, I believe more good to be derived from the study of nature in the lower grades, in proportion to the time given it, than from any other one branch. The steady progress in mathematics, noted in my last report, has suffered no abatement. The gain, due primarily to the system in use, comes also from the more intelligent handling of the subject by the teachers.

Improvement is also apparent in the way in which pupils express themselves in their written composition exercises. This consists, as regards matter — in brief, definite, comprehensive statement; as regards form — in paragraphing, capitalization, and punctuation. Much of this progress may be attributed to improved text-books, but more to the study of standard selections which form the greater part of the reading courses. Heretofore, practice in English composition has been almost wholly written work. The apparent inability of pupils to express their ideas freely in oral speech, or to relate, in proper form, anecdotes and stories which have been told them, led the superintendent to prepare a schedule of exercises to alternate with technical grammar in the eighth grade. This provides abundant practice in oral and written narration, reproduction, dictation, and storytelling in its many different forms. What the results will be cannot be determined until succeeding grades may have given us a chance for observation and comparison. It is safe to say, however, that the time is not misspent.

All the other branches are being taught as skillfully as in previous years, and are subject to such changes as improved methods may suggest.

It is proposed to hold exhibitions of school work in the various buildings at the end of next term. This used to be a popular feature of the school year, and it is confidently expected that the coming event will be in no wise inferior to those that have preceded it.

The lower schools are in urgent need of geographical, historical, and physiological charts, and more supplementary reading matter to promote the better handling of these subjects.

GRADING AND PROMOTION.

The system of grading for a long time in use in the schools of the district, has its many disadvantages and bad features. It was originally designed and put into practice for pupils of average ability, leaving the very bright and the very dull pupils to pay the tribute of lost time to his "averageship." Many have sought and suggested plans for rectifying these faults, but as yet none has been found which can obviate every difficulty. The evils of the present system may be largely overcome in our schools by a plan of semi-annual promotion for the first six grades, embodying the following good features:

1. Pupils can be admitted to school twice each year. This represents a saving of one half-year to the pupils who are not old enough to enter in September but are old enough in January.

2. A bright pupil can complete the entire course in eight years, thereby saving one year of the present course.

3. A dull pupil failing of promotion is allowed a chance of being kept back but nineteen weeks instead of one year, as under the present plan.

4. During the first half of the seventh year, nearly all pupils have the advantage of one half-year's review in all the studies.

5. At the end of the first nineteen weeks of the year, a teacher knows whether a pupil stands a chance of promotion at the end of the year, and under the present plan she is obliged to use her energy in a hopeless struggle. The proposed scheme would entirely obviate this difficulty.

6. It would require the teacher to keep herself better prepared for general teaching.

7. Pupils would receive the stimulus of promotion twice each year.

The most serious objections are :

1. A larger number of classes for the lowest grade teachers.
2. The unevenness of the classes when the change is made from one plan to the other.

I have formulated this scheme, carefully weighed its advantages and its disadvantages, and have had frequent consultations with the teachers regarding it. I am firmly convinced that a trial of the plan will prove true all that has been claimed for it.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The high school has undergone a radical change in the teaching corps since my last report. Mr. Kent, for the past twenty years master of the school, resigned at the end of the spring term. Miss Cogswell, assistant, also resigned to accept a position at Wellesley College. The building up of the standard of the school belongs in a great degree to these excellent instructors, and their worth is generally acknowledged and appreciated. The other members of the teaching corps were retained.

The board elected Mr. Frederick William Doring, of Woonsocket, R.I., as master, and Mr. Eben Fenimore Phillips, of South Dennis, Mass., as sub-master. Both of these gentlemen are earnest workers, and under their regime we hope the school will increase in popularity and broaden its field of usefulness.

A lunch counter was started in the basement during the winter term. This feature, long delayed, is in charge of Mr. Fred Emerton, and ever since its inauguration has proved its usefulness beyond measure.

The election of a sub-master was another step toward departmental teaching. Two teachers now devote their entire time to the teaching of English. The study of history has been extended to four years, but needs more adequate equipment. The school library also needs enlarging. Examinations have been instituted at irregular intervals in place of the former method. The principal has this to say in regard to the crowded condition of the school:

“The hall has been divided temporarily by curtains into three rooms, and it is necessary to keep the laboratories in almost constant use for general recitations, to the great inconvenience of the classes in the sciences. There is every indication of a still larger attendance, and a continuance of the present inadequate accommodations would seriously hamper the future progress of the school.

“To say nothing of the increased numbers, I would emphasize the fact that several improvements would have to be made to establish normal conditions with our present attendance. The biological laboratory is wholly inadequate. There are also needed a science lecture room and a properly lighted room for drawing, while to confine the laboratories to their legitimate object and to use the hall only for assembling the school, would require three additional rooms.

“The foregoing is a conservative estimate of what would be necessary to properly carry on the work of the school in its present scope. I earnestly hope, however, that the Concord High school may very soon be able to offer to its students a commercial course of the highest grade. The advantages are too obvious to require extended comment. With expert instruction and a proper equipment, it will give the opportunity to combine with a broad general education a special training of immediate value in practical life. Such a course is of itself a justification of the demand for ampler accommodations, ensuring as it will a broader field of usefulness for the school.”

MILITARY DRILL.

In many particulars this branch has had the most successful year of its history. Competent judges at the annual competitive drill pronounced the exhibition in “The School of a Soldier” and the “Manual of Arms” the finest ever presented in this city. There is now a battalion of two uniformed companies and a small un-uniformed company, and we are gratified that their general military knowledge and drill work show a gradual development. The discipline has been meritorious and the arms and accoutrements are in good condition.

It is interesting to note that Clinton Thompson, a captain, has entered the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and Clark P. Chandler, at present a sergeant of one of the cadet companies, recently received an appointment to the Military Academy at West Point.

Military drill for the girls was wisely discontinued and calisthenics substituted in its stead. The instruction of both the boys and girls has been efficient and complimentary to Major C. L. Mason, to whose zeal and skill the success is mainly due.

ATTENDANCE.

The conditions governing school attendance have not changed largely since one year ago. There is a material increase each year from which it may be inferred that the city slowly gains in population and that the schools still retain the confidence of the general public. The north end schools have been relieved by forcing pupils toward the south. If there were suitable accommodations at the Union street building it could be used to advantage. All available space at the Kimball school is utilized and pupils belonging here by right are forced to go to the Chandler and Rumford buildings in consequence of relieving the pressure from the north. The Plains school has been larger than ever before and the number of grades and more numerous classes make the conditions here the most unsatisfactory in the district. A new four-room building is sadly needed in this growing part of the city. The teacher and the pupils are earnest workers and deserve better accommodations. The new Rumford building was completed in time for the opening of the fall term. Before being occupied it was thrown open for the inspection of the public and it was generally commended as being commodious, well-constructed, and satisfactory in about every way. It certainly compares favorably with any other building of its kind in the state and is a credit to the district and the committee who built it. Eight rooms were occupied from the very beginning, and but one regular room was opened at the Chandler building. This arrangement was made in the spirit of economy. The Eastman school has gained about thirty pupils in the last year. Next year bids fair to see this increase duplicated, thus making the conditions such as to necessitate the finishing of the other room.

The attendance is kept more uniform by the strict enforcement of the truancy laws. Each succeeding year shows that the policing of the district for truants and absentees as pursued by Mr. Johnson is effective and wholesome. Tabulated statistics may be found in the Appendix.

BUILDINGS.

Few cities of its size have so many desirable school buildings as Concord. They are commodious, well heated, and for the most part well ventilated. The building equipment of a school system is an important part of its stock in trade.

The effect of a well-ordered building upon the conduct of the pupils and the general morale of school work can be appreciated fully by those who observe the every-day working of a school system. During the past year the care of the buildings has been more closely supervised than ever before, with the result that the loss to the city by a lack of proper repairs has been arrested, and if this policy is continued as it ought to be it will insure the district against serious depreciation of the value of the plant.

The use of soft coal has badly injured the interior of some of the buildings, a necessary evil which we hope may not recur.

Nothing has been done this year in the way of decorating schoolrooms. The rules and regulations forbid pupils giving anything toward this worthy object but I believe an exception should be made in its favor.

DRAWING.

We are fortunate in having had no changes in instructors or courses since last year. The aim has been to raise the standard of the work in quality. In the best schools art and manual training are closely correlated, it being evident that greater value is gained through designing and constructing than through designing alone. Without the construction both the motive and the incentive for expressing ideas are taken away. In our schools there is a serious break in hand-training between the kindergarten and the seventh grade. This can be obviated by taking time from the regular studies and devoting it to the different forms of this work. A beginning has been made in the fifth and sixth grades for the boys while the girls are at the sewing school, by giving them good drill in the study of form, good proportion, fine space relations and harmony of color through basket making. The drawing in the high school is not on a good basis but proposed changes for next year's course suggest better conditions. The studio classes have increased to fifty students, work being carried on to much better advantage in the Chandler building. The instructor joins with me in deploring the fact that nothing has been done toward schoolroom decoration. I trust I may be pardoned for renewing my appeal for aid in this meritorious work through voluntary contributions by the pupils.

Music.

This department has been conducted with the efficiency which has characterized it before. A decided effort has been made to strengthen individual work through written tests and individual singing before the entire school. The high school chorus, numbering about one hundred and twenty voices, prepared and gave to the public on February 26 "The Building of the Ship" by Lahee. Like the concert of last year it was a pronounced success and netted a small sum to add to the treasury fund.

The usual effective work has been done with the pupil teachers of the training school. A course was arranged for the kindergarten normal classes with special reference to voice training, the study of the child voice, children's songs, and melody writing for children's voices.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

The sphere of usefulness of the training school is as wide as heretofore. Its fame has forced itself beyond the city's limits. The standard gains with the advancing years and the institution still remains a forceful element in our system of education.

The primary and grammar classes of pupil teachers are much larger than they have been for the past few years. The training has been conducted upon nearly the same lines as before and the instruction has shown that power which a successful experience of many years and a true devotion to duty alone can give.

The kindergarten normal classes are well organized and thoroughly devoted to their work. The corps of lecturers has been stronger this year than last. The first class of eleven young ladies graduates next June. Their attention to work and their theoretical and unusual practical training should make them strong teachers from the start.

Some people, who have failed to acquaint themselves with the true conditions, think that school room which ought to be devoted to the accommodation of the pupils is now utilized by the training teachers. This is not so. The full amount of floor space fit for pupils' sittings is utilized by them and no more room could be had if there were no training classes. The kindergarten normal classes are not only a distinct educational acquisition to the district but also a financial investment.

SUPERVISION.

The supervision during the last year has been closer than ever before. At best the amount of time is limited enough when we consider that there are sixty-two regular teachers, and eight special teachers representing music, drawing, wood and iron working, sewing, cooking and military drill.

Divorcing the financial agency from the superintendency gave the superintendent more time and it has been employed according to his best judgment in frequent teachers' meetings and additional visits to the schools. It is expected that the coming year will see the superintendent's field of usefulness still further widened by lectures and special meetings designed to promote the general educational culture of the teaching corps.

MANUAL TRAINING.

WOOD AND IRON WORK.

The enrollment of pupils for this department is about the same as for last year. The high school sends two large and enthusiastic classes. The interest does not flag and the execution of the work is improving. This is noticeable in iron-work, wood-carving, and in the introduction of a new branch, pyrography.

