M. Boyce, 1, 2; Viola M. Doolittle, 2, 3; Grace R. Putnam, 1, 3.

This school, during Spring and part of Fall term, was in charge of Miss Annie K. Hosford. She obtained the confidence of both scholars and parents, and was successful in her work. After keeping the school five weeks in the Fall, she had an offer of a better situation, and asked to be excused from further service in the school. The committee thought it would hardly be fair to oblige her to finish the school, thereby losing a good situation, so they reluctantly granted her request.

They then secured the services of Miss Emma S. Putnam to finish the work begun by Miss Hosford, and also to teach the Winter term. We believe she labored faithfully to make the school a success, and we think gave general satisfaction.

The examination at the close of the Winter term showed that this school took second rank to none in town. The teacher has three or four years' experience in teaching, and has been in this school for the past two years or more. She had an arduous task, and it was faithfully performed on her part. To manage this school as it should be, and sustain good order and discipline, requires an aptness to interest and control small children. The scholars made good progress and seemed to be happy.

NO. 2.—SECOND PRIMARY.

This school was started owing to the crowded condition of the Primary school, there being upwards of seventy scholars, so the committee decided to hire the hall over the school room and put in some tables and start a second school. Miss Davis was engaged for the term, and though she labored under many difficulties in her school room equipments, yet she did good work, and is deserving of credit as well as the scholars. If the scholars (or, rather, the parents) in these schools could be made to see the injury and worry that they are perpetrating upon the community in their irregular attendance, we think they would try and bring about a reform in this respect.

NO. 2.—UPPER.

We are pleased to report that during the year this school has been a success. Miss Clark taught the Spring, Fall and part of the Winter term. She manifested an interest in the pupils, gaining their love and esteem, thus making the school pleasant and profitable. The scholars were orderly and attentive. After Miss Clark's promotion to the Grammar school, Mr. Elmer G. Fosgate, one of Winchester's young men and a member of the medical department of Dartmouth College, went in and filled out the term, with good success.

NO. 3.—PRIMARY.

Miss Jennie L. Weeks, teacher part of first term; Miss M. Grace Ball, teacher part of first term; Miss Julia T. Bliss, teacher second and third terms.

Partridge, 2, 3; George R. Snow, 2; Emma F. Bent, 3; Ned C. Buffum, 3; Winnie O. Hill, 3.

This school started off under the instruction of Miss Jennie L. Weeks, who had taught the school the greater part of the time for the past nine years. After having taught one week she gave up the school, much to the regret, not only of the Committee, but of all who had children in the school. Miss Weeks was one of the most successful Primary teachers to be found in the county. Miss M. Grace Ball was then engaged to teach the school; she kept some five weeks, when she was taken sick, and had to give it up, and Miss Weeks finished out the term. Miss Julia T. Bliss was engaged for the Fall and Winter terms.

At each examination a very fair degree of improvement was shown by the scholars, and their appearance was commendable. The attendance was quite regular, and but few instances of tardiness occurred in either term. We found here—as we are always in hopes to—a good school.

Swan, 2, 3; Susie Winters, 2; Irwin Combs, 2; John Cooney, 2; Willie Eames, 2; Charlie Metcalf, 2; Philip Pierce, 2; Lessie L. Hutchins, 3; Vere N. Sprague, 3.

The Spring term was taught by Mrs. N. Maria Snow, a teacher of long experience. She had been in this school for the past two years, giving good satisfaction. After the close of the Spring term, Mrs. Snow decided to give up teaching, for the present, at least, so it became necessary to engage another, and Miss Dora E. Swan was selected for the position. Miss Swan is an experienced teacher, and though the schools of this grade as a rule are hard to manage, Miss Swan succeeded in gaining the good-will of the scholars, maintained good discipline and seemed to infuse the scholars with a desire to learn; but she, too, felt that her first duty* was at home, and by no inducement of the Committee could she be persuaded to continue longer. Miss N. Annie Merriam, of Bellows Falls, Vermont, was recommended to the Committee, and they secured her services for the Winter term. Miss Merriam tried hard to do the best she could, but not having so good an understanding of human nature as a successful teacher should possess, she failed to win the love and respect of the scholars. To manage this school judiciously, and maintain good order and discipline, requires a peculiar talent. A stricter discipline at home, and a good many more visits from the parents, would have a great influence in promoting good behavior and laudable, scholarly ambition among the scholars. We trust in the future we may succeed in securing a good teacher, and one who will continue long in the school.

There was a good attendance of parents at the close of school, but as the teacher had taken the time in the forenoon to go through her examination, there was but one class called out in arithmetic; the rest of the time was devoted to speaking, singing and other exercises.

NO. 3.—GRAMMAR.

The first, second and part of the third term of this school were taught by Miss Morse, and we pronounce them unqualifiedly good. She has had large experience in teaching, has great educational qualifications, a conscientious devotion to the interests of her charge, which deserves much commendation. She was one of those teachers who, if a scholar failed to come up to the required standard in the recitation, it would trouble her much more than the pupil. She began the Winter term, and after keeping three weeks, tendered her resignation on account of poor health, and very soon left for the sunny South, there amid the orange groves of Florida to pass the long, cold winter months. It was with sorrow and regret that the Committee accepted her resignation, for she was a live, progressive teacher, was not tied down to old methods and ideas. With her, her labors did not begin at nine o'clock in the morning and end with the dismissal of the school in the afternoon.

