1982 COUNTY COMMISSIONERS REPORT

The year 1982 witnessed the culmination of two years of comprehensive planning for a new County Correctional Facility when in July the County Delegation authorized the County Commissioners to borrow $3.5 million dollars in order to build a new Jail. We would like to extend our thanks to all members of the Correction's Advisory Committee for their dedicated and significant contributions toward this most important project. We feel that this effort at community planning is an excellent example of all segments of the population becoming involved in local decision making which not only enhances the particular project, but also increases the accountability of county government.

In the following pages you will find detailed descriptions by County Officials and department heads of their annual activities.

We would like to thank the County Delegation, our staff in the Commissioner's office, and all County employees for their assistance in 1982.

Respectfully,

Roland R. Roberge, Chairman
John L. Flanagan, Vice-Chairman
George A. Young, Clerk

PUBLIC HEARING ON COMMISSIONERS
PROPOSED 1982 REVENUE SHARING BUDGET

January 26, 1982

Chairman Schreiber called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Schreiber, DeNafio(T), Chagnon, Smith, Chamberlin, Dionne, Pageotte, Whitehead, Appleby, Gauvin, Kincaid, Torr(F), Blouin, Brown, Flynn, Bouchard, Bickford, Smith, Meader, Bernard, Donnelly, Maglaras, DeNafio(P), Hennessey, Belhumeur. Also present: Commissioners Roberge, Flanagan & Young. The Clerk read the formal notice of the meeting.

Rep. William Kincaid led the Delegation in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Commissioner Roberge presented the Commissioners proposal for the 1982 Revenue Sharing Budget.

Strafford County Homemakers . . . . .	$100,000.00
Strafford Guidance Center . . . . .	112,500.00
Riverside Rest Home: Hot Water Modification . . . . .	10,000.00
Computerized Energy Monitoring System . . . . .	34,000.00
Strafford PreNatal & Family Planning . . . . .	4,591.00
	$261,091.00

Mr. Chet Tracy, Dover resident and Area Executive Director for the NH Council on Aging spoke regarding a $63,000 cut in money for senior services in N.H., and stated that he felt that there are good uses for revenue sharing and recommended $5,000 to Strafford County Community Action as a cash match.

Mr. Patrick Eisenhart, Executive Director of the Strafford County Homemakers, spoke in regards to the revenue sharing money for human services. He stated that this money has no impact on property tax rates and that Human Services are only 3.5% of the budget.

Linda Hagan, Rochester, spoke in support of revenue sharing money for the Homemakers.

The public hearing was closed at 7:45 p.m., there being no further comments from the public.

Respectfully submitted,

Terri DeNafio, Clerk
Strafford County Delegation

PUBLIC HEARING ON COMMISSIONERS
PROPOSED 1982 BUDGET

January 26, 1982

The meeting was called to order by Acting Chairman Joan Schreiber at 7:45 p.m.

Present: Schreiber, DeNafio(T), Chagnon, Smith, Chamberlin, Dionne, Pageotte, Whitehead, Appleby, Gauvin, Kincaid, Torr(F), Blouin, Brown, Flynn, Bouchard, Bickford, Smith, Meader, Bernard, Donnelly, Maglaras, DeNafio(P), Hennessey, Blehumeur. Also present: Commissioners Roberge, Flanagan & Young.

Chairman Roberge made the following general comments:

* This proposal is 7% over last year's budget . . . . . $3,657,503.40

* (Since the printing of the budget):

-Union contract settlement will cost additional $193,000 (to be added as negotiations with 1199 are still in progress)

-1981 unaudited estimate of surplus: $285,000 . . . . .	Riverside
	70,000 . . . . . County
	$355,000 . . . . . Total surplus

This is a 2½ % increase in taxes over last year.....a total tax increase of $87,457.00. Chairman Roberge made additional comments concerning disbursement of County dollars to human services. He asserted that if one adds the Riverside, Welfare, and Human Services agency accounts together, Strafford County's budget contributed 64.5% to Human Services.

Lucien Rouleau, Somersworth, questioned the interest on tax anticipation note and the earned money.

Mr. Dave Daniels also asked about the $200,000 level funding for insurance. Commissioner Roberge responded that the figure was based on past claims. There was also a brief discussion of page 25 of the budget.

The Criminal Justice and Court System sub-committee spoke regarding the county attorney's account. There is an increase in cases and the attorney feels that he should be given a full-time assistant attorney and a full-time assistant for the assistant. The sub-committee spoke in regards to the Register of Probate's budget being up $14,000.00.

Lucien Rouleau, Somersworth, commented on the County Attorney's account. He felt it was always easy to add on to a budget but money if tight and it is tough to have something taken away once it's in the budget. He was opposed to any salary increase.

Dennis May, County Attorney, spoke regarding his budget. He stated that since 1970, crime in the four northern states has quadrupled. The number of cases since 1979 has doubled (116%). He feels that the County Attorney's office should be paid a comparable salary to a public defender's office.

Ed Jansen, Rollinsford, commented on the Sheriff's Department. The $56,000 revenue fees remain constant, and since fees (deputies serving papers) is controlled by the State, he suggests a change in legislation to charge fees.