At the end of the summer term Mr. Stewart, the efficient assistant, resigned to accept a more lucrative position elsewhere. Mr. George L. Fogg was elected to fill the position, which he retained until the end of the fall term when he resigned on account of ill health. Mr. Edward A. Gordon is now serving as assistant with ability. Nine pupils are making engines of various sizes, and it is proposed to give some instruction in soft metal molding and casting to a limited number. Something may be done also in Venetian iron-work, and I think it wise to take some steps toward introducing forging, for the educational value of this work is as great as any other subject being taught here. A room with a cement floor would be needed. I would also suggest that a plan of correlating this work with elementary physics be considered and, if found practicable, adopted. I still have a firm faith in the efficacy of all forms of manual training, and believe our efforts should be bent in making this work strong in every department.

SEWING.

The number of pupils enrolled in sewing at the present time is four hundred forty. The large number taking sewing led to a change of quarters in the fall term. The Chandler building offered better facilities for carrying on the work and one of the unused rooms was called into requisition.

It is to be deplored that the high school classes have become so small that only nine pupils are now enrolled. This affects seriously the advanced work which added so much to the annual exhibition of last June. Another year will bring the new departure of garment cutting and it is hoped that sufficient time will be allowed to insure its success.

It is gratifying to note the unusual absence of friction in this department, and I am pleased to report excellent work.

COOKERY.

During the fall term Miss Harriet C. Gilmore, for a number of years teacher of cookery and domestic science, resigned on account of ill health.

Her place was filled by the election of Miss Harriet D. Gerould. The work is now conducted upon the laboratory plan and is largely individual. This change called for more gas burners and other material and the method has infused new life into the pupils, making the future standard of house-keeping in Concord look much brighter. We are certainly to be congratulated that Concord is the only city of the state that now supports a department of cookery, but if it is to assume that importance which is certainly its due, better conveniences should be furnished. The room in use is so inadequate both in size and equipment as to make conditions for sanitary teaching inconsistent with the surroundings. If an annex to the high school should be built, we should make provision for a new room which should afford all the conveniences necessary for the proper handling of this work. The school is in excellent condition, the teacher earnest and competent and the pupils interested to an unusual degree.

CONCLUSION.

The schools have maintained the reasonable discipline and the scholastic standard of former years. This has not been done without earnest work, careful planning and no little anxiety on the part of all connected with the details of its execution.

LOUIS J. RUNDLETT,
Superintendent.

Mr. H. G. Sargent moved to amend the amendment by striking out the word "ten" and inserting in its place the word "twenty," and the motion was seconded, a vote taken, and the amendment to amendment was adopted.

Mr. Sturtevant accepted the amendment to the first resolution as amended, a vote taken, and the moderator declared the resolution as amended passed in the affirmative.

ART. 12. Mr. Charles J. French offered the following ordinance, and moved its adoption:

Voted, before making any contract for the furnishing of labor, materials, or supplies involving the expenditure by the Union School district of Concord, N. H., of one hundred dollars or over, the Board of Education shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, plans and specifications covering the work to be done or the materials or supplies to be furnished, and advertise for public bids in the form of sealed proposals for furnishing said labor, materials, or supplies in one or more of the papers printed in Concord, N. H., at least one week before the awarding of said contract.

No proposal or bid shall be received by the Board of Education unless the same is sealed. All proposals shall be publicly opened and read in the presence of the Board of Education, at the hour and place designated in the advertisements for bids, provided, always, that the said Board of Education may reject any or all proposals, or waive any defects when in their judgment, the interests of Union School district justify such a course.

All contracts shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

In awarding contracts for labor and material to be furnished to the Union School district, the citizens and taxpayers of the city of Concord shall be given the preference, all other considerations being equal.

Mr. John M. Mitchell moved to amend by inserting after the word "furnished," in the eighth line, the words, "in all instances when a plan and specification is practicable."

Mr. W. D. Thompson moved to indefinitely postpone the ordinance.

Motion seconded, and the motion to indefinitely postpone was adopted.

Mr. W. D. Thompson stated that the report of the building committee for the Dewey school, as printed in the annual report, having been adopted, he moved that the committee be discharged and it was so voted.

Mr. James M. Killeen moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to the Dewey School Building Committee for the able and efficient manner in which that committee had discharged the duties imposed upon the committee.

The motion was adopted.

Mr. John M. Mitchell offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, at the annual meeting of this district, holden on March 28, 1901, at which it was voted to appropriate the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) for erecting and furnishing the Rumford school building, one fifth part or six thousand dollars ($6,000) thereof to be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates within the district when the money was raised for the regular appropriation for 1902,

Voted, that as said amount of six thousand dollars ($6,000) has not yet been assessed, and in view of the amount which must be raised to liquidate the maturing bonds of the district and the amount necessary for the use of the district for the current year, it is the sense of this meeting that the resolution directing the assessment upon the polls and estates of said sum of six thousand dollars ($6,000) for the year 1902 should be rescinded, and that said amount be included in the bonded indebtedness of the district with the balance of the authorized cost of said Rumford building, and to secure this result it is hereby recommended and directed that the Board of Education call, as soon as practicable, a special meeting of the district to take action with reference to the rescinding of said resolution and authorizing the temporary loan of said amount, and ultimately borrowing the same upon the credit of the district by the issue of the bonds of the district in accordance with the provisions of chapter 197 or chapter 261 of the Laws of 1889.

A vote was taken after some discussion and the resolution was declared adopted.

The ballot having been closed at eight o'clock, as voted, the moderator appointed George A. Foster and Arthur F. Sturtevant to sort and count the votes, and reported as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	227
Necessary for a choice	114
Harlan C. Pearson had	1
Henry C. Brown	1
George H. Moses	1
S. C. Morrill	3
Susan C. Bancroft	219
Charles R. Corning	223

3. Resolved, That Henry C. Brown, Eben B. Hutchinson, and Louis C. REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF DISTRICT NO. 20, FOR THE YEAR ENDING
MARCH 31, 1903.

During the past year the schools have maintained a high standard, and while ideal conditions have not been reached there has been a continuous growth in that direction. Harmonious relations exist between all the teachers, the superintendent and the school board, and the energy of all has been conserved for the one great purposeful whole, the maintaining of a school as perfect as can be had under the conditions which the district provides, where knowledge shall be imparted according to modern methods, the mind, soul and body of each pupil trained intelligently and harmoniously, and pure ideas and high ideals of manhood and womanhood implanted. The function of the public school is constantly growing broader; wider and constantly wider with our increasing civilization is its influence and power extending, and its facilities and equipment should keep pace with its opportunities; manual training with its underlying principle of developing the whole child should be an important part of the school work, and your committee advise an appropriation for this purpose. We also urge the district to take immediate steps toward providing more school room, the number of pupils is constantly increasing and more room is an absolute necessity if the schools are to do the best work. During the past year much has been done to renovate and improve the condition of the school building, all the rooms and the basements have been kalsomined and the desks and tables refinished. In the last annual report the attention of the district was called to the unsanitary condition of the school building. Unsanitary conditions still prevail and will continue to do so till some system of ventilation is installed. The present system of heating is ill-constructed and insufficient, and until some changes are made it will be necessary to use stoves in some parts of the building. Believing it to be necessary that some competent person should supervise our schools, who shall be able to view the entire field, who shall study not one school but many, and who shall be able to unite the teachers as one body, we advise the continuance of the supervisory district relation, and commend the efforts of the superintendent to bring the school up to a high standard. We recognize with appreciation the efforts of Mr. Merriam for the moral uplift of the school and the community, and we urge the citizens of District No. 20 to consider the importance of the school as a moral force in our community and to contribute generously of their time and influence for its support.

IRA C. PHILLIPS,
HENRY C. HOLBROOK,
L. C. PRESCOTT,

Board of Education.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Education:

I herewith respectfully submit my second annual report, which is the second in the series of reports of the superintendent of schools in District No. 20, Penacook. The conditions under which the superintendent has labored during the past year have been far more favorable than those existing previous to the time of the last annual report.

Our present corps of teachers is working with a common feeling of perfect harmony and sincere good will for the best interest of the schools. This sentiment has to a certain extent found its way into the controlling impulses of the pupils and through them to the parents. This condition of pleasantness in the schools has made possible a far higher standard of work than could otherwise have been attained, yet it seems to me that there are some difficulties still remaining to impair the results of the school labors. Teachers and pupils must have behind them a united and sympathetic community. Whatever may be the individual opinions of the citizens of the district all should work together to obtain the greatest good for the pupils. The work of our public schools is far too important to admit for a moment the interference of the personal element. The will—whatever that may be—of the majority must be the law of the community and the guide of school official and should be cheerfully sanctioned by all. Not until this condition of harmony and true interest in the welfare of the schools exists can teachers obtain the best results from their pupils.

In this report I shall endeavor to briefly set forth the changes and improvements which have taken place in the schools during the past year, their present condition, and some plans for their future welfare and improvement. I take this opportunity to thank the Board of Education for the interest and support which they have extended to me in my work.

ATTENDANCE.

In my last report I called the attention of the board to the need of some by-law of the district concerning the attendance of children between the ages of six and eight. Under the present regulations children cannot be compelled to attend school until they are eight years of age. Many, however, do enter much younger, but their attendance is often very irregular and hence their progress is very unsatisfactory. A large number do not enter until the law obliges them to do so.

The results are bad and are felt throughout the whole school system. Many of those entering at six years of age are absent so much that they fail to do a sufficient amount of work to insure promotions, hence spend two and sometimes three or more years in the first grade. Thus at the very start they lose interest in their work and become discouraged.

Those who fail of promotion to the second grade and those who do not enter school until they are eight years old increase the average age so that in the first grade where it should be about six and one-half years it is as an actual fact about eight.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The purpose of a course of study is not to prescribe a certain amount of work to be done in a definite time, but rather to be a guide to pupils and teacher and show the best correlation of subjects. To be sure it should also show the amount of time necessary for the accomplishment of a definite amount of work by classes of average intelligence. However, as the capacity of every class for acquiring knowledge varies, no fixed allotment of time can be made. Our present course is so arranged and provided with supplementary lines of work that teachers can, to a large extent, use their own judgment in regard to the amount of work done by the different pupils.

Until the fifth or sixth year of a child's school life reading should be its most important study. The skill the child acquires in this branch of school work forms the base of all future knowledge and culture. This fact has had great influence upon the changes made in the course in reading. To increase the child's vocabulary and his ability to pronounce words several of the best drill readers have been added and some drill in phonics given by each of the teachers of the lower grades.

In the selection of books for supplementary reading, great care has been used to get only the best works of leading authors. The object is, of course, to form in the children a habit of reading the best literature and thereby securing for them a pleasant and efficient method of acquiring broad culture. Although several new reading books have been purchased during the year, the schools have by no means been furnished with an adequate amount of reading material, and in order to obtain the best results additions must be made from time to time.

Another important feature of a good reading course is its correlation with other subjects. Many of the books have been chosen with the express intention of supplementing geography, history, and nature study. The farther this correlation of subjects can be extended the more efficient the course.

The spiral system of teaching arithmetic has been introduced in the lower grades, and Book I of the Werner series of arithmetic is in use. The use of the other books of this series and the methods accompanying them should be extended to the higher grades as soon as possible. The Hall primer of arithmetic is used in the second grade. With a part of the grade the book has been a success; with the other part it is giving some difficulty because the children have not been sufficiently prepared. This is not the fault of any previous instruction, but is due to the overcrowded and uncertain condition of the first grade. This trouble would soon be removed if the district would make the proper attendance regulations for children between six and eight years of age, and establish a kindergarten, which recommendations are discussed at length in another part of this report.

The language course remains much the same as that of last year. The Mother Tongue, Book II, has been introduced in the sixth grade, and the Collar and Daniell's "First Year in Latin," in the ninth. Frye's Advanced Geography has been introduced in the sixth grade.

