REPORT OF THE FOREST FIRE WARDEN AND YOUR DISTRICT FIRE CHIEF

The 1964 forest fire season surpassed the record year of 1963 in both length and severity. For the second successive year, we experienced a rainfall deficiency of more than ten inches and the compounding of such drought conditions, together with the many days of strong, dry winds, characterized 1964 as one of the most hazardous years in the past half century. Although our fire season was three weeks longer than that of 1963, the number of fires showed only a slight increase and more remarkable was the fact that the area burned dropped from 2,280 acres in 1963 to 900 acres in 1964. Early detection and rapid response kept many potential fire disasters from becoming reality. We all owe a debt of gratitude to the men in this community who responded and fought our fires so efficiently. Our state is now 86% wooded and its economy — both industrial and recreational — is greatly dependent on this forest resource. The responsibility for adequate fire protection of this great area — 4,350,000 acres — is everyone's responsibility and prevention is one of our most effective tools.

Prevention is good common sense.

1. Take your rubbish to the town dump. If you must burn, obtain a permit and watch your fire until it is dead out.
2. Instruct your children in fire safety. Keep matches from young children. Explain to them the dangers of lighting matches and making outdoor fires.
3. Be sure discarded smoking material and matches are out.

A major portion of our preventable fires this year are chargeable to three causes: (1) permit fires allowed to escape; (2) children playing with matches; and (3) smokers. Let's be mindful of the fact that all such fires endanger property and lives.

We wish to thank you for your very fine cooperation during the past fire season and with your continued cooperation we are confident that we can improve our fire record in 1965.

REPORT OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT — 1964

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the Board of Selectmen for the splendid co-operation they have given me and my department during 1964.

I wish to thank the N. H. State Police, Motor Vehicle Department and the police departments and radio operators of the surrounding towns for their cooperation and express my deepest gratitude to the members of my department for their support, their fine work and the many unpaid hours of their services donated.

Speaking of hours donated, I am sure that Mrs. Anita Taylor probably donates as much time and hours for the welfare of the Town of Brookline and this department as anyone.

For her many unpaid hours at the radio and telephone assisting this department and other departments and working with the communications operators of other towns to increase the efficiency of our radio network and the efficiency of this department, I wish to extend to my sincere thanks.

I would like to thank Mrs. Varney for her work with the School Safety Patrol during 1964.

Juvenile cases continue to rise and require many more hours of investigation each year, this is a growing problem throughout the country.

Some of the Juvenile Cases handled by this department this year required as much as fifty to sixty hours of investigation plus mileage and phone calls. I feel that much of this could be avoided with a little more co-operation from some of the parents.

This department investigated 35 reportable motor vehicle accidents this year, resulting in several thousand dollars property damage and injuries to persons involved.

I am happy to say that again this year no fatal accidents occurred.

Twenty-eight licenses to operate were revoked by request, I feel that this is a greater deterrent to careless motor vehicle operation than is court action and the various Motor Vehicle Depts. co-operation in this matter is great.

A total of 364 complaints and 137 dog cases were handled by this department, this is in addition to Juvenile cases, auto accidents, breaking and entering, emergency calls, etc.

Some of these required only a short phone call while others required many hours of investigation until they were closed.

In closing I would like to thank our local newspaper, The Brookline News, for its support of this department.

As can be seen by the activity report, this has been a busy year for the police department and I would like to thank all that have contributed, aided and supported this department during 1964. THANK YOU.

Respectfully submitted,

ALVIN W. TAYLOR

MELENDY POND REPORT OF 1964

The Melendy Pond Project which began back in 1950, continues to expand and return tax money to the town for little or no expense. Each year the money received from rental of the lots is returned to the project in the form of road building and repairing, beach improvement and expansion of the project in general.

Last year two new camps were constructed, one more lot rented and many improvements made to the existing camps. The Authority surfaced another spur road to the lake shore lots and continued maintenance on the existing roads.

The town assessed the buildings for $58,500.00 from which they received over $2,100.00 in revenue.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BROOKLINE SALARY STUDY COMMITTEE

The Salary Study Committee made the following recommendation to the Brookline School Board:

1. That the School District adopt a salary guide based on the following steps beginning with the school year September, 1965:

0	$4,600.00
1	4,650.00
2	4,700.00

17	6,400.00
18	6,500.00
19	6,500.00
20	6,600.00

2. That the initial increase for placing any teacher on the guide should not exceed $300.00.

3. That the school board shall reserve the right to withhold a teacher's salary increase due if it is felt that his or her work for the previous year was not entirely satisfactory.

