The Selectmen take this opportunity to say that much praise is due to Mr. and Mrs. Jackman for their economical and frugal management of the farm. It will be observed that the valuation of the property at the farm this year falls short of the valuation last year. This is by no means chargeable to the superintendent, as much of the household furniture is old and nearly worthless. The falling off of prices this year has made some difference, and the general wear and tear of tools and furniture must necessarily diminish every year. We are of the opinion that the property at the farm should be valued on the first of April, as well as at the close of the year; and if any difference is apparent its origin could be traced.
