LIBRARY REPORT

Hours open per week	22½

Juvenile fiction	6,529
Juvenile non-fiction	5,339

Largest monthly circ.—November	2,807
Smallest monthly circ.—June	1,826
Average daily	108

Volumes purchased	355

The total circulation of books shows an increase of 1544 volumes over that of last year. It is a large circulation in proportion to the population and a fact of which the town may well be proud, as it averages approximately thirteen books per person.

The non-fiction shows a substantial increase due to the fact that many of the young people are reading this type of book in preference to novels. Even the children in the elementary grades show a marked interest in books pertaining to science, social studies and biography. The majority of young people of today read at a much higher age level than those of even a generation ago and this means that we must buy the best books available to maintain the high standard of reading demanded by them.

During the year soiled and worn out books have been discarded, others have been rebound and three hundred fifty-five (355) new books have been placed on the shelves. The elementary school teachers have borrowed collections of books for their home rooms from time to time and the high school students use our reference facilities daily. Several classes from the English Department of the High School, accompanied by their teachers, have visited the library to be instructed by the librarian in the use of the library and its tools.

National Library Week in April and National Book Week in November were observed with appropriate posters, book markers and displays of new books. The latest edition of Webster's New International Dictionary was purchased in November and will be a valuable addition to our reference section. During the year the library was the recipient of a gift subscription to the Manchester Union Leader. It is greatly appreciated.

The librarian attended the New Hampshire Library Association meeting held in Winchester in May. She also attended the New England Association meeting in Swampscott, Mass. in October.

The library hours continue to be as follows: 2:30 to 5:00 p. m. every afternoon except Tuesday and 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. every evening except Saturday.

The librarian wishes at this time to thank the Board of Trustees for their help and cooperation during the past year. She also wishes to express her appreciation and thanks to the teachers who have visited the library. It makes it much easier for the librarian, teacher and student if preparation for outside reading demands can be made in advance of the assignment.

The young adult readers and the children continue to be a pleasure to work with and each school year, new readers discover the fun and joy to be found in the world of books.

Once again we cordially invite you to visit your library.

Respectfully submitted,

SYLVIA E. FLETCHER,

Librarian

Hinsdale School District

FOR THE

FISCAL YEAR

JULY 1, 1959-JUNE 30, 1960

In Memoriam

With profound sorrow, the Hinsdale School Board records the untimely death of Superintendent Chester C. Lees on January 30, 1961. Mr. Lees, who graduated from Harvard and had a Master's Degree from Brown University, held the post of principal of Hinsdale High School from 1941 until 1947. During the time he served as principal, Hinsdale High School graduates qualified for and entered some of the country's finest colleges.

In 1947, Mr. Lees was elected Superintendent of Supervisory Union No. 25, which includes Hinsdale, Winchester, Richmond and Swanzev. He gave unselfishly of his time and counsel to promote better education of our children and improvement of our school facilities. His many friends and this School Board hold the memory of his friendship with great affection and high esteem.

Therefore, we resolve that this expression of sympathy and appreciation be sent to the family and also spread upon the records of Hinsdale School District.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING COMMITTEE

Acting upon the decision of the voters at the last annual School Meeting, the school planning committee pursued the project of investigating the possible construction of a high school building for the Town of Hinsdale.

Our first meetings were held for the purpose of interviewing architects. After interviewing a sufficient number of them, we decided upon Mr. Edward L. Baker of Leominster, Mass. He has been very cooperative and helpful in his work with the committee.

Quite a few of our meetings were concerned with the number of classrooms, cafeteria, and other aspects of the proposed building. On two occasions, representatives of the State Dept. of Education were present to offer their suggestions. The plans, as proposed so far, have been approved by the State Dept. of Education.

If the two articles in the School Warrant concerning the new school are accepted by the voters, the committee plans to call a special school meeting sometime in the fall for the purpose of voting on the bond issue to raise the necessary funds for the actual construction of the building.

It is estimated by the architect that it will cost approximately $290,000 to construct the building, and it will require $29,000 for the furnishings. The architect's fee is figured at the rate of 6% of the actual construction cost.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my eighth annual report as principal of the Hinsdale Schools.

The elementary school adopted a revised reading program, based in part on the Joplin Plan. Simplified, this reading program is ungraded. Test results obtained from the annual evaluation program, plus scores from a specialized reading test was used in placing pupils in homogeneous groups. Levels of reading are substituted for grades. Each child may advance in reading as rapidly as his ability permits. Testing is the established method of determining rapidity of progress. To date, both pupils and teachers indicate a decided preference for this newly adopted ungraded program over the one previously in use.

