Report of the Librarian ofTHE LISBON PUBLIC LIBRARY

During 1942 the library was used by 486 different people, and the circulation of books was 17,615 for the year. Many names had to be dropped from the list of patrons because of absence from town either for work or for service in the army. Sixty-one new names were added, quite largely those of children who had reached the age of reading, or those who were obliged to do some in connection with their school work.

During the year 98 books of non-fiction and 197 of fiction were added to the adult list and 115 were placed in the junior department, including both fiction and non-fiction. Eighteen books were borrowed from the State Library at Concord and a number from the Library Commission in order to meet requests that could not be filled locally.

The book committee has endeavored to select books about the war that are in most demand, and it has, also, chosen an interesting list of background books dealing with the places that are mentioned daily in the newspapers or over the radio. Books of biography, early American handicraft, gardening, nutrition and sugarless cooking have been added and the fiction has been selected to cover a wide variety of tastes, ranging from a Hauck romance, a Raine western and a Gardner mystery to a historical novel by Le Grand Cannon, The Song of Bernadette by Werfel and The Seventh Cross by Seghers.

Books have been given to the library by Dr. Godfrey, Mr. Hutton and Mrs. Barbour, magazines by Mrs. H. B. Moulton, Mrs. B. S. Webb, Mrs. Chandler Aldrich, Mrs. Raymond Lang, Mrs. Albert Miller, Mrs. S. J. Sharpless, Mr. Stanley Currier, the Grange and the D. A. R.

MILDRED G. CLOUGH, Librarian.

THE RICHARDSON MEMORIAL LIBRARY

SUGAR HILL, N. H.

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES :

The library contains approximately 7,057 volumes, not including government reports and bound magazines.

During the past year 157 books have been added by appropriation and gift.

Periodicals for the reading room and for circulation include American, American Home, Good Housekeeping, McCalls, Cosmopolitan, Woman's Home Companion, Reader's Digest, Ladies' Home Journal, Better Homes and Gardens, Your Life, The New York Times Book Review, Life, Time, and Lisbon Courier.

Donors to the library include Mrs. J. Warner Fobes, Henry H. Crapo, Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont, Mrs. Stella A. Summers, C. Prentice Andrews, Mrs. Carl S. Hoskins, Mrs. Arthur S. Walcott, Mrs. Yenni, and Herbert Hoover.

Total number of books and periodicals loaned, 6,213. Fiction, 2,037. Non-fiction, 1,355. Periodicals, 2,821.

While the war has diminished the reading population of Sugar Hill, there has, nevertheless, been a marked increase in circulation due to the summer visitors both in the hotels and colony.

Through the thoughtfulness of C. Prentice Andrews of Chicago and Sugar Hill, who is now in the armed forces, the library receives his unexpired subscriptions to outstanding magazines, some of which will continue through 1943.

Unfortunately the children's room, which is located in the basement, received considerable damage due to a faulty drain, and extensive repairs have been made.

Approximately fifty books have been borrowed from our State library and twenty volumes from the Littleton library. These books have been used for reference material, and through this service it has been possible to fulfill the many requests of the college students during the summer months, and the high school students throughout the school year.

May I take this opportunity to express to my townspeople my gratitude for their loyalty through these many years. I have been privileged to serve as your librarian for thirty-six years. It touched me greatly when last March fifty-five friends gathered at the library to tender me a testimonial tea. And the telegrams, gifts and many messages from our summer residents and out-of-town friends brought me much pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

JERUSHA E. PARKER, Librarian.

ALICE H. SMITH, Assistant.