The school was very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Mattie B. Clark, who had been teaching at Upper Ashuelot during the past two years. In this new position Miss Clark has maintained her previous reputation for faithful and efficient work.

HIGH SCHOOL.

On account of the principal being called away by the illness of his father, making it necessary to close the school two weeks, we are unable to bring the school to a close in time to publish all the statistics. We give the statistics for the first and second terms.

We are pleased to report that the High school has been in a very prosperous condition during the year. The Spring term was in charge of Mr. George Sherman and Miss Cora Butler, the same teachers as last year. Under their excellent management the school made great advancement and reached a very high standard of excellence. The work performed was, in our judgment, of the most faithful kind. We believe the principal labored hard to build up the school and make it a success, that he had the moral, as well as intellectual, welfare of every scholar at heart, and that his influence over the school was such that the standard of the school was raised morally as well as intellectually. At the close of the term, both teachers tendered their resignations, much to the regret of the Committee, who, under the circumstances, did not feel justified in voting any increase in salaries, and, as the teachers believed they could, perhaps, do better in other fields of labor, the Committee reluctantly granted their request.

As soon as it became known that the principal had resigned, the Committee began to receive applications for the vacancy, both by letter and in person, and in all received over sixty applications. They finally decided to give the situation to Mr. John G. Thompson, whose former home had been in the state of Illinois. Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Dartmouth College, and has had considerable experience in teaching. For the year previous to this he had charge of the High school in Sandwich, Mass., with excellent success. In the meantime the Committee had secured the services of Miss Daisy Leonard, of Hinsdale, a graduate of the Hinsdale High school, as assistant principal. Under their excellent management the work of the school has gone on in a manner most satisfactory to the Committee, and, we believe, to all parties interested. The relations between teachers and pupils have appeared to be very pleasant; there has been no indication of any disaffection, and none have dropped out of the school on account of any unpleasantness on the part of either teacher or pupil.

The graduation class the past year numbered two in the English and Classical, and three in the English course, and were as follows:—Ella L. Gates, M. Lillian Lewis, Classical, and Charles I. Gould, Harry C. Parker, Susie F. Very, English.

Senior Class, 1888.—Ellery E. Albee, Frank J. Gale, Alfred L. Saben, Emma A. Davis, Alice R. Foster, Rosa E. Jackson, Emily M. Pickett, Ella E. Morse.

The large numbers of people attending the graduation exercises, filling our largest hall to overflowing, attest the interest taken by our citizens in this part of the work of our High school.

We believe that much of the opposition to the High school, which has been shown in former years by too many of our citizens, is being abandoned. Our citizens are realizing more, year by year, the benefit to themselves as well as to the town of having such an institution, free to all scholars in town, in which to educate their children. We wish the interest might increase until every parent would rise up as one person in defence of the school, and would put themselves in position to obtain some of its benefits. We think it would be an excellent idea if the parents and citizens would visit the school occasionally, and see for themselves the good work that is there being performed, and not be led to trust too much to the reports of others in regard to the work in the school. We are sorry to say that the register shows that but very few persons ever find it convenient to visit the school.

We believe that the outlook for the school in the future is very bright. That the school, though not by any means perfect, has reached quite a high standard of excellence, that it will compare favorably with any similar institution in our state, and that the school is one in which every intelligent citizen of Winchester should take pride.

During the Spring and Fall terms the scholars belonging in this locality attended school in No. 20. As quite a number of scholars in this locality are small, some of the parents petitioned the Committee to hold a Winter term of school in the school house in No. 4, as they considered it would be quite a hardship to send their scholars to any other school. On investigation, it was thought best to do so. Consequently the school was opened, and Miss Lillian M. Lewis secured as teacher. She gave most excellent satisfaction. She seemed interested in her work, and the examination showed a good degree of progress.

The Spring term was in charge of Miss Margaret Miller. It was her first experience in teaching. There seemed to be a want of confidence in the teacher on part of scholars and parents, which caused considerable trouble. The committee were called on several times to settle cases of insubordination on part of scholars against the teacher, which, we think, might have been avoided if the parents had taken a somewhat different course. Parents should be careful not to speak of a teacher's faults in presence of their children, much less uphold them in any rebellion against their teacher's authority. If cases arise where they think a teacher has exceeded his authority, in cases of discipline, or anything else, they should take pains to see the teacher, talk the matter over with him, have things explained, and nine times out of ten the trouble could be settled satisfactorily to all parties, greatly to the benefit of their children, as well as to the prosperity of the whole school. The committee feel that the school was not a success, but that the failure was not occasioned entirely by lack of judgment on the part of the teacher.

