REPORT OF SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

At our last annual meeting it was voted to raise $700 for the support of schools for the current year. During the year the sum of $717.44 has been drawn from the Town Treasury and paid to the several Districts. The Legislature at its last session advanced the amount required to be raised for the support of Schools from $250 to $350, on each dollar of a town or city's proportion of the State tax. Under this law Mont Vernon must assess about $750 for school purposes the ensuing year. While our school tax is being increased the number of scholars is diminishing. In the South District, the second in point of wealth, only 13 have attended school during the past year. In 1860 the whole number of pupils in this District was 44 ; in 1863, 38 ; in 1865, 33 ; in 1867, 28. While the number receiving instruction here has been thus lessened, the money appropriated has increased 40 per cent. since 1860.—It may well be debated whether the improvement of our schools advances in the same ratio with the expenditure. Our people are keenly sensitive in relation to taxation. My experience as assessor here has abundantly demonstrated this fact.—It is hoped that this larger requisition for schools will awaken more interest and more vigilant attention to them. It is right that the tax payers should demand a quid pro quo for this large outlay. If the money is profitably expended the amount is none too great. It behooves every tax payer to watch its application with jealous care, so that every dollar be made available for those who are entitled to its benefit. In conformity to precedent I proceed to notice the several schools :

DISTRICT NO. 1.—CENTRE.—Miss S. L. Cochrane was engaged to teach for the summer term, but was compelled by illness to leave at the end of the first week, much to the regret of all interested. Miss H. M. Jameson, of Dunbarton, was then employed. She was an experienced teacher and acquitted herself generally to the acceptance of the District, and was again employed for the fall term. The order of the school was hardly equal to that secured last year, but progress was made and she administered her trust with fair success.

Miss Marianne Waite, also from Dunbarton, had charge of this school for the winter term. Miss W. was painstaking and thorough in her instruction, and improved the discipline of her school. She was self-reliant and conscientious, making no special effort to exhibit her school, trusting to the discernment and fidelity of the Committee to ascertain the progress of her pupils. She closed her engagement with the respect and good will of the children and the approval of the parents and Superintendent.

No. 2.—SOUTH.—Miss Letticia M. Adams, of New Boston, teacher of the summer term. This school was very small, only 6 attending, which placed the teacher at disadvantage.—The interest and vitality was proportionate to the number.—However, the teacher endeavored to perform her duty faithfully and the younger scholars learned well. Miss Annah E. Adams of Milford, teacher, winter term. Miss A. is full of energy and enthusiasm, a live teacher and especially adapted to young scholars, whom she taught most skilfully. Faithful and earnest, with correct scholarship and an excellent capacity to illustrate clearly, the proficiency of her school of 14 scholars satisfied the Committee that her services were highly profitable to the District. If any fault could be alleged it would be, that the order of the school was a little below the highest standard.

DISTRICT NO. 3.—EAST.—Miss Lenora A. Smith taught the summer school. Miss S. has had uniform success wherever she has taught. She has quiet control both of herself and the school, and is a good scholar and a faithful teacher. Miss Smith declining to teach for the winter, the Committee sought the services of Lucie S. Stiles, also a resident of the District, and she assumed charge of the school. Miss S. is only 16 years of age, but is a well-trained scholar and had taught several terms of school acceptably. The situation was such here that a high degree of success would be unattainable by any teacher not endowed with superhuman attributes. Former feuds and antipathies, which time was supposed to have extinguished, were at once revived. On the first day of the school the Prudential Committee was visited and requested to close it forthwith. Within two weeks some boys older than the teacher, representing disaffected parents, openly challenged her right to teach, and resisted her attempt to govern the school.—The Superintending Committee was summoned, and without bias or predilection for either party gave to all a candid and patient audience. After a careful investigation, in three special visits to the District, he decided it to be his duty to continue the school, and has never doubted the propriety of his decision. Six of the twenty-one pupils registered as having attended two weeks withdrew, and with the remaining five-sevenths of her original number, she did as well as circumstances permitted. That a larger measure of success did not attend her labors is due to no deficiency on her part. She is resolute, dignified, and a fine scholar, and with a fair field and added experience will prove herself a valuable teacher. Her engagement in her home district was unfortunate, as the animosity of a few precluded her success. Committees should be cautious in procuring teachers resident within the district. In such cases the wishes of the District should be consulted, and any prejudice regarded, as the violent antipathies of one or two families greatly diminishes, if it does not destroy the usefulness of a teacher. The school was orderly and the examination creditable to those that remained. Suggestion was made to the Committee, by parents, of too much drill for examination. This is not the better way, yet it is true, that the continuous drilling of the pupil by a correct teacher advances the scholar in that branch of learning, though the specific end be exceptionable.

DISTRICT. No 4.—NORTH.—Miss Emma F. Bailey of New Boston, taught both terms of this school. Her good reputation as a teacher induced the Committee to obtain her services, with a result highly satisfactory to all concerned. Quiet, self-possessed and vigilant, she maintained the best of discipline without noise, or fuss. Her instruction was careful and correct, her school honored and loved her, and made good proficiency. The people of this District are just, kind and considerate in their treatment of teachers. And this sensible course generally secures them a good teacher and a first-class school.

DISTRICT No. 5.—WEST.—Miss Nellie O. Lamson taught both terms of this school. She is a lively, active teacher, and readily adapts herself to her pupils. The same tact at governing and interesting the children, as noticed last year was again manifested, and good progress was made.
