MILK

The responsibility for quality improvement rests with everyone who is at all connected with the production, processing, distribution, or supervision of Milk supplies. Unless there is a whole-hearted co-operation among all these agencies there will be a weak link in the chain.

All health departments desire that the people of their jurisdictions are supplied with milk of high quality.

They also desire to increase the per capita consumption of milk in their communities. Although milk is made safe for human consumption by proper pasteurization, its quality greatly depends upon the conditions under which it has been produced and handled.

The following letter was mailed to all milk producers delivering milk in Dover:

Dover, N. H., May 10, 1930.

DEAR SIR:—Chapter 163, Section 4 of the Public Statutes of New Hampshire reads: “An applicant for a license to sell milk may be granted a license provided he gives reasonable assurance that the cows from which the milk is taken are healthy.”

The State Department of Agriculture of New Hampshire cooperating with the United States Bureau of Animal Industry is prepared to examine and test cattle without expense to the owner.

The Board of Health of Dover is of the opinion that milk producers should accept this service to insure a wholesome product from healthy cows and, therefore, has voted that all milk sold in Dover on and after January 1, 1931, must be drawn exclusively from herds under Federal and State Supervision. This applies to all milk and cream sold or distributed, whether pasteurized or raw, and also to milk and cream used in the manufacture of ice cream.

A distributor of milk has stated in his application for a license to sell milk in Dover that he purchases part of his supply from you.

If your cows have not been tested, will you make application for the test at an early date. An early application will insure a test in ample time to meet the requirements of the Board of Health of this city.

Application for the test should be addressed to R. W. Smith, State Veterinarian, State House, Concord, N. H.

Report as follows: "While this sample showed considerable turbidity and sediment, it was bacterially very good, no coli being in evidence even in the 10 c. c. inoculation. There would seem to be no appreciable ground for criticism of this water as a medium for bathing purposes, although it is not as clean of appearance as might be desired."

DOVER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The dental clinic, operated by the Dover District Nursing Association, rendered during the year 1930, 1232 treatments, 515 more than during the year 1929.

The clinic is maintained for children whose parents are unable to provide dental service for them, and is supported by the District Nursing Association, with the help of a $500.00 grant by the city each year.

DOVER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION,
DR. E. C. GODFREY, President.

DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION

Diphtheria is justly regarded as one of the most dreaded diseases of childhood and death from it occurs chiefly among children under five years old.

There is a definite increase in susceptibility to the disease, during the first two years of life and a gradual development of immunity thereafter. Now if all children of pre-school age—say from one to six years of age—as well as school children, were immunized, very few diphtheria cases would be found.

This can only be made possible through an educational campaign, by means of which people will understand the characteristics and the dangerous results of this disease, and the best method of controlling it.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that before children are allowed to enter school, they should each be given the "Schick Test," followed, when positive, by the toxin anti-toxin immunizing treatment.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. E. WHITELEY,
Executive Officer.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS

TO HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR, AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCILS:

We have the honor to submit the following report of the business of the Dover police department for the year 1930.

Governor Charles W. Tobey reappointed Charles E. Lord for the three year term beginning September 7, 1930. This appointment was promptly confirmed by the Governor's council.

The organization of the commission remains as during previous years: Charles E. Lord, chairman; Thomas W. Webb, clerk; Owen Coogan.

The four-way automatic traffic signal lights formerly on Franklin square were discontinued, and installed at the junction of Sixth and Chestnut streets. To eliminate numerous accidents at this intersection, two one-way traffic signal lights have been installed, to govern the Third street and Central avenue north-bound traffic, which are now working out very satisfactorily.

We feel that with the crime wave that has been sweeping the entire state we have been most fortunate in escaping its destructive force; we also consider that we have a very active and efficient police department, running smoothly and satisfactory to the commissioners.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
OVERSEER OF THE POOR

Dover, N. H., December 31, 1930

GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCILS:

I herewith submit a report of the expenditures of this department for the year ending December 31, 1930. Although the report shows a deficit of $1,-417.46, there exists an actual deficit of only $92.77 figuring the bills actually incurred from January 1, 1930, to December 31, 1930, inclusive.

Owing to the death of my predecessor, many bills which should have been charged against the 1929 appropriation were left unpaid in 1929. Those bills were charged against the 1930 appropriation. That accounts for the difference between the deficit as shown by the report and the actual deficit in this department for the year 1930.

There has been no material change in hospital administration during the year just drawn to a close. The later days of the year, however, were saddened by the death of two of the prominent members of the hospital staff, Dr. Daniel J. Buckley and Dr. John C. Lawlor, whose passing is commemorated later on in this document.

During the past twelve months the hospital has rendered service to a greater number of patients than in any previous year in its history, and has also established a new high record for free service and the number of accident cases treated. The number of accident cases exceeded the record of similar admissions for any previous year by forty-one, and reached the rather unusual total of ninety-five over the annual average of such admissions for the quarter of a century the hospital has been in operation.

At the request of the Medical Corps of the First Naval District, the Wentworth Hospital has been entered as one of the institutions ready to render all possible aid to the government in the event of a national emergency.

As we close the first twenty-five years of service in the life of the Wentworth Hospital, it might be interesting to present a few statistical facts covering the work of the institution for that period. Since the opening of the hospital in 1906, there have been 17,071 patients admitted, a number 3,465 in excess of the present population of the city. The number of days' service rendered these patients was 263,470. Of the total number admitted, 2,378 were treated absolutely without charge, and 569 were accorded the benefits of the institution at such remuneration as they were able to offer. The number of days' service rendered free patients was 58,812. The average length of time paying patients received hospital treatment was 12.1 days each; those accorded free treatment received institutional care for 15.4 days each.

It seems unnecessary to dwell upon the value of the hospital to the civic life of the community; its splendid service is responsive to every call, and the gratulatory letters received from those who have been restored to health and happiness through its ministrations are most gratifying, not only to the Board of Trustees, but to the entire faculty of the institution. Professional ethics forbid the publication of personal communications, yet the attaches of the hospital are stimulated and encouraged by these voluntary acknowledgments of benefits received, on the part of a grateful public, and are inspired to even greater effort in behalf of those who are temporarily entrusted to their care.

IN MEMORIAM

On the fourth day of November, 1930, following a painful illness, Dr. James J. Buckley, a member of the hospital staff, was called to his eternal home. Dr. Buckley was a native of Dover, a graduate of Dartmouth Medical school, and a physician of wide repute; he was a deep student, devoted to his profession, and dedicated to the alleviation of human suffering. Dr. Buckley was elected obstetrician by the board of trustees of the Wentworth Hospital, July 11th, 1921, and held that position at the time of his death. Always kind, courteous and considerate, his presence in the sick chamber imparted a sense of security and hopefulness which helped dispell the dark mantle of incertitude within which the weak and suffering are so often enshrouded. The sympathy of the board of trustees is extended to the widow, and to all sorrowing relatives and friends.