It is quite conceivable that with continued success in reading a similar ungraded program could be effected in other subject areas.

Uniformity in spelling was also effected with the adoption of a standardized program in grades three through eight. Six teachers studied within this area this past summer.

All grades except grade six are now in two divisions. This one grade, composed of forty-three pupils, poses a severe challenge to the teacher in charge. However, every effort is being made by the teacher to do the best job possible under these most trying circumstances.

Home Economics and Industrial Arts having been added to seventh and eighth grade curriculum, a well-rounded program is now in effect. It is encouraging to note these additions were made as advocated in my report a year ago.

Science instruction within the elementary area has broadened. N.D.E.A. contributions have aided here by increasing needed equipment and apparatus for demonstrative instruction. An accelerated program of science, beginning in grade one, is necessary for the preparation of pupils for their more advanced studies and especially so for those who may pursue this field in college.

Considerable progress is apparent in the Kindergarten area. From supervisory contacts and observation it would appear this will prove to be of considerable value in preparing the children for their more formal education.

Assemblies are held periodically with grades one through four sharing in one area, and grades five through eight the other. Each teacher sponsors an assembly based on some phase of the total program. Pupil participation is one hundred per cent.

Lunch is served daily in two divisions. Actual eating time has been lengthened as has the recess period immediately following. Teachers supervise their own divisions and share this period with pupils by again actually sitting at the same table area.

Supervision of play periods has been increased providing improved observation and control of activities. As recess is designed for the purpose of releasing excess physical energies, uninhibited play prevails. Age groups, where not doing so naturally, are encouraged to engage in recreatory activities within their own groups, thus the excellent playground space is well populated with a diversification of interests.

Hinsdale is one of many schools enjoying the services of the New Hampshire Bookmobile. As a result of this fine service, each room receives twenty or thirty books per month which supplements the reading program.

Field Trips sponsored by the P.T.A. provided all elementary grades with the opportunity of visiting new places and enjoying related experiences. Teachers and pupils alike expressed appreciation for these added opportunities.

Achievement tests were administered to all pupils of the elementary grades. Mental Maturity tests were administered in grades one, three, five and eight. State sponsored aptitude and ability tests were given grades seven and eight. Test results show a steady growth in all areas. Norms used were established on a national level and pupils are averaging above these norms. I am extremely proud to report that the elementary school is functioning as smoothly and progressively as anyone could wish. I do not know of a single teacher who is unhappy in this area. This is supported, I believe, by the fact that it has not been necessary to call to your attention, or that of the school board, a single problem of major or minor consequence this year.

On the high school level, I am pleased to report that thirty-seven per cent of last year's graduates are participating in post-secondary study. I am quite proud of this fact as it is a thirty-two per cent gain over that achieved my first year as principal of this school.

Every member of the class of 1960 is occupied. In addition to those going to school, others are either working or in the armed services.

Hinsdale was honored this past summer in having a pupil of the secondary area attend the St. Paul's Advanced Study Group. This program is sponsored by the Ford Foundation and attendance is by invitation only. It would appear that we will again be so honored this coming summer.

It is unfortunate that a reduction in class time within the commercial area was deemed necessary this year. This important study cannot stand a reduction of thirty-six teaching periods per year and maintain the standards presently existing. The return to alternating subjects is equally disturbing. Small classes within certain specialized areas will probably continue to be the rule; however, our pupils do need equality in subjects and length of courses found in nearby schools, and I again strongly recommend that serious consideration be given to halting any further regression.

Installation of the Foreign Language Laboratory is complete, and encouraging results are already in evidence. This aid should result in increased interest in the study of languages.

With the adoption of the revised Language Arts Guide, instruction in the field of English is rapidly improving. Continuity of growth from grade one through twelve is considerably strengthened by this addition. Each teacher of English now has defined areas for instruction, thus reducing, if not eliminating the danger of overlapping or an excessive gap between grades. Freedom of technique is not infringed upon, allowing teachers full freedom of presentation.

A decided increase in numbers is occurring within the general educational group. Many pupils with a known potential for more complicated studies are electing this area. This fact should be of serious concern to parents who may want their children as fully qualified for the future as our school can offer, but who do not understand the course selection procedure. Visitation and parental conferences are definitely invited.

I am convinced the establishment of grade standards in all subject areas would add strength to the secondary program and therefore recommend that serious consideration be given the adoption of such a step. I also wish to be recorded as advocating the adoption of written policies governing the total operation of education in Hinsdale.

This has been advocated for all schools, both by the New Hampshire Educators Association and by the State Board of Education.

