DURHAM, NH – Incumbent Senator Kelly Ayotte and Governor Maggie Hassan remain deadlocked for New Hampshire’s U.S. Senate seat. Most voters have not yet decided who they will vote for in the Senate election.

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll,* conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred and thirty-two (532) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by landline and cellular telephone between July 9 and July 18, 2016. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.2 percent. Included were four hundred and sixty-nine (469) likely 2016 general election voters (MSE = +/- 4.5%).

2016 US Senate Election

This year’s New Hampshire Senate race between incumbent Senator Kelly Ayotte and Governor Maggie Hassan is one of the most closely watched races in the nation and likely will be the most expensive election in New Hampshire history. However, because the election is months away, few likely voters have finally decided on who they will support -- just 20% of likely voters say they have definitely decided, 11% are leaning toward a candidate, and 69% are still trying to decide.

2016 US Senate Election – Ayotte vs. Hassan

If the 2016 Senate election was held today, 45% of likely voters say they would vote for Hassan, 42% would vote for Ayotte, 3% would vote for someone else and 11% are undecided. Support for Hassan has increased three percentage points since February. Ayotte and Hassan hold wide leads among members of their parties; Ayotte leads among Republicans 77%-9% and Hassan leads among Democrats 84%-1% while Rubens has a 60%-15% lead among Republicans and a slight advantage (34%-30%) among Independents. Turnout in November will be critical to deciding this race.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center and funded by WMUR-TV, Manchester, NH. Five hundred and thirty-two (532) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed in English by landline and cellular telephone between July 9 and July 18, 2016. If a household included more than one adult, the adult who had the most recent birthday was selected to be interviewed.

The margin of sampling error is +/- 4.2 percent for the entire sample. Included were four hundred sixty-nine (469) likely 2016 general election voters (MSE +/- 4.5%). These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The design effect for the survey is 1.1%.

The random sample used in the WMUR Granite State Poll was purchased from Marketing Systems Group (MSG), Horsham, PA. MSG screens each selected telephone number to eliminate non-working numbers, disconnected numbers, and business numbers to improve the efficiency of the sample, reducing the amount of time interviewers spend calling non-usable numbers.

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households. Additionally, data were weighted by respondent sex, age, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%. The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions.