On December 8th, 1930, only a few short weeks following the demise of Dr. Buckley, his friend and colleague, Dr. John C. Lawlor, also passed to that unknown land whence no traveller returns. During the decade of his professional life in this city, Dr. Lawlor won a warm abiding place in the hearts of our people, and was rapidly coursing down the path of fame, both as a medical and surgical practitioner, when the summons came. Elected to the surgical staff on the same date that Dr. Buckley was chosen to the hospital force, he ministered to an ever growing clientele for intensive surgical treatment, his patients coming from afar to receive the benefit of his skill. In his death the Wentworth Hospital suffers the loss of a valued official, and the board of trustees, as well as the community at large, deeply mourns his passing. To the bereaved family the sympathy of our people goes forth in generous measure.

For details of service rendered by the hospital, you are respectfully referred to the report of the superintendent, hereto attached; for all financial details your attention is called to the report of the treasurer, also made a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

T. JEWETT CHESLEY,
 ASHTON ROLLINS,
 GEORGE T. HUGHES,

 EDWIN J. YORK,

Nineteen hundred and thirty has been our busiest hospital year. The latter months, wards and rooms have been overcrowded. We still need additional rooms for our private patients.

Among the repairs most needed in the hospital are those of replacing floors of the lavatories and of the diet kitchens. We need interior painting in the maternity department and in some of the private rooms. The floors of the corridors and wards are kept clean with much difficulty. If there could be the proper linoleum covering for these floors it would greatly improve the appearance of these departments.

It was our privilege to entertain the Rotary Club at one of their weekly dinners at no financial loss to the hospital. With the surplus that was left after financing the dinner, numerous shrubs and vines were bought and placed at the rear of the hospital, which as the years go on we hope will add to the beauty of the grounds. The Rotary Club gave us a much needed instrument cabinet, which is sufficiently large to fill the needs of the hospital for some years to come. We deeply appreciate this gift.

We have twenty-four nurses in the training school and the usual number on the supervising force. The Training School department is functioning about as usual. Our staff has been doing practically double duty, owing to the various illnesses in their number. The deaths of Dr. James J. Buckley and Dr. John C. Lawlor have saddened the hearts of us all. Working together for so many years for the best good of the hospital, their loss cannot immediately be replaced.

I wish to express at this time my thanks to the staff for their words of encouragement during the hard days we have gone through and their great willingness to fill in the vacant places left. The board of trustees I thank for their consideration and appreciation. The executive of a hospital would find the work a cheerless task but for the friendly words of encouragement and grateful appreciation which are so often heard.

Respectfully submitted,
 GRACE P. HASKELL, R. N.,
 Superintendent.

DOVER WATER WORKS

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS

TO THE CITY COUNCILS OF THE CITY OF DOVER:

GENTLEMEN:—We submit herewith the forty-third annual report of the board of water commissioners, for the year ending December 31, 1930.

The personnel of the board was as follows: Hon. T. Jewett Chesley, president; Luke H. McEwan, vice-president; Alonzo G. Willand, secretary; John Clancy, Edgar A. Davis.

The very severe drought of the past summer caused a serious shortage in our main water supply, Willand's pond. This necessitated our giving the question of an additional supply, which has also confronted our predecessors for many years, considerable time and study.

After considering all possible solutions of our trouble, we finally decided that the proposition submitted by the Layne-New York Co., a nationally known firm of water supply engineers, was the most feasible from a practical and economical standpoint.

Their proposition was submitted to your honorable body in September and authority given to close the contract, which was done, and their workmen are now here and making satisfactory progress.

A summary of the work accomplished during the year, the changes and improvements made, together with a detailed list of the receipts and disbursements, are contained in the report of the superintendent, which is annexed to and made a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

T. JEWETT CHESLEY,
ALONZO G. WILLAND,
LUKE H. McEWAN,
JOHN CLANCY,
EDGAR A. DAVIS,

Board of Water Commissioners.

Dover, N. H., December 31, 1930.

DOVER WATER WORKS

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS, DOVER, N. H.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the pleasure of presenting the forty-third annual report of the Superintendent, showing the present condition of the department, the extensions and improvements made, together with a statement in detail of the financial condition of the department for the year 1930.

Over one mile of distribution mains has been laid this year as follows:

Atlantic avenue, 1710 feet of 6-inch pipe.

Cochecho Country club, 637 feet of 6-inch pipe.

Broadway, 400 feet of 6-inch pipe.

Rochester road, 3175 feet of 6-inch pipe.

Highland avenue, 500 feet of 2-inch pipe.

There are now over thirty miles of distribution mains in the city.

New hydrants have been set this year as follows:

One at Cochecho Country club.

One on Broadway, corner of Highland.

One on New Rochester road.

The extension on Broadway was installed by authority of the selectmen of the town of Rollinsford, who desired a hydrant set at the corner of Highland avenue to protect the property in that vicinity; they reimbursed this department for the total cost of this installation, and there will be an annual rental of twenty-five dollars for the hydrant service.

The Cochecho Country club requested a 6-inch fire service in their new club house on the Eliot road, with a hydrant on their property, which necessitated the extension of the 6-inch main from the corner of Oak street and Atlantic avenue; this department was reimbursed for all work done on their property.

Forty-eight new services were installed during the year and eighty-four renewed, seventy-two of which were under the new cement road.

During the summer the reservoir was emptied and thoroughly cleaned, also both filter beds were cleaned and refilled.

Seventy-nine new meters have been set and two hundred forty taken out, cleaned and repaired, forty-six of which were replaced with new ones.

Our services are now 92 per cent metered.

During the summer we received from the New Hampshire State Forestry department 2,000 pine trees, which were set out around the Hussey springs, and at the suggestion of the State Forester, the pines set out about ten years ago were trimmed, to facilitate their growth.

The Lowell avenue and pond stations are in good condition; the roof of the pipe shop has been re-shingled.

The Hussey springs have continued to deliver about one-third of our requirements, the balance has come from Willand's pond. The rainfall this year was far below normal, and although we have pumped less than usual from the pond, it is two feet lower than one year ago and is fast nearing the danger point.

Satisfactory progress is being made by the Layne-New York Co. towards completion of their contract to furnish us an additional supply of water, which, when obtained, will enable us to discontinue pumping from Willand's pond, which we hope will again regain its normal level, thus assuring us a much needed reserve supply.

Samples of the water have been forwarded, at various times during the year, to the State Chemist for analysis; his reports have shown it to be of excellent quality.