The Fall term was in charge of Miss Ellen M. Davis, of Winchester, a graduate of the High school. She took hold of the work in a manner most satisfactory to all parties interested. The school was progressing finely, when, unfortunately, the scarlet fever made its appearance in that locality, which made it necessary to close the school after it had kept seven weeks.

The Committee did not think it advisable to re-open the school during the remainder of the year.

The town, at the last annual meeting, voted to raise $300.00 for the repair of school houses, leaving it to be used at the discretion of the Committee. On investigation, they decided to repair the No. 5 school house, as, in their judgment, this house stood full as much in need of repairs as any other. The underpinning on the north and west sides had partly fallen in, the chimney was unsafe, and the building badly needed painting. The building inside was in as bad condition as the outside. In the first place, the school room was too small to accommodate the scholars attending, so as to produce the best results in school work. The plastering was off in many places, and the seats badly broken. All these defects have been remedied, at a cost but little exceeding the appropriation, making the school room as pleasant and convenient as any in town.

The Spring term was taught by Miss Susie P. Pierce. She seemed to have gained the good-will of the scholars, and the examination showed that she was a competent instructress in all studies taught in the school, and that commendable progress had been made. Perhaps a little more attention to the matter of discipline would have been of benefit to the school, but on the whole, the Committee considered the school a success.

The Fall term was taught by Miss Lillian M. Lewis. She somehow failed to gain the confidence of the parents, consequently the school was not as successful as it might otherwise have been. Some of the scholars do not seem to be disposed to do as well as they might. Perhaps a little home training in ways of right would produce better results in school. It is often the case that parents are led to criticise too severely the work of teachers, especially beginners. Many times, also, reports are made in regard to schools, which upon investigation prove to be untrue. We believe that, although mistakes may have been made, the school under the circumstances, progressed as well under Miss Lewis' instruction as might be expected from one who never had any experience in school work.

The Winter term was taught by Miss Nellie M. Seaver. She entered upon her work with an energy that could not fail of producing excellent results. About a week before the time set for closing of school, during the severe cold spell, the wood gave out, and owing to the bad condition of the roads at the time, it was thought best to close the school, which was done, without an examination. We think the people in that locality are well satisfied with the work performed by Miss Seaver.

This school for the past year has been in charge of Miss Sarah E. Osgood. Her work has been of the most faithful kind. She seems to have had the moral as well as the intellectual welfare of the scholars at heart, and her efforts cannot be too highly appreciated.

This is one of the most interesting schools in town. Perhaps the scholars are not quite as far advanced in their studies as are scholars in some of the other schools in town of the same grade, but they show a disposition to improve their opportunities, and are not disposed to give a teacher much trouble in way of discipline.

The Committee would suggest that some means be taken to increase the size of the school room. The school, for a greater part of the time during the year, has been over-crowded, making it almost impossible for a teacher to accomplish as good work as could have been done in a more convenient school room.

The Summer term was in charge of Miss Nettie Fuller. She appeared to be thorough in her methods of teaching, and extra progress was made. This school, in point of numbers, is the smallest in town. The teacher showed capabilities that would fit her to have charge of a much larger school. The Fall term was in charge of Miss Mary L. Read, and may be considered a success. This teacher promises well in her profession.

It is to be regretted that there is not a larger number of scholars to attend the school, as the school house is new and very pleasantly located.

The people in this locality observed last Arbor day by planting trees on the school grounds, which in time will do much toward beautifying their appearance. They deserve commendation for their efforts in this direction.

Perhaps some of the townspeople may doubt the expediency of maintaining a school with so small a number of scholars. The Committee considered the matter carefully, and came to the conclusion that, owing to the great distance and bad roads over which the scholars would be obliged to travel to reach any other school, and the fact that the town would be called on to pay for their being carried, that there was no way the matter could be settled to the satisfaction of all parties interested, and with so little expense to the town, as by maintaining a school in that locality.

Mrs. Rixford had charge of this school during the year. Her work was of the most faithful kind. The examination at close of Winter term revealed the best of order and advancement. There was scarcely an instance of failure, even to a single question. This was her ninth term of consecutive work in this school. We believe that if a teacher makes a success of her work in any school, it is poor policy to change as long as her services can be retained. We think that those interested in this school should feel thankful that Mrs. Rixford's services could be retained for so long a time.

The Summer term was taught by Julia T. Bliss. This was her seventh consecutive term in this school, and the result, as has been the case in former terms, was highly satisfactory.

The Fall and Winter terms were in charge of Miss Susie P. Pierce. This was her first experience in teaching a school of this grade. She labored faithfully and impartially, and the result showed her to be entirely competent for the work. The examination showed that most excellent progress had been made, and that the usual high standard of the school had been maintained. This is a very interesting school. The scholars are bright and attractive, and it is to be regretted that they could not have been more regular in their attendance. The register for the Winter term showed 821 half day absences. Sickness and severe weather may account for a part of this, but we fear, in many instances, the parents have been remiss.