The whole course of study has been arranged with a certain definite end in view. It has seemed better to make gradual rather than sudden sweeping changes. There are two important reasons for this. In the first place any great change necessitates many new text-books, hence an additional expense which might be burdensome, while if the change takes place gradually the new and better books can replace the old worn out copies. Then again a radical change in a course of study causes a great deal of friction and readjustment, which with the slower process does not occur.

In the choice of new books great care has been used to secure only the best, and such as have been used with success in other schools of high standard. Should the present plan be carried out, another year will find many more of the best text-books now published in use in our schools.

TEACHERS AND GRADING.

The suggestions made in the last annual report in regard to the choice of new teachers has been carefully followed. All our teachers have had careful training, or several years of successful experience. The results are already manifest in the quality and quantity of the work being done in the schools. If the present standard of our teaching force can be maintained — and public sentiment should not let it fall lower — the teachers will be able to do more efficient work than they have in the past, the results will be more and more satisfactory, and a wider field of learning and culture will be opened to the pupils. The standard of any school cannot rise beyond the standard of its teachers. The weak, inefficient teacher must give way to the stronger and better qualified. That a teacher is unsuccessful in her school does not always show that she is incompetent, but simply that she is undertaking work for which she is not prepared or well adapted.

During the year there have been but few changes in the teaching force. At the beginning of the spring term Miss Lillian Stevens took up the work which had been carried on by Miss Bessie Rolfe. At the beginning of the fall term Miss Katherine McLaughlin was placed in charge of the new room opened in the engine house. There have been many difficulties in organizing and conducting this school in a room built for other than school purposes, and so far away from the central plant. Miss McLaughlin seems to have met and conquered these difficulties as they presented themselves. Miss Mildred Emery has taken Miss Bessie Kelley's place in the first grade. The other teachers who were in the schools last year are doing their usual faithful work, and citizens who visit their rooms may see satisfactory results.

When it was found necessary to place one school in a room outside of the main building, some difficulty was experienced in the choice of the grades to be moved. After careful consideration the seventh and eighth grades, numbering in all about twenty-five, were placed in the new room. This left the sixth and ninth grades in charge of Mr. Merriam. This arrangement, though the best that could be made, is not the most desirable, as it is always best to place the higher grades in charge of the principal. The first grade is, as usual, very large. In order to relieve somewhat the pressure in this room, some of the pupils who have been in the school at least one year were placed in Miss Stevens' room, where they are to continue their first grade work. Some of them, it is hoped, may be able to do the work of the second grade before the end of the year.

The conditions which confront the district in the first grade room are really serious, and should be attended to at once. The register shows an enrollment of between seventy and eighty. The crowding together in one room of such a large number is a menace to their physical health and mental development. Their ages range from five to thirteen, and their needs vary nearly the same as their ages. It is unreasonable to expect that a single teacher can do the work required. The condition should be relieved at once by the establishment of a kindergarten. The parents who have children in school have the right and should demand this much for the welfare of their children. Almost no modern school system can be found in which the kindergarten does not form an important part. It has stood the test of time and proven itself to be of great value.

There is another need much felt in the schools by both teachers and pupils, viz., a special teacher in drawing. It is hoped by all concerned that some advance will be made in this direction during the coming year. The superintendent has made some investigations in regard to the cost of securing a teacher, and finds the expense would not be great.

ACCOMMODATIONS AND REPAIRS.

In the fall the large size of the sixth grade made it impossible to use the school hallway, as was done last year. The Board of Education carefully considered the various places that might be available and found the ward-room the most suitable. Through the courtesy of the city government the room is now used for school purposes.

Closets provided with running water have been placed on the second floor of the building and a portable partition built to enclose the schoolroom. This arrangement has furnished an excellent, well lighted, well ventilated, and well heated room. In case the district does not provide more rooms by building a new schoolhouse this summer, the use of this extra room will be of great advantage to the schools another fall. It would be difficult to find a use to which a room ordinarily so unused could be put where a greater good would result to so large a number of people in such a good cause.

During the summer vacation the walls and ceilings of the rooms and hallways of the school building received a thorough cleaning and whitening. The desks and seats in Mr. Merriam's and Mrs. Holden's rooms have been restrained and the floors of all the rooms have been redressed. The building now presents a clean, wholesome appearance, which it is the pride of teachers and pupils alike to preserve.

Mr. William Farrand, who has been janitor since the opening of the fall term, has done his share to keep the building in the condition in which it should be. Mr. Farrand, both as truant officer and janitor, has given the best satisfaction in the performance of his duties.

This report would not be complete unless it contained some mention of the need of a new school building. This year the pressure was relieved somewhat by the use of the ward-room but still the seating capacity of the first grade room is taxed to its utmost. Instead of having fewer scholars another fall we may justly expect an increase of at least twenty-five and probably more. What shall be done with these pupils? Other room might be secured outside of the present school building. However it seems to me that this method of providing for the overflow will soon, if it has not already, reach the limit of economy.

A new building of at least four rooms must be built in the near future, and until it is built the work in the schools can not be satisfactory.

This need has been long felt and thoroughly discussed by the members of the district, and I think the majority realize its importance. It now remains for them to act.

CO-OPERATION.

In conclusion allow me to quote freely from an article which I have previously written. In the last annual report the object of our school system was briefly explained. Now it is well that a means should be suggested by which this object may be better attained. School officials, teachers, and pupils may do everything in their power to bring about the highest good and best results in the schools, yet their efforts will not meet with entire success unless they have the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the parents. The effort on the part of the teachers to increase the per cent. of attendance furnishes a good illustration of this fact.

The best rules and regulations for the regularity and punctuality of attendance have failed again and again, simply from careless indifference on the part of the parents. Children are allowed to be late or remain away from school on the merest pretext. The result is injurious to the individual pupil and the school as a whole—to the individual, in that habits of irregularity and indifference are formed; to the school, in that the regular work is interrupted by tardiness and completely broken up by absence.

But this is only a single case in which parents may lend support to the schools. Teachers labor day after day with untiring zeal and patience; they mold and develop the mind and character of hundreds of pupils, yet it is seldom they receive a suggestion or a word of encouragement from parents or even a visit which would show parental interest. Parents too often think that the only time when it is necessary for them to show an interest in the work of the class-room is when they can find fault.

There is no institution of modern civilization so important or so worthy of attention and care as our system of public schools. Phenomenal in its development, unlimited in its capacity for good, it stands an institution on the work of which rest the possibilities and welfare of the greatest republic and nation in the world. The broader the mental development and the stronger the character of the children who leave the public schools to become citizens, the more nearly has our educational system attained the object toward which it is striving. Then realizing its power over society in general the parents should place themselves in the true relation of friendly and kindly interest to the school, and place the school in its true relation of importance to the child. If in my work I can awaken in the citizens of District No. 20 a deeper sympathy for the welfare of the schools I shall feel that I have accomplished a great good.

Superintendent.

SCHOOL REPORT OF THE TOWN DISTRICT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH, 1903.

In presenting this, the seventeenth annual report of the town school district, we desire to say it has been our aim, as in past years, to employ the best teachers within our means, and make as few changes as possible. Generally speaking, the year has been prosperous, and our schools, for the most part, are in good working condition. We have encountered the usual drawbacks, among which the prevalence of whooping-cough has been prominent; this with other causes has made sad inroads upon the attendance in some of our schools. It was thought best to dispense with teachers of vocal music during the winter terms, that our funds might be sufficient for the usual thirty weeks of schooling.

PLAINS SCHOOL.

The summer term was taught by Miss Georgia A. Foster. Good discipline and thoroughness were in evidence at the close of the term.

The fall term was taught by Miss Nellie Brown, of Andover, N. H.

Miss Mabelle Steele was in charge of the winter term, and under her instruction good progress was made, although the attendance was quite irregular on account of sickness.

V.

STANDISH SCHOOL.

Miss Lora Tarbell did good work during the first term.

The second term was taught by Mrs. Smith, whose work was highly satisfactory.

A.

MILLVILLE SCHOOL.

The primary department was taught by Miss Ethel Paige with the best of results.

The spring and fall terms of the higher grade were taught by Miss Ida M. Robins with good success. Miss Robins resigned at the close of the fall term and Miss Eva I. French, of Pembroke, was secured for the winter term. Miss French gave perfect satisfaction, which was shown by the large number of visitors present at the examination.

A.

IRON WORKS SCHOOL.

Taught by Miss Jennie Brown who had the hearty support of all concerned. This school which has been under her care for several years is one of the best.

A.

BURROUGH SCHOOL.

This school registered thirty-two names for the fall term and only a decrease of two for the winter term.

The first two terms of the year were taught by Miss Hannah M. Stanyan, a teacher of experience who has had charge of this school during several terms.

Mr. Warren Abbott took charge of the school during the winter term. That much patient and earnest work has been done by both teachers was evinced at the closing exercises. The number of scholars here in so many grades of advancement makes the teachers' work necessarily difficult.

S.

MOUNTAIN SCHOOL.

This is one of our larger schools, twenty-five names appearing on the register, and was under the instruction of Miss Florence N. Adams, a teacher of faithfulness and ability, whose work was fully appreciated, and was attended with good results. The closing exercises were attended by over forty of the parents and friends.

V.

VIRGIN SCHOOL.

The three terms of the past year were taught by Miss Ida B. Sleeper, whose faithful service in the past has brought this school to its present excellent standing in scholarship. The closing exercises showed much interest by the number of parents present.

V.

NUMBER FOUR SCHOOL.

The spring term was taught by Miss Georgiana Webster, of Kingston, N. H. The fall and winter terms by Miss Ruth W. Favor. The closing examinations indicated good progress in all lines of work. On account of sickness, the attendance became so reduced during the winter term that it was thought best to close the school at the end of five weeks.

S.

LITTLE POND SCHOOL.

The three terms of the year have been taught by three different teachers, as follows: Spring term, Mr. Walter Fletcher; fall term, Miss Georgiana Webster; winter term, Miss Ida M. Robins. All things considered these teachers have accomplished good results. On account of sickness and other causes, the rate of attendance was very low for the winter term.

S.

TURTLETOWN SCHOOL.

Miss Bessie E. Virgin has had charge of this school for the entire school year.

Universal satisfaction was given to both parents and scholars. Good advancement was made in all branches taught.

V.

HORSE HILL SCHOOL.

Miss Carrie E. Foss, of Kingston, N. H., has had charge of this school during the past three years, with the exception of one term. Under her faithful management and good discipline, the school has come to rank among our best in point of scholarship.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONER OF HIGHWAYS.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with the ordinance, I herewith submit the annual report of the highway department for the year ending December 31, 1902.

The work of the highway department which must be taken from the appropriation for general maintenance is so extensive that it does not allow its use in any particular direction, only in patching and minor repairs. The demands for small repairs are so numerous that the department endeavors to lay out the work where it is most needed. Possibly many citizens feel that their street is neglected, but I think that if they will consider the large number of demands for small repairs they will understand the situation more thoroughly.

In regard to shade trees, I would suggest that a separate appropriation be made for removing and trimming them, as the money expended in their care does not show in street repairs. On August 11, Concord was visited by a severe cyclone which did a large amount of damage to trees throughout the city, making quite an expense to the department. Since the law establishing the office of tree warden has been passed the calls from citizens for removing and trimming trees have increased considerably. The growth of the trees has also shut in many of the street lights so that another season a large amount of trimming will be necessary to improve the lighting service.

Considerable work has been done this year grading with stone chips from the stone-sheds. With a little work on them with the steam-roller they make a very good road for heavy travel at a small expense.

In the spring the work of the new electric railway on Hall street was completed and the line broad gauged from Pleasant street south, and the streets were put back in good condition.