Reporting on Departments:

Within the Home Economics area, a revised program of education, adopted as a result of teachers and State Department working together has been introduced. The new demand made upon this division of education by our ever-changing social and economic life has increased the breadth of coverage in study required. One can no longer consider Home Economics as designed exclusively for "future homemakers." It is rapidly becoming as well a preparatory program for training following high school.

At the conclusion of the past school year, girls of this area presented a well received Style Show at the May meeting of P.T.A.

Industrial Arts is also facing expanding demands for broader coverage of subject offering. Technological growth requires the addition of sciences and mathematics and will require changes in the program now being offered.

Boys from this shop displayed projects made during the year at the New Hampshire Industrial Art Fair held in Littleton last spring and several received ribbons of recognition for their work.

The music program culminated its efforts with an excellent Spring Concert. In addition, those pupils participating within the instrumental area demonstrated their ability publicly on other occasions. Hinsdale was represented in both the All-State Band and the All-State chorus during April. From results observed to date, one can expect improved participation in this.

The high school athletic program enjoyed a respectable participation in spring sports. Due to the lack of a coach, girls' volleyball was not undertaken this fall. Soccer experienced a period of rebuilding: However, Hinsdale missed the play-off by a mere percentage point. Basketball, as an interscholastic sport, is facing serious difficulties. The boys and girls of Hinsdale are facing players in league schools who have experienced two and three years of coaching and play before entering high school. This is the result of other league schools having physical education and an adequate facility for such a program.

Hinsdale has been fortunate in obtaining the services of young teachers who are interested in giving their time in aiding the boys and girls within the sport program. However, our major competitors are seeking experienced coaches and this fact combined with regulation play facilities places Hinsdale in a most precarious position in league competition. Hinsdale desires winning teams as intensely as do others. With Charlestown, Vilas, Walpole, Marlboro, Troy and St. Mary's all possessing gyms and instructors who start youngsters in grades six and seven, it is apparent that the boys and girls of Hinsdale face overwhelming odds.

The annual trip to Washington was successfully completed. Much credit is due the mothers of those making the trip and to the townspeople who so generously gave of their time and resources to assure this success. The present class faces an even more difficult task in raising sufficient funds for this endeavor. Costs are continually increasing. Some solution must be found for assuring this project.

Our schools still continue to enjoy the excellent service provided by Mr. Brandl and Mr. Bouchie. Their personal interest in the safety and comfort of pupils in their charge is most gratifying.

Our custodial services continue to be superior. The elementary school has been repeatedly commented upon in this respect by visitors from other school areas.

Dr. Nichols, with the capable assistance of Mrs. Bradbury, conducted physical examinations of all school pupils this year.

The financial status of the High School Activity Fund as of December 31, 1960 is as follows:

In closing, may I express my most sincere appreciation to those people who have so generously evidenced their confidence in my supervision of the Hinsdale schools. I especially wish to express my appreciation to the teachers and pupils, for without their loyalty and cooperation, the progress made would not have been possible.

May I also extend my appreciation to the School Board and to you for the contributions made in my behalf.

Respectfully,
ROBERT A. GIRARDIN,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Hinsdale:

I have the honor to submit my fourteenth annual report.

Staff Changes: High School—There were two changes in the faculty of Hinsdale High School as schools opened in September. Mrs. Elizabeth T. Sikoski replaced Mr. William E. Beane as teacher of English and Foreign Languages. Mr. Beane resigned to accept a position in Peterboro. Mrs. Sikoski is a graduate of Middlebury College. Miss Elizabeth M. Swancott, a graduate of Keene Teachers College, was elected to the English and Social Studies position vacated by Mr. Robert W. Blakslee, who resigned to accept a position elsewhere.

Elementary School—There are four new teachers in the Hinsdale Elementary School. Mrs. Harriet B. LaChance resigned at the end of the 1959-1960 school year. Mrs. LaChance was the teacher in the kindergarten since its inception in 1949. It is hoped that she will enjoy to the fullest her years of retirement which she so courageously has earned. Miss Winifred D. McCarthy, a graduate of Keene Teachers College, is the present kindergarten teacher.

Upon the resignation of Mrs. Joanne E. Tenney, Mrs. Sandra O. Salo was elected to one of the first grade positions. Mrs. Salo is a Keene Teachers College graduate. Mrs. Sandra H. Bean was elected to the fourth grade position vacated by Mrs. Phyllis M. Fearon. Mrs. Bean, a graduate of Keene Teachers College, taught last year in Hollis, New Hampshire. Mr. Joseph P. G. Lessard left us to take a position in Lincoln, Massachusetts. He has been replaced in the seventh and eighth grade area by Mr. Raymond W. Miner, Jr., who graduated from Keene Teachers College.