In regards to the Sheriff's request for additional personnel, Mr. Jansen noted that if you add personnel, you must also consider the cost of additional benefits. Maybe deputies should be made special deputies? He asked if Group Health Insurance coverage was in some other part of the budget. The Commissioners responded that it was a separate account.

Commissioner Roberge then spoke regarding the Welfare account. He stated that the 21% increase from last year is chiefly due to the state passing on costs to the county.

The Commissioners spoke regarding Riverside Rest Home and stated that staffing has been rearranged to get nursing staffing to 2.7 hours, standard. There has been a 5% reduction made in the budget over last year. The rest home has also just been inspected.

Mr. Rouleau, Somersworth, questioned how much is charged to the cities (Welfare for Riverside). He asked if it will be reverted back to the city.

Mr. Jansen stated that supervisory salaries are 12% increased as opposed to 9%. He felt that certain items are not holding the line even though the bottom line reflects it. He feels that everyone is "on take!"

Resource Agencies

Commissioner Roberge spoke regarding the Commissioners recommendations for the Extension Service. They felt that the rate of mileage is too high and should be decreased. They also feel that one position should be eliminated.

The Commissioners noted that the Conservation District will be picking up many of the County Land Managers duties. The Commissioners also noted that the Regional Planning office has a different fiscal year than the County, therefore the difference in the budget message.

Donald Black, County Coordinator for the Strafford County Extension Office, spoke regarding Extension. He stated that mileage has been set at $.20 per mile, not $.25 and the agents are on the road a lot and drive a lot of hard miles on back roads. The Extension office strives to "teach people to fish rather than giving them fish." This is their philosophy. He feels Extension has a positive affect on the business community and objects to the Commissioners recommendations. The programs offered by Extension is a "bargain." He also noted that the Media Specialist position should perhaps be funded totally by the County for 5 years - this would give the agent more time in the field.

Mr. Tom Duderewicz, Rochester, spoke in support of Extension stated that he would have used it much more if they had known about it - he supports the Media position because the position encourages the public to take advantage of all Extension has to offer. He asked why there is so much rental space in the J&A Building and the Commissioners responded to his questions.

Dan Greenleaf, Media Specialist, Extension Service spoke regarding cutting his position from Extension. He stated that it will affect the core of the Extension services. There is an increased number of calls to the office due to more and more people from the public finding out about Extension and calling for assistance. He also stated that Extension serves about 23,000 people which is one quarter of the County - these are direct contacts, not media contacts. He feels that this position can actually be considered as an assistant agent position - it is charged with serving everyone.

Carol VanLandingham, 4-H agent, spoke regarding the possibility of cutting a 4-H agent position. She felt it would be most unfortunate for the youth of Strafford County. She noted that the Birchaven Report says that Strafford County needs more youth services - she feels the position should not be cut. Also Ms. VanLandingham noted that of the ten counties in New Hampshire, seven of them have 2 4-H agents; the other three have 5½ agents.

Linda Hagen spoke against cutting Extension - she feels there is a contradiction in funding more for the County attorney and cutting services to the public.

Chet Tracey, Dover, noted that it was his observation that Extension is very helpful in providing much needed direct services.

Mrs. Hardy, 4-H leader of the "Daredevils" from Mineral Park, Dover, spoke in support of the 4-H program and noted that her club has grown from 7 members to 90 members.

Sally Barney, 4-H agent, noted that there are 40 4-H clubs in Strafford County and that the teenagers are doing in these clubs what they want to do. She feels there is a direct linkage between the media specialist and the agents.

Mr. Smith, New Durham, spoke in favor of the Soil Conservation District and its services provided. He noted that he was a member of the District.

Mr. Ed Jansen, president of the Regional Planning Board handed out a brochure to the meeting and stated that this county does very little regional planning. He feels that collectively, as a society, there is a need for comprehensive planning, as the County budget deals with failure.

Strafford Guidance was brought to the floor and no one spoke on this agency.

Victor Hamel, vice-president of the Homemakers, stated that if funds to the Homemakers are lessened, 30-60 clients will have to be dropped.

Patrick Eisenhart, executive director of the Homemakers, stated that they are not reimbursed $.22 per mile, and noted that there is not a duplication of services with the Homemakers and the Visiting Nurse Association - the purpose of the nurses is to provide skilled services. He stated that in regards to the Needs Assessment recently done, (he also requested a copy of the Birchaven report) he referenced that the Birchaven agency supported the purpose of their agency. He noted that the number one disability was depression and people that are alone suffering from depression.

Linda Hagan, Rochester, read a letter from a Dover Ward IV constituent in support of $125,000 for Homemakers.

Cecile Gagne, program director for Homemakers, cited the Birchaven report and the homehealth care section - felt it was "absolutely ridiculous" not to give Homemakers $125,000.

William Lane, Rochester, stated that he has been a taxpayer for 31 years and supports giving $125,000 to the Homemakers.

Novella McEachern, Rochester, stated that she was a registered voter and taxpayer for 22 years. She mentioned that the Birchaven report supports the Homemakers and she supports funding the Homemakers at $125,000.

Phyllis Lane, Rochester, registered voter, noted that she is a registered nurse and she refers people to both the Homemakers and the Visiting Nurse Association - it is not a duplication of services. She works directly in a Doctor's office.