In this school, as well as some others, there has been too many changes of teachers. Myrtie B. Swan was engaged for the Spring term, with the hope of her experience and known ability to teach, that she would continue through the year; but, after having taught a few days, she was taken sick, and for this reason the district has been deprived of her services during the past year. Miss Dora E. Swan went in and filled out the term for her sister with entire satisfaction, not only to the Committee, but to pupil and parent.

The Fall term was under the charge of Miss M. Grace Ball. She had a large school, having some forty-four scholars. We were very favorably impressed at both our visits. Good order prevailed, and the pupils seemed to be desirous of having a successful school. The exercises at the close of the term were very gratifying to the Committee, as well as creditable to the teacher.

The Winter term was taught by Miss Pickering, a young lady of some experience as a teacher. We were sorry to see so many absentees, thus depriving themselves of that which would be of so much value to them in after years. Parents are too often forgetful of the fact that it does not rest entirely with the best of teachers whether or not success crowns their efforts; they have a duty to perform as well. Only by a close relation between parent and teacher can the best results be attained.

There is one fact, worthy of note, in this school. John Dickinson has been to school here since the school house was erected, some ten or eleven years ago, and during all this time he has neither been absent nor tardy until the last term, when he had to be absent on account of sickness. Where is the other young man who can say so much? Punctuality and a determined effort will overcome all obstacles and crown your endeavors with success.

Miss Sprague was subjected to some annoyance by outside parties, whose advice and threats were alike uncalled-for and unheeded, and the result of her efforts was most satisfactory.

We cannot speak too highly of the school under Miss Thompson's administration. Teacher and scholars appeared to make the most of their opportunities.

GENERAL REMARKS.

To the People of Winchester :

In presenting their annual report of the schools, your Committee feel justified in congratulating the citizens on the work that has been accomplished the past year, and the generally satisfactory condition of the schools in the town—though some have not come up to the standard we could desire. We do not expect that our schools have arrived at such a state that there are no imperfections to be found in them, and we earnestly invite all honest criticism in regard to them. Such criticisms as have for their object the good of the scholar and the school, and are not called forth by some fancied slight or injury to pupil or parent, or from some idle street rumor, that in being passed from person to person, has grown to such proportions as to have no striking resemblance to the original facts in the case.

We will try in as brief a manner as possible to present to you in this report some of the work that has been done, show for what purpose the money appropriated by you has been expended, and call your attention to some of the most important wants of the schools for the coming year.

TEACHERS.

The character and importance of a teacher's work is not generally fully understood or appreciated ; and the idea is still far too common that almost any young miss who has acquired a fair common school education, but who has had no special instructions or preparation for the work of a teacher, is competent to teach and govern a school, at least a primary school. Such is not the fact. The requisites for teaching are too many and important and difficult of attainment to be expected without effort or special training. A teacher should have thorough knowledge, from the elementary principles up to high attainments ; must have the faculty of imparting knowledge ; should be acquainted with the best methods of teaching ; should have a spirit of learning to infuse into the pupils ; must have ability to govern, and knowledge of proper ways of governing, and kinds of punishment ; should know how to maintain authority, respect and discipline, while also winning love and controlling by gentleness.

Of those who have graduated from our schools, several are already successfully engaged in teaching in our schools. It should be the aim, when practicable, that scholars graduating from all High schools, who desire to teach, should have the opportunity. We trust, however, in the near future, we shall be able to increase the pay of many of our teachers,—not that in this way we can keep the best always, but we believe many of our teachers earn much more than we have been able to pay. In the state of Massachusetts the average pay of a lady teacher is now eleven dollars per week, while in this town it is only five dollars and sixty-one cents.

DISCIPLINE.

In order that any school should attain its fullest usefulness, the discipline must be good. In the most of our schools the past year the order and discipline has been very good. One great hindrance to the success of a school many times is the attitude taken by over-indulgent parents, who seem to assume (though they may not say it) that their children are never in the wrong, and should not be corrected nor punished by the teacher for any misdemeanor they may commit. This supposition is that their children cannot be in the wrong; but we imagine that if some of these parents could be placed, only for a short time, where they could see without being seen, and view their children as the teacher,—and sometimes the Committee and others have opportunities to see them,—they would soon be satisfied that some rigorous discipline was needed.

We have often heard remarks from scholars similar to this: “My mother says that I need not do it”; or, “My father says I need not” do this thing or that, or study this or that study.

Such sentiments expressed by parents to their children invariably lead to trouble. When we hear such expressions, coming as they do from the parent to the child, can it be wondered at that we shall hear children saying, “Let us go in late, and one at a time, and slam the door after us, so as to make as much noise as we can;” and the like! Let it be understood and inculcated at all times that the school room is the place for instruction, and that no persistent disturber of its peace or pollutor of its morals ought to or would be allowed to remain there. When all shall believe this, and act accordingly, we shall have less complaints that there is no order in school, and we respectfully submit whether an unfavorable criticism upon a school by one who has not been inside of the school room, but bases his judgment upon the report of some dissatisfied pupil or other individual, is entitled to much weight as testimony against the character of the school or its management.

ATTENDANCE.