The change last season in the method of collecting garbage has arranged itself quite satisfactorily, and I think residents have but little trouble in following the collections. The present method of cleaning improves the general appearance of the city very much.

As far as the appropriations would admit, the usual amount of work was done on catch-basins and concrete walks and crossings.

The appropriation for permanent work was cut down this year to $5,000 so that it was impossible to do much special work. Considerable of the macadam put in a few years ago needed resurfacing. South State street from Pleasant to Thompson, North State from Warren to School, North Main from Pitman to Court, and Green from Pleasant to School, were picked up and rolled and are now in good condition.

The only piece of new macadam put in was about 450 feet at St. Paul's School and 1,505.2 yards of concrete were laid at the same place. The school paid $582.22 of the concrete. A large amount of excavating was necessary where the macadam was put in, on account of the clay, and the school kindly gave 715 loads of gravel for filling.

Both crushers and the steam-roller will need considerable repairing before ready for work next season.

The bridge over the Soucook river on the Sheep Davis road was in such condition that it was considered unsafe, and late in the fall the work of constructing a new bridge there was begun. The total cost of the bridge and repairing the abutments was $820.51, of which the town of Pembroke paid $312.06, their portion of the bridge.

The season being quite rainy, it was very favorable for the sprinkling department. The carts have all been repaired and painted and are in good condition for next season.

The team service of the department is in better condition than ever before and we now have four two-horse teams.

A record of the street repairs will be found elsewhere in the report.

I wish to extend my acknowledgements to his honor the mayor, the city council, and the city officials for their courtesy and consideration toward this department.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED CLARK,

Commissioner of Highways.

While the number of alarms exceeded all previous records, a large majority of them were minor affairs accompanied with little or no loss.

The number of fires ascribed to incendiarism was lamentably large and it is to be hoped that the court records for the coming year will show the ranks of the hoodlum element to have been decimated and the working force at the prison to have been strengthened in corresponding ratio. The apparatus is in good condition. Engine 4 was repaired and Chemical Engine 1 was repaired and painted. One harness, four Eastman holders and sixty service coats were purchased during the year. Seven hundred and fifty feet of hose were relined, but no new hose was added to the complement.

I would respectfully recommend the purchase of one thousand feet during the coming year, and also the purchase of new heating apparatus for the Central station and one pair of horses.

A local fire-alarm system, a village ladder truck and adequate water pressure at Penacook would greatly increase the efficiency of the department.

As to the further needs of the department I can but repeat the recommendations of former years. The fire-alarm telegraph system is in good condition, although, as explained in former reports, some of the circuits are abnormally large. One box was removed from and one box added to the system, and the main lines were extended one mile.

A new storage battery was purchased during the year, and repairs upon construction were consistent and thorough.

The lesson taught by the storm which visited this city upon the eleventh of August last should not be soon forgotten. The fact that the system escaped heavy loss at that time affords no reason to presume that the same good fortune will attend similar conditions in the future.

The voltage of the electric light wires has recently been practically doubled. In a great many instances the fire-alarm, telephone and light wires occupy positions upon the same poles, the fire-alarm wires having the right of way at the top. The crossing or intermingling of these wires is liable to be followed by far reaching and disastrous consequences.

The best method of protection is, of course, afforded by the underground system, but as the time when this will be accomplished is probably, to say the least, remote, the minds of the men in whose care these wires are placed naturally seek the next best means of protection. In my opinion the highway commissioner should be vested with the authority to condemn and remove any and all unsound trees which can by falling toward any point of the compass reach into or across highways traversed by these wires, whether said trees stand upon public or private land. It matters not what associations may be connected with a particular tree tending to make its removal regretted or what illustrious personages may have been sheltered by its branches, if unsound and carrying the element of danger mentioned above it is a menace and should be removed.

No one regrets more than the undersigned the fact that the expenditures of this department exceeded the appropriation, but at the time the appropriation was made it was impossible to foresee the conditions which subsequently arose. The reason therefor can be ascribed neither to carelessness nor extravagance. It was simply unavoidable.

During the month of September I had the honor to attend the convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers held at New York City, and I wish to extend my thanks to your honorable body for the opportunity afforded me upon that occasion to learn.

Respectfully submitted.

W. C. GREEN,
Chief Engineer.

January 29, 7 A. M. Upon the above date and at the time stated, it was discovered that the steel ceiling in Sullivan Bros.' drug store, corner Main and Pleasant streets, was discolored, evidently from heat. Investigation proved that the brickwork under the boiler on the second floor had been overheated, burning a hole through the floor and charring two floor timbers. At the time of the discovery there was no fire in existence, it having apparently died out through lack of draft. It was a fortunate escape from a disastrous fire. Loss trifling. No claim for insurance filed. No alarm given.

THE FIRE-ALARM TELEGRAPH

is the "Gamewell" patent. It embraces 39 miles of wire.

On the lines are 39 fire-alarm boxes belonging to the city, and 9 private boxes,—in all 48. There are three alarm bells, one of 3,724 pounds (bell-metal), one of 3,740 pounds (bell-metal), and one of 2,000 pounds (American steel). There are also 16 mechanical tappers, 40 direct-action tappers, one four-circuit repeater, and four indicators.

The battery consists of 228 storage battery cells for the lines, and 34 open circuit battery cells for other electrical purposes.

The alarm system was installed in 1880 by the Gamewell Fire-Alarm Telegraph Company.

DIRECTIONS FOR GIVING AN ALARM.

To obtain the key to the box break the glass in the key box located beneath the alarm box.

In each box there is a small bell called a "tell-tale," designed expressly for the purpose of informing you whether an alarm is being transmitted, the instant you open the door.

Open the box, and, if this bell is not heard, pull down the hook once only and let go.

But if this bell should be heard it would indicate that another box had been pulled and it would be useless to attempt to pull another until the one already pulled had performed its mission.

Wait until twenty seconds have elapsed after the "telltale" has stopped ringing, close the door, which will restore the armature to the position it left when the door was opened.

Open the door, pull down the hook once only and let go. Should there be no response, pull it again.

Then, should there be no response, go to the next box.

Unless your presence is most urgently required at the scene of the fire, remain at the box to direct the department.

Never open the box or touch anything pertaining to it except in case of fire.

Never give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance.

Be reasonably sure that there is a fire before giving an alarm.

Never give an alarm for a chimney fire unless there is imminent danger of the building catching.

The chief engineer shall examine all places where shavings and other combustible materials may be collected or deposited, and cause the same to be removed by the tenants or occupants of such places, or at their expense, whenever in his opinion such removal is necessary for the security of the city against fires.

SECT. 5. In the absence of the chief engineer, the next assistant engineer in rank, who may be present, shall have the powers and perform the duties of the chief engineer and the seniority in rank of the engineers shall be determined by the board of engineers at their first meeting.

SECT. 6. The foreman of each engine, hose, and hook and ladder company, immediately after every fire at which said company may have attended, shall examine into the condition of the fire apparatus belonging to his respective company, and report any deficiency which may exist to the chief engineer. He shall keep, or cause to be kept by the clerk of his company, exact rolls, specifying the time of admission, discharge, and age of each member, and accounts of all city property entrusted to the care of the several members, and of all cases of absence and tardiness, in a book provided for that purpose by the city, which rolls and record books are always to be subject to the order of the chief engineer and mayor. They shall also make, or cause to be made, to the chief engineer, true and accurate returns of all members, with their ages, and of the apparatus entrusted to their care, whenever called upon so to do.

SECT. 7. The foreman of each company shall, under the direction of the chief engineer, have charge and management of his company at fires; the assistant foreman shall assist the foreman in the discharge of his duties, and act as clerk of the company, and in the absence of the foreman assume his authority. They shall be permanently engaged and devote their whole time to the department, and sleep in their respective hose houses at night; and for the proper execution of all duties required of them shall be subject to the direction of the chief engineer.

SECT. 9. It shall be the duty of every engine, hose, and hook and ladder company, to have its engine, hose, and other apparatus, cleaned, washed, oiled, reeled and housed immediately after its return from any fire or service, and at all times to maintain the same in good condition, and the members of the several companies shall perform any necessary duties which the chief engineer or their respective foreman may direct.

will forward their pay-rolls to the board of engineers for approval and after the action of said engineers and the approval of the city auditor and the committee on accounts and claims, said pay-rolls shall be passed over to the city tax collector, under whose sole direction all sums for services of call firemen shall be disbursed.

SECT. 12. No charge for extra services will be allowed any member of the department unless upon an order of a member of the board of engineers.

SECT. 13. No engine, hose, or hook and ladder carriage shall be taken to a fire out of the city without permission from the chief engineer, except steamer Pioneer, which may be taken to any fire in the village of Penacook, nor shall any apparatus of the fire department be taken from the city except in case of fire, without permission from the board of mayor and aldermen; and in sending any apparatus to aid in extinguishing fires in neighboring localities, the chief in all cases will authorize his assistant next in rank available to take charge of the direction of such apparatus, and not allow any fireman, at such an emergency, to leave the city, except such a number as is actually required to man the apparatus, and no member to leave without permission or direction from the chief engineer.

SECT. 14. It shall be the duty of engineers and firemen, whenever there is an alarm of fire in the city, to repair immediately to the place of such fire, wearing a suitable badge, and the engineers shall take proper measures that the several engines and other apparatus be arranged and duly worked for the speedy and effectual extinguishment of the fire. The engineers shall inspect and make themselves familiar with all shops, hotels, tenement blocks, and all public buildings, halls, churches, schoolhouses, and asylums once in each six months, and study the location of all hydrants and reservoirs in the city, and generally inform themselves in all matters pertaining to their duties as engineers. No engineer shall interfere with or attempt to give orders relative to the location or use of a line of hose, when he has ascertained that another has command of it, unless by consent of the engineer in command of it, or by orders of the officer in command of the fire; and it shall be his duty to inquire if there is an officer in charge.

SECT. 15. For each absence from fire, or neglect of duty, the chief engineer, the assistant engineers, and engineers of steamers shall be fined three dollars, and each other member of the department one dollar; provided, however, that any fireman liable as above may in case of sickness have power of substitution by giving notice, each assistant engineer to the chief, each foreman to an engineer, and each other member to the foreman of his company. All fines shall be paid to the clerks of respective companies at the first regular meeting after they are incurred. The clerks of companies shall disburse the fines to substitutes, answering for absent members in cases where there were substitutes. In cases where there were no substitutes the fines shall be paid to the city.

SECT. 16. Any volunteer company using the apparatus of the city at any fire shall be under the control and command of the chief engineer and his assistants, agreeably to the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

SECT. 17. The department shall appear for public parade, drill and inspection at such times as the chief engineer and committee on fire department shall order, for which purpose three hundred dollars can be expended annually. The companies in Wards 1, 2, and 3, will attend by invitation and voluntarily. Each company in the department under the direction of the chief engineer or assistants shall take out their respective engines and apparatus for exercise and drill as often as he shall direct, such exercise and drill to take place in public, not oftener than once a month, and at least once in two months, between the first of April and November.

SECT. 18. The engineers shall have control of all persons appointed to serve in any company of the fire department and power to direct and control the labor of all persons present at any fire. An engineer may and shall cause any fire deemed by him to be dangerous in any place to be extinguished or removed.

SECT. 19. The engineers may establish such regulations respecting the kindling, guarding, and safe-keeping of fires, and for the removal of shavings and other combustibles from any building or place, as they shall think expedient. Such regulations shall be signed by a majority of the engineers. Such regulations shall be approved by the mayor and aldermen, recorded by the city clerk, and copies attested by him posted up in two or more places in the city thirty days, when they shall take effect. Penalties not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense may be prescribed by the engineers for the breach of such regulations, and such regulations shall remain in force until altered or annulled.