PreNatal and Family Planning - Larry Niles, executive director of this agency spoke in support of the services offered by his agency. He asked what the Commissioners could possibly mean by cutting $15,000 from his agency's request. The preventative services offered by PreNatal and Family Planning is saving money for the county - $1.00 spent in family planning is saving $2.00 on Welfare costs. He noted that the county will save later in special education costs. He felt that the County must either "pay now or pay later."

Mr. Ray Bilodeau, Dover, Ward 4, Probation Officer for Durham, stated that as president of the agency the agency should not be punished for raising private dollars. He noted that this year's request by PreNatal is $3,500 less than requested last year. He feels there is still a great need for Family planning as 8 out of 10 males have sexual relationships before the age of 18 yrs. This results in teenage pregnancies.

Meals on Wheels - no one spoke on this agency.

Great Bay Training Center - no one spoke on this agency.

Strafford County Child Care - Mr. Brad Jordan, chairman of the association, spoke regarding the Strafford Child Care Association. There are six child care centers which are all cost-effective. These centers allow both members of a family to go to an outside job. He feels the agency is only asking for a small amount of money and feels there is a need for the full allocation to be granted.

Paula Roy, Durham, spoke on the Seacoast Task Force on Family Violence - she noted that Strafford's Task Force on Family Violence has merged with the Seacoast Task Force and supports $9,000 in funds to this agency.

Nancy Sweeney, Dover, supports $9,000 to the Seacoast Task Force on Family Violence as this $9,000 is only 10% of their total budget, and Strafford County takes up 24% of the services in this agency.

Joe Greene, Executive Director of S.E. Alcohol Drug and Abuse Program spoke on behalf of this agency and thanked the Delegation for their past support of the program.

Lorraine Morong, Madbury, warned the Delegation that their actions taken in Concord reflect in the County.

Community Action Program - Mr. Richard Hayes, Dover, stated that Strafford County Community Action is asking now for only $5,000, not $40,000 - during the last 2 months they have learned that the funds from their agency will not be cut as much as they had feared. This agency is required to have a local match. 3,500 households have been served.

There being no more comments from the public, the public hearing was closed at 11:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Terri DeNafio, Clerk
Strafford County Convention

Last year the Delegation had promised to review the salaries of elected officials; now the deputies are making more money than he is - he does feel though, that the deputies deserve what they get. Court decision, he doesn't feel the deputies can be reduced unless their workload is reduced also. He asked if the Delegation was ready to send all the part-time deputies to school, since the new law says they have to be certified. Peter Royce, Barrington, spoke in support of Extension and the wealth of information that is available through the program.

Hazel Hardy, Dover (Mineral Park) 4-H leader, spoke in support of Extension and the need for 4-H for the 130 kids in their development and 4-H club.

Ken Bailey, Dover, (assistant treasurer at Seacoast Savings Bank), on the Board of Guidance, supports the Guidance center, feels it helps keep many people out of the State Hospital, they contribute time at Riverside and give a lot of service to the county.

Marjorie Coyne, Rochester, supports the Homemaker's and is a member of their Board, and read a letter of support. (part of Exhibits attached to these minutes.)

RIVERSIDE REST HOME

Administrator's Report for Year Ending 1982

The year 1982 was a year of change and significant accomplishment at Riverside Rest Home.

A major highlight of the year for the facility was acquiring a full size school bus equipped with a hydraulic wheelchair lift. A staff committee had organized drive for funds to purchase a bus. The fruition of this goal was achieved because of their effort and the generosity of residents, families, staff and community charitable organizations. A very happy celebration was organized to christen the bus, "The Sunshine Express." That day in September will long be remembered. During the fall and early winter months, many residents enjoyed outings. Approximately 20-25 residents went every other week to the Rochester "Good Ole Sports" suppers and socials and this new activity will be continued in the spring. Another major highlight of the year for residents was The Senior Olympics. Thirty-five residents competed among themselves and subsequently with residents from Dover House Healthcare in a variety of events. Dover House Healthcare took the trophy in '82, but we are ready for a challenge in '83! Other activities initiated to improve the quality of life for residents included publishing a monthly newsletter, visiting pet program and exercises to music. Many residents participate in writing the newsletter. This was organized by Arnold Gustafson, Director of Volunteers/Public Relations. Several pages of this newsletter are now translated into French for our many residents of French Canadian nationality. We are working with the ActFane Group, the seacoast division of the AFA (Association of Franco-Americans), to increase programs which will be of interest to these residents. Arnold Gustafson, who had been employed at Riverside Rest Home, was appointed Director of Volunteers/Public Relations in July and he organized the volunteer program for the facility and spoke with numerous members of the community to encourage their participation as volunteers. By the end of 1982, volunteer participation had increased by 20%.

Geraldine Hoag, RN and long time employee of Riverside Rest Home and coordinator of staff education in 1982, was appointed to replace Barbara Reed, Director of Nursing Services, at the time of her resignation in late December. Mrs. Hoag completed two nurses aide training programs for 16 women in 1982, with the majority of the graduates being employed here. Revenues from the course totalled $1,100.00. A good deal of training in using safe practices and providing restorative-rehabilitative care was given to staff. This helped to reduce our workmen's compensation loss ratio substantially in 1982. In May we Held our first Staff Recognition Awards Program. Staff members were recognized for longevity of service and for extraordinary service to the facility.