The average attendance during the year has been about the same as it was during the previous year. We have been troubled in several instances by those who seem to seek to evade the law regarding the attendance of their children upon the public schools. Some of them have been several times visited by the truant officers, and with one excuse and another the attendance of the children in some districts has been most irregular.

While the Committee would very much dislike, in these cases, to take legal measures, they feel that the law should be complied with; and if the guardians and parents will not willingly and voluntarily accept the offer of the state to give their children an education, then the school authorities must take hold and enforce the compulsory law, however disagreeable it may be to them. In order to contribute their share in producing good results, parents should carefully watch the progress of their children day by day; they should give them aid in their studies in every proper way; they should counsel and encourage them; they should interest themselves in everything that concerns the welfare of the school, and should make frequent visits to it.

The attendance in some schools is not creditable to the parents; many children are irregular and tardy, and the schools are greatly injured. The responsibility rests with the parents; teachers and Board of Education are not to be blamed. By a reference to the report of the various schools you can see the number of tardinesses, as well as the number of days absences; but fearing that you may not look with sufficient care and thoughtfulness upon those items, which are one of the greatest sources of annoyance and trouble to your Committee, we have grouped them together, which show that there has been 3,977 days absences;—which shows that, while you have paid your money, you have not received as much in return as you should have done. There were 521 tardinesses in the schools during the year. This should be avoided by parents as well as scholars, if it could possibly be done.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The school for the Spring term was under the charge of Mr. Geo. Sherman and his efficient assistant, Miss Cora F. Butler, and good work was done. Mr. Sherman had had charge of this school for the four years past, and had filled the position as principal with great acceptance of the School Committee, the pupils, their parents and our citizens generally. But more remunerative fields were offered, and, while the Committee would have been pleased to have had them remain longer, they could not well see how they could well increase the salary.

The applicants for the positions thus made vacant were very numerous, and we think we made a fortunate choice in the selection of Mr. John G. Thompson as principal, and Miss Daisy E. Leonard as assistant. With apparent ease they took up the work where Mr. Sherman and Miss Butler left it, and we see no reason to apprehend any falling away from the previous high standard of the school.

The last class to enter the school was about evenly divided between the English and Classical course. While the Committee would not dictate in regard to the course the student should enter, we believe that the choice should be made after careful consideration, and then adhered to.

If the student intends to remain in the school only a portion of the course, and does not contemplate pursuing his studies at any other institution of learning, then, as a general rule, we should advise the English course.

We would also recommend that a full compliance with the course of study as prescribed by the Board of Education be insisted upon, to entitle a student to a diploma.

REPAIRS.

No extensive repairs have been made upon the school buildings the past year, although there was ample opportunity to do so had there been an appropriation sufficient for so doing. The school house in the old district No. 5 has been thoroughly repaired, and is now as good as new. In making the repairs, your Committee felt that it would be best for the district to make a thorough repair of the building so far as they went, rather than try and spread it over the whole, and in their endeavor to keep within the appropriation deferred beginning some repairs, the need of which is now beginning to be pressing.

The house in No. 5 will need some considerable repairing if schools are to be kept there, and it now looks as though this must be, if the scholars have come to stay.

There should be some changes made in the house in No. 8, as it is too small to accommodate the scholars they have there. The chimney should be taken down and put on the outside at the other end of the house; the partition taken out, and a shed put on to the end for a wood room and entry way. If a school is to be kept in No. 13, some repairs or changes should be made. Some repairs are also needed on the building in No. 6.

We think that some arrangement should also be made for water at the various school houses; most of them are now dependent upon the kindness of those living near by for the water used. This, many times, is a source of great annoyance.

Two years ago, the School Committee reported that there was need of more school room for the Village schools, and recommended an addition to the High school building. After mature deliberation, the town declined to take any action, and the Committee kept on with the room in Powers' block, much to the disadvantage and inconvenience of both teacher and pupil. The schools in the grades below the Grammar school have been much crowded during the past few years. The number of scholars is likely to increase rather than diminish. No school of these grades should have more than thirty or thirty-five scholars, but they now have from forty-five to fifty scholars, and we think that provision should be made for at least two additional school rooms before the opening of the Fall term. We have considered several plans, but that which on the whole seems to us best, is to build a wing on the east side, two stories high, and having a room on each floor.

WORK OF TRUANT OFFICERS.

The Truant Officers appointed by the Committee at the commencement of the year were William L. R. Felch and Lorenzo W. Goss. They have been called upon to investigate quite a number of cases of truancy. None of these have been prosecuted, though it would seem that if the persistency of some of these truants continues an example should be made of some of them, especially when the officers have been called upon three or four times, as has been the case in some instances.

Much credit is due our manufacturers, who have cheerfully aided in seeing that the law was not intentionally violated, and it is now almost impossible for a boy or girl, under sixteen years of age, to obtain employment at any of the shops or factories without presenting the necessary certificate from the Board of Education that they have complied with the law.

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

We think the law should be changed so that the town should furnish the books. It certainly would remove many of the impediments from a child who desires to learn, and no parent could present as an excuse for not sending his child to school the great expense of books and supplies.