RECOMMENDATIONS

That all services having more than one faucet be metered.

That the pipe shop be painted this year.

TO THE CITY COUNCILS OF THE CITY OF DOVER:

The annual routine work of the trustees of the Dover Public Library has been faithfully accomplished, the monthly meetings have been well attended and all bills and details of administration have been carefully considered. To fill the position on the board made vacant by the death of Mr. Archibald B. Paton in the last month of last year, Mr. Charles S. Cartland was elected on January 2, 1930. His well known financial ability and experience make him a welcome member of the board.

The library is in good condition and doing excellent work. For details of the work reference should be made to the reports of the librarian and treasurer, appended to and made a part of this report.

For the trustees,

CLARENCE I. HURD,

THE YEAR'S WORK

The total circulation for the year has been 68,673, of which 13,173 was from the children's room. This is almost exactly the total figure for last year, there being only a difference of 26, fortunately in gain. The main room has gained, but the children's room lost, making the net result almost the same. The books lost in circulation were only 7, but the books that have been lost from the shelves will be more, as will be shown by the inventory taken annually in the spring. The proportion of fiction has run up to an unprecedentedly high figure, 69 per cent, due probably to the insatiable demand for detective and western adventure stories. Biography is the class that is next in popularity, because of the many and interesting publications in that field, and bound periodicals, as always, furnish to many readers the variety and interest that they desire.

PUBLICITY

The past few years have seen wide changes in the use of publicity material by educational institutions. It was formerly thought that simply to do good work was sufficient for obtaining desired results. But in recent years this procedure has been found quite inadequate, and it has become necessary not only to inform the public, but better still to call attention energetically to the facts. Libraries employ different methods. Some put notices in street cars, in railroad stations, in shop windows and on moving picture screens. These methods have not seemed practicable here, but other ways have been regularly tried. Notices of new books have been sent to persons interested in special subjects. Each week annotated lists of new books have been furnished to the daily newspaper and weekly columns of information in regard to different departments or on timely subjects have directed attention to books along these lines. Increased interest has undoubtedly resulted from this practice. Bulletin boards have been freely used, both indoors and out, until the board which has been kept down by the street for the benefit of passers by, was several times deprived of its supports by hoodlums that frequent the grounds. Publicity work has also been kept up by means of exhibits.

EXHIBITS

In the spring, in connection with Health Week was held an elaborate exhibit of school posters, under the charge of the school health nurse, and at the same time there was an interesting and useful showing of dresses and other needlework under the direction of the teacher of domestic arts. For teachers an exhibit of pictures suitable for use in the schools was arranged in the fall at the opening of the school year. This was a charming exhibit, the pictures filling the Fine Arts room, and being arranged historically from Indian times through discovery and colonial days to the present, with views of life in different countries. Special invitations were sent to all the teachers in town and all persons interested in pictures were made welcome. Another exhibit, dear to the hearts of the younger portion of the community was the collection of circus pictures, owned and loaned by Mr. Leon Brown, a former assistant at the library. This was a unique set and included photographs and advertisements from the early Barnum days to recent times. It attracted much attention. Book week in November saw a fine exhibit of Children's books, with a story hour by Miss Edith Brewster and a talk on the new books by Miss Parker. Christmas week found a showing of Madonnas and Christmas decorations in the children's room.

LIBRARY COLLECTIONS

The bookplate collection remains about as it was last year, little work having been done on it since then. The mineral collection has been removed from this building to the Woodman Institute. Some years ago this collection was given to the library by Mrs. Holmes Rounds of this city, and when this building was erected, a special case was fitted up for it. But as years went on no further additions were made to it and the space it occupied was needed for historical material, so with the approval of Mrs. Rounds, by vote of the trustees, the whole collection was transferred to the Woodman Institute, where it has been added to the excellent collection already housed there, in appropriate and well cared for cases. The picture collection has had many additions and is much better equipped for use than heretofore. In view of the emphasis being laid on visual education in schools and on the charm of good pictures displayed in the home, and on the desirability of adequate examples for students of art, the picture collection takes on an importance which increases each year. Not only must the collection be increased in numbers and fresh material, but all pictures must be catalogued and properly arranged by subject in order to be readily accessible when wanted. During the year many unmounted pictures have been mounted and the whole collection has been enlarged and improved.

ORIGINAL PAPERS AND MANUSCRIPTS

Another collection, less well known perhaps, but valuable to the historical student, is that of original documents and manuscripts. It consists of records, account books, diaries, letters, deeds and other papers of much interest. There are several ship records of note. The Ship's book of the Brig Betsey, dated 1796; the Brig Atlantic, also 1796; the good ship Neptune, 1819, and the Nelson, 1781. There are musty old account books, dated 1810 and later. These are of value to students of economic history as showing prices of commodities and whereabouts of purchasers. Of diaries there are several of unusual value. One is Master Tate's record, called by Dr. Quint a curious and valuable document; it is in the handwriting of Dr. John R. Ham, who copied it from the original, which was in danger of destruction. Tate was a schoolmaster in Somersworth, who kept a record of people there beginning in 1767. Enoch Place's Diary was the work of a minister in Strafford, who recorded events, marriages and deaths through his long pastorate from 1810 to 1865. Another diary of unusual value is that of a soldier in the French and Indian war, who relates the daily events of his march from Dunstable, Massachusetts, to Fort Ticonderoga in 1758. Of letters there are two remarkable sets written home from the Civil war, by John Edmond Thompson and his brother, Stephen Millett Thompson. And there is a letter signed by Elbridge Gerry, dated 1772, and one signed by Rufus Choate, dated 1827, and a bill signed by Jeremy Belknap, dated July 4, 1776, and a deed signed by Richard Waldron, dated 1662. To this collection additions are constantly being made as persons realize that this is the place to deposit such papers, since provision is made here for their proper preservation and consultation.

IMPROVEMENTS AND NEEDS

A new metal case has been added to the children's room to hold books for the youngest readers. Additional shelves and new boxes for storage and better lighting have added to the possibilities of use in the picture department. New board covers on the granite steps in front of the building have increased the safety of the winter patrons. The urgent need now is better lighting over the walks which lead up to the building from the street.

This report offers nothing new or startling in the year's record, but the regular work has gone on steadily and efficiently. In the reading room and the historical room, under Miss Jenkins, aid has been given regularly and unstintingly to searchers and students. In the children's room Miss Parker has given help and advice not only to children but to parents and teachers who have appealed for assistance. The cataloguing, always a work demanding great care, under Miss Morrill, has gone on steadily and painstakingly, and at the delivery desk, Miss Morrison in charge of the circulation, has been tireless in her efforts to meet the many and varying demands that have come to her. To all these, the librarian desires to make public appreciation of their cheerful and efficient service, and to the trustees, as for many years past, she desires to express her pleasure in their friendliness, her thanks for their hearty cooperation in work and her hope that the library may reach that degree of usefulness that shall make its influence felt by every member of the community.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. GARLAND,
Librarian.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I herewith present for your consideration my thirteenth annual report as superintendent of schools of your city.