SECT. 20. The board of engineers may from time to time make and enforce such regulations for the government of the department as may be deemed proper, subject to the approval of the board of mayor and aldermen.

SECT. 21. He shall personally be able to master the fire-alarm in every particular, and every permanent man at the Central station shall be obliged to understand the fire-alarm system, in order that the chief engineer may call upon any of them to attend to and repair any part of the same. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the chief engineer from employing extra linemen when necessary, or from acting promptly in any emergency.

SECT. 24. Permanent officers and men of the department shall be entitled to a vacation, without loss of pay, of fourteen days in each year, to be granted under the direction of the chief engineer.

ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS.

ARTICLE 1. REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

To the City Council :

The Board of Water Commissioners has the honor to submit the following report for the year 1902 :

The accompanying report of the superintendent contains the details of the work of the department for the year and renders an extended report from the board unnecessary.

The present condition of our system is highly satisfactory, both as regards the quantity and quality of the supply and physical condition.

The work of replacing the original cement-lined pipe with cast-iron has been continued, and the coming year will practically mark the completion of that work in the territory bounded on the north by Pleasant, on the east by South Main, on the south by West and on the west by South Spring streets, besides relaying a section on North Main street, north of Chapel street.

The cottage near the dam has been moved to the east side of the dam and the old barn removed and the grounds graded, thus removing the appearance of danger of contamination of the supply from that source.

The policy of the board has been to preserve the purity of the supply in every possible way and to continue the work of laying cast-iron pipe where most needed as far as the means at its disposal would permit.

It is hoped that in the future the earnings of the system will pay the expenses of maintenance, the interest on the water bonds, allow the expenditure of ten or fifteen thousand dollars annually for renewals and extensions, and pay the instalments of the bonds as they mature.

The board desires to express its commendation of the faithful service of the superintendent and his assistants in each and every department.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY H. DUDLEY,
NATHANIEL E. MARTIN,
SOLON A. CARTER,
OBADIAH MORRILL,
JOHN WHITAKER,
HENRY E. CONANT,

SERVICE-PIPES.

There have been laid during the year and connected with the main pipes, 65 service-pipes, consisting of

There have been discontinued, 12; whole number in use at the present time, 3,331; total length of service-pipes, 78,116 feet, or 14.79 miles. We have placed 207 service-boxes at the curb on old services.

We have set 68 meters during the year; 7 have been removed, making the total number now in use, 1,203.

The following table shows the height of water in Penacook lake on the first day of each month:

January	184.80	July	184.90
February	184.85	August	184.90
March	185.05	September	184.90
April	185.00	October	185.10
May	185.05	November	185.15
June	184.90	December	185.15

The lowest point reached during the year was on September 26, being 184.60; the highest was on December 17, 185.50; mean height, 184.98, which was 1.12 feet higher than the mean height for the year 1901.

The water has been running over the overflow through the entire year, except eight days in February and five days in September.

We have replaced nearly two and one half miles of old cement-lined pipe with cast-iron, also increasing the size of the mains. There still remain of the original cement-lined pipe laid in 1872, 12.05 miles, and I would respectfully urge that the work of relaying be continued as fast as the income of the works will allow. There are also in use 3.53 miles laid in 1882, and 9.51 miles laid in 1887, all of cement-lined pipe, but according to the excellent record of the original mains these will be of good service for several years after the older pipes have been replaced.

We have moved the cottage at Penacook lake across the road, and built a new stable according to your directions; the cottage needed considerable repairing inside, which was done, a piazza was added and the buildings are now in good condition. The old barn was moved away and the grounds graded, making that end of the lake much more attractive.

The water in the lake continuing high, we were obliged to cut the brush and trees along the shore up to high water line and shall continue the work this winter. The wood which we cut is used at the pumping station and shop.

I would call your attention to the fact that our pump has now been in use eleven years, and while it has furnished excellent service with very little expense for repairs, it would seem advisable to consider the matter of some auxiliary power, as an accident would at least cause anxiety to the department as it might shut off the entire high service, including St. Paul's School and the fire service in Main street.

I wish to thank your board for many courtesies extended; and I also wish to express here, both for myself and the employees of the department, gratitude to Messrs. Fiske and Hood for kindness during their term of service. During the ten years of Mr.

Fiske's presidency we have always felt free to ask and safe to follow his counsels; particularly have I personally appreciated his wise guidance and staunch support through the varied experiences and difficulties of a water department.

Respectfully submitted,

V. C. HASTINGS,
Superintendent.

CITY ENGINEER.

REPORT OF CITY ENGINEER.

OFFICE OF THE CITY ENGINEER.

CONCORD, N. H., December 31, 1902.

To the City Council:

In accordance with the ordinance creating this department its tenth annual report is herewith submitted for your consideration, together with a statement of the monies expended on sewer construction and maintenance.

The work of this department has been carried on with the usual force, and to their cheerful attention to the duties assigned them is due, in a large measure, whatever of success has attended our efforts.

We are not unmindful of the co-operation of the mayor and the city council together with the heads of the different departments, with whom our relations have been most pleasant, and to whom our thanks are due.

All services required by the city departments have been rendered as promptly as possible with the small force employed.

A map of the city has been prepared for publication by the city history commission, which map is principally made from actual surveys, but some portions of it had to be filled in from data secured from other sources, but we believe the information from outside sources is as reliable as can be obtained until such time as the general survey of the city can be completed. Such time as was available was spent on extending the general survey in the outlying sections of the town.

There has been added to the equipment of this department one eighteen-inch wye level, which by practicing the strictest economy was purchased from funds of the annual appropriation.

The employees of this department during the past season were : Frank W. Brown, who resigned in April; Horace P. Edgett, who succeeded Mr. Brown and remained until October first, as assistant engineers, and Harry C. Hill, transitman; Edward J. Murphy, Carl D. Kennedy, and George H. Barber, rodmen.

Mr. N. W. V. Matheson was employed the latter part of December and is still with us.

The expenses of this department the past season were as follows :

Paid engineer and assistants	$2,428.65
for supplies and level	265.95
repairs	23.50
livery, car fares, express, and postage	234.60
fuel	50.00
	<hr/>
Total	$3,002.70
Appropriation	3,000.00
	<hr/>
Overdrawn	$2.70

SEWERS.

The sewers in the St. Paul's School sewerage precinct have been completed and in operation for some months. The small sizes of pipe used in this precinct caused some unfavorable comments to be made by the taxpayers in it, as they had supposed that the "combined" system was to be installed instead of the "separate" system, but no complaints as to lack of adequate service have been received by this department since their completion. Three flush tanks are connected with this system and are in operation. Their water supply is taken from the city mains, and the precinct pays a special rate for water used in them.

The sewers in this precinct were built under contract with Charles L. Fellows & Co., the contract price for same being $5,700; extra work amounting to the sum of $5 was allowed and paid in addition to the contract price. No charge was made, to this precinct, for inspection during the season of 1902, as one of the assistants from the engineering department attended to this duty.

In the city precinct minor repairs have been made, the spring and fall flushings have been thoroughly done, and some small new laterals laid, as shown on the following pages of this report.

One common cause of trouble with small laterals has been the stoppage of them by sticks placed in the catch-basins by children; these sticks would remain in the catch-basins until showers or rain-storms floated them into the street sewer, where, if they were not too long to turn in the main pipe they would float away and no damage would be done; but if too long to turn in the street pipe they would lodge partially in the main and the balance of their length in the basin connection, and would then catch any floating substances. This would continue until some party complained of flooded basements or poor service, and upon investigation we would find the difficulty at the catch-basin connection.

The remedy for this trouble would lie in the use of some catch-basin trap which would not admit sticks long enough to do damage. Such traps are on the market.

Nothing has been done in the East Concord precinct either in the line of repairs or extensions.

In the West Concord precinct there has been built an extension of the North State street sewer in the Sewall's Falls road; also a twenty-inch outlet sewer from a point near the old kit factory property to the Merrimaek river, which outlet combines the three old outlets at this point that emptied into Rattlesnake brook and at times caused complaints from people in their vicinity. This sewer should remove all cause for future complaints and leave the brook in a much better sanitary condition in times of drouth.

The twenty-inch outlet was built under contract with Mr. John Walker, of Newmarket, N. H. The contract price amounted to $3,034. No extra work was allowed. The inspection on this work was furnished by the engineering department.

A statement of the expenditures in this precinct will be found in this report.

PENACOOK PRECINCT.

No extensions have been made in this precinct during the past season.

The sewers have been flushed and some repairs made.

A statement of the amounts expended will be found on the following pages of this report.

The cost of sewers constructed the past season has been somewhat in excess of the usual price, caused chiefly by the scarcity of labor, together with the general increase in price of materials used. We have never found it so difficult to procure labor since our connection with this department as it was during the season of 1902. The demand for labor of all classes was in excess of the local supply, and at times we were seriously handicapped. All things considered, the cost of the work will compare favorably with that in other cities.

There should be a general revision of our entire sewer system in the city precinct in the near future, as we have some portions of it that are not properly proportioned to drain the areas that have been added to the districts which they were originally designed to accommodate.

I would suggest that some definite steps be taken towards adopting a general plan for our sewers, to be followed in future changes or extensions, and that the services of some competent consulting engineer be secured to co-operate with your engineer in making a thorough study of the situation and preparing some definite plan for your consideration.

This is a matter where we should obtain the best advice to be had and adopt the most feasible methods of construction.

Some of our districts can now be provided with sewers that will be adequate for any future growth, as they have reached the limit for area that can be drained, if the old districts are maintained with their present outlets. Still, it may seem best upon a thorough study of the whole question, to arrange the main outlets in a different manner and combine more districts, or possibly divide into smaller sections some of the areas draining through one outlet.

It is not the idea of your engineer to at once expend large sums of money upon the work of reconstructing the entire system, but rather to have some complete and definite plan at hand for any and all future extensions or changes.

Your serious consideration of this question is of importance to the city's sanitary condition.

As clerk of the committee on sewers and drains, I have collected and deposited with the city treasurer, for which I hold his receipts, the sum of $51, for rent of pumps and hoister and the sale of old materials.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF PLUMBERS.

To the City Council:

The third annual report of the board of examiners of plumbers, for the year 1902, is herewith submitted.

The organization of the board remains the same as in 1901.

During the past year the board has held nineteen meetings, twelve regular and seven special.

We have examined during the year seven candidates for journeymen's licenses, all of whom have successfully passed and received their licenses.

The total receipts for the year, for fees and renewal of licenses and certificates, were $25.00. The cost of materials for examination was $10.64.

Your examiners would renew their previous recommendations and respectfully suggest that some suitable provision be made in the new city building for the practical work of this board; the city engineer's office is not the proper place for such work and has not the proper fittings, it also interferes with the work of that department.

The following is a list of all the registered plumbers, given in the order in which they appear on the register:

MASTER PLUMBERS.

W. Arthur Bean, certificate renewed.
Seth R. Hood, " "
Willis H. Robbins, " "
William A. Lee, " "
Benjamin H. Orr, " "
Richard J. Lee, " "
George A. Harwood, " "
Michael J. Lee, " "
Albert S. Trask, " "
Edward H. Randall, " "
Frederick Booth, " "
G. Arthur Nichols, license renewed.
Charles W. Bateman, " "

NUMBER OF CERTIFICATES RENEWED.

Master plumbers,	11
Employing plumbers	4
Journeyman plumbers	11

making a total of forty-three names on the register, holding licenses or certificates issued during the year.

SANITARY DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

To His Honor the Mayor and City Council:

So far as any serious epidemics or other unusual occurrences are concerned, the past year has been a rather uneventful one for the board of health. The following report comprises the general work of the board for the year ending December 31, 1902, together with a report of the work done under the department of milk inspection.