We believe that the books would be better cared for, being under the care and control of the teacher, and it would also avoid the necessity of scholars having to wait several weeks after school began for books and other much needed supplies.

To be sure, there is some disadvantages to the free text book system; some parents would prefer to have their children have their own books, so they could have them to peruse at their leisure ; but, we think, there is more to be gained than lost by the state passing the law.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Although the amount of money appropriated for schools in this town has been increased from time to time, we think it is still insufficient for the District needs. We think that an appropriation of five thousand dollars should be made. This sum would enable the Committee to continue all of the schools in town at least thirty weeks, and the High and Grammar thirty-six weeks.

At the opening of the Spring term of the Primary school at Upper Ashuelot it was evident that another teacher and another school room was needed as there were upwards of seventy scholars with only seats for forty-two. Arrangements were made for the hall over the school rooms, and Miss M. L. Davis employed as teacher. She kept the Spring and Fall term. At Lower Ashuelot there is also necessity for more school room. The District owns the building and there is a nice hall in the building, and the Committee would suggest that another room be fitted up and a Grammar school started, taking the most advanced scholars from both the Upper and Lower villages.

COURSE OF STUDY.

One of the great wants of our schools is a regular, prescribed and systematic course of study. Not in the High school only, but in all our schools from the Primary up, and the course should be strictly adhered to.

VENTILATION.

We would like to say much on the ventilation and sanitary condition of the school house, but so needful are these matters, that we will simply say, that something should be done, and that right away in these regards. The health of the child should be looked after as well as its education.

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS.

There will be a public examination of teachers at the High school room on Saturday, April 7, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. The law requires that all intending to teach shall procure from the Committee a certificate of qualification. It is to be hoped there will be a full attendance of teachers, thus saving time and trouble, both to themselves and the Committee.

CONCLUSION.

Your Committee have labored for the advancement of our educational interests, and have often met for consultation and business, devoting much time to the consideration of school matters. Whatever have been our mistakes (for we do not claim to be perfect or infallible), we have earnestly and conscientiously labored for what we believed the best interests of the schools. It is no small matter to look after and supervise the education of six hundred children, and secure for them the proper teachers, the most suitable text books and comfortable school accommodations.

We respect our laws and institutions. We deem them wise and beneficent, designed to promote the interests of the many as well as the interests of the few.

What we most need is a quiet, determined perseverance under the present system to secure to future generations, in proper ratio, the advantages which have so signalized us in the past. Changes are a bane to success. They bring discontent, confusion, and loss of force which should be applied to a better purpose. There is no royal road which leads up to the pinnacle of wisdom.

The way, though difficult and hard, is inviting; but he who would travel thitherward as a devoted pilgrim must not shun toil and anxious striving, to obtain this prize more precious than gold. Let us imitate the virtues and heroism of the fathers, who laid the foundations of this great Republic so nobly and so well upon the corner-stone of education.

May the sacrifices which they so nobly and so willingly made, and the cause of education, which they so much sought for the sake of liberty and justice, be ever near to every true American heart.

HOSEA W. BRIGHAM,

Treasurer.

REPORT OF CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

At the last annual meeting, a vote was passed directing the board of Fire Wardens to make investigation in regard to the feasibility of locating two or more water tanks within the limits of the Center village for fire purposes.

This duty has been attended to, and the majority of the board have considered favorably two locations; one in the limits of the highway near the barn of A. M. Howard, where a supply of water can be secured from a waste pipe of running water from said barn, and accommodate the probable needs of the region near the house of Henry Gould on the north, and the section near the Methodist church on the south.

Another near the corner of Park and Parker streets, which could be supplied by a waste pipe from the house of R. W. Leith, or from the roof of the house of Dr. Evans, either supply being thought sufficient. As to the expense, an estimate made by a practical mason consulted, placed the cost of a cistern which he would guarantee under bond to give satisfaction, exclusive of cost of excavation, on the basis of a sum not to exceed fifty dollars for each cistern of a capacity of nearly 6,000 gallons, or ten feet in depth, and the same in diameter, he furnishing all materials. Any further details in our possession will be cheerfully furnished if desired.

Attention is called to an awkward dilemma found to exist during the last year, the result of the disproportion of appropriation to the contingent expenses of the fire department, the pay of the firemen alone (one company in the Center district, and two in the Ashuelot district) amounting to double the aggregate of appropriation for all expenses. The matter was adjusted through a consultation of the board of Fire Wardens and board of Selectmen, the decision being to draw on confidence.

In view of the fact referred to in that discussion, of the extra protection afforded in the Ashuelot district, by the laying of pipes and the erection of hydrants recently, at an expense of $350, the maintenance of more than one company there is deemed a matter of very doubtful expediency.

In former years the compensation of firemen in addition to the sum allowed by law has been some stated price per hour of actual service at fires, and has been less costly than the method adopted the past year, as well as securing fully as good service.

The past year has been one of unusual immunity from destructive fires.

In order to secure better protection at and near the mills in the Center district, we have thought proper to incur a portion of the expense of resetting the force pump in the possession of the mill owners in a more convenient locality, and where much better power is secured, and we are much pleased with the result. The same pump can be utilized to force water to a high point on the hill to be used with hydrants in all parts of the village without power whenever the town wishes to incur the expense of the same.