To say that education is adaptation to environments sounds pedantic, but the application of this theory to the growth of our school system may bring out much that is practical and concrete. The education of a generation or two ago was inevitably a much simpler process than we have today. Life was much simpler, and the adjustments to it were few in number and less complex in character. The schools reflected this and the program of old consisted of little more than the "three R's." As time went on life grew immeasurably more complex and adjustment to environment touched life at more points. Geography, history, psysiology, music, art, physical education, home economics, the practical arts, commercial subjects, health preservation, etc., are comparatively modern branches, which have been introduced into the school program within recent times. One sees in the adoption of these subjects the response of the school systems of the country to the needs of the rising generation for adaptation to an environment far more complex than was the case a hundred years ago. This development has not taken Place without the usual attendant "growing pains."

Critics of modern school programs have protested that everything new consisted of little more than "fads and frills," and as always happens in the case of new ideas in any realm of human progress, such critics hark back to "the good old days."

My purpose in introducing this line of thought is to show : (1) that our system of education is a living, growing process of many phases, a few of which I shall touch upon, and (2) that it is showing vigorous growth, which must continue, or else wither and decay. Today's civilization with its marvellous development of machinery, its automobiles, radio and aircraft, show why school programs have become so greatly enriched.

I commend to your earnest consideration the reports of the headmasters and teachers of special subjects, which set forth in greater detail what the schools are doing along the lines that I have indicated.

Our schools are today in a condition where we may be justified in taking an honest pride in them and in their work. At the same time we must realize that the standards of today may not be high enough to meet the requirements of tomorrow. We are to train our children for service to the world, and we must prepare them to the limit of our power by keeping up with the trend of educational developments, and by keeping step with the times. Our appropriation for school maintenance was materially reduced this year, but our income from other sources was increased, so that no department has been seriously handicapped. The growth in our music department, however, has now reached a point where the supervisor has more work than she can reasonably be expected to do. The school band, the orchestra, the special glee clubs, etc., in addition to the regular work of the class-rooms, constitute a job which calls for more time and strength than one person has to give. There is but one solution for this problem as I see it, and that is to provide an assistant to help with the work in the music department. The cost would not exceed $1,000 per year, and I think nobody could deny that the benefits to be secured by this modest expenditure would abundantly justify making it. It would be a real calamity to our schools if our fine orchestra and band must be dropped because of insufficient funds with which to continue them. We must regard this as an occasion for either growth or decay, according to our decision in the matter. Right here may I mention, with special commendation, the work of the music teacher. To say that she has shown "unbounded energy" and "indefatigable zeal" is to merely indulge in commonplace phrases. I have watched her work, over many years, and I know that no words of mine can adequately describe the faithful, painstaking, unselfish service she has given to a cause so dear to her heart. In the face of numerous and seemingly insurmountable obstacles, her ambition and perseverance have never failed, and such devotion to her work must arouse our deep respect and admiration.

To her we owe the development of a band and an orchestra of which we have every reason to be proud. These organizations play a vital part in the lives of our students.

A new state course of study for elementary schools has just been issued by the state department. You will recall that the last previous one was issued by the Dover school department in 1912. This was an excellent course at that time, and has served our needs for many years. It is lacking, of course, in the wealth of new material that has appeared within the past 18 years, and I recommend that a committee of teachers be appointed to investigate the new state program of studies for elementary schools, with a view to its adoption with such modifications as they may deem necessary because of local conditions.

The program for our high school has varied but little, from year to year, and what changes have been made were, for the greater part, in the commercial, home economics, and mechanics arts departments. I see no urgent call for further changes here, although there has been some agitation for several years, in regard to the addition of a course in printing to the mechanic arts course. I can see great practical value in such a course, and would heartily favor it, when school funds may warrant the expense.

A study of the enrollment for the past ten years will reveal the reasons for the necessary addition of three teachers to our corps, during the past four years. The school population grows slowly, but it continues to grow.

Enrollment by grades for the past ten years:

	1919	1920	1921	1922	1923	1924	1925	1926	1927	1928

Totals	1365	1338	1443	1509	1526	1620	1622	1637	1679	1702

There has been a small but steady growth in every grade, the pressure being most keenly felt just now in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades, where no additional teachers have been employed. Each year we reach the limits in these grades, but by transference of pupils from one district to another we manage to find room for all, such transfers frequently causing much complaint by parents. Just how long this method of coping with the situation will prove effectual, we cannot tell, but it is a fact that the employment of four additional teachers in the four grades mentioned, would relieve the present crowded conditions, lighten the burdens of the teachers and achieve a distinct improvement in our schools.

The per cent of attendance may be regarded as one significant measure of the efficiency of teachers. In 1919 the per cent of attendance was 93, and in 1930 it was 95. The intervening years show a steady increase. I doubt if any other city or town in the state has equalled our record in this respect..

During the past school year the no school signal was not rung.

In closing I wish to quote from a recent letter of President Willis A. Sutton, President of the National Education Association, in which he pays a just tribute to the faithful service of the able and conscientious citizens who give their time and thought to the good of their schools by serving on the school boards of their towns. Mr. Sutton says:

“In the great plan for American Education far too little credit has been given to those unselfish citizens who have devoted their time without compensation to the development of our greatest institution, ‘The American Public School System.’ As President of the National Education Association, it is my desire to recognize the entire citizenship, from janitor to president of the board, each for his valuable contribution to our schools. Surely no more important individuals participate in this program than the board members themselves. No greater opportunity for fearless, aggressive leadership exists in America than that offered by membership on the board of education. If leadership here is weak and timid, the future generations of America pay the penalty—if leadership is strong, forward-looking and courageous, the progress of the community is assured.

“The board member has a privilege not enjoyed by all public officials. He does represent the public, but more especially he represents the public of the next generation. It is the children’s needs, their necessities, their preparation, that should appeal to him. The marvelous progress of the schools of America is a tribute to our boards of education. The educational fraternity recognizes and appreciates this contribution. The superintendents, the principals and teachers of the nation recognize the loyalty and faithfulness of these business men and women.”

In expressing appreciation of the work of my own board, President Sutton’s tribute has my hearty endorsement.

Respectfully submitted,

J. E. WIGNOT,

Superintendent.

Sophomores 21 or approximately 15.2% of the class.

