REPORT OF SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The schools under my jurisdiction have enjoyed a reasonable prosperity, considering the small number of pupils in many of them. The teachers have been faithful, and the scholars have made commendable progress.

No. 4 has entered upon a new lease of life. The old school-house—a building utterly unfit for school purposes, has been replaced by a new and more commodious structure. The efficient teacher, Miss McGarey, whose work was so successful, even under the unfavorable circumstance of her dilapidated school-room, is displaying more zeal than ever, and her pupils are aiding her to the best of their ability.

No. 9 is a very important school, and Miss Grannis has labored earnestly there. The school building is not quite so large as that school really needs at present. But the spirit is earnest, and the progress encouraging. The other schools have made perceptible advances, and teachers and pupils have labored harmoniously together.

The number of scholars in the district schools is 194. The largest school, No. 9, had 37, and the smallest, No. 2, 4 in regular attendance.

The problem of text books is a serious one to solve in ungraded schools. Your committee has arrived at uniformity so far as possible. The past year the old readers in the schools have been discarded, and the "Sheldons" introduced. By this change a large number of different readers have been taken out of the schools, and now all our schools, village and district, use the same series of readers. It is greatly to be desired that the standard of scholarship be as high as possible, and during the past year I have visited city schools, in Massachusetts, to study their methods. In No. 3 Miss Cummings commenced to teach script to the younger pupils upon the introduction of the Sheldon Readers, with the like result that I had noticed in the city schools among pupils of that age, and all our teachers have found that this method of teaching script is very simple, and easily mastered by the youngest pupils in the schools.

If the parents, superintending and prudential committees will heartily co-operate, there is no reason why our district schools shall not make marked improvement, notwithstanding their manifold disadvantages.

REPORT OF UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT.

LANCASTER, N. H., Feb. 24th, 1883

J. B. Morrison, Supt. Committee—I herewith transmit the Statistical Report of Union District No. 1. It gives me much pleasure to be able to report that the schools of this District have done good work during the past year. We have secured teachers that have with unwearied industry given us the benefit of a thorough training in their profession, and our pupils have made marked progress. During another year we hope to have our scholars thoroughly graded, and our schools as perfect as is possible with our changing population.

The teachers are greatly hindered in their work by the want of assistance on the part of the parents; allowing the most trivial event to form an excuse for non-attendance or tardiness at school. As we have over two hundred scholars, divided into eight classes, the missing of the instruction of a single recitation may make it hard for the pupil to keep pace with the class, and it is evident what the effect of habitual and persistent absence will be. Again there seems to be on the part of some parents, a total want of care as to the habits formed by their boys, and it is useless to expect any improvement while they are allowed to run at will on the streets evenings, shouting vulgarity and profanity, visiting saloons only to learn vile expressions to be repeated on the play-ground to the injury of their play-mates. When the parents see that their children are at home or away from these bad influences. that they are instructed at home, in things right in themselves, then will our teachers be successful in forming in them that disipline of mind that constitutes the scholar and useful citizen.