4. That the school board shall appoint another Salary Study Committee within two years to further pursue salary schedules.

The committee feels it imperative that a form of salary guide be adopted in order to insure the procurement of good teachers for our schools. It spells out the advancement open to a teacher coming into our schools and could induce well qualified and dedicated teachers to remain many years in our system.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I submit my fourth report as Superintendent of Schools in Supervisory Union 40. This report will focus on three major areas: Union 40 growth, curriculum improvement and future needs.

1. Union 40 Growth

To properly manage the increased volume of purchasing and plant maintenance caused by the tremendous growth, the Supervisory Union 40 School Board by unanimous vote added a business manager to the Union 40 Staff, effective July 1, 1965.

2. Curriculum Improvement

In the past three years a great deal of change has taken place in the curriculum of the schools in this Supervisory Union, coinciding with changes in school programs throughout our state and nation. The explosion of knowledge and emphasis on the space age, of which you are well aware, are evidence of change in every facet of our life. One of the major concerns I have is that the schools make no change merely for the sake of change, to "get on the bandwagon," but rather that we take every possible measure to be certain that any changes in the school program are based on a thorough study to insure the change will produce educational benefits for our youth.

Significant improvement is taking place throughout grades 1-12 because of the work of a dedicated staff. A few examples of the progress taking place are as follows:

Elementary Schools: reading, social studies (see Miss Connolly's report), mathematics, writing, speech, French, science, physical education. Cooperative and departmentalized teaching have enabled us to bring the special talents of a teacher to students in other classrooms in certain schools.

Secondary Schools: national programs in biology, chemistry, and physics; greater emphasis in English; improvement in foreign language department (Russian I introduced in Milford this year); vocational machine shop made superior with equipment from the federal government (Milford); improved curriculums in art, earth science, business education, mathematics; present study by social studies teachers to coordinate and improve history, geography, civics, and problems of democracy courses.

3. Future Needs

One hundred years ago Mr. P. B. Day of the Superintending Committee in Hollis wrote as follows in his annual report dated March 15, 1865; "The first desideratum of a good school is a correct public sentiment. That sentiment should be enlightened both in regard to the end to be secured and the means of obtaining it. Teachers have little stimulus to exertion if they discover no appreciative sense of their services in the community, especially if they have reason to suppose their best efforts will be opposed or wrongly construed . . . They should be assured of co-operation in maintaining good order, of sympathy in their vexations and trials, and of a just appreciation of their merits . . . We must encourage our teachers by kind words . . . and friendly suggestions. When evidently in the wrong, we should bear with them as if they were our own sons or daughters, brothers or sisters . . .

"The second and chief desideratum of a good school is a good teacher. A good teacher will be interested in his work (and) . . . must likewise have competent literacy attainments. He must have ready and clear knowledge . . . not like money carefully laid away in a distant bank from which he can draw in case of an emergency, but like money in the pocket, ready at a moment's notice. A good teacher will likewise have a talent for explanation, and a fertility of ingenuity to make his instructions attractive . . . He will have order and decorum in the school, and will know how to do this in a kind pleasant manner. He will have that presence, that ease and firmness which will command respect . . . He will be disposed to unite his influence with the parents in elevating the general character of the children.”

The chief needs of the five school districts in Supervisory Union #40 are directly related to Mr. Day’s 1865 report. With a public supporting quality schools and with good teachers, the boys and girls in Amherst, Brookline, Hollis, Milford, and Mont Vernon will certainly receive the education they need.

The public is invited and encouraged to visit school to discover first-hand what takes place. If an organization would like to visit, contact the principal so that proper arrangements can be made.

To insure that our youth continue to have good teachers, we must follow the suggestion made a century ago and “. . . encourage our teachers . . . they must be assured of cooperation . . .” In addition, we must make every effort to be competitive with nearby school districts in the matter of teacher’s salaries. An annual review to insure we keep pace is essential.