Freshmen 66 or approximately 32.1% of the class.

There are five instructors especially trained for this work in charge of the Mechanic Arts department.

It is not the function of this department to prepare students for college or university work, but to give a fundamental knowledge of the use of tools for specific lines, so that, at the completion of the high school course, they may enter business, requiring more or less technical skill.

This course of study fulfills the requirements of the Smith-Hughes Act, which provides for financial assistance from the Federal government.

OPEN NIGHT AT DOVER HIGH SCHOOL

American Education Week was appropriately observed on Thursday evening, November thirteen. The headmaster and the teachers were in their respective rooms from 7 until 7.45, prepared to receive the parents and others interested in the school. In the mechanic and the domestic arts departments, the pupils were actually at work.

At eight o'clock, the guests were invited to assemble in the auditorium to listen to an interesting program, consisting of music and an address by Prof. George N. Bauer of the University of New Hampshire.

PROGRAM OF WORK AND REQUIREMENTS IN MECHANIC ARTS DEPARTMENT

The mechanic arts curriculum is administered as follows:

Year	Subject Matter	Hours per week
Freshmen	Wood shop	12.5
"	Mechanical drawing	2
"	Shop mathematics	4
Sophomore	Pattern shop	12.5
"	Mechanical drawing	2
"	Shop mathematics	4
Juniors	Machine shop	12.5
"	Mechanical drawing	2
"	Electricity	4
Seniors	Machine shop	12.5
"	Mechanical drawing	1
"	Shop physics and mathematics	4
"	Shop organization	1

Automotive repair may be offered in place of machine shop practice if desired, 12½ clock hours.

In a few instances the mechanic arts instructors found it possible to make contact with the parents of some of our boys, to the end that a better understanding of the boys' situation might be gained.

The teachers of this department kept a private record system of the academic achievement of each boy in his classes. The instructor, by such methods as in his judgment seemed wise, used this information to spur the boys on to greater success in their work.

Several private conferences were held involving either vocational guidance or individual encouragement.

With the cooperation of the Strand Theatre, a five-reel educational film of the Norton Grinding Co. of Worcester was shown to our classes at a special morning session. This took place during the Christmas holidays.

During the year personal interviews were had with the girls in relation to hygiene, morals and future work, thus promoting a better understanding between teacher and pupils.

OUTLINE OF WORK FOR EACH YEAR

TEXTILES AND CLOTHING

Activities in this unit course should give the girl opportunity, through study and experience, to acquire a knowledge of textile fabrics and of their use in clothing and in house furnishings, in order that she may be able to select fabrics wisely, construct garments skillfully, and care economically and independently for her wardrobe.

The following articles were completed :

- Two suits of underwear,
- One cotton dress,
- One wool dress,
- One silk dress,
- One set of bed linen,
- One set of table linen.

FOODS AND NUTRITION

Activities in this unit course should give the girl opportunity, through instruction and experience, to acquire the knowledge necessary to choose food wisely, to prepare it skillfully, and to serve it attractively. The course should result in improvements in the health habits of the girls and of the family.

The following were studies in the laboratory :

- Selection of foods,
- Preparation of food for the table,
- Milk,

Batters and doughs,
 Sandwiches,
 Meats,
 Fish,
 Salads,
 Desserts,
 Food preservation,
 Canning,
 Storage of winter vegetables,
 Table etiquette.

THE HOME, ITS CARE AND MANAGEMENT

The work outlined for this year should enable the girl to plan the home wisely, to care for its efficiency, to buy for it economically, and to arrange its furnishings attractively.

The following were studied:

The house—plan and cost,
 Furnishing the house,
 Management,
 Appliances of value in the care of the home,
 Household accounting,
 Planning and care of home grounds.

THE FAMILY AND ITS MEMBERS

In this course the girls gain an appreciation of the importance of well organized family life and of the knowledge and training necessary, in order that they may become efficient and responsible members of the family and community.

The following were studied:

Home membership and responsibility,
 Use of leisure time,
 Home care of the helpless,
 Community responsibilities,

Choice of vacation.

In addition to the projects performed in class, the girls are required to carry on, during each of the four years, home projects that are closely related to the unit being considered in school.

DRAMATICS

On the evening of March 21, before a large and appreciative audience in the City Opera House, the senior class gave its annual play.

The members of the cast did excellent work in their respective parts, "reflecting much credit on the young people, who worked hard and long, and Mrs. Eula Buckley, the capable coach, whose name connected with an amateur play assures a finished production."

The high school orchestra, under the direction of the instructor, gave an excellent musical program.

The proceeds of the entertainment were used, in part, to defray the expenses of a trip to Washington, D. C.

ASSEMBLY PERIODS

The programs of these periods were interesting and instructive. They were supplemented by literary productions and appropriate musical selections, both vocal and instrumental.

Citizens of the city, and others representing educational institutions, were invited to address the assembly on leading topics of the day. All friends of the school, especially those interested in the young people, were invited to be present on these occasions.

ATHLETICS

The athletic council, consisting of ten members, had full control of athletic activities.

As in former years, a letter was sent to all parents having sons and daughters who desired to participate in such activities, stating that they must assume all responsibility for injury received in the varied sports.

For the first time a physical examination by some regular physician was required of all contestants.

"THE TATTLER"

Three issues of "The Tattler" were published during the year, instead of six, as formerly. This year the paper carried almost no advertising, and so each issue had more actual reading material.

STATE SCHOLARSHIP DAY

The State Department invited Dover to send three teams of three pupils each to Plymouth, on May, 1930, to take part in the program.

They were as follows:

Spelling—Adrian F. Allen, Mary E. Wilbur and Eunice A. Wood.

Geometry—Norman S. Cassell, William A. Grimes and John F. Wentworth.

Latin—Frederick A. Nightingale, Gertrude E. Phelps and Eunice L. Thompson.

The second won first place in geometry; and the third, the third place in Latin.

TEACHERS

Only two changes were made in the teaching body.

In the main, all members of the faculty have had several years of successful experience in the class room. Under such conditions the pupils, with a reasonable amount of preparation on the daily assignments, should not fail to pass from one grade to another.

One afternoon each week was set apart for making up work. On this day, also, pupils, needing extra assistance, took advantage of the opportunity offered to secure that aid.

This individual help was conducted informally and often led to discussion of the reasons for failure. Methods for improvement were, in many cases, suggested. Effort was made to take into consideration the individual differences of the pupils.

This practice proved to be beneficial in that it enabled them to do better work in their various classes. It also gave the teacher an opportunity to acquire a better understanding of the pupil's ability, helped him to gauge more accurately the estimate of his attainments, and promoted a friendly feeling of cooperation between teacher and pupil.