The membership of the board and its organization have remained the same as in 1901. Mr. Palmer, as sanitary officer, has rendered the same efficient service as in the past, and the board wishes to express its appreciation of his zeal and energy.

The general health of the city for the past year, as measured by the numerical standard of the death-rate, was not quite so satisfactory as in 1901, the total deaths in 1902 being 381, or 13.63 per thousand population, as against 352, or 13.11 per thousand in 1901. The number of deaths from the different diseases, the number in each of the different wards, etc., will be found in the detailed report of the sanitary officer.

The plumbing law has now been in force long enough so that its good results are becoming apparent, and the general character of the work done in this city will compare favorably with that of any city of similar size. Plans and complete records of all work done are kept on file in the office of this board. Undoubtedly the plumbing ordinance has contributed very materially to the sanitary welfare of the city.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Since sanitary measures have a most decided effect in diminishing this class of diseases, their presence or absence is a good criterion of the general healthfulness of the city; in fact a better one than the general death-rate, which simply gives us the number of cases of sickness which ended fatally, but no idea of the duration thereof or of the number of persons temporarily incapacitated. During the past year Concord has been especially fortunate in this respect, there being but twenty-nine cases of diphtheria, two of which were fatal; six cases of scarlet fever, twenty-seven of measles, and two of smallpox, none of which were fatal.

Of the two cases of smallpox the first was discovered May 21 in the office of a local physician to whom the patient had applied for treatment. A consultation was held, and it was decided to remove the patient at once to the isolation hospital on the Plains. The boarding-house where the man had resided since his arrival from Boston, about ten days previous, was immediately fumigated and his roommate vaccinated and kept under observation until he made his escape to Providence, R. I., where he developed a mild case of varioloid, his vaccination having modified the disease. No further cases resulted from these, and the patient on the Plains finally made a good recovery and was discharged at the end of seven weeks.

The other case of smallpox was that of a child at Penacook, discovered the last day of the year and immediately removed to the isolation hospital in Boscawen. This was done as Boscawen already had several patients in their hospital and could take care of one more at much less expense than that for which we could open our hospital.

We can only attribute our freedom from this disease to the fact that as a rule our citizens either from choice or because of the requirements of their employers are well protected by vaccination. This work, taken up last year for the first time in a systematic manner among our school children has been continued in the same way this year under the supervision of the health officer. It is but courtesy to mention here that this work has been greatly facilitated, and much assistance rendered to the board, by the hearty co-operation of the truant officer, Mr. Johnson.

TYPHOID FEVER.

Subject to limitations and sources of error the presence of typhoid fever may be taken as an index to the purity of a city's water and milk supply. During the past year there have been twenty-three cases of this disease reported, three of which resulted fatally. Thirteen of these cases occurred in September; eight were in ward 7, and four were in ward 4. On investigation in the families where these cases occurred, no apparent source of contamination could be found, either with the milk or the water supply, but this does not necessarily mean that there was no such source. The board recognizes that typhoid is a preventable disease and one that usually carries off people in the prime of life when they are of most value to the community, and is doing and will continue to do all that is possible to limit its spread.

BARBER SHOPS.

There is little doubt in the minds of those who have given much thought to the matter that barber shops furnish a fruitful source of infection. The barber practically never sterilizes his instruments, or when he does it is in such an incomplete manner as to be of little practical value, and only serves to give a false sense of security. The common use of the towel, the magnesia block and the astringent pencil should be stopped, as well as several other such practices. It is time that some attention should be given to these things and that they should be reached through proper legislation licensing each shop and providing some form of inspection.

INSPECTION OF MILK.

Inspection of milk in dairies for the year 1902 has been conducted as regularly and as thoroughly as the limited appropriation set aside for that purpose would permit. Two hundred and ninety-one samples of milk were collected and examined, and forty-five dairies were inspected. In the examinations of milk made, the average per cent. of cream was 4.25%, of solids exclusive of fat 8.68%, and total solids 12.93%. It will be noticed that the average per cent. of cream runs high, while the per cent. of solids exclusive of fat run low; but the total solids give a fair average. This showing is accounted for in this way, that dairymen in general strive to get cows that will produce milk rich in cream and of good quantity, the matter of solids being completely ignored. The public are to an extent chargeable with blame on this point, as they have insisted on this quality of milk. Milk solids are to an extent essential to the maintenance of the normal functions of the body. The law wisely demands a milk much higher in solids exclusive of fat than our milk will ordinarily test, and it is the intention of the board to improve the milk in this respect; this is no mean undertaking and will require some years of careful attention to accomplish. Public sentiment, in the meantime, must be taught that milk to be a food, well-balanced in its chemical constituents, must contain more of solids exclusive of fat, and less fat.

Our experience in the past year has taught us that milk dealers do not exercise the proper amount of care in the distribution of their milk, neither is there a proper amount of cleanliness observed. There is so much detail that has to be watched by the inspector that frequent inspections are necessary to detect frauds and adulterations. We are keeping an accurate account of all inspections, both of the milk and of the dairies, and by this record we are better able to look up the standing of each man.

We have been hampered considerably in obtaining a good collector, as it requires a man with considerable tact and experience. The inspection of farms has been taken up in a small way and enough has been learned to convince the board that the sanitary conditions are not what they should be, and that a lot of hard and persistent work should be put in along this line. Out of forty-five dairies inspected only five came up to the requirements. Many of the sanitary evils could be eliminated if owners of dairies would only exercise a minimum amount of care and slight expenditure of money.

REPORT OF THE SANITARY OFFICER.

To the Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—It is my pleasure to present to you my tenth annual report as your sanitary officer, which embraces the entire work of this department, except the milk inspection, for the year ending December 31, 1902.

This work has been fruitful in the betterment of sanitary conditions all along the line and throughout the entire city.

The general health conditions of the city have been good during the year as compared with previous years, as will be observed by reference to the mortuary table herein presented.

The total number of deaths during the year was 381, including all who died at public institutions coming here for treatment, but are not included in making up the death-rate.

It is with a good deal of personal pride that I refer to some of the reforms accomplished in the interest of public health during the past ten years. The removal of sixteen hundred privies and substitutes of water-closets, the licenses of garbage teams and control of receptacles, the inspection and tests of plumbing, the establishment of the Foster Ward at the Margaret Pillsbury General Hospital, where a large number of contagious and infectious diseases can be treated coming from localities and families too poor to afford proper facilities for the management and treatment of such diseases, the free distribution of diphtheria antitoxin to the afflicted poor, the frequent fumigation of schoolhouses; also the fumigation of cases of death from tuberculosis, and assistance given the poor who are placed in quarantine when necessary, and deemed a legitimate expense for the protection of the public health and are not made paupers thereby.

The law giving the board of health the authority to enforce vaccination in schools, and many other minor reforms, have been put into effect, which has enabled us to put the health department in a better position to protect the lives of the citizens of our city than has been possible heretofore.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the City Council:

The trustees of the public library present herewith the report of our efficient librarian, which gives a comprehensive view of the work that has been accomplished and the prospective benefits that will result if the library is well supported. An examination of her report discloses some of the needs of the library — as, for instance, the need of more room. This is a necessity which is daily growing more urgent and which will demand and require practical attention in the near future if the benefits of the library are to be fully and adequately enjoyed by its numerous patrons.

The librarian's suggestion in regard to the use of the money derived from fines and the sale of catalogues seems to be a reasonable one, and it is hoped it will receive your favorable consideration.

CONCORD, December 31, 1902.

REPORT OF THE CITY LIBRARIAN FOR 1902.

To the Board of Trustees of the Concord Public Library:

GENTLEMEN,—The notable thing about the year's work at the library has been the increased use of the reference room. Time was when the only clubs ladies belonged to were literature classes which began with the study of Chaucer and ended with Gray's "Elegy." Now women everywhere are studying everything, and our townswomen are not behind any one in the pursuit of knowledge. Each hour of each day is sacred to some club, and the members thereof largely prepare their lessons therefor in our reference room. Is not that gratifying? The diversity of lines along which clubs work has caused a general dusting of our non-fiction books; many works on prehistoric America have been used for the first time in a decade, and there has even been a waiting list for Smithsonian Reports. On the other hand, a contrasting demand has been for the current magazines which are wanted by those writing on topics as modern as "Contemporaneous American painters."

Besides the club use of the library thus inadequately mentioned, its use by the schools deserves description. On the reference room table are rows of books labelled with different teachers' names and consisting of volumes selected by those teachers for consultation by their pupils. For instance, a principal who teaches American history has twenty-five volumes selected — Fiske, Lodge, Parkman, Justin Winsor, etc. — and has marks put in at pages where there is a live thought he wants assimilated. High school pupils come across the street, by permission, in school hours to this room for work, and if the library is thus privileged to become a higher school, we realize it is owing to the co-operation of the teachers in the city. Not only are pupils thus introduced to the weightier books, but they are required to read many on our shelves which make for general culture, and it is owing to teachers' requirements that some of Scott, Dickens, and Thackeray are going to be known to some of this generation. Pupils who enter for the annual prize speaking contest do excellent work in looking up material for their efforts, particularly those who prepare original declamations.

With an assistant in the reference room interested to help all comers, with every shelf laden with books labelled for some special club or class, and with every chair taken, we realize keenly that more and better reference work could be done in a room four times the size of the present one. A little girl was lately caught just in time as she was coming away from the reference room because there was no vacant seat there. It is not unreasonable if a lady complains that as she is trying to get into the spirit of an art critique, she has to rub elbows literally with a boy cribbing a composition on "Sports, Ancient and Modern." A library wants to be a beehive of industry, but it does not want to be a jumble, and we sometimes feel we are getting too thick to have the true library atmosphere.

Yet a crowded building is not the only drawback a library can have. A poor location would injure its usefulness in a community. One has only to go, for instance, to the rather inaccessible and gloomy library in Manchester to understand what up-hill work the librarian there has to do in order to attract just such patronage as comes naturally to us here, where the ideal proximity of schoolhouse and library, and the central, sunny situation of the latter must be credited with much of our desirable custom above recounted.

With several hundred dollars less to spend than last year, our purchases have not been noteworthy, excepting possibly the New International Encyclopædia, bought with the interest on the Cogswell fund. Though unable to buy expensive books, we have tried to buy timely ones. This does not mean that the commercial spirit, inquiring "Who will read this?" has governed our purchasing so much as the query,

"Is this a book which a general library of this size in this particular town ought to possess?" We hear of two new books on the same subject; it is made a matter of conscience to puzzle out which is the better one for our library to buy. Sometimes light is thrown in an unexpected way. For example, Abbot's "American Merchant Ships and Sailors," and Marvin's "American Merchant Marine," appear this winter and cover the same ground. I ponder over the style and tables of contents of both, and the clerk in the bookstore volunteers: "Judge Corning took both home and kept Abbot's." Knowing our mayor to be an authority concerning works on American history, I do not hesitate to suggest Abbot's to my book committee as the one to purchase.

We have several times during the year availed ourselves of our privilege of drawing books for borrowers from the Public Library and the General Theological Library of Boston. Some teachers preparing for Dartmouth examinations were thus enabled to get some rare books they needed, which our library could not afford to own permanently.

In connection with this subject of books which the library would like to own but cannot, I wish to quote from the Salem, Mass., librarian who says, "I would suggest to persons interested in special classes of books that a very small fund would enable the library to build up departmental libraries which would be a credit to the library and of use to readers. For example, the interest of $1,000 annually expended for music would soon give us a very creditable collection, and a gift of $5,000 would enable us to build up a valuable fine arts department. All books bought with funds given the library would bear the name of the donor on the book-plate."