In concluding this 1965 annual report, I would be remiss if I did not report to you that a great deal of excellent work has been accomplished by your teaching staff in the past year. The overall staff includes people who work hard so that good teaching can take place and these people deserve our appreciation also. They are the school nurses, secretaries, aides, custodians, school lunch personnel, bus transporters, and the Union 40 Bookkeeper Miss Marchesi, and secretary, Mrs. Combs. Miss Mabel Connolly and the school principals merit a special thank you for their many, many efforts to improve your schools. A special expression of thanks is due from each of us to the members of the school boards and study committee members who work for little or no remuneration, but from a sense of devotion to each town in Supervisory Union 40.

REPORT OF OUR TEACHER CONSULTANT

The Challenge Of The Sixties

The world is changing so rapidly that, as Margaret Mead stated, "No man dies in the world to which he was born." Changes come so swiftly that many of them are termed "explosions", such as the population explosion or the explosion of knowledge. There are serious repercussions to such changes, producing strains in numerous phases of American life and continually causing new problems, particularly social and economic. It is said that in each ten years of this century our total knowledge doubles. Advances in science and technology are creating occupations unheard of a few years ago. Even the recent space research programs alone have created more than 3,200 different products, many of which are now a part of the daily lives of Americans. President Kennedy summed up the challenge of the sixties when he wrote. "The revolutionary forces shaking the earth have converged, presenting us with hard choices, with a need for action, for ideas, for concerted and sustained commitment as a nation and as individual citizens."

Educating To Meet The Challenge

In meeting the challenge our schools must encounter not only the changes made in science and technology but the problems they engender: social, political and economic. New programs designed to prepare our children for the demands of tomorrow have evolved in science, mathematics and foreign languages. Our elementary teachers have spent countless hours attending meetings, classes and workshops for the purpose of gaining new concepts and methods of instruction so necessary to the development of these programs. Another area where they are meeting the challenge is in the social studies. The teachers in this school union are presently involved in a project of developing a program that is in keeping with the needs of our times.

The Social Studies

The social studies, with citizenship as its main objective, will occupy a position of greater importance in the curriculum. Good citizenship starts with self-discipline as a basic tenet of a truly democratic country. An individual or a nation must have control over one's own actions as the first responsibility to others. Skills of clear thinking and decision making must be acquired.

Social studies is a term that usually denotes the combined study of geography, history and government. It has been concerned too often with the accumulation of facts usually learned in sequence, and the memorization of places, events, people, and dates. If today's children are to cope with the problems of tomorrow they must do more than learn facts, but understand what to do with these facts and how to obtain others. They must learn to see the relationships to be found among them, how to think through a situation, form concepts and arrive at conclusions. The tools for these and other skills are to be found in a social studies program that is founded upon good citizenship.

Our Program

Our new program is based upon the following premises:

1. Children can attain concepts at an earlier age than indicated in the present program.
2. The inclusion of other areas in the social studies program that are related to it and allow greater depth and understandings can more nearly meet the needs of all our children.
3. To attain skill in citizenship there must be provided more experiences, actual and vicarious, in citizenship, beginning with self-discipline, and encompassing world understandings.
4. The elementary level has a definite commitment to build a better foundation in the social studies so that the junior and senior high schools can meet more adequately the needs of their students.

The general theme for the first year is the roles of home, school, community and community helpers with the expected outcomes being the development of self-discipline and awareness of the rights of others and the beginnings of good citizenship.

The second year program deals with the study of food, clothing and shelter, with emphasis on how people depend upon each other in satisfying these needs. The objectives involve understandings of our basic economic needs and the interdependence of people in local and world communities in obtaining them.

The general theme for the third year is the relation of man to his environment with units of study of typical regions of the world, the people living there, and factors of environment influencing their ways of life. Expected outcomes are an understanding of some of the geographical, social and economic factors determining the past and present ways of people near and far, and the attainment of map study skills.

The program for the fourth year deals with spanning the Old World and New World with units of study of European backgrounds of the New World; its discovery, exploration and settlement; the thirteen colonies with emphasis on the growth of our own state of New Hampshire. Understandings include the factors involved that make us who and what we are.

The fifth year program continues with the growth of our nation, its size, resources, development, people and problems past and present. Expected outcomes are: an understanding of the development of the United States and its role among nations, an ability to relate the problems of the present emerging nations with those of our own, and an understanding of the responsibilities of one people to another in this world.

