Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the Citizens of Northwood:

This year the schools are joining in the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States, which was signed September 17, 1787, by delegates including John Langdon of Portsmouth, put into effect by New Hampshire's ratification June 21, 1788, and under which George Washington was inaugurated as first President, April 30, 1789. Contests, sponsored by the state sesquicentennial committee, will stimulate special study of these events. As a part of the regular program of studies, however, the upper grades include a course in American History and Civics, while every recent high school graduate in the state has had a full course in United States Constitutional History and Civics. In these courses, the immemorial rights of the people—freedom of speech, press, assembly, petition, religion, and fair trial—are traced through Magna Carta to the Bill of Rights of the Constitution. The free public schools are the greatest bulwark for government "of the people, by the people, and for the people," as against all threats to democracy.

Education is not limited to those of school age. There are more than 25,000 home study courses now available, covering practically every known occupation. Our State Board of Education in Concord offers University Extension Courses. Persons wishing to check on the reliability of different firms and institutions offering courses would do well to communicate with the National Home Study Council, Washington, D. C.

Last year the District provided for a teacher of music in the grades. To fill this position, the School Board employed Miss Elizabeth Girardet of Pittsfield, a graduate of the music curriculum of Keene Normal School, who gives one day a week to this work. The regular teachers have found her assistance in this subject very valuable, while the pupils have responded with a keen interest.

The examination of pupils, conducted last year by the School Nurse, Miss Margaret Macdonald, disclosed nineteen pupils more than 10% underweight, 98 with defective teeth, and 11 with other defects. At a dental clinic attended by Dr. C. H. Manning of Newmarket and sponsored by the Harvey Lake Woman's Club, 27 pupils were treated. Parents are urged to examine health reports sent home by the nurse and take steps to correct the conditions noted. The nurse was also fortunate in securing the use of a machine called the Audiometer, by which 76 pupils were tested for hearing, some of them twice. During the prevalence of contagious disease, the nurse has been assiduous in checking incipient cases and protecting the health of the children.

As a very unusual happening, there were no eighth grade graduates at the Ridge School last June. This year, however, there will be a good-sized class at both grammar schools to enter high school.

Coe's Academy has enlarged its staff and increased the number of subjects offered. The death of Honorable Albert O. Brown, ex-governor of New Hampshire, and for many years President of the Board of Trustees of the Academy, removed a loyal friend of education in Northwood and the state. The results of his intense interest in the welfare of youth will be effective into the indefinite future.

Respectfully submitted,

CHESTER W. DOE,
Superintendent of Schools.