It is interesting to note that comparing the current enrollment figures in this year's report with those of a year ago there are ten fewer pupils currently enrolled, six in the elementary school and four in the high school.

Repeating what has been written in previous reports, caution should be exercised in using and interpreting the figures in the above tables. They are merely indicative in nature and serve to show only what the enrollment trend might be. The figures do not take into account the pupils who could possibly leave Hinsdale or who could possibly move to Hinsdale. They also do not discount dropouts from high school. For instance, in last year's report the possible future enrollment in the high school for 1960-61 was 152 whereas actually the current enrollment for 1960-61 is 135. The figures in the above high school table are undoubtedly too high, particularly those for the eleventh and twelfth grades where the compulsory school attendance age begins to lose its effect. The table for the elementary school should be considerably more reliable.

Hinsdale School Facilities: It goes without saying that our elementary school plant is most excellent. By acquiring one additional classroom, probably from the all-purpose room, class size in no instance would be excessive. Heating, ventilation and lighting are good. We have a large well-equipped cafeteria, an adequate health room, a pleasant teachers' room, a special room for instrumental music instruction, adequate storage areas and sufficient janitorial closets. We have a spacious all-purpose room, half of which would be lost, however, to gain one additional classroom.

The picture at the high school is diametrically opposite. Here we have an outmoded structure built in the latter part of the nineteenth century. It has served the town of Hinsdale well but by today's standards it has outlived its usefulness. Heating is good but the ventilation and lighting are poor. The facilities are totally inadequate in which to provide good modern instruction. The science laboratory is extremely poor in an age when scientific knowledge is becoming increasingly more important. The facilities for home economics and industrial arts are quite inadequate. The commercial education courses are cramped for space. Classrooms for academic instruction are limited to the extent that it is difficult to schedule classes. In short, the building which suited the needs at the turn of century is seriously handicapped in attempting to do so in the decade of the 60's.

The above is not news to the citizens of Hinsdale. That they are well aware of the conditions is attested by the fact that they have a school planning committee which is working to provide a solution to Hinsdale's secondary school housing problems. The school planning committee and the school board have met jointly with Architects Edward L. Baker and Son of Leominster, Massachusetts, for the purpose of having preliminary drawings made for a new high school for Hinsdale. A report on the progress made will be presented to the people at the next annual school district meeting.

Educational Improvements: The Hinsdale School Board is to be highly commended for constantly striving to bring about improvements in our educational system. Three noteworthy advances have been made thus far this year. The first of these is the introduction of a plan for ability grouping in reading, the second is the return of home economics and manual training to the curriculum for the seventh and eighth grades, and the third is the installation of a language laboratory in Hinsdale High School.

Ability grouping in reading attained national attention when the plan put into effect in Joplin, Missouri, was publicized in the Saturday Evening Post. Modified Joplin plans have been tried with varying degrees of success in nearby communities. True to the pioneering spirit, Hinsdale introduced such a plan in the elementary school this year. In essence, the plan simply allows a pupil to make progress in reading as slowly or as rapidly as his ability will allow. Grouping according to traditional grade levels is set aside and grouping according to reading levels comes into being. No stigma is attached to pupils who are reading at a lower level than their contemporaries. All pupils should be able to make more rapid progress in reading than they would have under the traditional method of reading instruction within the four walls of a grade level classroom.

By means of re-scheduling, it was found possible for the seventh and eighth grade pupils to have instruction in home economics and manual training once more. We have received perfect cooperation from our school transporters, Mr. Robert Brandl and Mr. Guy Bouchie, in accomplishing this since it was necessary to transport pupils between the two schools during the school day.

A language laboratory is a necessity in modern foreign language instruction. High school graduates going on to college who have not had the privilege of studying with this aid find themselves at a marked disadvantage in competition with those who are familiar with this type of instruction. It essentially consists of electronics equipment comprising tape recorders, microphones, headsets, etc. Pupils listen to tape recordings, make tape recordings, listen to their own voices to improve pronunciation and are under the supervision of their teacher who has access to master controls. A six station installation is being made at Hinsdale High School. The individual pupil booths and the teacher's console have been constructed by the boys in the Industrial Arts Department. Half of the expense of the language laboratory will be borne by the federal government under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act.

Unfortunately, we were unable to secure the services of a guidance counselor for Hinsdale High School. There were too few qualified candidates and those who were interviewed were discouraged by the poor facilities of the old building. We will attempt to fill the position for the next school year. It is hoped that the National Defense Education Act will ultimately bring about a more plentiful supply of guidance personnel.

In conclusion, may I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the teachers, pupils and parents, the School Planning Committee, the School Board and the patrons of our schools for their cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

Superintendent of Schools