The sixth year deals with early and present civilizations, the factors contributing to the development of a civilization and the influence of one civilization upon another. We want our children to be aware that people think and act as they do because of their backgrounds and that the United States has a role of leadership in improving civilization and safeguarding freedom.

The above social studies program is being evolved by our teachers and implemented with techniques of instruction designed to develop independent and responsible work-study skills, an inquiring mind and a thoughtful citizen.

We are indeed fortunate to have dedicated teachers whose greatest concern is the provision of the best possible education for our children. To these teachers, and all who have helped and encouraged them, Dr. Goodman, the School Board, parents and friends of education, I would like to express my sincere appreciation for another year of work well done.

REPORT OF THE BROOKLINE PRINCIPAL

I am pleased to submit my first report as Principal of Brookline Elementary school.

The Brookline schools opened last September with four new teachers: Mrs. Harris, grade one, 27 pupils; Mrs. Madigan, grade two, 25 pupils; Mr. March, grade four, 30 pupils; and myself, Principal, grade five, 19 pupils. I feel we were fortunate in having one veteran teacher for each building, Mrs. Dunn, grade three, 25 pupils; and Mrs. Varney, grade six, 27 pupils; returning to the system. I feel particularly fortunate in having Mrs. Varney with me at Daniels Academy.

While it is that "experience is the best teacher" does not always hold true; by and large there is no substitute for experience, especially when working in conjunction with an effort to keep pace with the times.

The greatest single step forward, I feel, has been the elimination of split grades, each grade having its own teacher for the first time.

It is my feeling that the teachers have worked well together this year for the common interests and that teacher-administration co-ordination has been on a high level. I am of the opinion that parent-teacher relationships have been superior to that I have experienced in other school districts.

In step with the times has been the so-called modern math program which actually does not seek to develop radically different concepts of the subject only to present them in a more comprehensive manner. Grade four, under the able leadership of Mr. March in this field, has been working on this level this year to continue the new math introduced in grades 1-3 last year. Next year, to the best of my ability, I will introduce this program in grades five and six, taking a course in modern math at the state university next summer.

The administration has provided excellent films on the subject of modern math during the fall term as well as discussion groups in social studies. I have been fortunate enough to attend several principals' meetings in Concord and elsewhere.

If I were asked what one step would most surely promote a more unified set-up, it would be to get all six grades under one roof. I know steps are being taken in this direction but would urge complacency with the present housing facilities not to be given undue regard as any forward thinking parent must agree. There are limitations to the present situation that could be eliminated only by such a step.

The art teacher, Mr. Locke, and the music teacher, Mrs. Stiff, have done a good job this year within the limits of time and space. Mr. Meltzer is a valuable addition as speech therapist.

In closing, I wish to thank the school board, staff administration, parents, and youngsters for providing me with a rewarding period spent in the Brookline School District.

Cordially and respectfully,

ROBERT B. HARRIS, Principal

BROOKLINE SCHOOL BOARD REPORT

I. Teacher's Salary Plan

The School Board strongly favors the adoption of the Salary Study Committee's recommendations for a long range salary plan. The initial increase recommended in the Salary Study Committee's report is included in this year's proposed budget. This increase will not place us at the salary levels recommended by the Study Committee and approved by the School Board, but it will be a step forward. Additional increases will be proposed in succeeding budgets until the salary plan recommended by the Salary Committee is attained.

II. Transportation

We expect a total of 126 pupils who will attend Nashua schools next year. This is an increase of nine pupils, who must be transported. If we transport all these pupils, we will need three buses. If we have a bid which has not been acted upon for $12,310. This with the current contract for local transportation makes a total of $17,230. If we continue to transport all pupils, the School Board feels strongly we must have three buses to relieve the serious overcrowding and take care of increases in enrollment. There is an alternative to transporting all pupils. In a separate article in the warrant for this 1965 School District meeting, the amount to be spent for transportation is to be determined. The School District could save $7,856 by transporting only those pupils in the seventh and eighth grades which we are legally required to transport. The Board feels the voters should have the opportunity of making this decision.

III. Tuition

In increase of $7,453 for tuition is included in the budget because the state average has increased from $412 to $438 for junior high, and for senior high from $456 to $489, and we will have nine additional pupils. Tuition represents 46% of our total budget.

IV. Future

A look to the future shows the need for thinking about adding to our new primary school in a few years.