Fundamentals were stressed in class by requiring pupils to locate all places mentioned in their studies. Oral and written expressions were carefully checked. Written themes were required to be free from misspelled words.

Inattention, lack of study, and outside attraction, are ruinous to good scholarship.

DEFICIENCIES

In accordance with the rules of the school committee, deficiencies were sent to all parents, giving the standing of their sons and daughters in the various subjects of the curricula. Interested parents usually seek an opportunity to visit the headmaster or teachers to learn, if possible, the reason for failure to attain the requisite standing. Only by cooperation can best results be obtained.

Personal letters were sent to parents of the seniors, at the close of each term, that no misunderstanding might arise at the end of the school year in June.

OPENING OF SCHOOL IN SEPTEMBER

If parents have not fully decided on the courses to be pursued in the school, it would be well to consult the headmaster on Saturday before the school opens on the following Tuesday in September.

As a rule, young people are not mature enough to choose the curriculum best adapted to their future needs. Such action on the part of the parent would prevent so many changes in the school work after three or four weeks in an undesirable program.

The ultimate aim of the student should, largely, determine his academic career.

CONCLUSION

I am under deep obligation to the school committee, superintendent, and teachers for their loyalty and support in the management of the school.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES L. WALLACE,
Headmaster.

Dover, N. H., December 20, 1930.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Since assuming the duties of director of physical education in the public schools of Dover a year ago, an attempt has been made by the director to improve and broaden the scope of this department so that a larger number of children could be reached and more active participation enjoyed by all. This is being done by a system of inter-school and inter-class athletics for high and grammar schools which, besides the regular physical training period once a week, provides for competition between the various grades and classes in football, basketball, baseball and track.

While these extra-curricula activities are not compulsory, as in the case of the weekly gymnasium period, participation is always urged by the director, and the number of boys and girls availing themselves of this opportunity is very gratifying. This program has in no way anything to do with the regular high school varsity teams in the various sports and has to be arranged at such times and places as the director can see fit, because of the time and attention necessary for coaching the regular high school teams.

In baseball season, grammar school leagues were formed, with Belknap, Central and Sawyer competing against one another. Three leagues were organized:—the eighth grades, the seventh grades and the sixths, with a total of twenty-seven games being played. In high school, the four classes played as a league, with the ultimate winner receiving their class numerals as a reward.

During the spring, several grade school track meets were held, both indoors at our gymnasium, and outdoors, with the schools competing against one another by grades. Girls' track events were also held, as well as boys', and some worthy performances were turned in and considerable enthusiasm created.

The intra-mural idea dropped off considerably during the fall, due to the amount of time the director is forced to spend with the high school football squad, and the absence of assistants who are qualified to organize the sport in grammar schools. A few games were played, however, between eighth grades, although no regular schedule was attempted. A start was made toward organizing a Freshman-Sophomore football squad, with Mr. Clark of Lothrop Memorial Hall assisting the director, but this had to be discontinued when Mr. Clark's increased duties at Memorial Hall prevented his lending his further assistance.

The winter season sees basketball organized in the high and grammar schools with eighteen grade school teams and eight high school teams using our gymnasium and playing at least once a week. Last year twenty-six teams played a total of one hundred and twenty-eight games on our court and three hundred boys and girls participated.

This intra-mural program, while wholly beneficial in building up health, skill, muscular coordination, self-control and courage in our boys and girls, is partly selfish, if one could designate it thus. These games serve to train and develop material for our high school teams of a few years hence. In the sport of basketball, we have our program developed to the fullest extent with Dover's spacious gymnasium and plenty of volunteer assistants. We hope by this inter-class schedule of activities to keep abreast or ahead of our high school rivals in athletics. Others are doing it, and our aim is to organize better than they have.

Figures are herewith quoted, showing participation of pupils in this intra-mural program.

High School:

Class baseball	40
Class basketball	40

Grammar Schools:

Baseball	100
Track	120
Football	80
Basketball	220

Physical education in the grammar and primary grades consists of a regular gymnasium period once a week of one hour's length for the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades, while the director visits the primary grades once a week and spends from 15 to 25 minutes in each room. The boys and girls are separated in the upper grades so that every boy and every girl comes to gymnasium one hour per week. The classes in physical training range from 25 to 60 in attendance and the period is one hour in length. The gymnasium program consists of calisthenics, and gymnastics, marching tactics, games, relays and athletics of all kinds.

In the primary grades I, II, III and IV, the director visits each class once a week and teaches various games, stunts, relays and story plays, as well as elementary work in gymnastics, marching tactics and folk dancing. The time spent with each class ranges from 15 to 25 minutes, depending upon the school and number of rooms to visit. This short period is hardly adequate to do any more than demonstrate the work, but the director carries a top-heavy program, and in order not to slight any particular room or grades and visit each once a week, the time allowed in each class is very short.

The regular athletic teams of the high school were on about a par with other years. The number taking part, particularly in football, fell off somewhat this year. This is to be regretted, for it shows a decline in school spirit, particularly among the older and larger boys whence should come most of the material making up the teams. An encouraging feature, however, was the large number of freshmen and sophomores who turned out for football. This augurs well for the sport next year.

In basketball we achieved our best success, our boys' team winning 10 out of 15 contests, while our girls did even better, winning 10 out of 12 games. The director has been ably assisted with this sport by Mr. James Carroll of this city, who coached the girls' team and thus made it possible for the director to spend so much more time than was formerly given on grammar school athletics and the development of a real intra-mural program.

During the spring, teams in baseball and track were organized, the former having a poor season, the latter a good one. Only three games were won out of nine played in baseball, while in track the most notable achievement was the winning of the Sanford interscholastic meet for the second successive year.

This fall, due to a lack of experienced material, our football team suffered six straight defeats before finally arriving and winning the last two, one of which, the annual Rochester game, atoned for an otherwise drab season. Commencing with a green team, they developed slowly, but hit their stride at the end of the schedule.

Below are figures showing participation in the several sports:

Varsity basketball, boys	15
Varsity basketball, girls	20
Varsity baseball	20
Varsity track	20
Varsity football	30

In closing this report I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation to all who have so kindly assisted me during the past year; the superintendent, principal and members of the board who, by counsel and advice, helped me at various times; to teachers, who cooperated so well in making the department of physical education successful; to Mr. Carroll, who so ably coached girls' basketball and track; to Mr. Clark and Mr. Plante for their generous assistance during the football and baseball seasons; and last, but not least, to my several undergraduate student-instructors and officials, who were of great assistance in making our intramural program of athletics a success.

Respectfully submitted,
 OLIVER J. ADAMS,
 Director of Physical Education.

