Our Happily Ever After

Matthew Joyal
M.S. in Project Management
2021

Granite State College

Basic Information

- Planning an event is no different than planning a project. Both require teams, years of planning, risks, challenges, and effort. One of the hardest events to plan is a wedding. A wedding, is hopefully, a once in a lifetime event for a couple who truly love each other.

- What makes a wedding so hard to plan?

Scope

A wedding takes time and dedication to plan. By using project management tools for the event, the planning process will remain on schedule. Each facet of the event will be recorded to ensure the highest quality output.

Our deliverables include:

- Keeping the budget lower than $24,000
- Executing an exceptional event
- Positive guest satisfaction throughout the duration of the event

These deliverables can be achieved by using and communicating with the expert vendors.

Paul Streeter
Owner and Founder
NuView Photography

Nick Kafejelis
Platinum DJ
Get Down Tonight
Entertainment Inc.

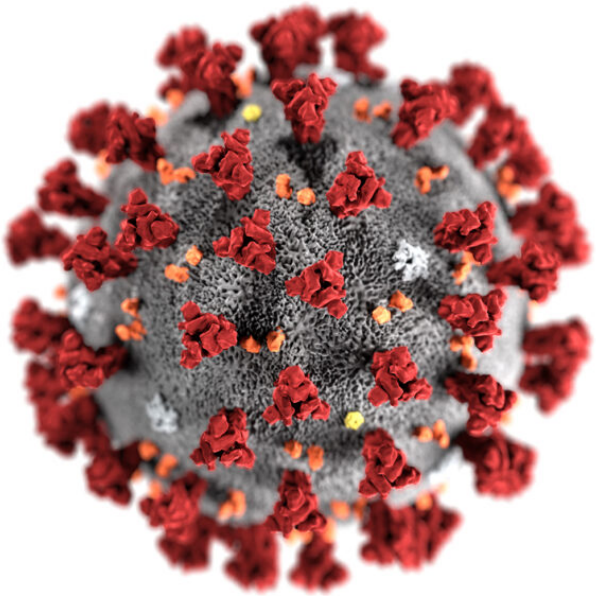
Risks

When starting this event, my team and I evaluated what we considered potential risks that could affect the event. After identifying the risks, we then considered the probability of the risk occurring and what the impact would be for the event. The following are the risks we identified, their impact on the event, and the probability of them occurring.

Impact
	H	Food allergies Hotel Accommodations Lack of funding	Covid-19
	M	Lack of resources Guest transportation	Weather
	L	Date not available
		L	M	H
		Probability

Challenges

Covid-19 Restrictions
Team Members Impacted By Covid-19



Challenges Avoided

Covid-19 Vaccine

moderna

Pfizer

Johnson & Johnson

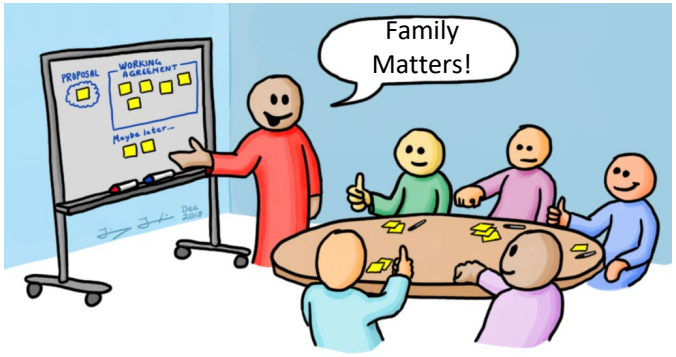
Process

Alternatives To In-Person Meetings

Week To Week Planning

Lessons Learned

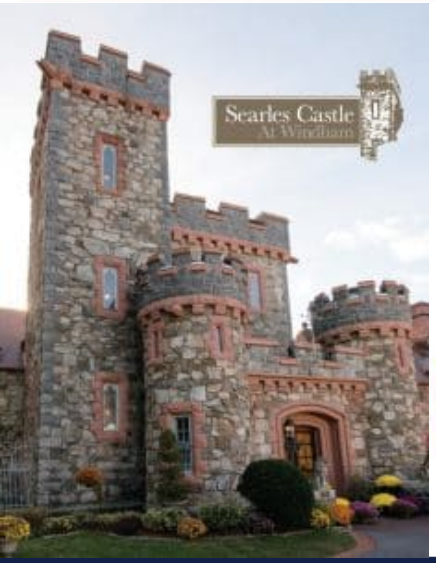
How To Work Around Covid?
There Is Never Enough Time
Dealing With A Different Type Of Team



Thank You

- I would like to thank all of the vendors and online resources we worked with during the event process. This event would not have been possible without them.

the knot



BLACK TIE
Limousine Worldwide

Get Down Tonight
Entertainment, Inc.
The Ultimate DJ Experience

NuView
PHOTOGRAPHY

Fine European Jacques
Pastries

WARD'S
FLORIST
Beverly, MA • since 1972