The Library Art Club has periodically sent us exhibits, and while pictures are plentiful in store windows and magazines, there is no museum in town to show intelligently made collections of views, and therefore the library feels justified in spending five dollars a year to give this stimulus to the higher tastes of the community. An exhibit of the paintings in the National Gallery at London appealed to all, as was to be expected, but it was a happy surprise to see the hold the photographs of the Sistine Chapel took upon people as they came and went. Even the children were arrested by the power of the Michael Angelo frescoes.

Yet no feature should be introduced into a library which would prevent people from thinking primarily of books in connection with it. A public library ought to implant such a confidence in the ability of books to instruct, delight and inspire that any townsman in need of these benefits would instinctively think of finding them in books. I am not sure that a library better have a lecture hall or an art museum attached. Certainly it ought not to be so zealous in showing it is up-to-date as to become a variety show, and it ought not, in spite of due interest in children, to become a kindergarten.

It may seem to many as if our wish for a children's room contradicted the above. But a children's room would not be a playground. An account of a week of work in the children's room at the Providence, R. I., public library proves conclusively that such a department need not lessen the usefulness and dignity of a library.

At present the best magazines in our reading-room are often appropriated by the little folks. I recently found three boys, not one of whom could read, contentedly holding upside down the current numbers of the "Century," "McClure's" and "World's Work." On a busy afternoon this misappropriation might go on for some time before we had leisure to discover and remedy it. And lately a small girl, required to do the school's collateral reading, and taken by the title "A Fool's Errand," which seems to have a strange fascination for all whether they are in the first or the eighth grade, asked if that "Tom Fool Errand" was "right for little girls?" These same juveniles, turned adrift in a children's room, would find only the material suited to them and not flounder out of their depth. With all the noble stateliness or intimate delights a public library can maintain, it is at best a poor foster-mother to a child who has not grown up in a father's library. And with upspringing Tabard Inns and Booklovers libraries, the next generation of children will not have had even a grandfather's library to browse in.

During the year several hundreds of children have been to our so-called boys' room, but there should be more solid attractions and more careful surveillance in a room which they frequent; and our little basement room is so cold in zero weather and so flooded during thaws that we then have to deny the children access to it, even the little fellow who urged that he had on rubber boots.

We of the library staff, feeling that with the pressure of work we might lose the spirit of a library while fulfilling its mechanical duties, have a literature lesson every week, and from time to time put ourselves through examination papers obtained from library schools.

There is a little financial matter to which I should like to call your attention. We receive between $175 and $200 annually from fines and the sale of catalogues, and this money is not made part of the library's revenue, but goes into the city treasury for general outlay. In other cities the fine money is spent by the libraries and our borrowers suppose that such is the case in Concord; hundreds have cheerfully remarked, as they handed over their pennies, "Well, I'm glad to help the library;" they seem disappointed at learning that their payments do not buy new books or otherwise make the library directly more acceptable to themselves. If it would be satisfactory to yourselves and to the city government to have it enacted that beginning with this year the money accruing from fines and catalogues should be credited to the library's account, I am sure that such an arrangement would be pleasing to the general public. The fact that this extra sum would be a much-needed help in the yearly running of the library should also have weight.

Before closing this report we would insert some figures, for as the Salem librarian again says, "The library is not run for the sake of statistics but they are often suggestive."

During 1902, 704 new borrowers have registered; a larger number than in 1901.

One hundred and twenty volumes have become worn out.

We have added 800 volumes — 409 by purchase of new works, 177 by binding of magazines, 132 by purchase of new copies to replace worn-out books, 60 by gifts, 22 by purchase of duplicate copies of books in great demand.

Eighty-eight thousand three hundred and ninety-six books have been given out; libraries estimate this desk circulation to represent only a third of their entire use by the community.

The reading of fiction has decreased from 76 to 72 per cent. in the past twelve months. Only one book has been lost in that time.

There are now 25,082 bound volumes in the library. I have heard that the present building was intended to accommodate 20,000.

We would herewith thank the many who have brightened the library with flowers or enriched it with gifts of books and periodicals.

Without the support of trustees and assistants, the successful administration of a library would be impossible. As it is, I feel our library is in a fair way to do what every library should do, that is, as it grows, serve higher uses.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE BLANCHARD,

Librarian.

REPORT OF HISTORY COMMISSION.

To the City Council:

The City History Commission has the pleasure of reporting that the first volume of the "History of Concord" is printed, and that the two volumes will be ready for delivery early this summer. The estimate of the printer is that the work will be completed some time in June.

As authorized by vote of the city council, the History Commission applied to the legislature for an act of incorporation, and reports that the commission was duly incorporated by an act approved March 24, 1903.

April 4, 1903, the incorporators accepted the act of incorporation, and organized by the choice of Lyman D. Stevens as president, Howard F. Hill as secretary, and Benjamin A. Kimball as treasurer.

CEMETERY DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF CEMETERIES.

To the City Council of Concord:

Your commissioners of cemeteries have simply to state that your appropriation of last year has been expended in the planting of trees and shrubs, and in the general care and improvement of both cemeteries committed to our care.

We have assurance that the chapel, the generous gift of Miss Susan Perkins, will be built the coming season. This will fill a long felt want.

It is the desire of the commissioners to plant still more shrubs and trees to meet the growing demand.

The burials of the year have been one hundred and ninety-four. One hundred and sixty-nine of this number have been laid at rest in our beautiful "Blossom Hill Cemetery."

A generous appropriation by your body will enable us to beautify more and more this last resting-place of our dead.

Whatever sum you may place at our disposal will be expended, we trust, in a manner that will merit your approval.

GEORGE O. DICKERMAN,

Secretary of Commissioners.

PUBLIC PARKS.

REPORT OF PARK COMMISSIONERS.

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen:

The report of the park commissioners for the year 1902 is respectfully submitted:

Appropriations were as follows:

	Appropriations.	Expenditures.
White park . . .	$2,000.00	$2,008.46
Rollins park . . .	600.00	739.25
Penacook park . . .	200.00	238.16
Bradley park . . .	40.00	42.14
Ridge Avenue park . . .	25.00	29.14
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$2,865.00	$3,057.15

The appropriations were nearly one thousand dollars less than for the year 1901.

The amount thus appropriated is barely sufficient for the maintenance of the parks, so that practically all new work has to be postponed. It would seem as if the value of this development had already been demonstrated, so that it would merit a more generous consideration. In the incompleting state in which the larger parks remain to-day, a wrong impression is gained, whereas if the scheme were fully carried out, a more active interest would result. Just as an incompleting building or structure of any kind is an eye-sore, so it is with an incompleting park; the unfinished part detracts from that which has been wrought out.

WHITE PARK.

The work the past year at White park has been in trying to maintain what has already been accomplished, for with rain and tornadoes, much extra work has been necessitated. The commissioners had hoped to build a new tool house, but only the foundation was put in, and it is hoped that for the coming year a sufficient appropriation may be made to provide for the erection of this building, in which shall be placed much needed toilet rooms. The unfinished condition of the Centre street side must remain until funds are provided to remedy the work of widening the street.

In May a disastrous tornado visited the west part of the city and much damage was caused in this park by the loss of over forty trees. This park is largely used during the summer months, and the pond has given pleasure to many in the good skating during the winter.

The expenditures have been: For labor, $1,708.38; keeping ice clear for skating, $29.78; swan, $25; grain and fertilizer, $35.65; seed and shrubs, $18.50; water, $15; repairs, $29.71; lumber, $32.29; hardware, $30.23; incidentals, $83.92; a total of $2,008.46.

ROLLINS PARK.

Rollins park has been enjoyed by many as heretofore. Some new work in constructing paths and preparing the east side for extensive planting has been accomplished, and work will be pushed forward as fast as the funds will allow. Mr. Flanders has kept good order, and very little damage has been done. A toilet room has been provided and a new pump installed.

A very disagreeable condition exists on the north side of the park in the shape of pig-pens and hen-yards, a feature which was foreseen by the commissioners, but their requests were denied, so that now we are favored with these conditions.

The expenditures have been: For labor, $512.05; shrubs, $60.80; grain and fertilizer, $24.70; lumber, $15.20; repairs, $43.79; hardware, $25.54; incidentals, $57.17; a total of $739.25.

PENACOOK PARK.

The increased appropriation was used to repair and paint the pavilion, which was fast disintegrating. This park has been used by many picnic parties during the summer, and the increased number of boats have drawn more people there than of late years.

The expenditures have been: For labor, $161.37; lumber, $39.13; incidentals, $38.66; a total of $238.16.

BRADLEY PARK.

The work at this park is simply keeping it in good condition, as is the case in regard to Ridge Avenue park, which is growing more attractive year by year.

The expenditures of Bradley park have been: For labor, $35.89; fertilizer, $6.25; a total of $42.14.

The expenditures at Ridge Avenue park have been: For labor, $25.39; fertilizer, $3.75; a total of $29.14.

The work of grading and seeding Fiske park was completed under the supervision of the superintendent; 146 loads of loam were used. The expense, amounting to over $300 in excess of the appropriation made in 1901, has been borne by private contributions. Some shrubs should be planted, then the only cost will be for maintenance.

In the process of developing a park system, there will be stimulated a corresponding improvement in the private grounds about a city, showing that there is a love for the beautiful, if only it can find expression. A demonstration of such work, if made practical, as shown in the small parks and plots of land which have already been developed will provide an object lesson.

The care of the trees along the public thoroughfares should have better attention. Under the existing law ample provision is made for such care. It is also hoped that in the near future the gift of a fountain to the city, which has been suggested, may be realized.

It is the aim and desire of the commissioners to do what they can to make Concord a beautiful city, and it should be the ambition of every loyal citizen to help on this good work.

Respectfully submitted,

RECEIPTS.

One half of the receipts from the sale of lots is added annually to the permanent fund. The remaining half, with the amount received for grading of lots sold, together with the amounts received from sundry collections, and income of permanent fund, are added each year to the annual appropriation. The amounts expended on trust funds are paid on a special order from the mayor from the income of individual deposits made with the city for that purpose, said income being used exclusively for the care of the lot specified in each trust.

I hereby certify that I have examined the foregoing accounts of William F. Thayer, city treasurer, for the year 1902, and find all items of receipt and expenditure therein properly recorded and authenticated by appropriate vouchers, and the several items correctly cast, and the cash balance to be fourteen thousand five hundred and thirty-seven dollars and fifteen cents ($14,537.15), and as treasurer of the City Water Department, cash balance to be five thousand two hundred and twenty-eight dollars and seventy-nine cents ($5,228.79).

I have also verified the account of the trust and sinking funds of the city, and find such trust and sinking funds invested and the income thereof, for the year 1902, accounted for, as shown by the book of the city treasurer, kept for that purpose.

(Other items of interest will appear in City Marshal Rand's report.)

In concluding my term of fourteen years as city marshal, I should be ungrateful if I did not express a word of appreciation for the assistance and hearty co-operation of the citizens, mayors, police commissioners, and the police department of Concord; and I feel that whatever success I may have merited by my efforts in this office should be duly shared by those who have so ably assisted me.

My successor, James E. Rand, who has served this city faithfully for over forty years, needs no commendation from me.

I wish to extend my heartiest thanks to Capt. Daniel S. Flanders, who for nearly fourteen years proved to be a loyal and able officer. The efficiency and discipline of the Concord police force was greatly augmented by the faithful assistance he rendered me.

The police commissioners, Josiah E. Dwight, Giles Wheeler, and Myron J. Pratt, at all times gave me their heartiest support, and for their courteous treatment they have my sincere thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

G. SCOTT LOCKE,
City Marshal.

REPORT OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

CONCORD, December 31, 1902.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have the honor herewith to submit the report of the police department for the six months ending December 31, 1902.