THE REPORT OF THE MUSIC SUPERVISOR FOR 1930

It is with real pleasure in my work, and a sincere hope that the task of the music supervisor may have a broader scope and far wider influence in our city as the years go on, rather than any satisfaction in what has been accomplished, that I make this, my ninth report, to you, Mr. Superintendent and Members of the School Board.

The work in the grades goes on much as in past years, with the splendid cooperation of the teachers. New material has been supplied whenever and wherever it seemed that it could be used to advantage.

We are glad to note the progress of the grammar school orchestra; the interest and enthusiasm of the young musicians are most encouraging.

The pupils of the eighth grades have taken part in two operettas, very different in character, giving opportunity for self expression and the development of imagination, both very valuable contributions to the education of the child. The first one, "Twilight Alley," was altruistic, giving the children an ideal of social obligation, while the historical background and atmosphere of "On Plymouth Rock" must have carried some realization of the struggles, sacrifices and religious faith of our forefathers. The children love these performances, and the teachers give most generously of their time and strength to rehearsals. I cannot say enough to express my appreciation of the wonderful cooperation of the teachers in the various departments of grade and high schools, as they work to make these ventures successful. The proceeds are being used for school purposes, most of it in the music department.

The work in the high school has changed but little. We had one ensemble band concert when the boys' band came from Laconia and played with our band, a most enjoyable concert. Plans for another such concert in Laconia are under way, but a suitable date has not yet been agreed upon.

We sent five members of our orchestra to the All New England Orchestra in Boston in May. This meant some expenditure of time and money by the pupils and their parents, and gave the former a splendid training. One girl of the graduating class came back early from the Washington trip that she might play at rehearsals and concert.

We sent seven players to the All New Hampshire Orchestra, which played in Concord. These high school pupils play very lovely and very difficult music with such accuracy and enthusiasm that even the critics praise them. It would be a fine thing if Dover people would attend these concerts and so encourage the young people by their support. The parents of the players who have heard them play have been enthusiastic in their appreciation of the benefit of the undertaking.

Right here I must speak of the summer school of music to be opened near the Rangely Lakes in Maine. There has been such a school in the West for three years, where the National High School orchestra has been trained and where all subjects related to music are taught with the regular advantages of camp life. I want to send at least one student to this camp, and shall be very glad to give information about it.

We note the coming to our city of schools of music, and welcome any movement that tends to raise the standard of study. These ventures might easily be under the supervision of the school system. The manufacturers are doing their part to put instruments in the hands of children, by the system of loan and rental. The music department of the school should cooperate with local teachers to form classes and awaken interest. It should not be left to outsiders. Talented teachers of special instruments could be brought to the city as needed.

All through the years of my work here, music has had no standing as a study in the high school. Until lately the love and interest in the subject has been sufficient to make it worth while, at least, though far from what it should be. Conditions grow harder each year: the children have more outside interests and distractions. Several social organizations for pupils of high school age have been formed. Rehearsals are in competition with athletics where the contest idea is paramount, and where winning a game is essential to the very existence of the sport.

The general unrest, and numerous excitement of our swiftly moving world, with its countless and varied activities, are reflected in the children. It is more difficult to secure attention and concentration. The financial strain is felt by all. With less employment and more leisure, people turn to the distraction of play. The need for music by children and adults grows greater. We should supply a diversion which develops resources and talents, the exercise of which can be carried through life, not a temporary fad or sport, of doubtful value in itself, to be dropped as youth passes.

As I have suggested, discipline grows more difficult, and social behavior cannot be taken for granted, nor left to the interest in the subject. The personality of the teacher is not enough to ensure the right response.

The whole attitude toward music must be changed. Make it essential: regard it as equal in importance with mechanic arts. Set up standards, require proficiency, and the whole aspect of the subject will be changed. Is it not worth it? If it be used only to lighten a Commencement program or to help carry a prize speaking contest, would it not be better to hire in a few good musicians than to wear out a supervisor, and give the children the false idea that they have accomplished something in music by worrying through a public performance that has not shown honest study and discipline.

As a beginning in this task of putting music where it belongs in our high school, I ask for an assistant, who shall take the training of orchestra and band, to be paid $1000 a year from school funds.

Then I ask for credits for approved work. The schedule worked out must first be approved by the members of the board, then by the state board of education, then worked out by the high school management. It is a very small beginning, but will lead to greater things.

Let us think only of the welfare of the children. The safety and even the sanity of the future are in our hands. We must face conditions as they are, and will be, and provide for progress on lines that will ensure happiness and peace.

Respectfully submitted,

MINNIE L. EATON.

REPORT OF DRAWING TEACHER

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD:

I hereby submit my sixth annual report of drawing in the Dover public schools.

Today education recognizes drawing as an essential subject of the school curriculum, not alone as an isolated study, but also as a correlative means of education. The latter phase of drawing has been stressed in my work in the Dover schools.

Young children are very expressive. All impressions which they receive lead to immediate expressions in some form or other. Authoritative research proves that drawing of all expressive forms, is very important. It has therefore been my purpose to bring out the latent qualities of the children through the medium of drawing.

Laws of drawing are made only to supply a working base as starting points for personal applications. They offer to art a foundation for order and prevent a maize of unrelated complications. If a child once understands their significance, their reaction and possibilities, and is then left to himself in the application of this knowledge, he will soon use these by force of habit. The teacher of art should be the guiding force both in the presentation of material and in its application.

The appreciation of color is one of the first instincts of a child. Modern instruction offers a child not only the medium which represents the best possible expression of a problem, but offers it in color, which draws the child's attention and creates interest in the subject itself.

The fall and spring weeks have been spent in nature study. Flowers and birds have proved to be among the most attractive subjects for art appreciation. Nature, like individuals, expresses her moods in color. Observations of nature in her various moods are helpful in stimulating originality and individual expression in children.

For holidays and special days, the children have been given special projects in which they could express the spirit and meaning of the various days. These projects have been of great interest to the children.

Printing instruction varying in kind, according to the grade, has been given every child. This has been followed by making original civic posters on "Better Homes," "Fire Prevention," "Accident Prevention" and Health." These posters were exhibited last spring in the public library.

As a special project during the winter months, the eighth-grade pupils made an intensive study of color, and its relation and application to present day needs.

When the weather permitted I have visited the rural schools. I have been very much pleased, both with the work and the cooperation extended by the teachers.

As a suggestion previously made in other reports, I believe that there should be more classes in drawing, since the present system does not provide a sufficient amount of time to give the children a thorough understanding of the subject.

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN L. BRONSON,
Drawing Supervisor.