Riverside Rest Home maintained a 98% occupancy rate, but it did not always have a list of clients awaiting admission as it had in past years. This phenomenon was attributed to the increased availability of community health and support services and more stringent interpretation of the New Hampshire Division of Welfare's intermediate level of care criteria which clients must meet for certification in the medicaid program. These factors resulted in a decision to accept clients who could pay for their care at Riverside Rest Home on a private pay basis so long as no medicaid eligible client was waiting for admission.

In December of 1982, Mr. David Vachon was appointed Director of Plant Maintenance and we implemented a preventive maintenance program during this year designed to maintain facility equipment in good working order.

We are pleased with the progress we have made this year in expanding our services to residents and in providing them in a more efficient and effective manner. Goals are achieved by people with a strong commitment to accomplish the desired results. We have those people at Riverside Rest Home and we are grateful for their dedication and hard work which benefits our residents and the Strafford County Community.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Louise Horn, Administrator

WELFARE DEPARTMENT'S REPORT

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners:

This year Strafford County despite a dramatic 70% increase in requests for general assistance, was able to maintain only 9% increase in expenses for Direct Relief. Unfortunately, the costs of the State administered categorical assistance programs, Old Age Assistance and Aid to Permanently and Totally Disabled and the State Medicaid, Intermediate Nursing Care Program, have continued to escalate at an incredible rate, accounting for 76% of the total 20% annual increase in the budgeted appropriation for the County Welfare Programs.

The New Hampshire Association of County Welfare Administrators this year is making an effort to consolidate the drafting and purchase of forms to provide a more consistent and cost effective approach to the administration of County Welfare on a State wide basis.

Activity in the Information and Referral Center this year totalled in excess of 5,000 telephone calls. The Strafford County Crisis Home Program, operating within the Information and Referral Center, placed 102 children in voluntary home placements for approximately 2,400 days.

This year a Pilot Program for a Statewide Group Home Information Line was instituted in the Strafford County Information and Referral Center. To date the program has been in operation for only nine months, however, based on the response we have received throughout the State we anticipate that it will continue for another year.

Many thanks to the city welfare departments for their cooperation and assistance and in particular to the City of Rochester for the space provided for our Outreach Office which continues to provide a greater accessibility and improved case management in the northern part of the county.

Special thanks to the Board of Commissioners for their continued support, encouragement and cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,
Janet A. Cosgrove
Director of County Welfare

STRAFFORD COUNTY JAIL & HOUSE OF CORRECTION REPORT

Dear Commissioners:

Enclosed you will find my 1982 Annual Report of the Strafford County House of Correction/Jail. Also included you will find the annual progress report of programs available at our institution.

In 1981-1982 the opportunity to serve on the Advisory Committee for the planning of a new jail for myself and a few members of my staff proved to be beneficial and educational to our current daily operation. Many changes were made, new policies and procedures were implemented, bringing us up to date with State and Federal Standards in 1982.

Although the economic situation in the County has had its impact, our goal for 1983 is to continue and improve our programs.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my staff for their extended dedication, the Strafford County Commissioners and Terry Casey for their cooperation and assistance as Captain of the Jail. My sincere appreciation also goes to all the members of the community for volunteering their services.

Respectfully submitted,
Nelson E. Goodfield, Captain

Stafford County Bench Mark Adult Tutorial Program

1. Preparation for High School Equivalency Certificate
2. Eighth Grade Diploma
3. Basic Skills in Reading, Writing for Illiterates
4. Life Coping Skills (Cooking, Mending, How to apply for a Job and Keep It)
5. Enrichment Courses (Art & Crafts)

In 1982 the number of participants in the Preparatory GED class has shown a marked increase and twenty students achieved the GED certificate. Effective September 1982 the Adult Learning Center from Dover, funded by the State, is providing the House of Correction/Jail with a tutor three hours a week.

Work Release

With the exception of one change the requirements for work release are basically the same.

1. Demonstrate good conduct, attitude, and willingness to participate in work details within the institution.
2. Inmate provide their own transportation.
3. The court is petitioned for approval by the Administrator, Nelson E. Goodfield.

The economic situation in the County has had its impact on our work release program. Although local employers are extremely receptive to the program, the lack of jobs made it difficult to find employment. In 1981 nine people participated, and in 1982 fifteen, we are proud to say, successfully completed the program.

One educational Release was granted by the court. The student enrolled at McIntosh College for an Introduction to Computers course.

Counseling Programs

Stafford Guidance Center - (Counselor Diane Levesque)

Inmates at the Stafford County Jail/House of Correction are self-referred or referred by jail personnel for counseling services. The greatest part of the counseling provides services on coping with living within the jail environment, but is also dependent on individuals' needs. The counselor spends approximately three hours a week of scheduled time and is available on emergencies.

Southeastern Alcohol/Drug Services, Inc.

A total of thirty-five inmates participated in the Drug/Alcohol Program, under the supervision of Substance Counselor, Paul Spack.