We would call the attention of the town to the subject of the tramp house, as an element of danger to the engine house, from its near proximity to the same, rendering the fire risk undesirable to any insurance company, and we would respectfully suggest its removal.

We would recommend the appropriation of $250 for the purchase of hose, in addition to whatever sum is raised for current expenses.

We would recommend also the disposal of the sled once built for the use of the engine, as being impracticable and occupying needed space.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. N. HASKELL.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Winchester.

Gentlemen :—The Board of Health, as appointed by you, respectfully submit the following report of the matters under their charge during the time they have served.

The Board was organized in July, in consequence of a petition submitted to the Selectmen, asking for the appointment of such a body. This Board, as originally appointed, consisted of A. H. Taft, M. D., W. L. R. Felch and William F. Flint, but Mr. Felch, finding that he could not attend to duties of the Board without interference with his other business, resigned, and Dr. Geo. W. Peirce was appointed in his place.

The first matter to come before the Board was the unsanitary condition of the brook at Ashuelot, which runs by H. H. Pratt's house ; and, also, almost at the same time, the unsanitary conditions existing in and around the High school building in the village of Winchester.

We found upon inspection and study of the ground that only radical measures would answer, and, therefore, took pains to make surveys for the proper drainage and permanent remedy of these places, and placed specifications in the hands of the Selectmen ; but, although the powers of the Board of Health are very great and far reaching, they are not authorized to build public sewers, and as the Selectmen did not feel justified in assuming the cost without a vote of the town instructing them to construct these sewers and drains, we have been obliged to see these places remain a constant menace to the health of the community during the year.

Various complaints of public nuisances and unsanitary conditions in both Winchester and Ashuelot villages have been made to us, and have received our attention. We find the greatest obstacle in the way of better sanitary conditions is the want of public sewers. In Winchester village, in addition to the school house drain, there should be a sewer leading down the street from the top of the hill near the residence of the late Martin Baker, down by Mr. Alonzo Scott's and Mrs. Gregory's to the river, and in like manner one in the next street to the north. The selectmen have laid several rods of sewer in the main street of Ashuelot. This should be continued by continuing the line to the brook which runs by H. H. Pratt's house, and then said brook should be piped, with proper provision for overflow, so that it will flush the line through the main street. These public works will be costly, but the Board believe that it will be cheaper to spend money enough so the work can be properly done at the beginning. Then it will be possible for the property owners along these lines to so attach the drainage from their houses that the wastes therefrom will be conducted away without engendering contagion.

We find very unsatisfactory conditions existing among the houses occupied by the factory operatives at Ashuelot, and regard the sickness and death there, of which the town has had to bear the burden and expense, as caused by it. We have done what we could to remedy it, and having condemned the house where most of it existed, we hold the owners of the property responsible under the laws for any future outbreak of the kind.

But before any permanent results can be attained the public sewers are necessary. We are well aware that the laws give us full power to correct each individual nuisance at the expense of the property owner; but, upon examination, we have found that in order to do any lasting good the public must do its part. Therefore, we have preferred to be as forbearing as possible, believing that when the facts are brought before the people at their annual meeting, they will unhesitatingly vote to raise the money needed to construct the sewers and whatever else may be needed. We have kept a record of all our transactions, which we design as a part of the town records, and in closing this report, we ask that you spare no pains to set these matters before the town in their proper light, for it is well understood that a proper attention to sanitary matters is imperatively necessary to the life and well being of every community.

GEO. W. PEIRCE,

A. H. TAFT,

WILLIAM F. FLINT,

Board of Health.

REPORT OF SELECTMEN

OF WINCHESTER, N. H.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1888.

In justice to ourselves, as well as for the information of the town, we desire to make a few explanations and suggestions in regard to our transactions the past year.

As assessors, we have felt some embarrassment in consequence of precedents that had been established by our predecessors in office.

It appears that, for reasons probably satisfactory to themselves, the assessors for two years previous to our term of office did not regard it necessary to conform to the laws enacted by the state for the guidance of assessors in two important particulars at least: we refer to the law in regard to a sworn statement of all property liable to taxation to be furnished by each and every inhabitant, "Who upon due enquiry by such selectmen or assessors they shall have good cause to believe is liable to be taxed therein for any real or personal estate or property" (General Laws of N. H. chapter 55, section 10).

From an examination of the returns as filed in the Selectmen's office for the two years referred to, as well as from the statements made to us by the inhabitants of the town, we are compelled to believe that in a large majority of cases this law has been made conspicuous by its disregard.

The other case to which we refer is the provision in regard to the non-assessment of a poll tax upon disabled soldiers who have filed a copy of their pension papers with the Selectmen previous to the time of assessment. We found that very few to whom the law applies had conformed to its provisions, but the assessors had in the past indiscriminately granted the benefit to all who claimed it, without regard to the record of complying with its conditions. As precedent, in the minds of many, is superior to law, the enforcement of the law, to which we were bound both by our oaths and consciences, necessarily engendered hard feelings and much opposition.