COLDS

At the first sign of a cold in a child, put him to bed and keep him there, resting at least twenty-four hours; give him plenty of water to drink, not much to eat, call a physician if it does not yield to this treatment within twenty-four hours. Very few colds would develop into serious illness if children—and adults, too—were given such care the first day or two, for what seems to be the beginning of a cold may prove to be measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough or influenza. Colds frequently are followed by pneumonia and other illnesses and sometimes by tuberculosis if neglected.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC

We have five children under observation, two are contact cases, and the other three are incipient hilus. These clinics are held once a month at room 6, 123 Washington street, with a specialist and a nurse in attendance.

MENTAL CLINIC

Doctor Doloff from the state hospital comes about once in two months to see his paroled patients, and he kindly allows us to take to him children who are not making satisfactory progress. This year we had seven children examined, two were diagnosed as definitely feeble-minded, one as a high grade moron type, the remaining four in need of more hand work, and special care and attention. Physically and mentally handicapped children we have always had with us, and they must always have special care, but instead of deploring their fate, and letting it go at that, we are beginning to make an effort to fit them into a scheme of life where their inadequacies will be minimized. How much as parents or as school people can we afford to give them of what they need?

TEETH

When the famous Don Quixote lost some of his teeth in a fight, he said to his squire: "I had rather they had torn off an arm, provided it were not the sword arm, for thou must know, Sancho, that a mouth without teeth is like a mill without a stone, and that a diamond is not so precious as a tooth." Even soft teeth can be improved if taken in time, kept clean, examined and cared for by the dentist, nourished and built by a good, well balanced diet, exercised by chewing all food well, and by having some food that requires plenty of chewing. We have no school fund for teeth. We are still being helped generously by the dental clinic of the Dover District Nursing Association. They are now having six half day clinics each month, and would like to have two whole days each week if they could do it, but they lack the funds. We have had 280 children treated at the clinic this year, extractions, cleaning and filling, with plenty of good advice, also. Teeth need constant care; they are never a finished product.

We have a small fund which is usually large enough to care for cases of defective vision which can be corrected. Some of the parents are not willing to have the children wear glasses or have necessary treatment, but most of them are thankful to have their children helped.

We have another small fund for adenoids, and when that is all used some of our kind friends help us to provide treatment.

The state public welfare department, through its supervisor for the conservation of sight and hearing. has promised to test the hearing of our children above the second grade, with the audiometer which is provided by the state. It makes a much better test than any other method that has been used. The New England climate is hard on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, and because of colds and catarths there is a lot of deafness among young and old. With a better method of testing the ears, we may be able to find the trouble when it may be corrected.

Health of body, mind and soul is the great gift. Prevention of disease is better than cure. We can not expect our body to run continuously and well without periodic inspection by doctor and dentist. We also need good health habits, mental as well as physical—habits of being cheerful, courageous and unselfish can be formed, and these habits are the most important of all health habits.

FRANCES HYDE, R. N.

REPORT OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE TEACHER

TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

SIR:—The report of domestic science in the Dover grade schools is offered for your consideration, being the seventh submitted by me as instructor of this branch of school work.

As in the past, the requirements and standards set by the state board of education have been considered and met. Therefore, a report of our work in detail would be a repetition of statements already made, and we shall endeavor to call attention only to a few new things that happened in our department during the current year.

This year one hundred ninety girls report to us in ten classes. Though this number is not evenly divided, the average number in each class is not too large, considering that our laboratory is equipped for eighteen and the work itself calls for much supervision of the individual.

In recent years many good text books in home economics have been published, and one of these was selected for classroom use. It enables the pupil to get for herself many facts which the teacher would be obliged to give in lecture form. Since twenty books will supply two hundred girls in this department, a good book now and then is a worth while investment.

In May a sewing exhibit was given in the library. At this time three hundred pieces of work were on display, representing only a small part of the year's accomplishment in this branch of domestic science.

Some of the hand work was done wholly at home. Home projects are always encouraged, since it is well for the school to reach outside its actual hours and occupy idle hands. There is no danger of over-exertion, since hand work is more or less of a recreation. This opportunity of assembling the results of a year's work so kindly extended to us by those in charge at the library is much appreciated. The great value of such an exhibit lies largely in its effect upon the children themselves, who look forward in sixth grade to the attainment of eighth grade skill as seen in this view of the whole.

In the spring and again in the fall operettas were produced under the direction of the music supervisor. The decorations for the first one were made by the grade girls in their domestic science periods and some of the costumes for the second musical production were fashioned by them also. By this work they learned valuable lessons in cooperation and were also interested in a type of work a little different from their ordinary routine employment.

By using a visiting day granted to the instructor and the following Saturday holiday it was possible to attend an intensive course in machine training given by an expert secured by the University at Durham. Much valuable material for classroom drill was obtained at this time and many new ideas were brought back to the pupils.

Half of the school year is devoted to cooking. It is not our purpose to dwell at length on this topic. Nevertheless, it has received its share of attention. A very close relationship exists between this subject and other school activities. One must read carefully, reckon accurately as in arithmetic, remember lessons of health in planning menus, judge results and avoid past errors. Cooking is a fine art. Hand and eye and brain must be taught to work together before the art is mastered. It offers much opportunity for mental development.

With the wealth of material to be presented, the work of the instructor never becomes monotonous. One's zeal to arouse and maintain an interest in the things of the home is increased by the hearty cooperation of the girls, the parents, the other teachers and those in charge, to whom our thanks is due.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. CAVANAUGH,
Teacher of Domestic Science.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF MANUAL TRAINING

I find in making this report that it is rather difficult to convey with it any definite plan of course procedure.

My experience of last year and this have shown me a very vivid factor which an instructor must find among the boys, this being pupil interest.

In order to develop this interest, a reasonably large field must be covered in order that the pupil be allowed, within reason, to make or construct that thing in which he at that time is most interested.

This, of course, means that the working projects vary widely, but allow the pupil with assistance to rapidly, and according to his own extent of adaptability, make advancement. We have so far this year made projects such as: Bread boards, broom holders, steak planks, sleeve boards, ironing boards, coat hangers, model airplanes, model boats, piano benches, hall trees and book cases.

Our comparative data of this year's enrollment with that of last is as follows:

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Filed in the Office of the City Clerk,
Dover, N. H.

Prior to the year 1877, the marriage records of Dover are very incomplete, many years being entirely missing.

In order to preserve all available evidence of these early unions, and to provide an accessible record for the future historian and for those who may find it either necessary or desirable to trace their ancestry, we are continuing in this issue, a transcript of marriage intentions, for the ten years following the close of the first installment, which appeared in the City Reports for 1926.

The present list embraces the period from January 1, 1840, to January 1, 1850, giving the full name of the prospective bride and groom, and the date when the intentions were recorded.