Alcohol/Drug Abuse Counseling at the Strafford County Jail/House of Correction is a multi phased program. One function is to evaluate any voluntary or court ordered clients for alcohol/drug treatment. The second function has been to facilitate an open ended therapeutic group for the jail population that may judge that they have difficulties with Alcohol/Drugs. Part of the group is dedicated to imparting information, thru films, lectures and pamphlets.

Pre-Release Program

This program is structured to assist inmates in finding a job and a place to live once he is released. It is becoming increasingly difficult to provide housing assistance when an inmate is released for a variety of reasons:

1. In most circumstances the individual does not have money for a rent deposit.
2. There is a very limited amount of efficiency apartments in Strafford County.
3. The majority of landlords are hesitant to rent to individuals that are unemployed and are on county or city/town assistance.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the volunteers that have donated their time at the Strafford County Jail/House of Correction in the past year.

JUVENILES

A total of thirty juveniles were incarcerated at our institution in 1982. Juveniles must be kept segregated from adult inmates, during their confinement, to prevent transformation of the youths into hardened criminals. However, the segregation requirement creates difficulty because our facility is inadequately structured for segregation.

FEMALES

The segregation requirement applies to female offenders also. Again because of the structure of the facility, we are forced to house females at the Rockingham County House of Correction/Jail. In 1982 a total of 14 females were housed in Rockingham.

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY ATTORNEY

The duties of the County Attorney are set out in RSA 7:34. This section states "The County Attorney of each county shall be under the direction of the Attorney General, and, in the absence of the latter, he shall perform all the duties of the Office of the Attorney General for the County. Under the direction of the County Commissioners, he shall prosecute or defend any suit in which the county is interested."

This language indicates the County Attorney will prosecute criminal cases and will be the County's attorney in suits brought by or against the county. The statute sets out that the County Attorney shall perform the same functions for the county the Attorney General's office does for the state. This would include by implication advice to department heads (RSA 7:8) and opinions regarding the legal consequences of proposed legislation (RSA 7:7).

The staff of the office of the County Attorney consists of four persons:

the County Attorney, an Assistant County Attorney, an Administrative Assistant, and a secretary. All are full-time positions.

The County Attorney, as the representative of the Attorney General, is responsible for the prosecution of all criminal cases including felonies, misdemeanors, and violations; to attend all untimely deaths; be present at all autopsies performed at the request of the County Attorney; defend Strafford County in civil suits; be the attorney for the county in suits brought by the county; represent the State in the filing and prosecution of habitual offenders; represent the State in the matter of extradition and detainers; and appear for the State at all hearings for those matters. The County Attorney is also responsible for the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of the Support Act petitions originating in Strafford County and enforcement of the Support Act petitions forwarded from other states; serve as an advisor to the police departments within Strafford County; assist in providing training for members of the various police departments; assist in prosecutions in the district courts; be present at the Sentence Review hearings for cases from Strafford County; and prepare various reports to the Office of the Attorney General and other agencies.

Due to the scope of the responsibilities of the County Attorney, an Assistant County Attorney is essential to balance the workload. The Assistant County Attorney aids in the prosecution of felonies and is responsible for the prosecution of all violation appeals and the majority of the misdemeanor appeals. He represents the petitioner in all Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of the Support Act petitions filed by other states; represents the State at Sentence Review hearings; and assumes the authority and responsibilities of the County Attorney in his absence.

Direct client contact and the management of the office and staff is handled by the Administrative Assistant. In this capacity, she is responsible for the interviews and preparation of the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of the Support Act petitions for filing with the Court; is responsible for the preparation of pre-trial motions, petitions, extradition and detainer petitions; legal documents; maintains the docket flow; prepares the new and pending cases for the assigned attorney to prepare for trial; readies the cases to be presented to the Grand Jury; handles correspondence; and supervises the clerical procedures essential for the orderly functioning of the office.

During the year 1982, the office handled a case load in excess of 1,000 felony and misdemeanor cases. In addition to the felonies, violations and misdemeanors, the office handled a record number of URESA petitions, civil cases for the county, annulments, and habitual offender petitions. At the end of 1982, the office of the Strafford County Attorney had 1,245 active open files - 375 felonies and habitual offenders, 650 violation and misdemeanor appeals, 197 URESA petitions, 15 civil cases, and 8 petitions for annulment.

Respectfully submitted,
Dennis May
Strafford County Attorney

1982 SHERIFF DEPARTMENT

It has been a pleasure to serve the county as Sheriff for the past four years. It was my objective since my election in 1979, to develop a more professional department. During my two terms as Sheriff, all full time deputies and most part time deputies were certified through the New Hampshire Police Standards and Training Council. It is because of this training that the citizens of Strafford County were served by a department of which they could be proud and confident. There still remains much to be done, to provide continued training to keep pace with the on going demands on the civil and criminal justice systems.

Revenue returned to the county through civil process fees totaled, $61,422.75 up 12% over the previous year. Increases were also seen with the number of transports from Superior Court and the county's four district courts and the number of civil process received for service.

I would like to thank all law enforcement agencies in Strafford County along with citizens and friends who provided much support and cooperation, for without their assistance our success would not have been possible. It is my belief that the department will continue to be an essential part of county government.

