TRACY MEMORIAL BUILDING

Librarian's Report

The following report is for the first full year of work at Tracy Memorial Building. The continued interest in the building and its use by townspeople and visitors alike has been gratifying. Community singing on alternate Sunday afternoons was carried out until the latter part of May, during which time excellent programs were arranged by various organizations. Miss Stella Whitman, musical instructor at Colby Academy, gave a pleasing lecture-recital one evening in March, her subject being "Selections from the Operas." In April Prof. G. L. Plimpton of Tilton School gave his lecture on "The Passion Play at Oberammergau," illustrated with beautiful colored slides. A neighborhood library meeting was held with the New London library on April 29. Seventeen librarians or trustees from the surrounding towns were present. Miss Ella Carr of Andover was chairman of the district. June 1-3 the 38th Annual Meeting of the N. H. Library Association was held in New London. Nearly 150 librarians and trustees were present at all or part of the sessions, held in the Assembly Hall of Tracy Memorial Building. Several authors of note were heard during the convention. The annual banquet was enjoyed at the New London Inn. A complimentary sight-seeing trip was arranged for the second afternoon through the courtesy of many New London car owners. October 1 a session of the Union School Conference met in the Assembly Hall.

The Children's Room has been the scene of many activities. Story hours have been conducted by Mrs. Huse, Miss Lamson, Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Laura B.

Knott. Handiwork, games, puzzles and stories occupy the time of children every Saturday afternoon. The reading contest result was the award of ten certificates. Roberta West of the Elkins School and Hazel Nye of the Low Plain School were prize winners. The first of June a game party was given the Boy Scouts. During Good Book Week new and attractive books were displayed in the post office window. On Saturday afternoon of that week Mrs. Mary B. Macomber gave the children a most interesting talk on the subject "Beyond the Rockies." Colored pictures of the Grand Canyon and California illustrated the talk. Games, a hand stereoptican, candlesticks, and gifts of books add to the attractiveness of the Children's Room. The beautiful scrap-book presented by Mrs. Moritz has been very popular with the children, and of considerable interest to grown-ups.

Several parties were given during the year, at Hal- lowe'en, Christmas and New Year's time. The effective holiday decorations of many wreaths were the work of Miss Hattie Burpee and Mrs. Hattie Todd. The Community Christmas Tree was decorated and illuminated and carols sung about it Christmas Eve. A beautiful tree added to the festive air in the building, where a short program was given Christmas Eve, after which carol singers went about the town to give pleasure to shut-ins. The sociability of Open House on New Year's Day was enjoyed by many townspeople.

Loan exhibits have been a special feature of the past year, beautiful china and pottery, copper lustre ware, hand-made rugs, colored plates of wild flowers, Swiss and French railway posters and the remarkable privilege of the exhibition of oil paintings from the American Federation of Art in Washington. It was arranged that every school child in New London should have a conducted visit to the art exhibit. Many out-of-town persons took advantage of the unusual opportunity to enjoy the work of outstanding contemporary artists.

Basketry classes have been conducted weekly during the winter months, in charge of Mrs. Marion Little. Prof. H. Leslie Sawyer of Colby Academy has been meeting an informal class in psychology once a week during the past three months. Much of musical interest has taken place this winter owing to forming of the Tracy Memorial Choral Society; weekly rehearsals have been held under the direction of Alfred E. Plumpton of Manchester, a capable and popular teacher of good music. The first term of lessons closed with a very successful concert, given by a chorus of 50 voices, at Whipple Memorial Hall, on the evening of January 30. A Junior Choir of nearly 50 children was organized early in the winter, meeting weekly under the direction of Mrs. Helen Colburn. Arrangements were made with the Board of Education so that children conveyed by the school bus might have the privilege of belonging to the Junior Choir, meeting the last school period, one afternoon of each week.

The interest of many people is evidenced in the valuable gifts made to Tracy Memorial Building during the past year. Books, magazines, games, pictures, foreign post cards, plants, candlesticks have been given by Mrs. Jane A. Tracy, Mrs. Mary B. Macomber, John Pingree, Mrs. C. H. Stephenson, C. B. Robinson, Miss Mary Colgate, Miss Mabel Brickett, William A. Colburn, Herbert J. Peaslee, Melville H. Robbins, Mrs. Marion Wylie, Mrs. Perkins, Miss Edith Robbins, Miss Ella Macomber, George S. Bryan, Miss Doris M. Smith, Baptist Convention of N. H., Thomas Lord, Lewis S. Welch, Miss Martha E. Brown, Mrs. Lindsey H. Wallace, Mrs. Dorothy W. Frye, Mrs. Marion Wylie, Colby Academy, Miss Ida M. Gibson, Dr. H. W. Gentles, and Mrs. Edwin Moritz.

