ANNOUNCEMENTS

Research Integrity Services Summer Drop-In Zoom Office Hours

Research Integrity Services will continue through the summer to hold drop-in Zoom “office hours” most Tuesdays 9 – 10 a.m., Wednesdays 12 – 1 p.m., and Thursdays 3 – 4 p.m. Stop by with your questions about using _Cayuse Human Ethics for IRB applications, using _Cayuse Outside Interests for external activity disclosures, or general research compliance matters. Click the hyperlinks for more information, including any exceptions to the schedule and the current Zoom link.

Chemical Inventory 2023

The Office of Environmental Health & Safety and chemistry department graduate students are conducting the 2023 campus chemical inventory verification through July 28. Laboratory occupants are encouraged to evaluate their chemicals prior to the inventory start and to schedule a pick-up of unwanted materials. In addition, those with shared lab spaces should label benchtops and chemical storage areas with their names so the inventory of chemicals can be properly assigned.

This project allows the graduate students to earn difficult-to-secure income while still having time to continue their graduate research. The Office of Environmental Health & Safety benefits from the chemical handling experience of the interns. Reach out to Karrie Myer (862-1510) with questions or concerns.

Approved Vendors for UNH Swag

New budget, new swag? As you head into the FY24 fiscal year, now is the perfect time to make sure you're ordering your branded items from an approved UNH licensed vendor. Any item featuring a UNH trademark must be purchased through one of our licensed partners. Please refer to the current approved vendor list for the most up-to-date information, or contact Katie Vogel, licensing manager for creative and digital works with questions.

Academic Courses to Advance Research

INCO 791/GRAD 891 – National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship Preparation

August 28 – October 20, 2023 (half term)

This course (undergraduate and graduate) is designed to enable students to receive information, guidance and support in applying for the National Science Foundation (NSF) Graduate Research Fellowship Program (GRFP). Students will become familiar with the NSF, its mission and the selection criteria for this fellowship. Through independent work and collaborative exercises, students will strengthen writing skills and develop a strong application. For more information contact Michael Thompson.

GRAD 930 — Ethics in Research and Scholarship

August 29 – December 12, 2023 (full term)

Online

This is an interdisciplinary graduate seminar where students explore a wide range of issues related to the ethical conduct of research and scholarship. This course helps prepare students to conduct themselves as researchers in accordance with today's standards for scientific integrity and professional ethics. Classes are predominantly discussion-based, relying on case analysis; guest speakers address topics from a variety of perspectives. Completion of this course meets the graduate school's incoming PhD student RCR training requirement as well as the NSF's and the USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture's RCR training requirement. More information here, or contact the instructors, Julie Simpson or Maria Emanuel.

AROUND REEO

A new report from Cooperative Extension, "Women in the Woods: A Needs Assessment Approach to Understanding Women Forestland Owners and Managers in New Hampshire," examines the role of women in forestland management and seeks to support their capacity to manage, protect and enhance New Hampshire's forests.

UPCOMING EVENTS

AY 2023-24 UP-2-NIH Information Session

Wednesday, June 14

1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Zoom

UP-2-NIH is a UNH program designed to help participants develop the skills necessary to compete successfully for funding by the National Institutes of Health. Faculty at any career level with a clearly defined, NIH-appropriate project idea attend workshops in the fall and spring semesters and develop their applications, aiming for NIH submissions within one year of program completion. This session will provide information about the AY23-24 program and the application process. The program is open to all researchers working in NIH-supported research areas. Register to attend or request session materials here. Contact Michael Thompson or Lynnette Hentges .