Respectfully,
Frank B. Redden
High Sheriff

STRAFFORD COUNTY COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE ANNUAL REPORT 1982

The mission of the Strafford County Extension Service is to translate the latest research and technological advances of the University of New Hampshire, other land-grant universities, and the United States Department of Agriculture into practical information to help citizens solve important "day-to-day" problems. This is done through informal Extension education.

From vast experience, this agency has learned, and proved, that the only way to really help those in need is to teach them skills and techniques that will enable them to provide for themselves and their families. This concept is reflected in our 4-H motto, LEARN BY DOING.

Traditionally, the Cooperative Extension Service has responded to citizen needs. The pressure is particularly great at times of economic distress, as evidenced during the Great Depression and during World War II. Once again our citizens are facing difficult economic times and the response to the efforts of the Cooperative Extension staff has never been greater.

This increased effort necessitates added travel and the service of program aides and specialists, as well as an increase in supplies and materials, to effectively reach all the people of Strafford County who truly need help.

Of course, we realize that all agencies are prudently striving to keep their expenditures to a sensible operating level. This has always been Extension's goal. In fact, when changes in personnel or other unanticipated factors have enabled us to end the year with a sizable balance, we have returned it to the County either by subtracting that amount from our new budget request; or, as last year when we had a balance of $1,304.04, returning it to the county commissioners by check.

In fact, the Extension Service each year returns to the County more than an unexpended balance. Through our agricultural and forestry programs, we help increase receipts from farm revenues, timber and business profits taxes, and increased employment. And helping our young people grow into good, productive citizens is certainly a definite asset in all sorts of ways.

As you know, the Cooperative Extension Service represents a unique partnership involving federal, state, and county governments. The five professional Extension agents in Strafford County are jointly funded with 43% federal, 21% state, and 36% county monies. In addition, costs of all fringe benefits provided the professional staff come from non-county funds.

REPORT FROM THE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT, AGRICULTURE 1982

As in years past, the small-scale and part-time farm operations continue to increase in our county. Their problems and needs have been a major focus of my program during the past year.

Commercial farm producers (mainly in the fruit industry) are expanding. Some through increased acreage planted, others via diversification of crops grown.

New growers and those landowners who are potential growers, responded most enthusiastically to an educational opportunity provided by Strafford and Rockingham County Extension Services. This small-scale farmer school that will run for ten weeks is filled.

Because of a nationwide (not necessarily in our region) oversupply of milk, dairy farmers will find it difficult to survive the next few years. Some of these farmers are already inquiring about conversion to other agricultural enterprises.

Because of a grant from the Kellogg Foundation, Strafford County will be one of three counties in New Hampshire to receive a microcomputer. I will be using the computer in educational programs as well as for housekeeping within the office. I believe the computer will be a necessity for every viable commercial agricultural operation within the next five years.

ANNUAL REPORT OF HOME ECONOMIST STRAFFORD COUNTY COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

The purpose of the Cooperative Extension Service is to extend the knowledge resources of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and the University of New Hampshire, in response to the needs of the local citizenry, through Extension education. Individuals use Extension education to help solve problems, make decisions, and improve their skills to become informed citizens.

The ultimate goal of the Home Economics Program area is to assist individuals and families improve the quality of their lives within: family economics, human development, nutrition, health, housing, home environment, energy, and clothing. Educational programs are planned and developed by: understanding the individuals who are served, indentifying local/state current concerns and needs, and analyzing future trends.

Input from the home Economics Advisory Council, social/educational agencies, members of clubs and organizations, a mail questionnaire, and individuals provided suggestions and direction for this years educational programs.

Educational information is offered through public meetings, group meetings, the training and utilization of volunteer teachers, packaged programs, literature, mass media, and personal contact.

ANNUAL REPORT
County Extension Agents, 4-H
October 1, 1981 - September 30, 1982

4-H: "Learning By Doing"

The Strafford County 4-H program currently supports the work of 192 volunteer leaders in 37 clubs throughout Strafford County. In addition to those members served in clubs, there is a substantial group of independent members. Program enrichment and support is also provided to schools and community groups in such areas as forestry, bicycle safety, embryology, and the International 4-H Youth Exchange program.

The basic philosophy of the Strafford County 4-H youth development program is that our young people are our greatest resource and that the provision of meaningful personal and vocational skills to this population is the best investment our county can make in its future. Our approach is that of "learning by doing". Young people are provided with effective volunteer leaders as teachers and role models. These leaders, trained and supported by the 4-H staff, offer young people hands-on instruction and written learning materials in at least fifty project areas. These areas include both the traditional 4-H learning areas of agriculture, home economics, forestry, and citizenship and areas of growing concern and relevance for young person and their families, such as environmental studies, and family life education.

While originally regarded as a "cows and cooking" program for rural children, 4-H has broadened its program scope to include all the children in Strafford County, both in towns and in the country. In the last year it has also increased its outreach to special populations by strengthening its program for children living in public housing, and by involving institutionalized children from two local residential programs. This outreach will again be expanded in the coming year. We are attempting to build a creative balance within the 4-H program by continuing the best of our traditionally-based programming at the same time that we seek to be sensitive to the new and complex needs of young people in a rapidly changing world.