Mrs. Tracy has given several pieces of furniture, articles of beauty as well as of usefulness, a reference table, a round table for the Club Room, small tables for the reading lamps. A six tube Radiola has given much pleasure throughout the year. A heater installed in the basement provides hot water at any time. Mrs. Tracy also presented the library with a 15 volume set of the Pageant of America, a pictorial history beautifully printed by the Yale University Press; Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, a 1928 Hammond Atlas of the World, as well as books of fiction. Stereopticon slides of New London scenes and people, also views of the White Mountains were an unusual and welcome gift.

The collection of reference books has been materially improved by the addition of the above mentioned volumes. The trustees purchased the latest edition of the Americana Encyclopedia, in 30 volumes. Fifteen volumes of the Burton Holmes Travelogues enrich our shelves of travel.

The safety deposit boxes have proved to be a matter of great convenience to many people. Several organizations of the town meet regularly in the building, appreciating the convenience of the central location.

During the absence of Mrs. Allie J. Sargent in Florida last winter Mrs. Hattie Todd assisted at the library. Miss Dorothy W. Griffin became regular assistant during the summer months. On October 1st library hours were extended, and the library opened Monday afternoons and evenings, as on other week days, when Miss Marion T. Jesseman of Lisbon, a graduate of the City Library Training Class of Springfield, Mass. became a full time assistant. On April 1st Melville H. Robbins succeeded George C. Lovering as caretaker of Tracy Memorial Building, giving the building faithful and intelligent care.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Gould, Mr. Gay and Mrs. Thurston people living in Elkins have had the privilege of receiving their library books each week, without making the trip to New London. Mrs. Allie J. Sargent has charge of the exchange of the Elkins books, giving her interested attention to the matter.

The librarian has been very glad to purchase books for those desiring them, and some 25 volumes were ordered for different people during the year.

Again the librarian wishes to voice her appreciation of the loyal support and co-operation of trustees and townspeople in the various activities of the past year, and looks forward to the same pleasant relations during the year before us.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of New London:

I present herewith my third annual report as Superintendent of Schools in New London. It deals with survey of statistics, honor roll of attendance, buildings and equipment, organization and instruction, high school facilities, health supervision and clinic service.

* Excluding double registrations.

Both the total registration of pupils and the average membership fall slightly below the figures of last year. The per cent of attendance for the entire system shows a substantial gain. The regularity of attendance in the rooms at Colby Hill is well above the average of elementary schools, while the per cents at Elkins and Low Plain are commendable. These two one-room schools lead in the reduction of tardinesses. The average reduction in tardinesses per pupil for the entire system shows a distinct gain over the improved record of last year.

The following class of eleven members was graduated from the eighth grade in June: Horace Barrett, Bernard Chase, Raymond Crawford, Beulah Eastman, Philip Eastman, Donald Huse, James Knowlton, Gretel Palmer, Richard Parker, Willis Prescott, Ernest Towne.

Honor Roll of Perfect Attendance

36 WEEKS (ENTIRE YEAR): Elizabeth Barrett, Nicholas Cricenti, Charles Davis, Viola Doyle, Burt Gay, Clarence Gay, Norman Lord, Marion Lovely, Eleanor Mastin, Emily Messer, Mildred Messer, Gretel Palmer, Elizabeth Prescott, Laura Prescott, Willis Prescott, Alton Sholes, William Twohey.

24 WEEKS: George Cricenti, Lucie Fournier, Lily Green, Winifred Little, Adelbert Messer, Maurice Messer, Wilfred Nye, Raymond Roberts, Walter Sharp, Marjorie Simpson.

Buildings and Equipment

During the summer new heating equipment was installed in the Colby Hill building. The two hot-draft furnaces and a small auxiliary steam boiler were replaced by one sectional steam boiler of sufficient capacity to supply adequate direct radiation in all classrooms and corridors and to maintain indirect heat by the passage of pure air over steam coils at the base of the ventilation stacks which open into the classrooms. The direct system alone has radiation sufficient to maintain in classrooms the standard temperature of 68 to 70 degrees. The indirect system, used primarily for ventilation, is employed only during school hours and is alone adequate for the heating of classrooms during much of the school year. In severely cold weather both systems may be employed.

It is hoped that the reduction of the town water pressure in the Colby Hill building will correct present difficulties in toilet facilities. If it fails to do so, a time flush system would be recommended.

The boiler room and lunch room at Colby Hill are now lighted by electricity. The complete wiring and installation of fixtures to light the classrooms and corridors would be a physical and educational asset during the last hour of the school day for at least nine weeks of the year. Similar facilities for lighting the schoolrooms at Elkins and Low Plain would provide equal or even greater advantages and should be considered.

Organization and Instruction

In the teaching staff at Colby Hill there occurred two changes during the year.

Mrs. Theresa Davis Hayes, who for several years had been a very efficient teacher in the primary room, was compelled by illness to resign in April. Mrs. Nettie P. Sanborn completed the unexpired term for Mrs. Hayes, and in June was re-elected to the position. Mrs. Sanborn brings to her work excellent preparation and much experience as a teacher in the schools of Andover, Charlestown and Claremont.