We have also in the past year thought it our duty to make some changes in the appraisal of real estate; from the best of our knowledge and belief, the property in the village had, in consequence of a much larger demand, increased in valuation, while the farm property on the hills had generally depreciated from various causes. We make no claim of perfection in equality of our assessment, but only as having made an effort toward correcting the most conspicuous inequalities, and believe there is need of more work in the same line.

A review of the figures of the disbursements will show anybody of average intelligence that the present board of Selectmen are perfectly competent to deal with the question of "a dangerous surplus" which is troubling the General Government, and about which so much is said in the papers. The money raised by taxation the present year was about $16,500, and the disbursements were, in round numbers, $26,670, the most of it as you directed, but a portion according to our own judgment as to what the public needs required. We have no desire to conceal anything in connection with this large expenditure. We are well aware that a small per cent. has been wasted so far as the public good is concerned, but we have labored to prevent as much waste as possible, and, perhaps, with average success.

The highways have taken an unusually large amount the present year; both summer and winter have been almost unprecedentedly hard seasons for keeping the roads in good condition. We have also built a new bridge across Broad brook at lower Ashuelot and widened the road near the same place at considerable cost. These two jobs were not authorized by a vote of the town, and of course no money was raised or appropriated therefor, but in our judgment the public safety and convenience imperatively demanded the outlay, and we have no excuse or apology to make for our action.

We have also by the urgent representations of the Board of Health, supplemented by much other evidence brought to our knowledge, laid a public sewer at the upper village of Ashuelot, which has cost quite a large sum, which was also unauthorized by the town. These three jobs were all done under the personal supervision of Mr. L. W. Burt, the agent we had employed to take care of the roads in that section, and we take pleasure in saying and believing that the town has received a full equivalent for every dollar that was expended; that the safety and health of the community demanded the work, which was honestly and efficiently done.

In this connection we also wish to state that we have not considered it our duty to do all that the Board of Health have requested of us. By referring to their report it will be seen that there are other sewers which they think are necessary, and which they requested that we should undertake the past year. While not disputing their judgment as to the necessity therefor, we did question our authority to run the town in debt to an amount which would have been necessary to carry out their plans. We have put an article in the warrant under which the money can be raised, and the Board of Health will make their report to the town meeting, to which we respectfully commit the whole subject, which is one worthy of your serious and earnest attention.

The matter of the town's poor is one which claims the attention of the town. The bills for the support of the poor have been large the past year, although not so large as in the previous year. A very large per cent. of the cost of the county poor came from the sickness of two large families at Ashuelot, and which must undoubtedly be attributed to the unsanitary condition of the premises upon which they lived and for which they paid rent. The present Board of Overseers are convinced that a change of management in the care of the poor would be advantageous to the public interests. We believe it would be economy to buy or hire a place where the poor could be moved in case of need, than to assist all at their usual place of residence. Among the items under the head of town paupers are quite an amount which we have felt should be refunded to the town by those that are fully understood by the general public to be morally responsible for the cause of the aid rendered. We have used our best efforts in seeking a legal remedy for the wrong, but owing to defective laws have not succeeded, and our appeals to conscience and manhood have been misdirected. There remains only the penalty which always should, and doubtless will, attach to the gross violation of all the rules of a decent and healthy public sentiment, which men with any claims to good citizenship fear more than the penalties of the statute law.

Among other matters for which we do not hold ourselves in any degree responsible, is the large deficiency in the fire department, and to which we would respectfully call the attention of the town; we have reason to suppose that the voters generally were in ignorance of the magnificence and grandeur of Winchester's paid fire department, when the appropriations were made at the last annual meeting. In fact, we suppose that no other town or city in the state has so many paid firemen enrolled as has this town; and the appropriation for all the expenses of the department was the magnificent sum of three hundred dollars! As the town voted to pay each fireman five dollars for his services, and as seventy men reported as enrolled at Ashuelot, and fifty-six at the Center village, the pay of the firemen alone amounted to more than double the sum raised for whole fire department, to say nothing of contingent expenses. We would respectfully suggest that the town take measures to either cut down the number of their paid firemen, or to increase the appropriation to something near the amount which will be required.

There are several important matters that will be brought before the town for their action at the coming annual meeting. There are two bridges across the river that are considered by competent judges to be unsafe for public travel, and therefore need immediate attention. We have considered it our duty as agents of the town, to get what information we could in regard to them, but we have no recommendations as to what action should be taken.

The question of better accommodations for the public in the way of more ample room for a hall, public library, and town office is still pressing, and needs the earnest attention of the voters. There is now no town debt, the last of the town bonds having been paid the present fiscal year; taxes in the town have been considerably lower for the past five years than the average of the towns in state; population is increasing faster, probably, than at any other time in the history of the town; and a liberal appropriation towards needed public improvements ought to be sustained and encouraged by all patriotic citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

S. M. MORSE,

C. E. SLATE,

D. H. THOMPSON,

Selectmen of Winchester.