A critical concern in this regard is the need to recruit more volunteer leaders. Increasing 4-H enrollment is never a problem; increasing leader enrollment is. At present we are beginning an extensive leader recruitment and training effort, to insure that club membership will be available to all Strafford County children who wish to participate. With so many former and potential leaders now in the work force, the role of the 4-H agent is more critical than ever in leader recruitment, in order to insure increased enrollment of children in the program.

At a time when both New Hampshire and the nation are becoming more aware of the need to expand our ways of "making do with less", the Cooperative Extension Service's 4-H program is a vital resource in providing young people with vocational directions, leadership training, and skills for living.

STRAFFORD COUNTY 4-H ENROLLMENT STATISTICS 1981 - 1982

Strafford County has seen an increase in numbers of clubs and numbers of members over the past year. With initial work done on recruiting new leaders, we expect further increased participation by Strafford County Youth in the 1981-82 year.

4-H Members	673
4-H Clubs	37
Adult Volunteer Leader	192
Teen Leaders	55

Members are enrolled in 3,278 projects. The most popular projects this past year have included:

REPORT OF THE STRAFFORD COUNTY EXTENSION FORESTER Fiscal Year October 1, 1981 - September 30, 1982

Donald C. Black, County Extension Forester for the Strafford County Commissioners

The County Forestry Program is the cooperative program financed by county, state, and federal funds; and is administered by the Cooperative Extension Service through agreements with the State Division of Resources Development and the United States Forest Service. It is an adult educational program, aimed at helping private and municipal woodland owners in Strafford County with forest land-use problems. In addition, it offers assistance to wood-using industries in locating, processing, and marketing forest products. Besides helping people realize monetary returns from their woodlands and its products, the forestry program is charged with protecting our forest resources for future generations. It is entirely voluntary on the part of the woodland owners and timber operators.

The reason that the extension forestry program is successful is that the landowner is free from high pitched sales talks when dealing with a public forester who does not benefit financially from the visit to the woodlot. The landowner therefore knows that the information that they are receiving is objective and therefore can make decisions regarding the forest and their future on the land without the pressure of a salesman-customer situation.

ACTIVITY	AMOUNT	EXPLANATION
Forest Management Plans	35 people; 2,116 acres	These are forest type maps with a description of the forest and a prescription of what to do with it.
Tree Planting	135 people; 73 acres	These are people who purchase trees from the state through our office and we assist in the delivery. Many of these persons require advice on where and what to plant.
Wildlife Habitat Development	2 people; 36 acres	These are acres created by the edge effect from new woodland roads.
Non-Point Pollution Control	11 people; 208 acres	These are people whom we layout woods road for so as to cause the least amount of erosion.
Insect and Disease Assists	98 people	Most of these were people seeking help from the gypsy moth problem. Many were people with sick trees. They were visited and given advice in their backyards.
Finance-Tax	16 people	These were people helped with Current Use applications.
Market Assistance	562 people	Mostly people wanting to know where to buy fuelwood. We publish a directory at this office. Some were loggers looking for places to buy stumpage.
Cordwood Marked	26 people on 25 acres totaling 138 cords	This was all for home use. All commercial cordwood sale contacts were referred to private consulting foresters.
Timber Marked	21 people on 12 acres	All for home use. Commercially potential saw timber sales were referred to private consulting foresters.
Referrals to Private Foresters New Clients	36 people on 1,544 acres 142 people	This includes cordwood and saw timber. People who have not sought forestry assistance on their land or their shade tree before.

FUELWOOD MARKETING PROGRAM

The Fuelwood Marketing Program was funded by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to promote the proper utilization of hardwoods through the selective management of the forest stand. The goals were to improve the forest stand by the selective removal of poor quality hardwoods and releasing the better quality species and stems, to get fuelwood out on the market place so that consumers would have the opportunity to buy it and heat their homes, and to show the landowner and the logger that fuelwood could be cut from the forest to make a profit while at the same time improving the woodlot for future quality sawlog harvests.

County Foresters have the responsibility of promoting the program and supervising the practice to make sure that the woodlot work is in accordance with the federal guidelines to improve the woodlot. Sometimes this means working the landowner, sometimes the logger, but most of the time the County Forester supervises the work of the consultant forester who has been hired by the woodlot owner to handle the fuelwood sale.

Woodlot owners originally sign up for the practice because they seek the protection of a public forester and the cost-share money to assist in paying for the cost of the consultant and the cost of the access road.

With the coming of the new fiscal year the program was cancelled because the administrator in Washington felt that the goals of the program had been attained. They felt that it has now been demonstrated that it was possible that fuelwood could be harvested at a profit while at the same time improving the forest. To date woodlot owners have not continued to cut under the supervision of a consultant forester as they did under the Fuelwood Marketing Program.

The progress reported here is the result of the past participants that signed up before the program was cancelled.

COUNTY EXTENSION SPECIALIST, MEDIA
ANNUAL REPORT
October 1, 1981 - September 30, 1982

The mission of the Strafford County Cooperative Extension Service is to carry the research and technological advances made at the University of New Hampshire and the United States Department of Agriculture directly to the citizens of Strafford County. The role of the media specialist is to support the five county agents in reaching their annual program goals.