After two years of service in the intermediate room and following her re-election to the position, Miss Hattie M. Boswell's request for release was granted. The vacancy was filled by the election of Miss Jennie

R. Butterick of Franklin. Miss Butterick is a 1926 graduate of Plymouth Normal School and taught in Colebrook previous to her election in New London.

Your retention of Mrs. Etta M. Crawford, principal of the Colby Hill school, and of Miss Doris Huntoon and Mrs. Sadie Shepard, teachers at Elkins and Low Plain respectively, has contributed much to the efficiency of these schools.

This year, in addition to instruction in grammar and composition, the foundation is being laid for a definite course in literature—both prose and poetry—that is designed to reach and appeal to the best interests and ideals of seventh and eighth grade girls and boys. Rightly presented by the teacher, this course encourages oral reading for expression, develops knowledge of and love for good literature, and gives the pupil going into senior high school from our elementary system a better opportunity to compete with the pupils of junior high school training.

The course in civics has been made of more immediate application by introducing in alternate years, in the place of the study of more intricate constitutional forms of government, a simple study and comparison of small town and community activities and problems of personally economic and civic interest. "Our Neighborhood—Good Citizenship in Rural Communities" is being used as a basal text.

The local firemen's organization, with the consent of the School Board, has generously provided each teacher with books which emphasize fire prevention and present the subject in a manner applicable to the respective grades. An outline of instruction has been prepared by your Superintendent and approved for use by all teachers. Beginning in the lower grades with a study of fire as friend and foe, it develops "guide-posts" to safety and in the upper grades correlates fire prevention with the study of general science and with civic responsibility for home inspection.

High School Facilities

The recently announced policy of the trustees to make Colby Academy an institution for girls and the fact that it is one of three secondary schools in the state, whose undenominational status is not clear, renders uncertain its continuance as an approved high school eligible to receive public money in payment of tuitions. Final action of the State Board of Education concerning the renewal of the approval will not be taken until later in the year.

In the event that approval is not continued to Colby Academy, between thirty and forty New London pupils will be deprived of local high school facilities next fall. Hence tentative provision should be made by the District to obtain high school facilities elsewhere.

Health Supervision and Clinic Service

In completion of her three-months contract as school nurse Miss Della V. Carr returned last spring to this Union. Her activities in New London, covering the four weeks beginning May 15th, were as follows:

No. of instruction visits in schools	13
No. of visits to pupils' homes	47
No. of treatments given in school	2
No. of treatments secured:
Ocular	2
Surgical	4
No. children attended in hospital	4

Immediately after the close of schools in June Miss Carr accepted private duty and was not available as a school nurse this year.

Beginning the middle of October, Miss Alta D. MacDonald was employed for two and one-half months as school nurse in three towns of the Union including New London. Miss MacDonald is a graduate of the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in Concord and, previous to her school nursing, had been connected with the New London hospital. The report of her activities in New London is as follows:

No. of visits to schools	29
No. of visits to pupils' homes	29
No. of pupils examined	117
No. of treatments given in school	6
No. of treatments given in homes	3
No. of treatments secured:
Medical	6
Dental clinic	35
Ocular	2
Other	2
No. of pupils excluded on account of contagious or suspected illness (measles)	60

DEFECTS	Found and reported to parents	Treatments since last report
Malnutrition	20	14
Defective vision	15	8
Defective hearing	2	1
Anæmia	1
Nervous disease	2	1
Skin disease	4	4
Orthopedic defects	1	1
Defective teeth	58	35
Hypertrophied tonsils	33	5
Adenoids	7	2
Defects of breathing	1
Enlarged glands	3
Other diseases or defects	4	3
Totals	151	74

Indicative of the results of professional and systematic health supervision and clinic service is the fact that, with approximately the same number of pupils examined, the number of defects found this year was over 13 per cent less and the corrective treatments almost 13 per cent more than last year.

A dental clinic was conducted at Colby Hill in December, Dr. C. E. Sargent of Franklin was the dental physician. The school nurse was in attendance. Using a portion of the lunch room where running water is available, Dr. Sargent conducted the work efficiently and expeditiously. With very few exceptions the expense for treatments was met by parents. The clinic report shows:

No. pupils given free dental examination	70
No. pupils receiving dental treatment	35
No. of fillings:
Amalgam	43
Temporary	1
No. of extractions	15
No. of cleanings	26

Of particular assistance in the health work have been the school lunches in the conduct of which all teachers and fifty or more pupils in the Colby Hill school heartily co-operate under the supervision of the principal. Similar co-operation between teacher and pupils characterizes the hot lunch service in the Low Plain school. At Elkins all pupils are able to go home during the noon intermission.

Conclusion

I use the words of J. Elmer Morgan, editor of The Journal of the National Education Association.

“Let us set the child in our midst as our greatest wealth and our most challenging responsibility. Let us exalt him above industry, above business, above politics, above all the petty and selfish things that weaken and destroy a people. Let us know that the race moves forward through its children and, by the grace of Almighty God, setting our faces toward the morning, dedicate ourselves anew to the service and welfare of childhood."

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. H. HARMON,
Superintendent of Schools.