I also offer for your consideration such suggestions and recommendations as I deem necessary for the welfare of the department.

THE FORCE.

The force has undergone some changes in the past six months. G. Scott Locke, who was city marshal for the past fourteen years, resigned, his resignation taking effect July 1, 1902. I was appointed city marshal January 27, 1902, and took oath of office July 1, 1902, and assumed charge of the department. Patrolman John E. Gay was promoted to assistant marshal July 1, 1902, and assumed the duties of assistant marshal at once.

The organization of the police department at the present time is as follows:

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Josiah E. Dwight, Giles Wheeler, Myron J. Pratt.

Marshal, James E. Rand, appointed patrolman April 16, 1861; captain, April 16, 1891; assistant marshal, April 16, 1894; city marshal, January 27, 1902.

Assistant, John E. Gay, appointed special officer April 2, 1894; patrolman, August 6, 1894; resigned as patrolman, March 28, 1900; appointed special officer, June 15, 1900; patrolman, April 24, 1901; assistant marshal, July 1, 1902.

Captain night watch, Daniel S. Flanders, appointed special officer June 26, 1886; patrolman, January 26, 1889; captain, January 1, 1895.

PATROLMEN.

Whitney D. Barrett,	Appointed Jan. 24, 1893;
James Kelley,	“ March 23, 1893;
	Resigned Jan. 13, 1903;
Charles H. Rowe,	Appointed Dec. 10, 1895
Samuel L. Batchelder,	“ Dec. 5, 1897
Hoyt Robinson,	“ March 28, 1900.
Christopher T. Wallace,	“ Nov. 26, 1901
Samuel Rodd,*	“ Nov. 12, 1902

Out of eleven officers, which constitutes the force at the present time, two are stationed at Penacook, leaving nine in the city proper for day and night duty.

In years past, from four o'clock A. M. until seven A. M., after the night men had gone home, there was only one man on duty.

Since July 1, the men have been arranged so there are not less than two men on duty during the twenty-four hours each day.

The night officers also change their beats every week, giving each officer a chance to get familiar with all the beats, and that portion of the city that they cover, which I consider is of advantage to the officer and a benefit to the public.

SPECIAL RESERVE OFFICERS.

George H. Silsby, Captain,	Appointed March 18, 1879
Orrin H. Bean,	“ Jan. 26, 1889
W. H. H. Patch,	“ Jan. 27, 1891
Alvin H. Uram,	“ March 17, 1891
George N. Fellows,	“ April 30, 1897
Thomas P. Davis, †	“ May 29, 1893

The following table exhibits an abstract of the miscellaneous duties performed by the police in addition to the number of arrests:

Number of doors tried, including Penacook	258,434
Number of doors found open and secured, including Penacook	182
Number of doors found open at Penacook	13

By reference to the foregoing table it will be seen that there were a large number of doors found open, and secured. This shows the thorough work done by the patrolmen, and undoubtedly prevented larcenies that might otherwise have occurred. The large number of doors tried (258,434) may be surprising to a good many, but is obtained by trying each door three times every night.

LODGERS.

The number of persons furnished lodging at the police station during the past six months is about the same as the corresponding six months of last year.

In most cases the persons are able-bodied, robust looking men, claiming to be looking for work, but the majority of them are looking for something to eat, and had rather tramp about the country and sleep in the station houses than work. There are some, no doubt, who are worthy of help, but it is a very hard matter to tell who they are.

CRIME.

During the period covered by this report the city has been free from any serious crime. There have been a very few sneak robberies committed, the amount of property stolen was in the aggregate small, and mostly recovered and returned to the owners.

In the past season we have had considerable trouble with youthful offenders who have been connected with a few robberies, but most of the stolen property was recovered and returned to the owners.

Having captured a gang of this class a short time ago, we are in hopes that the trouble from this quarter is at an end for the present.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

POLICE SIGNAL SERVICE.

The present police signal service, which was installed some years ago, has been and is now of great advantage to the force. But there are other and more improved systems that are in operation in other cities, that would give better satisfaction. I would respectfully recommend that in the near future a first-class signal service be installed (Gamewell system) such as are in use in other cities, which I think would add much to the equipment of the department.

PATROL WAGON.

At the present time the only wagon the department has for such purpose is a two-seated Democrat wagon, which is all right in its place, but is very undesirable and inconvenient to load and convey intoxicated parties to the station, and I would respectfully recommend the purchase in the near future of a light patrol wagon, which would add greatly to the convenience of the department.

AMBULANCE.

The city ambulance is a great convenience to all classes, and is under the care of the city marshal, but without any definite rules or regulations. Many times the officer in charge is requested and expected to help dress and load the patient into the ambulance. In many cases of accident there are more friends of the injured parties wish to accompany them to the hospital than the ambulance can accommodate, and being refused creates a hard feeling toward the officer in charge. Should this meet with your favor, I would respectfully recommend the passage of an ordinance regulating the number allowed inside, and conditions to be complied with by the parties requesting the use of the ambulance, which I think would be a protection to the officer in charge and a benefit to all parties concerned.

STABLE.

At the present time, the horse, wagon, and ambulance, are kept at a near-by livery stable, and in case of emergency calls there are some delays in making a quick start. I would respectfully recommend in the future the erection of a stable at the rear of the police station, sufficient in size to accommodate horse, wagon, ambulance, and patrol wagon, and the appointment of a permanent janitor who could fill the position of janitor, hostler, and driver, which, in my opinion, would be economy for the city, and add much to the efficiency of the force.

MORE OFFICERS.

The present police force is inadequate to the wants of the public. There is a request by many prominent taxpayers for more officers. At the present time there is only one night officer south of Pleasant street, and one north of Centre street, and none west of Union street. On account of the large increase in the population at the south end in the past two seasons, there is a constant demand for another night officer in that section of the city. Also at the west end and in the vicinity of White park and that residential part of the city. There is also an urgent demand for a night officer in that part of the city known as Fosterville, which is very thickly settled with the laboring class of people of different nationalities, and in my opinion needs a night officer as much as any other part of the city, and I would most respectfully recommend that provisions be made for the appointment of three additional police officers for night service.

IN GENERAL.

I am pleased to commend to your attention the good work of the officers and members of the force. They have been vigilant and attentive to their duties, and have cheerfully responded to all calls made upon them for extra service, and I sincerely extend my thanks to them for the cordial support they have given me since my appointment as marshal.

In concluding this report permit me to return thanks to the honorable mayor and city council for the support you have given me; also to the board of police commissioners, judge of police court, and City Solicitor Edmund S. Cook, all of whom have been very kind, considerate and accommodating at any and all times; and to all others who have contributed to our success we extend our thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES E. RAND,
City Marshal.

REPORT OF CLERK OF POLICE COURT.

To the City Council:

The clerk of the police court submits the following report for the year ending December 31, 1902:

Number of civil cases entered, 109.
Received entry fees in civil cases	$54.50
Paid city treasurer	54.50

In the past there has been no index to the clerk's record of criminal cases. Commencing January 1, 1903, all criminal cases will be properly indexed.

The coming year a civil docket for attorneys is to be tried as an experiment. This docket will be similar to the docket kept in the supreme court, and will aid materially in the ascertainment at all times of the live cases before said court.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY R. HOOD,

Clerk of Police Court.

REPORT OF CITY SOLICITOR.

To the City Council:

I respectfully submit the following report for the year 1902:

On January 1, 1902, the following suits against the city of Concord were pending: Mary A. Bullock v. Concord; Lavina Arlin v. Concord; Concord Street Railway v. Concord; Augustus B. Hall v. Concord; and Joseph Stickney v. Concord.

The suits of Mary A. Bullock and Lavina Arlin were entered at the April term, 1900, of the supreme court. These suits were for the recovery of damages for land taken in widening and straightening North State street in 1899. The amount claimed in the Arlin suit was $350, and in the Bullock suit, $150. I made a very thorough investigation of these claims, and finally offered $200 in full settlement of both suits, this amount to be divided between the parties as they might agree. This offer was accepted by the parties, and on April 19, 1902, I paid to Mitchell & Foster, attorneys, $200 in full settlement and discharge of both suits, and got from the parties proper receipts.

The case of Augustus B. Hall was, at the time of my last report, in the supreme court for the decision of questions of law arising on the nonsuit of the plaintiff by the superior court. The supreme court had this case under consideration for a long time. Finally a majority of the court, three out of five, decided the questions involved in favor of the city. The plaintiff immediately moved for a rehearing of the case, but the court denied this motion. At the October term, 1902, of the superior court judgment was entered in this case for the city for costs.

The cases of the Concord Street Railway and Joseph Stickney are still on the docket.

At the October term, 1901, of the superior court a suit was entered by the Union School District of Concord against District No. 20 of Concord, for the recovery of tuitions of scholars residing in District No. 20 and attending the high school in the Union School District. District No. 20 defended on the ground that under a law passed by the legislature in 1901 these tuitions should be paid by the city of Concord. I entered my appearance for Concord and took the position that the city was not liable for these tuitions. The case was transferred to the supreme court. I filed a brief in this case. The supreme court decided that these tuitions should be paid by District No. 20, thus relieving the city.

During the year suits have been brought against the city by the following parties: James W. Lane and Lyman H. Lane, Joseph Stickney, Mary E. Wilder, and Charles S. Parker et als.

The suit of James W. Lane and Lyman H. Lane was an appeal from the award by the board of aldermen of damages for land taken for the construction of a sewer. This appeal was not taken within the time allowed by law, and upon suggestion of this fact the suit was dismissed by the plaintiffs' attorneys.

The suit of Joseph Stickney is still pending, and is for the abatement of a portion of his taxes for the year 1901.

The suit of Mary E. Wilder is for the recovery of damages for personal injuries sustained by the plaintiff while traveling on Spring street in Penacook, by reason of an alleged defect in said street. The plaintiff was traveling on Spring street after dark and fell into a ditch which the owner of the adjoining premises had dug across the sidewalk that afternoon for the purpose of relaying his sewer pipe. This case came on for trial by jury at the October term of the superior court. At the close of the plaintiff's opening statement I moved that the plaintiff be non-suited. The motion was granted, and the plaintiff excepted. The case was transferred to the supreme court, and is in order for argument at the March term, 1903. If the decision of the supreme court sustains the ruling of the judge in the court below, judgment will be entered for the city. If the supreme court decides that the non-suit was improperly granted, the case will go back to the superior court for trial.

The suit of Charles S. Parker et als. was a bill in equity praying for an injunction to restrain the city, its officers, and the building committee from proceeding with the erection of the proposed new city hall building. Upon the filing of this bill I appeared and agreed to the issuance of a temporary injunction until the case could be tried. The case was tried at the April term, 1902, of the superior court. The superior court, after a full and lengthy hearing, decided the material matters at issue in favor of the city and dissolved the temporary injunction. The plaintiffs excepted and the case was transferred to the supreme court with the greater part of the evidence. Briefs were filed and the case was argued at length at a special session of the supreme court in June. The exceptions of the plaintiffs were overruled and a decision was announced by the supreme court, fully sustaining the city and the building committee in the steps already taken with reference to the proposed new city hall building, and removing all question of the right of the city and the building committee to proceed with the erection of this building. At the last term of the superior court a hearing was had on the question of costs, and judgment was rendered in favor of the city, the amount to be determined by the clerk. This case occupied the greater part of my time for three months.

I have during the year prosecuted many criminal cases for the police department before the police court. I have also as usual given advice and assistance when required to the various departments of the city government and to committees and members of the city council.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND S. COOK,

City Solicitor.