This support is provided in many ways: through preparation and release of news articles, announcements, and other materials to the mass media throughout the county, by covering newsworthy Extension events as a reporter and photographer, by consultation on the use of mass media with agents and their volunteers, and the repair and maintenance of audio-visual equipment used in Extension programming.

Researching, reporting, and writing of releases for the mass media are the most basic part of the job. These releases generally take two forms: the educational release and the publicity release.

The educational release accomplishes two goals. It answers questions of wide concern in the county, and allows the agent time to address more specific problems of citizens in the field. For example:

During the 1982 gypsy moth infestation, homeowners in the county could receive a packet of information on ways to combat the insects and save their trees. By compiling and sending out this packet, the most frequently asked questions about gypsy moths had to be answered only once — yet the information was accurate, comprehensive, and economical to disperse. The agent's time saved was spent with homeowners who had rarer, but no less devastating, pest questions.

About 70 releases of this type were sent to the print media, and an additional 15 were sent to the broadcast media.

The publicity release is of equal value to the agents, again because of time saved on general questions which is then available for more individual concerns. For example, publicity releases are used to attract people to the scores of workshops and short courses offered by the agents to the public.

Strafford County has many acres of acid soils; and New Hampshire now has, in addition, an acid rain problem. This can hurt some trees and vegetables, yet fruits and fruit trees seem to do well in these conditions, and fruit plants use the nutrients in the soil much more thoroughly than some other crops. There is now a great interest in raising fruits, among both homeowners and small growers. The Small Fruit Short Course offered by the Extension Service brings county fruit growers together to share their experiences, victories, and defeats. The growers learn to use each other in a county-wide network of similar-interest people. The common resource is the county agent, who can answer general questions of the growers in the Short Course, and can let growers know of new findings in a single meeting.

Without the publicity release, there would be poor attendance at these meetings, no network of help could be formed, and agent hours would be spent answering the same questions common to all growers.

About 50 announcements of this type were sent to the print media, and an equal number to the broadcast media.

It is also the responsibility of the media specialist to cover newsworthy events the mass media have no time for, yet are of great importance to Extension clients. For example, the Annual Awards Supper of the Development Daredevels 4-H Club is not an event covered in the Foster's Democrat. Public praise for work well done is one of the awards stressed by 4-H, and this public praise keeps youth interested in doing citizenship projects that stand by them as adults. The newspapers will print such items, but cannot send reporters of their own to cover the events. The media specialist must supply them.

In 1982, the Media Specialist also advised agents and their volunteers in the use of mass media, which extends the reach not only of the Extension Service, but also the media specialist as well. What is meant by the "reach" of Strafford County media is illustrated in this small sampling:

WWNH Radio	.....	200,000 ± listeners in Rochester/Dover area
WOKQ Radio	.....	signal sent throughout New England
WTSN Radio	.....	200,000 listeners within 20 miles of Dover
Foster's Democrat	.....	25,000 subscribers
Rochester Courier	.....	35,000 subscribers
WENH-TV	.....	6,000 households in Strafford County 178,000 households statewide

Education features, news stories, and program announcements were routinely sent to 17 newspapers in the Strafford County area, and to 16 radio stations, television, and cable network stations.

In 1982 there was also a dramatic improvement in our reporting to county residents who have used the Extension Service in the past. The monthly newsletter was revised and redesigned into a newspaper format commencing with the May issue. Instead of sending out several different mimeographed letters from each agent, the information was consolidated into a single paper sent out every month. All citizens now receiving the newspaper read news not only about their original area of concern, but also about all the activities of the Extension Service. Circulation has increased to 3,200 families throughout the county.

Finally, the Media Specialist continued to repair and maintain audio-visual equipment used by agents and their volunteers; and continued to maintain the darkroom, lent by the Sheriff's Office, in good repair and with an adequate supply of chemicals and papers.

REPORT OF THE EXPANDED FOOD AND NUTRITION EDUCATION PROGRAM - 1982

The ultimate goal of the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) is to improve the nutritional status of participating low-income families, by helping them learn more about the essentials of nutrition, food purchase, meal planning, food storage and sanitation, and food preparation. EFNEP is a unique program of the Cooperative Extension Service in that it deals with a specific subject matter (food and nutrition) for a specific audience — low-income. The educational outreach is done on a one-to-one basis within the homemaker's home. This one-to-one method of delivery continues to be the most effective way to reach the low-income audience. Each family is visited from one to four times each month (depending upon their individual needs) until the goals established by the EFNEP Program Assistant and the client have been accomplished.

Summertime is regarded as the most appropriate time to concentrate on the youth component of EFNEP and represents at least twenty percent of the program efforts. The eventual involvement of program makers in the Extension Homemaker groups and their children in the 4-H Program is yet another goal. In addition, the summer youth and adult garden projects on county land plots continue to be successful.

The EFNEP staff includes an Extension Program Associate, who coordinates the unit, and five half-time nutrition program assistants, who are hired on the basis of their abilities to work with persons of low income. Each assistant works in the area close to her own home, and is expected to carry a caseload of 25-30 families. An initial three-week intensive training course by specialists in nutrition, family economics, human development, home management, and other related fields provide them with the knowledge to accomplish the program goals. On-going training sessions are scheduled throughout the year, to concentrate on areas of special need, to keep our staff up to date with changes and to reinforce prior learning.
